In Memoriam.

Mr. George LaRocque, an old and well known resident of our town, died in Oakland, California, on the 22d of February, at the age of 56 years. He left here last fall, suffering from a neuralgic attack, and hoping a change of climate would benefit him; but his malady grew upon him with the above result. Mr. LaRocque was of an honest, impulsive disposition, quick to come to a decision, and immovable when taken; his word was as good as his bond, and none can dispute his uprightness and probity of character. His wealth never led him to ostentation, but he was always the same, to rich or poorfall, suffering from a neuralgic attack, he was always the same, to rich or poor-genial and kind hearted. He was tenacions of what he thought to be his rights, and although without the learning of the schools he had acquired a deep business insight, and by self-education became the equal of any in managing a large property.

He was undoubtedly the best judge of qualities of wheat of any man in the State, and for this reason the Imperial Mills, of which he was managing owner, long re-tained ascendancy over others in the man-Moris, Scott, much a torture that death came to him as last hours.

It is understood that his remains will

EDITOR ENTERPRISE:-In response to the communication of A. O. Yates, in last week's issue, which seems to be aimed at the public generally, I would say that the The Concert.

The Camilla Urso Concert troupe was greeted by a large audience on Friday night, and judging from the vociferous 'encores" the artists were thoroughly appreciated. Madame Urso ranks very high as a violinist, taking rank with such mas-ters as Wieniauske, Ole Bull, Vieuxtemps, Ernst, and in our limited knowledge of music we could not help noticing how far she exceeded in grace, elegance of touch and harmony anyone who has ever before appeared in this city. Her concerts from Mendelssohn was a grand effort, and though rather too classical for the uncultivated ear, it was thoroughly enjoyed. On being brought before the audional of the control of the contr Last Rose of Summer" was a most exquisite performance, actually holding the audience spell-bound from the first stroke of the bow to her retiring bow. Miss Ivy Wandesforde's singing, to use an enraptured girl's expression, "was too lovely for anything." She is quite young and though her voice has not received the volume of maturity, her compass is extraordinary, and we prognosticate a bright future for her close at hand. Her charming singing of "The Lover and the Bird" fully deserved the loud plaudits, and many were the wishes that she would sing her entire reportoire. Mr. Auguste Sauret's performance on the piano was brilliant, while the vocalisms of Mr. Yaindley called forth loud expressions of delight. Mr. Pflueger's "Salva Dimora" showed a cultivated voice and feeling heart. On being encored he sang most

A LITTLE DRAW.—A Portland correspondent to the Roseburg Independent party of prospectors. says: "For weeks past the sports about town have been talking over a little game of "draw" that took place a few evenings ago at the St. Charles, in which four kings raked the pot over four aces! George, the landford, is a well known clever fellow, in either horseflesh or pasteboard, and is dways willing to accommodate his guests by taking a hand. We'l, on this particular evening George and three others were "passing the buck," one of whom was om Oregon City. The deal happened to be at George's right, and he looked at his hand and chipped $5, the Oregon City at his left saw the five and raised $40, the third man and dealer both stayed out; We think it necessary to advise more George saw the $40 and drew two eards; than one of our young friends to see that the Oregon City man "stood pat." George the blinds are down before they com- went to his safe and raised the pot $400, which the Oregon City chap called down. George spread four aces on the table to the other fellow's four kings, and as he reached for the rot the Oregon City man swept the board, with the remark that "Four kings always be t four aces where two of them are diamonds!"-as was the case with George's "invincible." George lost the pot and his temper both, and it is said that the air is yet sulphinous about the corner of Morrison and Front. The game of "Ah Sin" must be played "low down" to get away with every "Bill Nye."

A SUSPICIOUS CHARACTER.- The marshal and deputy were after a vagabond last Saturday night who has been living with the Indians for some time past. He has been suspected of several lurglaries which have been committed in town during the past winter, but could not be traced to him. Gentlemen—Seeing numerous certificates in the Maine Farmer, endorsing the merits of the Great Lung Remedy, WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, I am induced and I take great pleasure in giving publicity to the great cure it accomplished in my family in the year 1856. During the summer of that year my son Henry A. Archer, now postmaster at this place, was attacked with spitting of blood, cough, weakness of lungs, and general debility, so much so that our family physician declared him to have a "seated consumption." He was under medical treatment for some time, but received no benefit from it. At length, from the solicitation of himself and others, I was induced to purchase one bottle of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which benefitted him so much I obtained another, which in a short time restored him to his usual state of health. I can safely recommend this remedy to others in like condition, for it is, I think, all it purports to be-THE GREAT LUNG REMEDY FOR THE TIMES! The above statement, gentlemen, is my oluntary offering to you in favor of your Balsam, and is at your disposal. A.ARCHER.
