Union meeting at the M. E. Church on next Sabbath evening. Services commence at 7 o'clock instead of 7:30 as heretofore.

Damascusites were favored with the earthquake shock last Friday, and they report "houses shaking as if afflicted with the chills."

A number of families from Polk county passed through this city last week, en route for Columbia county, W. T. There were seven wagons in the train.

Mr. Wm. Ganong returned from San Francisco last week, and is now ready to attend to the wants of his patrons at his old stand.

The "Damascus contractor" says if there was any hair lost in the recent "unpleasantness" it was from the "pate" of his opponent.

The roads are fast drying up under the genial rays of Old Sol, and large numbers of wagons laden with wheat are again seen on the streets.

Mr. Wm. Failing has raised an extraordinary pear on his farm near Milwaukie. It consists of five distinct pears all grown together in one cluster.

Capt. S. Grove, whose pottery at Damascus was destroyed by fire some time ago, has located at Whitman county, W. T., and will soon commence manufacturing earthen ware again.

We understand that Mr. J. H. Moore will soon commence the erection of a wooden building on the vacant lot adjoining A. Levy's store. It is to be occupied by Mr. Robt. Potter as a saloon.

Johnson & McCown have a large amount of real estate for sale on easy terms, and are making sales almost every day. If you want to buy or sell, give them a call.

Did you feel the earthquake last Friday? It was a reminder that your subscription to the ENTERPRISE was due, and that it was time to come around and "shake" a little coin.

The following are officers elected to preside over the State Agricultural Society: President, M. Wilkins of Linn county; vice presidents, Joseph Hamilton of Benton and J. N. T. Miller of Jackson; secretary, E. M. Waffle of Marion county; treasurer, Ladd & Bush of Marion county.

A man named McCann, who resides near Champoeg, was crossing the river in a small boat recently and was run over by the steamer Orient, and his boat knocked into "smithereens." He had a narrow escape from drowning, and no help was given him by the boat. He presents a little bill of $250 damages, and the Reporter says he ought to have four times the amount.

Mr. John W. Meldrum returned last week from a trip to Gov. Thompson's big ditch in Jackson county. He reports work progressing rapidly and it is expected to have it finished next week. It is predicted by old miners that at least $100,000 will be taken out of the claim in one year from the time operations are commenced. If such should be the case, Dave will lose a wager for a $100 suit of clothes.

That Earthquake.

Under date of Oct. 14th, Mr. R. V. Short, of Boone's Ferry, sends us the following:

I thought I would send you a little note of the earthquake yesterday. At 2 o'clock I was picking apples at my house. I heard a noise resembling that of an old building falling. Then the trees and house shook so as to shake the apples off, and the plastering out of the chimney. In T. A. Seeley's field it shook sheaves of oats down, and nearly shook down the fences. One peculiarity about the shock or concussion at my place was, it did not effect the water in the river. I have not been able to find any effect of the shock in the ground yet.

CORRESPONDENCE.—We are always glad to receive communications from all parts of the county on any topic of general interest. As we have remarked about one hundred times, the name and postoffice address of the writer should accompany each letter, of whatever description, not necessarily for publication, but as a guaranty of good faith.

Clackamas County Towns.

From Stearn's Travelers and Immigrants' Guide, we publish the following:

OREGON CITY.

County seat of Clackamas. Sixteen miles from Portland by rail and 13 by river. High bluffs come almost to the river bank here and the business part of the city is all on one street along the river. The finest residence portion is on the bluff 300 feet above. Oldest city in Oregon. Was for several years the capital. Incorporated, 1859. Population now, 1,200. The city wears the distinction of being wholly free from debt. The grand water power, though comparatively not touched, is utilized by the Oregon City Woolen Mills, capital estimated $300,000. LaRocque, Savier & Co. and Miller, Church & Co., merchant millers; combined capacity, 400 bbls. per day. Holldaay & Biles, tub and pail factory, 30 hands. J. Crawford, saw mill.

