An interesting effort, says the Springfield Republican, has been going on for some time past among the political gamblers of New York to euchre Governer Tilden with his friend ex-Governor Seymour. The latter seems to have become tired of it, and takes occasien to say publicly and emphatically that he is not a party to it—that he must not be regarded as a competitor for the St. Louis nomination. It is well known that he and Mr. Tilden are old and close friends; indeed they have constituted with Mr. Francis Kernan a sort of political triumvirate. But experience has shown that Mr. Horatio Seymour sometimes finds it impossible to say "no," and that there is a point beyound which he cannot safely be tempted.

UNKNOWN.—The evidence accumulates that the Great Unknown is Gov. Hayes, of Ohio. When Gen. Sam Carey, of the Buckeye State, beat Hayes for Congress a few years ago, Gen. Sam went down to Washington under the impression that he had done a particular big thing. He had been in the House some days before any one observed, "Let me see, General, whom do you succeed!" When the question came Gen. Sam responded, with a proud toss of his bushy beard, "Why, the Hon. Rutherford B. Hayes, sir!" "And who the devil is the Hon. Rutherford B. Hayes?" queried the other, to Carey's intense discouragement.

The custom of appointing young lawyers to defend pauper criminals received a backset the other day. The Judge had appointed two young lawyers to defend an old and experienced horse-thief. After inspecting his counsel for some time in silence, the prisoner rose in his place and addressed the Bench: "Air them to defend me?" "Yes, sir," said his Honor. "Both of them?" inquired the prisoner. "Both of them," responded the Judge. "Then I plead guilty," and the poor fellow took his seat and sighed heavily.

ENGLISH CRAFT.—On the road to Epsom, a mustached youth, on the top of a drag, evidently ambitious of being mistaken for "an officer," thus saluted a fat coachman, who was gravely driving his master and family: "Holloa, you sir! where's your shirt collar? How dare you come to the Derby without a shirt collar?" Jehu growled forth, without lifting his eyes from the horses: "'Ow the dooce could I have a shirt collar when your mother has not sent home my washing?"

AT WORK AT IT.—Tennyson has been ordered to write an ode to the Prince of Wales, and it is amusing to behold England's poet laureate walk fretfully up and down his garden and hear him mumbling: "The Prince of Wales—favoring gales—spreading sails—tigers' tails—the people yearn—his return—our bosoms burn—our love he'll earn—we'll tyrants spurn—jungles bungles—India—India—Ind—dia-dia," and then snap out: "O, 'ang the hode."—Chicago Times.

There is a good, but profane, story told of Secretary Bristow. When about to enter the Union army, his father-in-law wanted him to take sides with the South, and finally threatened to disinherit his family if he did not. To which Bristow indignantly replied, "Go to hell with your property. I shall stand by my country, and fight for it till its authority is felt and respected in every part of the repnblic."

If you are bordering upon the last, and are suffering some or all of its ill effects, remember that if you persist in procrastination, the time must come when the most skilful physician can render you no assistance; when the door of hope will be closed against you; when no angel of mercy can bring you relief. THE WEEKLY SUN.

1776. NEW YORK. 1876.

Eighteen hundred and seventy-six is the Centennial year. It is also the year in which an Opposition House of Representatives, the first since the war, will be in power at Washington; and the year of the twenty-third election of a President of the United States. All of these events are sure to be of great interest and importance, especially the two latter; and all of them and everything connected with them, will be fully and freshly reported and expounded in THE SUN.

The Opposition House of Representatives, taking up the line of inquiry opened years ago by THE SUN, will strictly and diligently investigate the corruptions and misdeeds of Grant's administration; and, will, it is to be hoped, lay the foundation for a new and better period in our national history. Of all this THE SUN will contain complete and accurate accounts, furnishing its readers with early and first-worthy information upon these absorbing topics.

The twenty-third Presidential election, with the preparations for it, will be memorable as deciding upon Grant's aspirations for a third term of power and plunder, and still more as deciding who shall be the candidate of the party of Reform, and so electing that candidate. Concerning all these subjects, those who read THE SUN will have the constant means of being thoroughly well informed.

THE WEEKLY SUN, which has attained a circulation of over eighty thousand copies, already has its readers in every State and Territory, and we trust that the year 1876 ill see their numbers doubled. It will continue to be a thorough newspaper. All the general news of the day will be found in it, condensed when unimportant, at full length when of moment; and always, we trust, treated in a clear, interesting and instructive manner.

It is our aim to make THE WEEKLY SUN the best family newspaper in the world, and we shall continue to give in its columns a large amount of miscellaneous reading, such as stories, tales, poems, scientific intelligence and agricultural information, for which we are not able to make room in our daily edition. The agricultural department especially is one of its prominent features. The fashions are also regularly reported in its columns; and so are the markets of every kind.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages with fifty-six broad columns is only $1 20 a year, postage prepaid. As this price barely repays the cost of the paper, no discount can be made from this rate to clubs, agents, postmasters, or anyone.

The DAILY SUN, a large four page newspaper of twenty-eight columns, gives all the news for two cents a copy. Subscription, postage prepaid, 55c. a month or $6 50 a year. SUNDAY edition extra, $1 10 per year. We have no traveling agents. Address, THE SUN, New York City.
