NEW BOAT.—Capt. J. W. Cochran and associates have this week commenced the construction of a light draft boat, to be ready for the autumn harvest; the boiler will be constructed in Wilmington, Delaware, and the balance of the machinery manufactured in Salem. The hull will be 140 feet long and 30 feet breadth of beam, and it is thought the new boat will draw less than ten inches, with "wood and water in," ready for business. Capt. Cochran knows what the shipping interests of the Willamette require, and the new boat and the S. T. Church will give ample capacity to carry off a fair share of the freights of the valley. To him and his associates, more than any other combination, is due the fact of reasonable freights on the river, and we expect to see him fully sustained in his enterprise by the shippers in the valley.

EDITOR ENTERPRISE:—Young "Romeo" is not the only one in trouble. Another young man has devoted nearly his entire time for the past year courting his heart's desire, and though he has rivaled many and no doubt thought himself the best looking young man about, yet his wished-for repeatedly told him he was not the right one and that his Sundays were too long, (many of them being forty-eight hours, and sometimes longer). Still he continued, until he received a letter from her, stating that his visits were no longer wanted; but to her great surprise he was there the next day, and told her that he had received the letter and that hereafter he would come oftener to save the trouble of writing. She told him plainly to stay away, she would not be his slave. If he would compel her to marry him, he would be cruel to her afterward. He then saw his last fond hope had departed. Experience teaches a dear school, but fools will learn at no other. COL. SELLERS.

In asking for a man, we asked for one who could sing tenor, but don't think you would do very well in that capacity. As we have no desire to bandy words with you, we will in future take no notice of you. At present accept kindly advice. Read the 11th verse of the 20th chapter of Proverbs; also the 28th verse of the 17th chapter of the same book. We hope you will profit by the reading of the same. Very Respectfully, FARMER.

FIRE.—Last Friday night, about half past eleven o'clock, the slaughter house of Albright & Logus, situated on the Abernethy creek below town, was discovered to be on fire. The fire department was called out, but as it was beyond the line of the water works, and they had to leave their hose carts behind, the fire had gained too much headway for them to save anything, and it soon devoured the building and its contents. Mr. J. Logus says that workmen were engaged in the building during the early part of the evening, and they were very careful to put out their light, and he is of the opinion that it is the work of an incendiary. The loss will amount to about $600.

PIC-NIC.—The Episcopal Sunday School of this city will have their annual pic-nic at East Portland next Wednesday. The S. T. Church has been chartered for the occasion, and will leave the wharf below Miller, Church & Co.'s mill at 8 o'clock A. M., and returning will leave Portland at 5 P. M., and East Portland at 5:30. Refreshments will be served on the grounds and on the boat when returning. The fare for the round trip will be fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for children. Members of the Sunday School are carried free. A cordial invitation has been tendered to all who may wish to join the excursionists and participate in the festivities. For full particulars see posters.

DON'T BE A LOAFER.—Young man pay attention. Don't be a loafer; don't hang about loafing places. Better work for ten cents a day than to sit around day after day idling away what should be valuable time. Bustle about, if you mean to have anything to bustle about for. Many a poor physician has obtained a real patient by riding after an imaginary one. A quire of blank paper, tied with tape, carried under a lawyer's arm, may procure him his first case and make his fortune. Such is the world; "To him that hath shall be given." Quit dreaming and complaining; keep busy and mind your chances.

BARLOW ROAD.—The road across the Cascade mountains, owned by the Cascade Road & Bridge Co., is open and ready for travel. Hands are at work putting the road in good repair; also extensive improvements are being made and more to follow. Added to the splendid grade made on Laurel Hill last year, they intend making others which in all will make the best, shortest and cheapest road over the mountains. Sheep bridges are being put up on all the streams. Tolls—wagons, $2; saddle animals, 50cts.; cattle, 10cts.; Sheep, 3cts.; pack animals, 25cts.

INCENDIARIES AROUND.—Last Friday night, while the firemen were at the slaughter-house fire, some dastardly wretch tried to burn the Cliff House. The wash room was saturated with coal oil and lighted, but it was discovered by Mr. Theodore Clark, who promptly put it out with a bucket of water, before it had done any damage. The night watchman will do well to keep an eye on several suspicious characters around town.

SOCIABLE.—The Young People's Missionary Society, connected with the Congregational Sunday School, will give a sociable at the Congregational church tomorrow evening, for the benefit of their missionary fund. The first part of the evening will be given to songs, recitations, etc., by the members of the society; the latter part to general sociability. The exercises will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

BASE BALL.—The ball tossers at Mt. Pleasant have accepted the challenge of the picked nine made last week, and a friendly game will be played on the hill Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Both sides have good players, and a hotly contested game may be expected.

If you wish to secure bargains you had better call at Ackerman Bros., while they are selling out at San Francisco cost. The stock must be cleared out.

The Grangers, Etc.

AT HOME, Clackamas Co., May 21.

