TWO CHRISTIANS.

FROM GOOD WORDS.

Two Christians traveled down a road,
Who viewed the world with different eyes;
The one was pleased with earth's habode,
The other longing for the skies.
For one, the heavens were so blue,
They filled his mind with fancies
The other's eyes kept piercing through
The veil that hid the things above.

For one, enchaining were the trees,
The distance was divinely dim;
The birds that fluttered on the breeze
Nodded their pretty heads for him.
The other scarcely saw the flowers,
And never knew the trees were green;
He did but count the days and hours,
Till he might reach the promised land.

And one a little kind ofress
Would to a tender rapture move;
He only opened his lips to bless
The God who gave him things to love.
The other journeyed on his way,
Afraid to land or to touch;
He only opened his lips to pray
He might not love a thing too much.

Which was the best? Decide you too,
Yet why should we decide 'twixt
Two men?
We may approve the mournful man,
Nor yet the joyful man condemn;
He is a Christian who has found
That earth, as well as heaven, is sweet,
Nor less is he who heaven bound,
Has spun the earth beneath his feet.

California Customs.

The stage coach from Milton was about to leave Tuttleford after changing horses. Every seat, both inside and out, was full, except one, which was occupied by a tourist wrapped in his supercilious dignity and a heavy linen duster. A resident of Tuttleford, wishing to ride to Sonoma, approached the stage and inquired for a seat. "All full inside," growled the tourist, speaking in the tone of one who is conscious of his own superiority. "But you are occupying two seats," argued the man from Jackass Hill. "I ain't going to be crowded; I pay for my comfort and intend to keep it."

"Did you pay for two seats?" "I've only secured one seat, but there is no room for another in this coach, sir," and the tourist settled himself back, while the other passengers granted their disgust in tones not particularly vociferous but exceedingly deep.

"You are not acting as a gentleman should, sir, nor exactly in accordance with the etiquette of our dear California society," calmly replied the man on the outside, smiling in spite of his annoyance at the dog-in-the-manger style of this boor.

"I don't hold myself accountable for the society of California. I pay my way and ask only that another and your inference that I am not a gentleman might be termed where I came from an indication that you wish to fight."

"We don't fight in this country," calmly remarked the man from Tuttleford.

"You don't. Then I must have been misinformed. Pray, what do you do when a man insults you?" and a sort of triumph gleamed in the eye of the stranger.

"Do! Why we shoot him on the spot and that is his reward. We don't waste time after we start in. By the way, I think I can squeeze in alongside of you there, can't I?"

"Don't know but you can," and a full half seat appeared beside the dignified fool, as if by magic.

The Tuttleford citizen rode very comfortably from that hamlet to Sonoma and heard no more about fighting from the tourist, although remarks in regard to "dead shots" and the rapidity with which insults were avenged in the Sierras, formed the staple of conversation among the other passengers until they reached the City Hotel, Sonoma Democrat.

Don Pedro, Emperor of Brazil, had to obtain permission of the Chamber of Deputies of his country before he could leave his throne for a visit to Europe and the United States. He will be absent about a year and will be in this country during the exposition at Philadelphia next year. He will be cordially received in this country. His name is already familiarly known to many Americans.

The history of the last two years of the life of poor Barny Boileau, who married the daughter of Thomas Benton, is tragic in the extreme. He was found guilty by a Paris tribunal of complicity with his brother-in-law, Gen. Fremont, in the Montezuma & El Paso rail road swindle. He was sentenced to prison and surrendered his wife's dowry, $140,000, to his creditors. This unhappy wife died while he was in prison. He was lately pardoned as being innocent of fraudulent intent. Since his release he has fought two duels with his calculators, wounding one of his adversaries, and he has been received back into the best society.

Some gentlemen were standing recently at a street corner, when a little girl approached and rattled her lines in quest of a dime. "Are you an orphan?" asked one of them. "No, sir," replied the little parrot, thrown on her own resources to amplify her part. "We are too poor to be orphans." The maladroitness of this explanation was too much. She got a dime from each member of the party.

