DROWNED .-- Mr. John Myers, of this city, has received a telegram from Tacoma, W. T., stating that John and Harry, two sons of Mr. J. R. Ralston, were drowned at that place on the 29th ult. It seems that the two Ralston boys with a young friend, named Willie Pratt, went gunning on the Tacoma flats, and being acquainted on the boat Black Diamond rowed out to her and went on board. While here a stff breeze came up, and notwithstand-ing the persuasions of the captain, the boys insisted; upon starting for home. The engineer accompanied them. They never arrived at their destination, and the next day the canoe was found floating upside down. Thus far only the body of Johnny Ralston has been found. The Ralstons had both lived in this city with their parents, and during last summer, John, the eldest, was here attending school at the Seminary. He had worked at the printer's trade and at different times during the past season was employed in that capacity in this office. Always respectful, manly and for the sake of getting an item for his frank in his deportment, he won the paper and affording food for gossip, hearts of all who knew him, and many manifests a devotion to journalism and besides his relatives here, will mourn his untimely death. SUDDEN DEATH .- The Journal of Monday announces the death of James Bristow, eldest son of Mr. E. L. Bristow of the Salem Mercury. He was 22 years of age and was engaged as assistant editor on his father's paper. A young man of good ability, exemplary character and the highest social quali-ties. He learned his trade, as printer, Philadelphia. in this office, and while residing here was universally beloved and respected. Only week before last he called on us on his way to Astoria. At that time he was in the highest spirits, full of life and ambition. Soon after his return from below he was taken down with typhoid fever, and lingered but a few days before falling a victim to that dread discase. To his parents and family we tender our earnest and most heartfelt sympathy in this their sad bereavement.

A Remedy that has made its Mark. Success is the meed of excellence. The truth of this has never been more forcibly exemplified than by the triumphant career of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. No sooner did the people discover the genuine merits of that supreme invigorant and corrective than they hastened to stamp it with the seal of popularity. The press and medical profession speedily followed in the wake of the public, and emphatically endorsed it. Thus from the very outset the success of the Bitters as a remedy and preventive was an established fact, and a degree of popularity which it often takes proprietary medicines years to attain, was achieved almost at a stride by the then new preparation. Since that time every successive year has witnessed fresh accessions to the favor with which the Bitters were early regarded, and the area of its popularity is no longer confined to the United States, but includes the British Provinces in North America and the West Indies, South America, Mexico, portions of Europe and Australia. That it is not only a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, urinary and uterine complaints, nervousness and debility, but also a preventive of those pregnated with miasma, give birth, has been nowhere so strongly evidenced as in those regions where climatic condi-tions unfavorable to health exist, and where the Bitters have been long and constantly tested. To call this superb cordial a remedy that has made its mark, cannot, we think, be regarded as boasting, since there is probably no proprietary remedy more widely known, universally respected and em-phatically endorsed than these Bitters.
