

Judging Others.

The Oregon City Enterprise, a Mitchell paper, pretends to give advice against any attempt to "set up" things for any particular man.

When men are venal and corrupt themselves, they generally suspect others. Our article to which the above refers had no reference to any particular person or persons, and none but the most vicious and depraved in the pool of corruption would have taken it in any other light than a timely warning against improper means being used by those who may feel inclined to tamper with the will of the people.

The Oregonian designates the Enterprise as a Mitchell paper, it asserts that which is false. It is neither Mitchell's, Scott's nor any other man's organ. It is Republican in principle and works for the success of the party, irrespective of individual preferences.

We are authorized by a responsible party to say that if Bro. Ireland will enlist a few of the mounted men of the City by the Sea to make this proposition good, on a ship load of say fifteen hundred tons, that he will pay them the comfortable little fortune of two thousand dollars, gold coin.

Up to the present writing the chances of war have been decidedly on the side of the much abused Turk. The Russians seem to have been checked in every strategic move undertaken, and for one we are not sorry for it. We believe the Turk is not as great a barbarian as is depicted as a zealot as his Russian opponent, and any attempt to enlist our sympathies on account of the presumed or attributed religious aspect of the contest falls to the ground when we remember that the Russian has almost wholly extinguished by bitter persecution the religious belief of its captured Polish subjects, and that the Serbian and Bulgarian, like the brigand Greeks, have more of the barbarian and outlaw in their composition than any characteristics pertaining to Christians.

The New Orleans Times declares that when Northern Democratic Conventions pass resolutions against subsidies, and especially against those which cover grants of internal improvements in the South, the Northern Democrats might as well understand that their candidates for the Speakership will be opposed by a solid South.

Instead of us attempting to mislead or betray any one, this "bumph" of the Oregonian is playing the very game against which we protested, and is trying to defraud the people against their wishes and thus bring defeat upon the party.

Crops Damaged.

We learn that there is a vast proportion of the late sown grain in all the valley counties—but more notably from Marion and Polk south—that is shriveled by rust and unfit for bread uses. It is calculated that this calamity will deduct at least a million bushels from the merchantable yield of the valley.

Astoria Markets.

Under this heading the Astorian has a standing item, as follows: Wheat about or wheat in store at Astoria is always at par with wheat afloat or in store at San Francisco.

Telegraphic News.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—The Tribune's St. Paul special says: The Republican State Convention to-day unreservedly approved the President's southern and civil service policies; favored early resumption of specie payments and the remonetization of silver; and urged submission to the popular vote of every proposition entertained for the payment of state railway bonds and promises of assistance to grasshopper sufferers.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Telegrams from Fort Benton, Montana, say the Nez Percés attacked the ride yesterday at Corvallis at 8:30 a. m., on the 23d inst., making seven charges and fighting until ten o'clock the next morning, when they left, probably for Milk River. Sunday night they burned a freight pile consisting of 200 tons of private freight, and twenty tons of private freight.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The statement of the public debt shows a decrease during the month of September of $2,882,539; decrease since June, $8,770,968. Total debt, less cash in the treasury, $2,051,587,254.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—The Times' London special says the action of the Porte in sending a fleet to Crete is "highly inexpedient and unwise." It is a measure of States whose conventions have adopted such resolutions will encounter the same antagonism. This begins the breach in the Democracy.

State News.

The Dallas Itemizer has resumed publication. The Hillsboro fair was a decided failure this year. S. Geiger was robbed of $110 at Hillsboro last week.

The Universalist Association convenes at Zana, Polk county, to-day. The Aurora restaurant will be open on the fair grounds next week. In Jackson county 1,017 polls are assessed—253 more than last year.

The roof of the court house at Hillsboro has been damaged by the sinking of the cupola. Millers at Salena say some farmers are short-sighted as to mix damaged wheat with sound. Ben Underwood, formerly Post Agent, is now engaged in the brokerage business at Eugene.

W. H. Pritchford, one of the proprietors of the Roseburg Plaster-works, has withdrawn from the paper. A number of Lane county hop raisers have lost their entire crop on account of the scarcity of pickers. Butte Grange is making preparations for a public meeting at the Butte Grange Hall on the fourth Saturday in October.

Mr. Wm. Harmon, a resident of this city some years ago, returned to the Dallas recently from a visit of eighteen months in the East. The largest warehouse on the Coast is owned by Allen & Lewis of Portland. It has a frontage of 789 feet, 80 feet deep and two stories high.

The following statement of the cost of taking the census has been prepared by the Treasury Department for each ten years from the year 1791 to 1871, inclusive: 1791, $44,377; 1802, $66,976 35; 1811, $176,737 57; 1821, $269,906 60; 1831, $440,511 40; 1841, $918,553 57; 1851, $1,414,104 63; 1861, $1,900,279 53; 1871, $3,405,057 76. Total, $8,507,079 53. This gives one a clear notion of our country's material growth.

News for the People.

Miss Rosa Parks has just received an elegant stock of fall goods for the ladies. Mrs. Parks has had considerable experience in the millinery line, and only keeps the most fashionable goods.

The railroad survey from Roseburg to the coast is progressing rapidly; no very serious obstacles as yet. The route crosses the Umpqua river near Corvallis, runs through Happy, Looking Glass and Ten Mile Valleys. Crosses the mountain in the pass of the Camas valley road, and from there follows the course of the Coquille to tidal water.

The Fat Boy of the Oregonian denounces us as a county bumkin, and insinuates that we have not much political strategy at command, and does not take kindly to the disinterested advice we gave in our last week's issue concerning partisan nominations for the Legislature. Do we infer that the Fat Boy intends to set up Clackamas county for himself? If so we pledge ourselves in advance. The Senatorial seat has long been wanting of brains, and all the article he has would fill it to overflowing.

At the residence of Mr. James R. Hayes, in Clackamas county, Oregon, Sept. 28th, 1877, by the Rev. John W. S. Wood, O. C. Whitton and Mrs. Mattie Phillips. At Canemah, Sept. 29, Mr. George B. Pripel and Miss Laura V. Howell.

GOOD CHEAP FOR CASH! "Produce Bought and Sold." Oregon City, August 2, 1877.

CANCER CAN BE CURED. Cancer has from time immemorial been a great scourge to the human race, and is becoming the greater. For many years it has been considered incurable, and is generally believed by the people to be incurable; that once its roots take hold upon a man, they never give up, or a sufferer escape a lingering and terrible death.
