Letter from Soda Springs.

Soda Springs, July 30, 1876. EDITOR ENTERPRISE:-This interesting place has been the scene of considerable amusement during the past week, and, from the appearance at the present time, will continue to be the watering place of the season. The genial host and hostess of the capacious hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Holesapple, make a specialty of looking to the enjoyment of their guests, and the culinary department is kept in first-class style. The fun-loving people never want for amusement in the way of dancing, croquet, hunting, fishing, etc., of which they avail themselves to their hearts' content. On Sundays it is particularly lively, as it forms the centre for all the inhabitants in the vicinity, and gives it quite a metropolitan air. Among the many who have been rusticating here, we have noticed the familiar faces of Wm. Barlow, Judge Bonham, James Partlow, Col. White, J. L. Barlow, and their families, all of whom make it a point not only to enjoy themselves, dimensions of the building are 36v2s but to furnish amusement for all who be in their company. One of the most striking features that chanced to fall under the observation of our "eagle eye" was a blackberrying party. The will be one of the finest residences in young ladies of the party had arrayed the city. It will be completed by about themselves in Indian costumes, which no doubt would have eclipsed a similar attempt of the elite of the Sioux nation (Sitting Bull and his comely bride not excepted). The young braves who were fortunate enough to form a part of the excursion report enjoying them-selves "ne plus ultra." In conclusion I would most heartily recommend the Springs as the place for those seeking business brisk, thermometer at 95 in pleasure and health, and feel confident | the shade, family in good health, and that all here will join with the writer | sends his kindest regards to friends in in this verdiet. Last Thursday night quite a party of young folks went boat riding down the river to Mr. B. Jennings' place, where they had a good time generally. A gentleman living below town informs us that he was awakened from his pleasant slumbers on the aforesaid night by cries of "Murder! help!" and after vainly searching for the applicants for help retired to his couch to dream of murders, etc. We only told him that a party of young folks were out boat riding that evening. That

The music was excellent, as may always be said when Messrs Bray, Ross and Miller have a hand in it. The ladies were charming, the gentlemen sociable and all went off as merry as a marriage

Religious,- Union services were held at the Methodist church last Sunday evening, Mr. David Caufield delivered a very interesting discourse, after which Rev. Mr. Day and Mr. I. A. Macrum made a few brief remarks.

The union meeting will be held at the Congregational church next Sunday evening. Rev. Mr. Atkinson will preach at the Congregational church next Sunday morning.

Visitors.-Misses Georgie Carpenter, Elva Breyman and Ada Breyman, of Salem, have been visiting friends in this city for the past two weeks. The young folks have endeavored to make their visit pleasant, and we have no doubt but what they are very favorably impressed with the sociability of the average Oregon Cityite.

R. R. BRIDGE.-Large quantities of stone are being hauled on each side of the Claekamas for the new railroad bridge, and a large force of graders are preparing a new road for the track on the north side of the river. The graders are expected to be up to the new bridge site in a few days, when the ties and rails will be speedily laid.

SMAIA-Pox .- A few nervous individuals, says the Portland Standard of the alst ult., have become convinced that we have small-pox in our midst, and are spreading the news like wild fire. We learn from the Chief of Police that there is no foundation for the rumor, ble noise on the streets. and that so far as he knows there is not
