Hamilton "Horse" Bassett, livestock editor of the San Luis Obispo Tribune, sends us a warning cry to the effect that ranchers are being swindled out of thousands of dollars through false and misleading statements made them by horse and mule buyers who are scouring the country for good work stock. They assert that "truck and tractors are displacing horses and mules and there is no market for them." According to Bassett "this is a damnable lie." He goes on to say that buyers are exploring California, Utah and Nevada for good straight-up horses and paying $155 to $225 for them.

The League of Nations ideal is not only the greatest that ever inspired a war-cursed world, but is a practicable and workable ideal, as is illustrated by the peaceful settlement under League auspices of the Polish-Lithuanian trouble. The danger is that the League's enemies—among whom are included all the world's reactionaries—will succeed in first discrediting and finally killing it before it has had a real chance to demonstrate its usefulness. Republican success in the United States election would do much toward encouraging them.

In view of the exalted opinion entertained of themselves by the Japanese, the fact that they ask to be placed on a plane of racial equality with other peoples may be regarded as quite in the nature of a concession. Our ambitious friends of Nippon would be very apt to themselves draw the line at, we will say, the Koreans—or even the Chinese. Were a section of Japan overrun by one or both of these two peoples, we are not so sure that they would be esteemed and treated as equals rather than as encroaching aliens.

The German-American Citizens' League (successor to the similarly hyphenated and now defunct Alliance) and all the German-American newspapers are for Harding. "The democratic candidate is impossible. He is the candidate of Woodrow Wilson and the League of Damnation." Democrats, however, are entitled to draw comfort and hope from the fact that this same hyphenated bunch couldn't and didn't win with one Bill Hohenzollern.

One-fourth of the people of the United States live in 68 big cities, and are unfortunate enough to be entitled to our sympathy. The poor boobies know nothing of the wholesome freedom of rural life and will not learn. Half the time after dodging street cars and automobiles in getting "down town," they run into a race or strike riot or are hoisted by a bomb explosion.

Wednesday officially marked the advent of the Fall season. Autumn coloring is already noted in shrubbery along the roadside. Sumac is reddening; masses of golden rod, purple asters and brown-eyed susans proclaim to wayfarers the arrival of those delightful days which late September and October offer to an appreciative world.

The time is not far distant when the man who had a chance to save his money and didn't when high prices ruled, will find himself relegated to the ranks of the so-called "wage slaves." He will then have occasion to reflect upon the force of the well known scriptural injunction, "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread."

President Wilson's campaign fund subscription of five hundred dollars is probably five hundred dollars more than that of any democrat who is shallow enough to criticize him for his alleged stinginess. Wilson knows that much money should not elect a candidate nor should little money defeat him.

Republican factions have been fighting each other bitterly in the Illinois primaries, applying such opprobrious epithets as "liar," "crook" and "pro Hun." We hesitate to say that both sides are justified, but if Illinois would take no chances it will go democratic in November.

The esteemed Oregonian was not long in confirming a "hunch" of ours that it would blame President Wilson for the Wall street explosion.

Henry Ford has announced an average cut of $142 in all models of his cars—a pronounced jolt to the high cost of flivving.

GOOD NEWS---OUR STORE PRICES FOR FALL ARE LOWER

A reduction of from fifty cents to two dollars per pair under last spring's prices on Men's and Ladies' Shoes. Children's Shoes are priced lower for fall in about the same proportion.

We are glad to be the first ones to announce a reduction in the price of shoes, and no doubt it will be a welcome message to our many shoe patrons. Fine Dress Shoes, Men's and Ladies, can be bought here at $8.90 to $11.90 per pair.

Growing Girls' Shoes and Ladies' Walking Shoes, $4.50 to $7.50 per pair. There is real service in J. C. Penney Shoes. Anybody who has been buying their shoes here will tell you so.

Why pay more elsewhere when you can buy just as good and in many instances better shoes for a great deal less money?

CAKE BAKING CONTEST

The cake baking contest conducted last Saturday by the Weston Mercantile Co. aroused considerable interest throughout the community. Weston housewives are noted for their skill in producing palate-tempting delicacies, and the judges found their task of selection a difficult one. Mrs. Edith Van Deusen, home demonstration agent of Pendleton; Miss Lorraine Halseh of Browning, Montana, and Mrs. Ella O'Harra, a local resident, were the examining board and performed their duties in a painstaking and impartial manner. Decisions were made as follows:

Ladies' class—First prize, $7.50, Mrs. W. S. Payne; second prize, $5, Mrs. William Davis; third prize, $3, Mrs. Claude Price.

Girls, 15 and under—First prize, $5, Florence Ross, ten years old; second prize, $3, Kathleen Pedersen, fourteen years old; third prize, $2, Elizabeth Avery, eight years old.

The prize cakes were sold at auction after the motion picture entertainment Saturday evening. The remainder were served with coffee and sandwiches to the crowd which lingered for sociability and refreshment. The net proceeds amounted to about $35, which will be applied toward furnishing the club room in Memorial Hall.

The committee having charge of the affair consisted of Mesdames C. E. L. A. I. McIntyre, Ellsworth Woods, and Misses Eliza Morrison and Doris Barnes.

The slayer of Til Taylor should hang undoubtedly, but we are not of those who want to see him hang and are besieging Warden Compton for tickets. We are at a loss to understand the widespread "hankering" for such a gruesome spectacle.

Affable Pendleton folk are wearing Round Up badges inscribed with this suggestive legend: "I Live Here—Ask Me." Even so, it is too much to expect that they are toting it right on the hip.

"Now we shall witness the spectacle of men who don't know a guest-towel from an embroidered napkin trying to tell their wives how to vote on important issues," says Kansas City Star.

The only wealthy newspaper reporter we ever heard of lives in Worcester, Mass. He inherited a half million dollars.

The democrats may be campaigning with an empty barrel, but they are not in the market to buy the White House.

It is getting so in Chicago that before long the colored brother will be fearfully trying to dodge the whites of his eyes.

The Pendleton Round-Up.

Yesterday's dampness, as the result of Wednesday night's rain, interfered to some extent with the first day's exhibition at Round-Up Park. However the old spirit flickered up brightly and the eleventh annual show was ushered in with great enthusiasm. The crowd was the largest crowd in all its history to entertain.
