Dick has run against a letter at the Dalles he hardly expected. He proposed to make capital against Tim on the Lock question, when Tim drew a letter from his pocket, signed and written by B. Goldsmith, President of the Lock Company, which charges Mr. Dick with favoring the passage of the bill before the last Legislature and that he labored for the accomplishment of that end. The Mountaineer says: "One circumstance occurred in the discussion on last Monday evening, which appeared to excite Mr. Williams considerably. Mr. Davenport said he would now renew the charge, and was prepared with the proof to substantiate it. Whereupon Mr. D. produced a letter from Mr. B. Goldsmith, President of the Lock Company, and read it, which stated that Mr. Williams favored the passage of the Lock Bill, and lobbied at the last Legislature for it. This made Mr. Williams squirm, and his closing argument was an exhibition of great excitement.
