OREGON CITY, OREGON, JUNE 18, 1875.

FROM EAST TO WEST.

BY SUSAN COOLIDGE. The boat cast loose lier moorings;

"Good-bye" was all we said,
"Good-bye, Old World," we said with a smile, And none looked back as we sped-A shining wake of foam behind -To the heart of the sunset red.

Heavily drove our plunging keel The warring way 's Heavily strove we night and day Against the West wind keen, Bent, like a foe, to bar our path-A foe with an awful mien.

Never a token met our eyes From the dear land far away; No storm-swept bird, no drifting branch To tell us where it lay. Wearily searched we, hour by hour, Through the mist and driving spray,

Till, all in a flashing moment The fog-veils rent and flew, And a blithesome South Wind caught the sails

And whistled the cordage through, And the stars swung low their silver lamps In a dome of airy blue.

And, breathed from unseen distances, A new and joyous air Caressed our senses suddenly With a rapture fresh and rare. "It is the breath of home!" we cried;
"We feel that we are there."

O Land whose tent-roof is the dome Of Heaven's purest sky, Whose mighty heart inspires the wind Of glad, strong liberty, Standing upon thy sunset shore, Beside the water high,

Long may thy rosy smile be bright; Above the ocean din; The young, undaunted voice be heard Calling the whole world kin, And ever be thy arms held out To take the storm-tossed in!

Tyrannical Fashion.

Probably no characteristic of the female mind is better developed than the doeility with which women accept the fashions of the day. Be they beautiful or hid ous, becoming or unbecoming, con ortable or torturing, they are the fashion," and must be worn. Takes for example ion. Of it a recent woman writer says: About one woman out of twenty-five has a head and features of the shape necessary to make this style becoming; given a broad, half-high Of it a recent woman writer white forehead, rather straight nose, well-rounded face and throat, and the careless knot of hair low in the nape of the neck, with a pure white part in the center of the head, from which the hair ripples naturally over the temples and ears, is beautiful, making the wearer a Greek goddess at once, or what is better nowadays, a charming American woman. But to take the remaining twenty-four women who have all kinds of foreheads and features, and who are stately with their hair massed on the very top of their heads, or braided and banded smoothly neither high nor low, or bewitchingly coquettish and girlish with a Chatelaine braid and a curl or two, finger puffs above the forehead, and little rings falling over it; put the severe Greek knots low down on these heads, draw the hair over the pretty pink ears, narrow the temples and cheeks by almost obscuring them, and what is the result? The stately woman looks prim and belittled, the bright, coquettish one is ten years older, and in many cases startling defects of features or odd expressions never be-fore noticed by those who knew them best, and to whom hey were once pretty, are developed y the change.

THE REGISTERED LETTER SYSTEM. -The Post-office Department is about to inaugurate a change in the registered letter system by the use of registered letter pouches, with special locks between the more pr minent offices, by which means the manipulation of registers en route will be avoided and greater security; insured. The system will first be introduced upon through lines between Boston and New Orleans, including Cincinnati and St. Louis, and between New York and San Francisco. If the results upon these rout a prove satisfactory, the system will be applied to all distribution offices.

NOT THE SAME CAUSE. - The thinking men of the North, no doubt, ardently desire a renewal of the kindly feeling and good-will which ought to prevail between the North and South, and on this point the New Orleans Picayune re arks: We of the South are ready t meet half way in such evidences of cordiality. If we may be permitted, we would like to say that our people think that the North has not the same cause for feelings of bitterness that we have

No Wonder. - A lady went into a corner grocery, the other day, for some trifling thing. The goods wanted were on the very tep shelf. The woman placed a box on a chair and climbed up to the shelf at the evident risk of her limbs. Her husband dent risk of her limbs. Her husband sat by the stove playing with a small dog. Lady said: "Why dont you make your husband reach it?" A look of infinite cont out came into her face as she repl. at: "My husband! I got awfully sucked in mit dat man. He knows nothing but to 4.4.0 Notorious as a reader of his sermons, a reverend gentlemen, in bantering a mason, one of his parishioners, on the superior stability of ancient compared with modern buildings, put the question, 'Can you tell me when the masons lost the art of tempering their mortar?

"Ive heard," said the man with a sly leer, "that it was bout the time that ministers lost the gift of extempore preaching." pore preaching."

His wife was "very sound-far more so than most of women." A healthy wife is indeed one of God's blessings. Physical vigor in women always carries a heap of moral force. When a strong, firmly knit, sinewy married female gets up, and in an horses, competent and gentlemanly drivers. unmistakable tone of voice, ejaculates "James!" James doesn't have to go fooling around among his neighbors to find at what she what she means.

Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing repatation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great cor-ruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive dis- Tumors of 12 Years' Growth Cored by orders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhoea, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless lan guor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of
