THE ENTERPRISE.

OREGONCITY, OREGON, OCTOBER22, 1875.

In this city, at precisely 12 o'clock, on Wednesday last a fire occurred in Church, and occupied by E. J. Colbath as a sash and blind factory, and by C. M. Kester for the sewing of bags. The fire department was almost instantly on the ground; and though aided by a drenching rain, the inaccessableness of the building, and the nature of the material composing it, made the extinguishment the work of an hour. The frame dwellings immediately adjoining the scene of the fire, as a precaution, were all relieved of their furniture, but to the cre lit of our "boys" be it said. the buildings were scarcely scorched. There was no insurance, the losses falling as follows:

is supposed to have originated in the sash and blind factory. Mr. James Dolan, while in the performance of his duty, was thrown some twenty feet from a trestle work, receiving a very painful though not dangerous shock to his system. The efficient working of our department is deserving of the highest praise. Working under peculiar disadvantages, the energy, good judgment and courage displayed were all the more noticeable and all the more commendable. The employees of the Oregon City Woolen mills are deserving of mention for the assistance which they gave towards the extinguishment of the fire. It is safe to predict the early resumption of these, now destroyed, industries.

The Gold Medal.

Oregon City got away with the gold medal for the finest display of Alden dried fruit, much against the wishes of several competing companies. That the display was the best, we presume again appear on the race track. none who saw it will deny. But had we should not have bad any disposition to complain. We believe that the people care but little for localities, and we see no reason for a display of any jealousy in this matter. But it seems that some persons regard it as presumptions on the part of Oregon City to even offer to compete, and when the | ment roll. medal was awarded, their disgust knew no limit; and we have seen several newspaper flings which are no credit to their authors. The Oregon City company take a pride in this matter, and no one will question their right to the premium. Mrs. C. McCue, Mrs. Pyle, Mrs. Millne and others, deserve special credit, as well as Mr. Pyle, the Saperintendent, for the taste and judgment displayed in arranging the fruit. and while the report is being circulated fornia for the occasion, for the purpose of injuring the Oregon City company, we can assure them that such was not the fact. The Company have a thousand cases of just such as was exhibited ready for market, and they are ever

But notwithstanding its critical condi tion, friends and relatives all participated in a dance that evening, next door; and there, while the mad dancers surged to and fro to the wild music the spirit of the little unfortunate took its flight, leaving nothing but a lifeless ness and want of respect to those whose duty it was, at least to have done what was in their power, to save it. Did the dance stop after that? No. For two long hours they still kept up the unceasing tread, and not till after mid-night did the last of the little child's relations leave the ball room.
