

THE ENTERPRISE.

OREGON CITY, OREGON, JUNE 30, 1876.

News Column.

Mrs. Lincoln has been declared sane. Tilden is opposed to Chinese immigration. Diptheria continues its ravages in Seattle. Frazer river has been on a bender for the past week. An evening paper will be started in Victoria next month. John Neal, the author, died at Portland, Maine, on the 20th. Baker City is to have three days immediately after the 4th of July. Texas has a new law requiring of jurors the ability to read and write.

Senator Morrill of Maine has been nominated as Secretary of the Treasury.

Hess, the man of ale, has given another $40,000 for a free library at Derby.

Mr. Aldrich, an old resident of Vancouver, died in San Francisco recently.

The Colist says Dr. W. W. Walker, editor of the Standard, has resigned.

Plymouth Church on the 23d fixed the salary of Beecher at $20,000 per annum.

Six had characters were given 36 hours to leave Seattle last week, and they left.

It has lately become fashionable in Washington for women to go to horse races.

Rev. Robert Collier of Chicago gives $50 to the fund for a bust of Tom Paine.

The plague still rages at Bagdad at the rate of 70 new cases and 40 deaths daily.

Hayes and Wheeler ratification meetings are being held all over the country.

Montgomery Queen, the circus owner, is going into ostrich farming in California.

Cincinnati has 4,693 manufacturers, which produce $150,000,000 worth of products yearly.

Congressman Hale, of Maine has been re-nominated from the fifth district of that State.

A company of musicians and dancers from Algeria are on their way to the Centennial.

"Fighting Joe Hooker" is reported to be dangerously ill at the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

The people of Ashland, Jackson county, get fresh salmon from the mouth of Butte creek.

Grasshoppers have resumed their old headquarters in north Alabama with increased facilities.

They expect to make $20,000 worth of silk in Kansas in 1876. Last year they made $7,000 worth.

The Mammoth cave of Kentucky is offered for sale, together with the hotels and other property.

The California Centennial building at Philadelphia was opened on the 21st with a grand banquet.

S. F. Hill, Western Union Telegraph operator at Silver City, Nevada, committed suicide on the 23d by poison.

William Jackson of Hillsboro had his leg broken by its being caught between a stump and the brake on his wagon on the 20th.

Among the animals presented to the Prince of Wales are two fine tigers, which have been named "Moody" and "Sankey."

The Philadelphia Common Council is trying to compel the removal of telegraph poles from the streets, and the laying of wires underground.

Within a range of 100 miles in extent, along the Platte, above and below Julesburg, are twenty-seven herds of cattle numbering about 76,900.

The elopement of a man with his mother-in-law is reported from Lansing, Michigan. This does a new danger threaten carnal happiness.

Geo. Foot, a logger at Holmes Harbor, W. P., accidentally killed himself a few days ago while handling his gun carelessly. The old, old story.

The Independent Order of Good Templars in Oregon has a membership of 4,103, with 115 lodges, and is represented to be in a flourishing condition.

A Washington special says an early agreement on the appropriation bill is now probable. The House is disposed to yield something to the Senate.

The steamship State of Indiana, from Glasgow, reported that on June 12th she spoke the British Arctic exploring steamer Pandora steering north under canvas.

Cattle seem to be very healthy in Snohomish valley. A farmer in that section, the other day, remarked to a friend that he had just killed a fifteen-year old heifer.

Wm. Primrose, the fat boy of Port Madison, is but twelve years of age, and weighs 178 pounds, the weight of 170 pounds before his eleventh year.

M. R. Pettipiece, pastor of the Second Advent church of Lowell, Mass., has been charged by his wife with adultery and base lying. He confessed his guilt and resigned.

The Secretary of War has granted permission to Major Wendell of the Engineer Corps, U. S. A., to act as consulting engineer of the Water Commissioners of San Francisco.

Two Indians arrived at Victoria last week from the West Coast, and reported to the superintendent of police that the American, Raine or Wren, and three Indians, previously reported in the Colist as having been drowned, were really murdered by Hesquott Indians. They say the three Indians were shot, and the white man shot and gashed across the bowels.

Gov. Irwin of California has taken off from one to four years each from the sentences of 100 convicts in the State Penitentiary, because of the good conduct of the body of convicts at a recent fire in the prison.

Sexton's run of 287 points at Philadelphia has been utterly cast into the shade by the performance of Professor Bataille, of Montpelier, France, who, according to the Messager de Medi in recent game at the Cafe Plaque, made a break of 1,000 caroms, only pausing then from excessive fatigue.

