OREGON CITY, THURSDAY, JAN. 11, 1877.

BREVITIES.

Week of prayer. Beautiful weather. Diphtheria is prevalent at Oswego. County scrip taken for subscription at par. Mr. H. S. Buck of Oak Point, is in town on business. Mr. Peter Scherr of Milwaukie, died last Monday. Union meeting at the Baptist church Sunday evening. All kinds of job work done at this office at Portland prices. It is becoming fashionable for gentlemen to wear bracelets. Read the city treasurer's notice, if you have any city orders. Correspondence from all parts of the county will be acceptable. Beware of counterfeit half dollars. The county is becoming flooded with them. The ill-treatment of dumb animals is a sin no human being should be guilty of. The union service at the M. E. Church last Sunday evening was largely attended. Samuel Church, of Salem, called last week. He has just returned from the Centennial. Cremation, as thus far dealt with, shows that woman's jaw-bone holds out against fire the longest. The officers of McLaughlin Lodge No. 5, Knights of Pythias, were installed last Monday evening. The S. F. News says that "B. M. D." writes the best Washington letters that come to the Pacific coast. Let us have a little light on the streets these dark nights. Can't some kind brother pass the light for one week? Cayotes have made away with 15 sheep belonging to Mr. H. Johnson residing three miles north-west of this city. Service will be held at the Congregational church this evening at 7 o'clock. The Baptist church Friday and Saturday evenings. Those Charman wants all who are indebted to call and settle without delay, as accounts for the past year must be closed. Taxes have been paid in at a lively rate during the past week. Don't wait until the sheriff comes after you or it will make a larger bill. A larger amount of grain will be sowed in Clackamas county this year than ever before, and the prospects are favorable for a bountiful crop. Rev. Mr. Miller, of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, delivered an interesting sermon at the M. E. Church last Sunday morning. Judging from the amount of money allowed Superintending Engineer, and the roads have been thoroughly worked during the past season. Our young friend Chas. Baredy sails this week on the coast to visit his relatives in Belgium. We wish him a successful voyage and a safe return. The communication in another column, dated 1876 and 1877, should have appeared in our last issue, but it was unavoidably crowded out. These boys and their carving knife behind the depot the other evening was quite amusing. They were young shavers. Our devil says they will be back. The Cavalryists purchased a Tabcock Fire extinguisher, and last week they tried to put out a fire with it. It wouldn't, and they are mad. Festivals are all right. The way to do is to leave all your money at home and go there and help out. The Pacific coast to pay $5 for a rug with a cat's head on it. A young man fell into the river at the wharf last Thursday and would have drowned for the fish. He got help from Henry's assistance rendered by A. Palmtree. Merchants who desire us to advocate home industry, etc., will do well to have their bill hawked, and not their poor rule that won't work both ways. The young lady in this city who had seen callers received, and the watchman was inclined to appoint a Returning Board and count some of them out. The boys are making free with sign boards, etc., around town, and the watchman will do well to look after them. We wouldn't say a word, but they got away with our last Sunday night. Mr. Chas. Moore has the thanks of this office for a beautiful supply of his wedding cake, and in the morning he had a lovely chorus to wish him a long and happy voyage over the matrimonial sea. The Indians on the hill had a big funeral last Tuesday. The deceased was the deceased brave, together with his effects, in a dry goods box and committed it to the elements of earth. Indian Jim was chief mourner. We have received the first number of the Unitarian, and it is published monthly by D. N. Utter, at Olympia, W. T. It is devoted to the interest and advocacy of liberal Christianity, and contains some of the best geographical appearance is neat. The case of Baxter vs Mullins & Co., before Justice Shattuck last Tuesday was decided in favor of the plaintiff. A large number of defendants say they agreed to pay Baxter for work on the steamer McManville. A German family, lately from the East, residing two and a half miles north of Oswego, had a son-in-law who had the small-pox. Last week the wife died, and the husband is in a precarious condition. A large number of persons visited the family before it was known that they had the small-pox, and it is feared that the disease will spread far and wide.

Spending Your Money at Home.

The following are the most forcible reasons why you should spend your money at home:

1st. It is your home; you cannot improve it much by taking it away to spend or invest.

2d. There is no way of improving a place so much by encouraging good merchants, good schools and good people to settle among you, and improve the town, unless you spend your money at home.

3d. Spend your money at home, for you are not generally got it. It is your duty.

4th. Spend your money at home because there is no way for you to get credit, it is of your town merchants who have to get it, and they must wait for the money. Therefore when you have the cash, spend it at home.

5th. Spend your money at home. It will make better merchants of your merchants; they can and will keep better assortments and sell at lower rates than if the only business they do is what is credited out, while the money goes to other places.

6th. Spend your money at home. Set the example now. Buy your dry goods, groceries, meats, and everything at home, and you will see a wonderful change in a short time in the business outlook of the place; therefore, deal with your home merchants.

7th. Spend your money at home. What do you gain by going off? Count the cost; see what your country has done by letting your merchants have the cash. Bring a balance and see if you would not have been just as well off, besides helping your merchants.

8th. Spend your money at home. Your merchants are your neighbors, your friends; they stand by you in sickness and in health, they are the only ones who trade they cannot keep on their feet without your money. No banks, no one waiting by property to settle on and build up your place.

City Council.

Small Influence of a Great Specific.

For the preservation or recovery of health and strength, the diet should be wholesome and nutritious.

When it happens that the alimentary processes are disturbed, by indigestion or half masticated food, the best remedy for host results of abusing the digestive organs is Foster's Stomach Bitters, most agreeable, prompt and gentle remedy for dyspepsia, and for the bilious and excessive irregularities, which result from it.

The liver and bowels, in common with the stomach, experience its beneficial influences. The result of the system is carried through its natural outlet, a healthy flow and secretion of the bile is promoted, and the system is given to assimilation in consequence of its use. It healthfully stimulates the bladder, a kidney, and they are benefited by its tonic and regulating action, and thence the system against malaria.
