BURNS AND BEECHER.

The following poem was written by a Scotch woman, Mrs. Janet Wood, on the occasion of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher being appointed to deliver an oration, in New York, at the celebration of the Burns anniversary, on the 18th.

I hear the task has fa'n to you, To give the Bard of Ayr his due, But you're a man of letters, and I'm sure, He'll do the task in view, E'en for the Deil.

His wee, sma' fau's ye needna tell— Folks say ye're nae o'er guid yersel'. But ye'll be a man of letters, and I'm sure, He'll do the task in view, E'en for the Deil.

Then dinna seek to find a flaw But o'er his fau's a mantle throw, And leave the rest To Him wha's made and tried th' heart, He kens the best.

A century hence, and wha' may tell What may be o'er your name sell? Some holy preacher May take the name up for ane O' our dear Beecher.

I mak nae doubt ye'd like the ken, Wha' his takes up the auld quill pen, To write this rhyme, The knowledge would be little worth— 'Tis nae my prime.

But when a lassie, young and fair, I've wander'd aft my bonnie Ayr, Wi' heartsome zoe, Ere Fate's stern mandate sent me forth Far o'er the sea.

Still Scotia's hills and Scotia's plains, Her poets, and her poets' strains, To me are dear; A desert spring within my heart May carry me.

How to Carry an Ox to Market. When the Great Trunk Railway of Canada was completed, in 1860, many of the farmers had never heard of liquidating the debt by taking a fat ox to the Quebec market.

For this purpose he tied his ox to the back of his cart, and drove to the railway station, a distance of nine miles. On surveying the train and seeing an iron railing around the platform of the hind car, he concluded that that was the place to tie his ox, which he accordingly did, taking a place in a second-class car himself.

Presently the train began to move off slowly. The speed increased, quicken and quicken it went. The poor man got very dizzy, the speed still increasing, until large drops of sweat became visible upon his brow. By this time the conductor has reached his car to collect the tickets. Nearly out of breath, the man ran to him, exclaiming: "My dear conductor, my ox will never be able to keep up at this pace; it is not possible."

"Your ox! Keep up to this pace! What do you mean? I don't understand you. Have you oxen on board?" "Not on board of course. I tied him to the railing of the hind car." "You tied your ox to the railing of the hind car? who told you to do that?"

"No one, but that is the way we always do in the country." "Of course the conductor could not stop his train before reaching the next station, when, needless to say, on looking for the ox, they found attached to the hind car a pair of horns, with a small portion of the neck. Mr. Bergh could scarcely catch this cruelty to animals, as it was not intended.

The human conductor made a collection among the passengers on the spot, realizing an amount that the ox would have brought at market, which he presented to the crest-fallen farmer, who immediately returned home, vowing he would never have oxen taken to market by railway again. He has kept his word, and to this day he leads his ox to market behind his own cart.

How to BECOME RICH.—"My success is owing to my liberality in advertising."—"Bonner." "The road to fortune is through printer's ink."—"Barnum." "Frequent and constant advertising brought me all I own."—"Stewart."

"Success depends upon a liberal patronage of printing offices."—"Asfor." "How can the world know a man has a good thing to advertise his possession of it?"—"Vanderbilt." "In a case recently tried a cow, owned by Fanny Taylor got a verdict of six dollars for a washing bill. Justice Butler took the money from defendant and refused to give it to the plaintiff. His judicial opinion is reported to have been: 'Fanny, this money is squares de count dat you owed me. I'll freeze to it, honey.' Fanny entered an exception to his Honor's ruling on the ground that he was an 'old thief,' and then he knocked out her front teeth and kicked her into the street. His decision will be reviewed in a criminal court."

FARMER'S CHILDREN.—Every girl and every boy should have the care of something belonging to him or her, to raise, or cultivate, or improve. When there is plenty of room, boys should own a horse, a cow, or have a portion of the garden to cultivate. Girls should be allowed to possess a beehive, or a certain number of hens, or fruit-bearing vines; that by care and proper cultivation increase and return value, for itself. Children will acquire an interest in and derive a happiness from this form of industry that will repay the effort and trial.

It was old Cyrus who said: "He is unworthy to be magistrate, who is not better than his subjects." That was in ancient times. Modern civilization has reversed this old fogy notion, and people are now very thankful if the magistrate is not worse than his subjects.

THOMAS CHARMAN

ESTABLISHED 1853. I have just returned from San Francisco, where I purchased one of the ever before offered in this city, and consists in part, as follows: Boots and Shoes, Clothing, Dry Goods, Hats and Caps, Hosiery of Every Description, Hardware, Groceries, Paints and Oils, Sash and Doors, Chinaware, Queensware, Stoneware, Crockery, Platedware, Glassware, Jewelry of Various Qualities, And Styles, Clocks and Watches, Ladies and Gents' Furnishing Patent Medicines, Goods, Fancy Notions, Rope, Farming Implements of Every Description, All Kinds, Carpets, Mattings, Oil, Cloth, Wall Paper, etc.

Of the above list, I can say my stock is the MOST COMPLETE ever offered in this market, and was selected with especial care for the Oregon City trade. All of which I now offer for sale at the Lowest Market Rates.

No use for the ladies, or any one else, to think of going to Portland to buy goods for their families, as every store that advertises does not do so for themselves, but for the good of the community.

UNDERSOLD IN THE STATE OF OREGON. All I ask is a fair chance and quick payments, believing as I do that

Twenty Years Experience

In Oregon City enables me to know the requirements of the trade. Come one and see for yourselves that the old stand of cannot be beaten in quality or price. It would be useless for me to tell you all the advantages I can offer you in the sale of goods, as every store that advertises does that, and probably you have been disappointed. All I wish to say is

THOMAS CHARMAN

Come, and See, and Examine for Yourself

For I do not wish to make any mistakes. My object is to tell all my old friends now that I am still alive, and desirous to sell goods cheap for cash, or upon such terms as served upon. That is, I wish to give my old patrons heretofore bestowed

THOMAS CHARMAN, Main Street, Oregon City. Legal Tenders and County Serpents taken at market rates. THOMAS CHARMAN, 275/000 lbs wool wanted by THOMAS CHARMAN.
