"Post-Mortem Love." If you are ever going to love me, Love me now while I can know All the sweet and tender feelings Which from real affection flow.

Love me now while I am living—
Do not wait till I am gone,

And then chisel it in marble—

Warm love; words on ice-cold stone.

If you've dear, sweet thoughts about me, Why not whisper them to me? Don't you know 'twould make me happy, As glad as glad can be? If you wait till I am sleeping, Ne'er to wake here again, There'il be walls of earth between us,

And I couldn't hear you then. If you knew some one was thirsting For a drop of water sweet. Would you be so slow to bring it? Would you step with laggard feet? There are tender hearts all 'round us, Who are thirsting for our love; Shall we begrudge to them what Heaver

I won't need your kind caresses When the grass grows o'er my face; I won't crave your love or kisses In my last, low, resting-place; So, if you do love me any, If it's but a little bit, I'd rather know it now, while I Can, living, own and treasure it.

Has kindly sent us from above?