Too Late—After a Detroit man had entered a street car and dropped his nickel in the box, a boy came running after the car and called out, "Jones—oh! Jones, your wife has got another!" Jones stepped to the door, looked around with a perplexed air, and called back: "Well, it's too late now! I've paid my fare, and I don't propose to let this corporation get ahead of me!"

The N. Y. Sun says: General O. O. Howard, the late Halleck, having run the Freedmen's Bureau into bankruptcy upon his system of reform, has attempted to show the sinners and saints of Portland, Oregon, the true way to salvation. During the session of the Rev. Mr. Easton, pastor of the Congregational church, the General preached from the pulpit every Sunday.

Landlady—Things are too expensive in Oregon City. I will have to raise your rent, Mr. Vanderwater. Vande—I wish you would Mrs. Drinkwater, for I'll be blessed if I can.

GRANT AHEAD.—We have been spending our leisure time of late in weighing the merits of our different national presidents, and though a Democrat to the back-bone, we cannot do otherwise than announce that U. S. Grant is by all odds the most gifted man who has ever filled the executive chair.

Lord Bolingbroke shrewdly remarks: I have observed that in common with the rest of the part of the droll, whilst some scrub rogue is made the hero or fine gentleman. So in the face of life, wise men pass their time in mirth, whilst fools only are serious.

Extraordinary Opportunity for the Relief of the Afflicted.

The surgeons of the National Surgical Institute, located in Indianapolis, Indiana, Pacific Branch, 319 Bush Street, San Francisco, have finally yielded to the many urgent appeals to visit Oregon and Washington Territory. Three or more of the surgeons will be at the Cosmopolitan Hotel, Portland, Oregon, on the 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th, of November, 1875.

They will have with them a great amount of surgical apparatus, appliances, etc., and competent assistants and workmen to change, fit, and make any kind of artificial limbs, and to treat all surgical cases; Paralysis, all kinds of Deformities of the Face, Spine and Limbs, Diseased Joints, Diseased Eyes, Catarrh, Private Diseases, Piles, Etc., etc. On account of the expense attending such a trip, they will not make another; therefore, all who wish to avail themselves of the advantage of the Institute, without the long journey to San Francisco or Indianapolis, must do so at this time. No case will be undertaken without a fair hope of relief. It is needless to say that the Institute is entirely free of charge. The largest and most popular of the kind in America, curing thousands annually. Remember the time and place, and come early. Send to the Institute for circular.

Wanted—5,000 Men women and children to take away the goods at L. Sellings, which he sells lower than the lowest, for cash or produce. Everybody is invited—the mechanic, laborer or any one else—to buy themselves rich, for a small amount of money. The entire stock of fall and winter goods must be sold, regardless of cost price. WILLIAM REID, Commissioner of Immigration, State Com'rs of Immigration, 201 1/2 State Com'rs of Immigration.

The Democratic State Platform.

The Democratic party of Oregon in State convention assembled, proclaim the following propositions of politics, faith and action:

1. Unflinching devotion to the cardinal principles of Republican government, as declared and put into practical operation by the Fathers of the Republic.

2. The preservation of the general government in the proper exercise of the powers delegated to it in the Constitution, carefully and strictly construed, and the maintenance, inviolate of the rights of the Union, all their rights, dignity and equality, as the most competent and reliable administrators of their own destinies, and the surest bulwark against the tendency toward a centralized despotism.

3. Opposition to aggression by either department of the government upon the functions of any other and to the exercise of federal authority of any of the rights or powers reserved by the constitution to the States respectively, or to the people.

4. That every attempt on the part of the Federal government to exercise specially every interference by the government or any of its departments, with the local affairs of any State, or with the rights of the people thereof to choose their own representatives, is an act of usurpation which should be promptly and resolutely met by every friend of constitutional liberty.

5. We demand retrenchment, reform and the most rigid economy in the administration of every department of the government; the honest payment of the debts, the sacred preservation of the public faith; strict accountability of all officers, and the speedy and impartial arraignment of all abuses of trust before the tribunals of justice; a zealous care of the rights of election by the people; the absolute subordination of the military to the civil authority. The equal and impartial administration of the laws, and the protection of the rights of all; freedom of religion, of the press, and of the person, under protection of the habeas corpus and trial by jury impartially selected.

