Jacob Kann Toner.

The body of this unfortunate young man was found floating near the central dock at Portland last Thursday morning. The body was so badly disfigured and bloated that his father did not recognize it until a nesday. He has been campaigning with letter was found in one of his pockets ad-dressed to "Jacob Toner." On examining the pockets of the deceased, there was found therein, wrapped in an old glove, $120 in gold and $1.70 in silver, which shows very positively that the presump-tion of foul dealing asserted last week was Howard's fault."

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning. The deceased was born in this city, and was about 24 years of age. He was always a favorite with his school-mates, and it August 16th, 1877: vas with sorrow that they heard of his sad and untimely fate. The remains were brought to this city on Friday last, and the funeral services held at the Congregational Church. The ceremonies were very impressive, and many a tear was shed while listening to the eloquent and touching remarks of Rev. D. B. Gray. The Church was filled with the numerous friends of the deceased, to pay the last sad tribute to his remains. All that remained mortal of our departed young friend was then consigned to its last resting place in the cemetery. Peace be to his ashes.

Not Suicidal.-By request we publish the following, which appeared in the Oregonian of the 21st: "We learn from friends of the late John Davis Crawford, of Clackamas county, who was found dead in his orchard on the 4th inst., that there was not the slightest ground for the supposition that the deceased came to his death by any suicidal intent. His family was residing in this city, and he had gone to his place near Butteville for the purpose of bringing back a cow, some chickens and other articles. On the morning of his death, having tied the cow conveniently to the landing, and placed the chickens in a box near the same place, he was waiting for the steamboat to come along and take them all to Portland. While waiting he said he would go round the field with his gun and look for so e birds, knowing that he could easily reach the boat after hearing the whistle. After some time San Francisco, for the purpose of laying elapsed the whistle blew, and immediately in a large stock of goods. after the report of a gun was heard. Nothing was thought of all this, and no uneasiing rapidly, judging from the number of births within the past week. found. There was no physician to exam-ine the range of the ball; but all the cir-cumstances seem to indicate that the deeased on hearing the whistle of the boat, started suddenly to return, when, by some accident, the gun was discharged, sending the contents into bis side and thence through the heart, causing instant death. His appearance was wild in the extreme, and by the time he arrived at the jail, a crowd of nearly two hundred persons were following him. According to his story he just come from Clackamas county with his wife of a day or two to visit an uncle of her's, who resides in this city. Yesterday afternoon the uncle got drunk, and without any provocation proceeded to "put a head on" his new-made relative. A olice officer went with him to the house, out the door was locked, and their application for admittance did not meet with favor from the occupants. The officer had no right to 'storm' the castle,' and con cluded to let the bridegroom engineer his own family rows."

CAPTURED.-Andy Long, who was indieted by the last grand jury for larceny, committed in Cascade precinct, and who left for parts unknown before the officers law got their hands on him, was arrested near Roseburg last Monday by Sheriff Apperson. The sheriff has been on the look out for Andy for some time past, of a pleasant surprise last evening, at the residence of her parents, it being the occatrain Monday morning to make the arrest The sheriff, accompanied by the deputy sheriff of Douglas county, found the man Monday night sleeping in a hay stack about ten miles from Roseburg. They captured him without any difficulty, but shortly after making his arrest he tried to make his escape, and gave the officers a lively race for about half a mile before they overhauled him. He was brought down on the train Tuesday afternoon and occupies quarters in the county jail.

Notorious.-An Albany exchange gives a recent inmate of our jail the following recommend: "Andy Dwyer, a hotel waiter who worked several n onths in this city, has come to grief. One day last week he stole his room-mate's clothes in Oregon City, and the Recorder sent him to jail for twelve days. When he stopped in this city he was a nice young man; wore a patent shirt front, paste diamond breastpin, and was an object of considerable attention—to the night watchman and marshal. Among the hurtful consequences of obstructed digestion, is the impoverishment of the blood, and since a deterfative condition of the vital fluid not only produces dangerous organic weakness, but, according to the best medical authorities, sometimes causes asphyxia, it is apparent that to improve the quality of the blood by promoting digestion and assimila-tion, is a wise precaution. Hostetter's Stom-ach Bitters is precisely the remedy for this purpose, since it stimulates the gastric juices, conquers those bilious and evacuative irregu-larities which interfere with the digestive pro-cesses, promotes assimilation of the food by the blood, and purifies as well as enriches it. The signs of improvement in health in consequence of using the Bitters are speedily apparent in an accession of vigor, a gain in bodily substance, and a regular and active performance of every physical function.
