BREVITIES

Mrs. C. O. Pedersen and family are spending a week at Camp McDougal, where they are endeavoring to excel the achievements of the most ambitious rival huckleberry pickers.

Miss Irene Anderson is visiting for a few weeks at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Blomgren.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Pinkerton and party returned Saturday from an enjoyable auto camping trip to Coeur d'Alene lake.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Warren came up from Pendleton a few days ago, to escape the county seat temperature. They will be on the J. V. Bell ranch for a couple of months.

Mrs. V. L. Marr and daughters are here from their home near Shaniko, Oregon, visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Hopkins, on Weston mountain.

Ruford J. Price came down from the sawmill Wednesday to have certain of his ribs adjusted by Dr. McKinney. They were broken in an accident which befell him while he was at work in the timber near the Blue Mountain sawmill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Scrimsher were in town yesterday from Pendleton. The Key-Johnson-Schrimpf outfit took the field this week below Adams, where it is threshing a good quality of grain.

The W. S. Paynes joined this week's exodus to the shade of the mountain pines.

A young man, Mr. Sams, employed as sack sewer with Ralph Kinnear's threshing outfit on Couse creek was found Monday to have passed away while engaged in his work. For some time he was observed to be sitting motionless while in a stooping position over a sack. When an effort to arouse him was made he was found to be dead. He is survived by a young wife and an infant child.

A party of five ambitious and enterprising huckleberry gleaners picked no less than 16 gallons of the delectable mountain fruit in one day Wednesday near Camp McDougal. Included in the champion quintet were John Price and wife, Dick English and wife and Wm. Killgore. Twenty-one camps have now been established at this popular resort.

Mrs. Andrew Larson and daughter of Walla Walla are guests at the G. DeGraw residence.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Reynaud left Wednesday for a few days' visit with friends in Pendleton.

Ward Baker returned this week from Enterprise and has gone to Portland. He will attend business college there for a time, specializing in traffic management.

The Staggs and Sons combine began threshing this week in barley on their upper ranch on Dry creek. The very satisfactory yield of around 80 bushels per acre is reported.

Mrs. A. J. McIntyre and family and her guest, Mrs. McDearmid of Pendleton, left Wednesday for a mountain outing.

Joe Hodgson came down this week from his new holdings near Caldesac, Idaho, where he reports that harvesting of what promises to prove an abundant crop is in progress.

Herbert J. Baker has been transferred from Deer Lodge to Missoula, Montana, where he has the position of demurrage clerk.

Frank Stevens of Brewster, Wash., was a recent visitor at the home of his mother, Mrs. Walter Webb, having driven a truck down from the north. He has gone to Yakima to haul apples. Mrs. Stevens and little son remained for a visit at the Webb domicile.

Shirley Barnett, chief clerk in the right of way department of the S. P. & S., came up from Portland Saturday for a few days' vacation visit and to assist the home folks in the huckleberry harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Olsen were called to Ontario, Oregon, Sunday from their farm in the Walla Walla valley to attend the funeral of Mr. Olsen's father, Karl Olsen of Portland, who passed away while visiting a daughter at Ontario. Mr. Olsen, who was 51 years old, had not recovered from an attack of influenza a few months ago. He is survived by Mrs. Olsen and their two daughters and three sons.

Marion Hansell has a combine in operation on the Taylor place and a stationary outfit on the Winn place. He is getting a nice yield of plump wheat from the Taylor place, only the first setting having shown signs of the pinch. The average is around 45 bushels, while the Winn place is yielding from 35 to 40 bushels.

Eugene Smith has gone to Enterprise, Wallowa county, for a visit with his uncle, F. E. Gildersleeve. Incidentally, he will take some healthful exercise in the hay field and try to regard it as an open-air sport.

The remarkable beauty, brilliancy and power of Lela G. Saling's pure soprano tones were demonstrated to marked advantage in the offering, feeding Iley Winn's harvesters three "In Italy," which she sang at Mem-