Senator Sargent and Representative Page, of California, called on Attorney-General Taft on the 21st with reference to the published report that he is preparing an opinion adverse to the Pacific coast settlement and proposition on the Chinese question. Mr. Taft assured them that this was untrue, and that, on the contrary, his impressions, so far as he formed any, are all in favor of the movement.

The Seattle Intelligencer of June 17th says: "A young man named Martin has been paying his attentions to a daughter of Mr. Bedell, for some time past, against Bedell's wishes. On Thursday evening, Martin succeeded in inducing the young lady to accompany him to Seattle for the purpose of getting married. Her father, on Friday morning, came to town and employed W. H. White to prevent, if possible, the marriage. Finally, under the advice of Mr. White, the parties all returned to Mr. Bedell's home for the purpose of celebrating the marriage of Martin with the daughter, a license having been procured and a justice of the peace engaged to perform the ceremony. After returning to Bedell's residence, an altercation occurred between him and his intended son-in-law, when the former discharged a shot-gun at the latter, some of the shot taking effect in Martin's arm. In the excitement of the occasion, Mrs. Bedell fainted and ruptured a blood vessel. Drs. Spaulding and Bagley were called, and found that Mrs. Bedell was beyond human aid. A complaint for an assault with intent to kill has been sworn out by Martin against Mr. Bedell, who has not yet been arrested, on account of the dying condition of his wife. We have since learned that Mrs. Bedell is dead."

KAFIR CUSTOMS.—The religion of the Kafirs, like that of all other varieties of "the noble savage," is nothing more than a vile superstition, accompanied by customs of a most debasing character. By this religion woman is degraded to the lowest level, and classed among beasts of burden and the genies and chaities of her masters. Polygamy, of course, is universally allowed, and under the system of purchase which prevails, the number of wives bear proportion to the wealth of the husband. Concubinage is permitted, and no idea of purity or virtue is permitted to exist. Witchcraft is the great leading feature of the Kafir religion, and "witch doctors" are its priests. In those places where British influence does not exist a system is regularly carried out, by means of which men with property are sacrificed to the rapacity of the Kafir. A "witch doctor" is "out" some person who has caused or is causing sickness or some evil. Cruel tortures, followed by death, are immediately applied to the unfortunate victim, and his wives and children are taken from him. This is an every day occurrence among the Kafirs, and urgent representations are very frequently made to the British colonial authorities upon the subject.

WHAT OUR PRESIDENTS LEFT.—Washington left an estate valued at over $800,000; John Adams died moderately well off, leaving about $75,000; Jefferson died so poor that if Congress had not purchased his library at $20,000 he would have been a pauper; Madison was frugal, and left about $100,000; Monroe died so poor that he was buried at the expense of his relatives; John Quincy Adams left about $85,000; Jackson died worth about $80,000; Van Buren left some $400,000. It is said he did not draw his salary while in office, but at the expiration of his term of service drew the whole $100,000; Taylor had saved something from his pay while in the army, and died worth $150,000; Tyler married a lady of wealth; Fillmore was always frugal and added to his savings by marrying a lady of wealth, and was worth about $200,000; Pierce's estate was valued at $50,000; Buchanan left $200,000; Lincoln about $75,000; and Johnson $50,000.

Three years ago he accompanied her home. She had a small parcel in her hand. "Let me carry it, darling," he said, softly, relieving her of the three ounce package; "your little hands were never made to work." They were married now. They are going home from a shopping excursion. "Please take this pair of lard, John," she says, wearily; "it's heavier than lead." "Oh, I guess you're good for it," he responds, thrusting his hands deeper into his pockets, and sluffling lazily along. Three years ago.—Rockland Courier.

Senator Foot, of Vermont, once went to a party at Mr. Snodgrass's, escorting his two nieces of the same name as his own. One of the State Department messengers, who stood at the door of the drawing-room to announce the guests, to be very grammatical, and as the trio entered he shouted: "Senator Foot and the two Misses Feet."

A MOST MERITORIOUS ARTICLE.—We should be liable to apply the homonymous phrase at the head of the paragraph to any medical preparation we did not conscientiously believe to be useful; but in applying it to "Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar," there is no risk of over-shooting the mark. That this simple preparation is really the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly maladies of ordinary lung and throat complaints are the mark. That the specific for coughs and colds which it is claimed to be by the proprietor, we have no reason to doubt. The testimony in its favor seems to be conclusive, and is corroborated by our own observation, as far as we have had an opportunity to judge. The value of such a remedy as a preventive of the deadly