EDITOR ENTERPRISE:—In a letter written some time since, I promised to say something about what I know of grangers. I have been operating for some time as an "agent," or "middle man," and have had considerable to do with granges as a body and with grangers as such. I find them as a rule intelligent, social, and in a lively state of education, in regard to finance and the commercial interests of the country. The less informed among them I estimate not to claim that the time is near at hand when all the commodities the farmer needs will be "purchased from the manufactures direct," "Out with your middle men," etc. But the best informed granger will tell you he expects no such thing. All they ask—and they mean to have it—is "a fair chance with men in other business." They are willing to allow a fair per centage upon all they buy. They are willing to allow the wheat merchant a fair profit on their wheat, or any other product. They make no fight with men in other business. As to middle men, they have their middle men, or agents, as you choose to call them, and they will continue to do so as long as it pays well. The Grange movement, as I look upon it, is a Farmers' Protective Society, and, as such, should be respected as other organizations which have for their object, the benefit of the membership and general benevolence. No class of men in the wide world are more deserving than those who, while they produce the staples of life, seek to elevate themselves and their neighbors to such a condition as to command the honor and respect which other men have gained in occupations less deserving than their own. So I say, success to the Grange movement.

In my travels up the valley I find crops of all kind looking well. A larger amount of wheat will be be raised this year than ever before. A large area of up-lands, or hill lands, have been cleared of late and put to fall grain, which heretofore have been almost useless, as they were thickly matted with oak brush. These lands are coming to be more valued than bottom lands, for the reason that full crops never fail upon them, while on the bottom lands a severe freeze will throw the grain to the surface after which, when the ground is thawed, the grain is left uncovered, and dies for want of earth, or is drowned or frozen.

In my travels I found some articles of great antiquity. Mr. Chas. Williams, who lives on Hamilton creek, in the forks of the Santiam river, showed me a common slate, which from the best family traditions is near three hundred years old. The workmanship is rather rude, and proves in many respects its great antiquity. He also showed me a powder horn over one hundred years old, which was carried by his grand-father, David Williams, through the Revolutionary War, besides many others of lesser note. Also a horn cup, a constant companion of the horn from its earliest history. Mr. Williams' father, a Baptist preacher, carried this antiquated cup during his ministerial life, preaching for many years to seven different churches. Mr. Thomas J. Hannah has a gun three hundred and twenty-five years old. It has been handed down through the oldest son, whose name was invariably Thomas. This gun was in the war of 1812 and carried by the grand-father of its present owner. It was captured by the British and afterward recaptured and stacked away in the armory at Washington seven years. Mr. Hannah went from his home in Illinois to Washington, and after a tedious search found the old family gun. The barrel is 4 feet 4 inches long. About one third of the barrel from the breech is square and the balance smooth. Eight or ten inches of the square part is worn almost round so that one can scarcely discover that it was once square. Several stocks have been broken, and its present one is rather shabby. The lock is a very small flint, of rather rude workmanship. Mr. Hannah says it is famous for shot and kills a hundred paces. More, as the world wags along. Very respectfully,

A. M. CORNELIUS.

CANCER CURED.—Dr. H. T. Bond, of Philadelphia, has discovered a perfect antidote for the terrible scourge of cancer. Dr. Bond's treatment cures without pain, and absolutely without plasters, caustic or knife, but simply by acting on the cancer cell while forming, thus stopping the supply to the local disease or tumor, which is broken down and carried away by the absorbents of the system. Dr. Bond's remedies can be sent to any part of the country. Full particulars sent free. All interested should address Dr. H. T. Bond, Philadelphia, Pa.

ACKERMAN BROS.

Oregon City, April 5th, 1877.

THOMAS CHARMAN.

ESTABLISHED - - - - 1853.

DESIRES TO INFORM THE CITIZENS OF Oregon City and of the Willamette Valley, that he is still on hand and doing business on the old motto, that

A Nimble Six Pence is Better than a Slow Shilling

I have just returned from San Francisco, where I purchased one of the

LARGEST AND BE[illegible] SELECTED

STOCK OF GOODS

ever before offered in this city; and consists in part, as follows:

Boots and Shoes,
Clothing, Dry Goods,
Hats and Caps,
Hosiery of Every Description,
Hardware, Groceries,
Oils, Paints and
Sash and Doors,
Chinaware, Queensware,
Stoneware, Crockery,
Platedware, Glassware,
Jewelry of Various Qualities
And Styles, Clocks and Watches, Ladies and Gents' Furnishing
Patent Medicines, Goods, Fancy Notions of Every Rope, Farming Implements of Every Description
All Kinds, Carpets,
Mattings, Oil
Cloth, Wall Paper, etc.

Of the above list, I can say my stock is the

MOST COMPLETE

ever offered in this market, and was selected with especial care for the Oregon City trade. All of which I now offer for sale at the Lowest Market Rates.

No use for the ladies, or any one else, to think of going to Portland to buy goods for I am Determined to Sell Cheap and not to allow myself to be

UNDERSOLD IN THE STATE OF OREGON.

All I ask is a fair chance and quick payments, believing as I do that

Twenty Years Experience in Oregon City enables me to know the requirements of the trade. Come one and all and see for yourselves that the old stand of cannot be beaten in quality or price. It would be useless for me to tell you all the advantages I can offer you in the sale of goods, as every store that advertises does that, and probably you have been disappointed. All I wish to say is

Come, and See, and Examine for Yourselves, for I do not wish to make any mistakes. My object is to tell all my old friends now that I am still alive, and desirous to sell goods cheap, for cash, or upon such terms as agreed upon. Thanking all for the liberal patronage heretofore bestowed.
