TOWN AND COUNTY.

CAPTURED QUEER.—On Wednesday last officer McCoy, of Portland, arrived on the morning train, in search of a Celestial who was sent to the Penitentiary, from Jackson county, about two years ago, for ten years, but who had escaped some months since. McCoy went directly to a wash house on Main street, where he found the Celestial, and caught him by the queue. In an instant three of the Chinamen flew at McCoy, one bristling his neck, and began biting, scratching and pulling his hair. Finding it impossible to rid himself of these "insects" without letting go of his prisoner, he drew his revolver, and attempted to fire, but the hammer fell upon a discharged chamber, and it failed to go off. It was sufficient, however, for McCoy immediately found himself alone with his prisoner, whom he locked in the county jail until the afternoon train came up, when he proceeded to take a walk, where his progress was turned over to the State Prison authorities.

LECTURES.—It was announced last week that Prof. Rogers, of Salem, would deliver the second of the course of lectures for the benefit of the Good Temp'ers' Library, of this city, on last Friday evening. From some cause that gentleman failed to arrive, and his appointment was filled by Rev. E. Gerry, of this city, in a very entertaining manner. A public lecture was delivered in the Methodist Church, on Wednesday evening by Judge Shattuck, of Portland, which was well attended.

LEAP YEAR BALL.—The young ladies of this city propose giving a Leap Year Ball, for the benefit of Cataract Hose Company No. 2, on Friday evening of February 14th. It is to be gotten up in a strictly "Leap Year" style, and the fair dames, besides the invitations, calling for their partners, and managing the affair throughout. It is sure to be a success, for in such hands a failure would be impossible. The object is a worthy one.

PERSONAL.—J. L. Ferguson, of Yamhill county, called upon us yesterday. Our sanctum was also brightened by the smiling countenance of that obliging specimen of humanity, our typographer, friend Gus Schwab, of Salem. He informs us that he has been over in Yamhill county for the past few weeks, "getting a start." Corporately speaking, he's got it.

HEAVY MAIL.—On Saturday over four hundred letters were received at the post-office in this city, and on Sunday a very heavy paper mail arrived—the first Eastern mail of any consequence for several weeks.

J. H. Upton, late proprietor of the Salem Mercury, paid us a visit on Sunday last. He informed us that he would continue the job printing business at Salem. We wish him success.

NEW RESTAURANT.—A restaurant is soon to be opened in the building lately occupied by Messrs. Kent & Mineo, as a furniture store, who have removed to the Masonic Building.

RESIGNED.—Rev. John E. Damon, formerly of Albany, has resigned the pastorate of Plymouth Church, Seattle, and will devote himself to missionary work along the Sound.

The Senator resumed her trips between here and Portland yesterday.

A MUSICAL TREAT.—Peterson's Musical Monthly for January comes to us this week in a new dress. It is printed on thick paper, and is in every respect superior to its many predecessors. The selections are evidently made with great care, and it is readily understood how few poor pieces appear among the hundreds that are given. Volume IX commences with the January number. Price 30 cents, or $3 per year. The publisher offers six back numbers for $1, and we advise all our musical readers to take advantage of the offer, Address J. L. Peters, 339 Broadway, New York.

DANIEL R. SAMPLE, the late business manager of the Sacramento Record, held a life policy of one thousand dollars in the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Boston. At the time of his death the renewal payment on his policy was over the more than four months. The General Agent of the Company at San Francisco, Mr. Wallace Everson, paid the widow the full amount insured, less the unpaid premium. This case practically demonstrates the benefit of the Massachusetts non-forfeiture law.

BALLOON'S MAGAZINE.—This periodical for January contains such a complete collection of stories, romances, poems, engravings, and real useful information, we do not wonder it is so popular with all classes of society. Here we see a New Year's story, and there we find a New Year's story, and we read through the whole publication, and wish for more. This magazine is only $1.50 per year, or 15 cents per copy, and is for sale at all the news depots in the country.

The man Campbell, who left with the mails for the Dalles, on the 28th December, reached there all right, so far as his person is concerned. He lost his horse and mail at Mitchell's Point, and suffered much himself in trying to reach a house where an arrival he was to make. This is about the slowest speed on record, as the distance is only 110 miles, and it took him twenty days to perform the journey.

A dispatch from Oakland, dated on Monday last says: On the railroad gradient eight miles north of this place, a rock weighing one hundred pounds was thrown by a blast over three hundred feet, crushing through the roof of George Smith's dwelling house, striking Thomas Morrison on the head, killing him instantly. Dr. Sage's CATARRH REMEDY is no Patent Medicine having gotten up to dupe the ignorant and credulous, nor is it represented as being "composed of rare and precious substances, brought from the four corners of the earth, carried seven times across the Great Desert of Sahara, on the backs of fourteen camels, and brought across the Atlantic Ocean in two ships." Venus herself would not have been beautiful if her complexion had been bad. If beauty is skin deep, it is necessary to secure and retain that part of it; and ladies, instead of resorting to paints and powders, should remember that an impure, blotchy, or sallow skin is the proof of feeble digestion, torpid liver, or vitiated blood. Dr. W. S. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS is a safe, sure, and effective remedy.

Forty years Experience have tested the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and the result is that it is the best remedy extant for pulmonary and lung diseases; embracing the whole range from a slight cold to a settled consumption. A Body and Mind Disease.

Such is dyspepsia. The stomach and the brain are too intimately allied for the one to suffer without the other, so that dyspepsia and despondency are inseparable. It may be added, too, that irritation of the stomach is almost invariably accompanied by irritation of the temper.

The invigorating and tranquilizing operation of Hostetter's Bitters is most powerfully developed in cases of indigestion. The first effect of this agreeable tonic is comforting and encouraging. A mild glow pervades the system, the chronic uneasiness in the region of the stomach is lessened, and the nervous restlessness which characterizes the disease is abated. This improvement is not transient. It is not succeeded by the return of the old symptoms with superadded force, as is always the case when unmedicated stimulants are given for the complaint. Each dose seems to impart a permanent accession of healthful invigoration. But this is not all. The aperient and anti-bilious properties of the preparation are scarcely secondary in importance to its tonic virtues. If there is an overflow of bile, the secretion is soon brought within proper limits, and if the bilious organ is inert and torpid it is toned and regulated. The effect upon the discharging organs is equally salutary, and in cases of constipation the cathartic action is just sufficient to produce the desired result gradually and without pain. The Bitters also promote healthy evaporation from the liver, lungs, and skin. The sedentary and unwholesome habits of the day, and the great Vegetable Restorative especially promotes.