6. We protest against the burdens of a protective tariff, as needless exactions from a people already intolerably oppressed by a national debt, and we insist that the tariff be so regulated as to provide only sufficient revenue for the economical administration of the government, and not for the purpose of enriching the few at the expense of the many, or fostering one branch of industry to the detriment of another.

7. That the precious metals are the only basis of commercial values; that an irredeemable paper currency is a national curse, and we insist upon the speedy issue of a national government-secured currency.

8. The institution of the system of national banks was a fraud upon the country and an injustice upon the laboring classes, and we demand such prudent legislation as will gradually bring this vicious system to a close; that all currency which may be issued shall be convertible into coin upon demand, and be issued directly by the government.

9. That the treaty between the United States and Great Britain, which is now in force, shall be so amended as to apply solely to commercial relations.

10. That we condemn the party in power, only for its contempt of constitutional obligations, but for extravagant partisan and corrupt administration of the federal government; for its reckless expenditure and prodigal waste of the people's money; for its oppressive, unjust and defective system of finance and taxation; for the perversion of the functions of the general government to enrich the great corporations at the expense of the people; for the jobbery and frauds which have brought reproach upon the honor of the nation; for the great corporations in the construction of locks at the Cascades; for the corruption of the public service; for the use of an incompetent and corrupt men at home and abroad in their attempt to pass an unconstitutional force bill, and for a catalogue of other enormities which have rendered that organization offensive to and subversive of the liberties of a free people.

11. That corporations are the creatures of law, their franchises and privileges are granted to subserve the public interests, and when they are not used for the objects of their creation, but for purposes of oppression and extortion, we declare it to be the right and duty of our legislative power to regulate and control such corporations for the public good.

12. That we disapprove all measures in the interest of monopolies against labor, and therefore we approve of the declared principles and sympathies with the avowed enemies of the order known as the Patrons of Husbandry, and with those of all other orders having for their object, retrenchment and reform in public affairs and the social advancement of the people.

13. That we are in favor of laboring to secure judicious appropriations from Congress for the purpose of improving our harbors along the western and northern boundaries of our country, and we demand that our representatives in Congress shall use their best efforts to secure the aid and cooperation of the government for the free navigation and improvement of the Columbia river, by the construction of locks at the Cascades; the improvement of the Willamette and Coquille rivers; the construction of the Portland, Belles and Salt Lake and Winemereau Railroads, and the early completion of the Oregon and California Railroad from Roseburg to the State line.

14. That the policy of the Republican party in dealing with the Indian tribes is impolitic and unwise; that the time has arrived when the few Indians now occupying the Umatilla, Grande Ronde and Siletz reservations should be removed to some other locality, and thus open up to settlement by the whites some of the richest portions of the State.

15. That we invite the hearty co-operation of all citizens whatever they may have been their political affines, to unite with us in carrying out the principles herein enunciated.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, nor yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.,
Practical and Analytical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS.

Ayer's Aque Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chills, Malaria, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

No one remedy is louder than Ayer's Aque Cure. It is the favorite of the American people that a sure and safe cure for Fever and Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

That which prevents from or prevents this disease, is the best remedy. It is the best remedy when it prevails. Prevention is better than cure, for the patient escapes the risk which he must incur in his attacks of the disease. This "AQUE" expels the miasmatic poison of FEVER AND AGUE from the system, and prevents its return. It is the best remedy taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever discovered for this class of complaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of everybody; and in bilious districts, where FEVER AND AGUE prevails, everybody should have it, and use it freely, both for cure and prevention. It is the best remedy as well as the most powerful. It contains no Quinine or mineral; consequently it produces no nausea or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease. It is the best remedy for the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of other ailments arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Colic, Paralysis, Blindness, Toothache, Catarrh, Asthma, Hysteria, Painful Affection of the Spleen, and other ailments. It is the best remedy for all these ailments, and for the prevention of them. It is the best remedy for all these ailments, and for the prevention of them.
