Tilden and Hendricks at Saratoga.

Accounts differ as to the result of the conference between Tilden and Hendricks at Saratoga. It is agreed that the two governers came together and had a talk, but beyond this no two reports tally. From one paper we learn that the interview was harmonious; that the head an tail of the Democratic tiger will pull together on the currency question; that Tilden was agreeably disappointed in day and passed without amendment, thoroughly infatuated with Tilden that he believes he will run ahead of his ticket in Indiana.
