Gentlemen of the Convention: I return you my thanks for the honor von confer in selecting me to preside over your deliberations. I enter upon that duty with a desire to discharge it with an honest impactiality, at the same time invoking your aid and forbearance. I trust that your proceedings may be governed by that spirit of friendship and kindness so essential to a harmonious result to your labors, and the ultimate triumph of your principles at the polls. No Democratic Convention has ever assembled in this State with more important duties and obligations resting upon its individual members than is now committed to your care. Those duties and obligations can only be properly discla ged by wisdom in council and energy in actions, We are beset by an unscrupulous enemy, whose principles are spoils, and whose battle cry is plunder. Their princi-pal leaders are the renegades and demagogues who have been purged from your own ranks, and who now, in their new sphere, feel the necessity of exhibiting all the hatred for their old friends, and zeal

Some of these leaders, while acting with the Democratic party, were the most ultraadvocates of the constitutionality and divinity of African slavery, now recognize no high order of citizenship unaccompanied by the wooly head, the ebony skin and the plan igrade foot. Their constitutional theories and divine convictions have found a ready market with that party who regard the subject of their former hatred as, a man and a brother. Others of these renegades in this State, who "fixed" themselves, by what they subsequently regretted as a too early emgate the theory that "the States have only such rights as the Federal Government may choose to accord to them." and demonstrate their truckling to power by declaring that " the only objects of loyal'y and their allegiance are the flesh and A wool grower, at Salem, who has blood and bones of the President in pow-1.800 head of sheep, sold his wool clip er." ple would like to know these little matters. EFFECT OF DEMOCRATIC RULE.—The rate. of taxation in North Carolina for the coming year is less than four mills on the dollar or 383 cents on every one hundred dollars, worth of property. This tax is levied by a Democratic Legislature, whose economy has enabled it to impose so moderate a harden upon the people. RADICAL OPPRESSION .- Wherever the Radicals have got a foothold they have, laid a heavy hand upon the people. Thus, rate of taxation in that city since 1870, from one dollar and seventy-five cents to three dollars and twenty cents on the one bundred dollars.

More Sanguine .- The Boston corresdefeat Williams and Carbett both next pendent of the Hartford Courant (Radical) fall. Ben.
