Oh, you had loved her, sitting there Half hidden in her loosened hair; Why, you had loved her for her eyes, Their large and melancholy look Of tenderness, and well mistook Their love for light of paradise.

Yea, loved her for her large dark eyes; Yea, loved her for her brow's soft brown: Her hand as light as heaven's bars; Yea, loved her for her mouth. Her month Was roses gathered from the South, The warm south side of paradise, And breathed upon and handed down By angels on a stair of stars.

Her mouth! 'twas Egypt's mouth of old, Pushed out and pouting full and bold With simple beauty where she sat. Why you had said on seeing her: "This creature comes from out the dim Far centuries, beyond the rim Of time's remotest reach or stir. And he who wrough? The Democratic State Platform.

The Democratic party of Oregon in State convention assembled, proclaim the following propositions of political faith and action: 1. Unfaltering devotion to the car-dinal principles of Republican government, as declared and put into practi-cal operation by the Fathers of the Re-

2. The preservation of the general government in the proper exercise of the powers delegated to it in the Constitution, carefully and strictly con-strued, and the maintenance, inviolate of the several States of the Union in all their rights, dignity and equality, as the most competent and reliable administrators of their own domestic concerns, and the surest bulwark against the tendency toward a centralized des-

3. Opposition to aggression by either department of the government upon the functions of any other and to the exercise of federal authority of any of the rights or powers reserved by the constitution to the States respectively. or to the people. That every attempt on the part of the Federal government to exercise any powers not delegated to it, and especially every interference by the gov-ernment or any of its departments, with the local affairs of any State, or with the rights of the people thereof to choose their own representatives, is an act of usurpation which should be an act of usurpation which should be repudiated and condemned by every friend of constitutional liberty.

5. We demand retrenehment, reform and the most rigid economy in the administration of every department of the government; the honest payment of the debts, the sacred preservation of the public faith; strict accountability of all officers, and the speedy and im-partial arraignment of all abuses of public trust before the tribunals of justice; a zealous care of the rights of election by the people; the absolute subordination of the military to the civil authority. The equal and impartial administration of the laws, and the protection of the rights of all; freedom of religion, of the press, and of the person, under protection of the habeas corpus, and trial by juries impartially

6. We protest against the burdens of protective tariff, as needless exactions from a people already intolerably op pressed by a national debt, and we insist that the tariff be so regulated as to provide only sufficient revenue for an economical administration of the government, and not for the purpose of enriching the few at the expense of the many, or fostering one branch of industry to the detriment of another. That the precious metals are the only basis of commercial values; that an irredeemable paper currency is a national curse, and we insist upon the speedy return by the national government to specie payments.

8. The institution of the system of national banks was a fraud upon the country and an injustice upon the laboring classes, and we demand such prudent legislation as will gradually bring this vicious system to a close that all currency which may be issued shall be convertible into coin upon de It is likely that Jefferson Davis | mand and be issued directly by the goverement. That the treaty between the Unit-

d States and China shall be so modiied as to apply solely to commercial 10. That we condemn the party in power, only for its contempt of constitu ional obligations, but for extravagant partisan and corrupt administration of injustice of supposing they would the federal government; for its reckdo otherwise than listen quietly so less expenditure and profligate waste of the people's money; for its oppressive, unjust and defective system of tisive, unjust and defective system of tiwho came by invitation to address nance and taxation; for the perversion of the functions of the general government to enrich the great corpora-tions at the expense of the people; for the jobbery and frauds which have judgment as well as in good breed- brought reproach upon democratic institutions; for the iniquities of the protective system; for the curse of an inconvertible paper money; for its dis-graceful diplomatic service and unfit appointments and continuance in office ting kindling wood. It is but anoth- of incompetent and corrupt men at home and abroad; for its attempt to pass an unconstitutional force bill, and for a catalogue of other enormities which have rendered that organization

11. That corporations are the creatures of law; their functions and priv ileges are granted to subserve the public interests, and when they are not used for the object of their creation, but for purposes of oppression and extortion, we declare it to be the right and duty of the legislative power to regulate and control such corporations for the public good.

12. That we disapprove all measures known as the Patrons of Husbandry, and with those of all other orders hav ing for their object, retrenchment and reform in public affairs and the social advancement of the people.

13. That we are in favor of laboring to secure judicious appropriations from Congress for the purpose of improving our harbors along the western and northern boundaries of our State, and we demand that our representatives in Congress shall use their best efforts to secure the aid of the general government for the free navigation and im-provement of the Columbia river, by the construction of locks at the Casades; the improvement of the Willamotte and Coquill rivers; the construc-ion of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake and Winnemucca Railroads, and he early completion of the Oregon and California Railroad from Roseburg to the State line.

14. That the policy of the Republian party in dealing with the Indian erations of all persons, whatever may have been their past political affinities to unite with us in carrying out the principles herein enunciated.

A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittents is, that it contains no Quinine or mineral; consequently it produces no quinism or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease. Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of dis-orders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rhaumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asth-ma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysteries, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical.
