

THE ENTERPRISE.

OREGON CITY, OREGON, AUGUST 13, 1875.

Give it Publicity.

The latest receipt for the cure of drunkenness is one which is now going the rounds of the press. It came into notoriety, as is stated, through the efforts of John Vase Hall, commander of the Steamship Great Eastern. He had fallen into such habitual drunkenness that his management and persistent efforts to reclaim himself proved unavailing. At length he sought the advice of an eminent Physician, who gave him a prescription which he followed faithfully for two months, and at the end of that time had lost all desire for liquor, although he had for many years been led captive, which he afterward published, and by which so many drunkards have been assisted to reform, as follows: "Sulphate of iron, five grains; magnesia, ten grains; peppermint water, eleven drachms; spirit of nitrate, one drachm; twice a day." This preparation acts as a stimulant and tonic, and partially supplies the place of the accustomed liquor, and prevents that absolute physical and moral prostration that follows a sudden breaking from the use of stimulating drinks. If it is as efficacious as is claimed, there is no reason why drunkards as well as other people should not be happy yet. Yes, it would seem that, if there be virtue in the receipt, it would be a great boon to the world, and that it would be a moral and early death, may yet be taught to perceive the error of their ways, and, ultimately, become honorable and distinguished among their fellow men.

POSTPONED.—The sale of the N. P. R. R. stock and franchise was postponed to the 12th inst. We have received the following circular with a request to publish the same for the benefit of bondholders.

The general body of bondholders have united in a plan for protecting their interests, by causing the road and property to be bid in by them by a Bondholders' Committee, selected for the purpose. The committee consists of Dr. J. C. Livingston, of New York; Frederick Billings, of Vermont; George Starkson, of Pennsylvania; and J. M. D. Morrison, of Maryland. The plan of purchase and reorganization represented by this committee has been unanimously approved by a general meeting of the bondholders. All bondholders, who wish to share in the benefits of the plan or desire information, should immediately address the purchasing committee, N. P. R. R., at 35 Fifth Avenue, New York.

HEAVY INDEBTEDNESS.—Missina has an indebtedness of $50,739.91, equal to $64 to every man, woman, and child in the State. The annual interest on this enormous indebtedness runs up to $3,000,000, and the debt itself has been increasing since the close of the war. Besides this the city of New Orleans pays interest on $20,000,000 of an indebtedness incurred during the same period, and the indebtedness is figured at the rate of $16 per capita to every person living in the city. Of all this money but one-half was used for state and city purposes, the balance went into the pockets of official thieves.

The Albany Register says: "The question of constructing a railroad from this city to Yacima Bay is taking shape. If our people conclude to build it, it will be done. And if the Corvallis people fail to make their railroad stick, Linn county will go for the road with a vengeance. It will not be a very big job, and our people don't hesitate at anything that promises to be remunerative, even if the first cost is a little hindering. Our people are determined to have cheap transportation facilities to tide-water and this route promises to be the best and cheapest in sight."

"Welcome," says the Farmer "from Dr. McCully, at Stayton, that on last Friday week a child was born across the river from there, in Linn county, having been informed, his mother was frightened by her own father, during pregnancy, he putting on a false face or mask and suddenly appearing before her. The child has a distorted face, no nose or upper lip, and only small holes where the mouth and eyes should be. The mother was dreadfully affected on beholding her offspring, going into spasms frequently."

She was accordingly escorted into the women's room, and the female customs detective, who had been through her. They went at it and took over $5,000 worth of jewels, lace, gloves, and other articles of women's wear, and left her pretty well dressed after all. Her hands were in a state of a large brand of false hair was placed over her underclothes were full of jewels, and her earrings were not by any means according to law. There was very little woman left after she was shaken down, and she was trying to strangle herself off for fat.

PRETTY LITTLE.—A countryman had made several calls on a neighbor without being able to catch him in, and meeting him by chance one morning he received the following instructions as to the course to be pursued on future occasions: "You have observed," he said with a look of great sagacity, "that the old woman frequently gets riled, and when she's that way you just follow her down to the gooseberry patch, and you'll pretty likely find me summer's."

