THE ENTERPRISE.

OAKLAND, CALIF., WED. MARCH 20, 1873.

Died at Ventura, March 18th, Mr. Henry L. Moquin, an old and respected citizen of this city.

3.

An exchange was in the making March 19th between Mr. George M. Campbell, whose old wagon team of black mules was shipped to the city of San Francisco, and Mr. John Stuart, who has a large team of cart horses, and provides transportation for Mr. P. B. W. Ladd's nursery to the city of San Francisco.

3.

The Walter Woodworths.

The Walter Woodworths, who have been so long established in the New York trade, which all knows and respects, have recently been visited by the family of Mr. Woodworth, who are from their old home in the city of New York. They were all strangers, but most of them were old friends, and all were cordially welcomed by Mr. Woodworth, who has been a resident of this city for several years.

3.

An exchange was in the making March 19th between Mr. George M. Campbell, whose old wagon team of black mules was shipped to the city of San Francisco, and Mr. John Stuart, who has a large team of cart horses, and provides transportation for Mr. P. B. W. Ladd's nursery to the city of San Francisco.

3.

News from Walls.

It is reported that the Wall family has moved to the city of San Francisco, and that the family is in good health.

3.

Three more at the Lava-Be.

Three more Britons who have been at the Lava-Be, which is the name given to the place where the Indians have their camp, have returned to their own homes, and are now at the sides of their friends, and are happy to be together again.

3.

The Old Indian.

The old Indian, who was shot by the soldiers, has returned to his home, and is now living comfortably in the arms of his family.

3.

The Old Indian.

The old Indian, who was shot by the soldiers, has returned to his home, and is now living comfortably in the arms of his family.

3.

The Old Indian.

The old Indian, who was shot by the soldiers, has returned to his home, and is now living comfortably in the arms of his family.