SWEET EXPRESSION.—Did you like the sermon I preached last week? The wife of a heathen heathen came to my home from church. "Well, my dear, to tell the truth," he said, "I didn't pay much attention to the sermon, but from the sweet expression of the parson's face, I should say he was a man that wouldn't have to be asked twice to take a drink."

"J. Gray—pack my box with five dozen nails. There is nothing remarkable about this sentence, only that it is nearly as short as one can be constructed, and yet contain the whole alphabet."

The Democratic State Platform.

The Democratic party of Oregon in State convention assembled, proclaim the following propositions of political principle:

1. Unflinching devotion to the cardinal principles of Republican government, as declared by the Fathers of the Republic.

2. The preservation of the general government in the proper exercise of the powers delegated to it in the Constitution, carefully and strictly observing the limits of its authority, and in violation of the several States of the Union in all their rights, dignity and equality.

3. Opposition to aggression by either department of the government upon the functions of any other and to the exercise of federal authority of any of the rights or powers reserved by the Constitution to the States respectively, or to the people.

4. The refusal of the Federal government to exercise any powers not delegated to it, and especially every interference by the general government with the rights of the States, with the local affairs of any State, or with the rights of the people, to choose their own representatives, is an act of usurpation which should be repudiated and condemned by every citizen.

5. We demand reformation, reform and the most rigid economy in the administration of every department of the government; the honest payment of the debts, the sacred preservation of the public faith; strict accountability of all officers, and the speedy and impartial arrangement of all abuses of power.

6. We protest against the burdens of a protective tariff, as needlessly exacted from a people already intolerably oppressed by a national debt, and we insist that the tariff be so regulated as to provide only such duties as are necessary for the economical administration of the government, and not for the purpose of protecting the few at the expense of the many, or fostering one branch of industry to the detriment of another.

7. That the institution of the system of national banks was a fraud upon the country and an injustice upon the laboring classes, and we demand such a radical reformation of the system as shall be convertible into a currency of demand and be issued directly by the government.

8. That the treaty between the United States and China shall be so modified as to apply solely to commercial relations.

9. That we condemn the party in power, on its contempt of constitutional obligations, but for extravagant and corrupt administration of the federal government; for its reckless expenditure and profligate waste of the people's money; for its oppressive, unjust and defective system of finance and taxation; for the perversion of the functions of the general government to enrich the great corporations at the expense of the people; for its policy, which has, which has brought reproach upon democratic institutions; for the inequities of the protective system; for the course of its convertible paper money; for its disgraceful diplomatic service and unbecomingly and continuance in office of incompetent and corrupt men at home and abroad; for its attempt to secure the construction of locks at the Cascade and Willamette Rivers, the construction of the Portland, Lewis and Clark and Willamette Rivers, and the early completion of the Oregon and California Railroad from Roseburg to the State line.

10. That the policy of the Republican party in dealing with the Indian tribes is impolitic and unwise; that the time has arrived when the few Indians remaining on the Umatilla, Grande Ronde and Selkirk reservations should be removed to some other locality, and their lands open up to settlement by the whites, some of the richest portions of the State.

11. That we invite the hearty cooperation of all persons, whatever may have been their past political affiliations, to unite with us in carrying out the principles herein set forth.

THE WAY IT'S DONE.—A New York paper describes the modus operandi by which the female smugglers attempt to defraud the revenues thus: "A respectable lady was in the act of stepping ashore from the plank of an ocean steamer. Her pretty, smooth clear-cut features did not at all suggest the roving business that appeared to be enveloped in her rich dress and costly jewelry. The Custom House officers observed her with critical eyes, and had great curiosity to see what the woman was made of."

"Yes, you may come again next Sunday evening, Horace dear, but," she hesitated. "What is it darling? have I given you pain?" he asked as she remained silent. "You didn't mean to, I'm sure," she responded, "but next time please don't wear one of those collars with the point turned outward; they scratch so."

"Stay," he said, his right arm around her waist, and her face turned expectantly to him, "shall it be the kiss graphic, oriental, intellectual, paroxysmal, quick and dimal, slow and unctious, long and tedious, devotional or what?" She said perhaps that would be the better way.

It is hoped that fashion will never require men to parade the streets, holding on with one hand to their trousers where they sit down—for, however graceful, it must be unhandy. And we don't believe ladies do it. Paris, where the fashions originate.