Ad Alden fruit preserving establishment, capital $16,000 (estimated cost of building $8,000) running by steam. The city's water supply is furnished by pumping from the river to a reservoir on the bluff, Geo. A. Pease, proprietor of works. It has a good fire department, three companies, F. S. Dement, chief engineer. The city has five church buildings, and its public schools are the boast of its inhabitants, W. L. Worthington, supt. Of beneficial orders there are a R. A. Chapter and Blue lodge, A. F. & A. M., Encampment and subordinate lodge, I. O. O. F., a lodge of K. of P. and one I. O. G. T. lodge. The Willamette falls are "locked" on the opposite side of the river from the town, but a transfer of freight can be made though the town.

City Officers—L. T. Barin, mayor; Wm. Whitlock, recorder; J. H. Strickler, treasurer; F. M. Albright, assessor; T. John Broderick, marshal. Pastors of churches—W. D. Nichols, Meth.; J. T. Huff, Bap.; D. B. Gray, Cong.; J. W. Sellwood, Epis.; J. M. Bacon, postmaster.

MILWAUKIE,

Clackamas county. Station 7 miles out from Portland. Once a flourishing village, but since the establishment of Portland as the commercial metropolis it has decayed. There are some fine fruit farms in the vicinity, and Luelling & Son carry on an extensive nursery business.

CLACKAMAS,

Clackamas county. Eleven miles out. One store, postoffice and blacksmith shop. Supported by a strip of farming land on the north bank of the Clackamas river.

PAPER MILLS,

Fourteen miles from Portland. Flag station. The railroad crosses the Clackamas river here. Excellent trout fishing at nearly all seasons of the year. Clackamas paper mills located at this point. Forty or fifty thousand dollars invested in the manufacture of news and wrapping paper.

NEW ERA,

Clackamas county. Station twenty miles from Portland. Two stores, flouring mill, steam saw mill, warehouse and blacksmith shop. J. Casto, postmaster. W. W. Jesse, notary public. Town nearly all built in the last year. The railroad company put in a switch and laid out a park for picnic purposes. It is the Spiritualistic headquarters of the State. The spiritual believers hold camp meetings here frequently. The business firms are Bowden & Jameson, lumber; J. Casto, store and eating house; Knight Bros., flour; Rock Island Storage Co., merchandise and grain. To this point the route has been through forests and the canyon of the Willamette river. High black bluffs and woods have echoed the rattle of the train to the river below. The scenery at New Era is wild and forbidding. The river bends to the west just beyond and the railroad rises and strikes across the prairie in almost a straight line to Salem.

CANBY,

Clackamas county. Station 25 miles from Portland. First station on the prairie; fine country all around it, promising future, etc. Charles Knight, postmaster. Knight Bros., general merchandise. Wm. Knight, justice of the peace. C. Knight, notary public. T. L. Fletcher, constable. Chas. Knight, Physician. Good school house and fair hotel.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY.—Mr. Geo. Fuchs' cigar factory is making an excellent brand of cigars, and he is deserving of a liberal patronage. There is no reason why the retail dealers of this city should not purchase at least a part of their stock from this factory, and help to support a home industry which is the means of furnishing a livelihood for several workmen, and is a benefit to the community in general, as the proprietor and his workmen spend their money with our business houses. As we have said before, the cigars are second to none in this market, and if it is any benefit to have a factory of this kind in the city, it should be deserving of liberal patronage. We understand that Mr. Fuchs intends to locate this factory at Albany or Portland next spring unless the home trade increases. Give him a call and we guarantee that he will furnish as good an article as can be obtained in the city.

MARRIED.—The following account of the "doubling up" of an old Oregon City boy appears in the Boston "Journal:" "The marriage of Miss Clara R. Chamberlin, of Newbury, Vt., to Dr. Geo. H. Atkinson, of Brooklyn, N. Y., Thursday evening, Sept. 20, was a very brilliant affair. The guests, about one hundred and twenty-five, assembled at the residence of the bride's mother. Among them were Mr. Frank Warren and wife, of Portland, Oregon; Mr. Edward Atkinson, of New York City; Mr. Bates, of Springfield, Mass.; Mrs. Terrill and Miss Chamberlin, of Stanstead, P. Q., and several guests from Boston and vicinity. The rooms were tastefully decorated with flowers, ferns and evergreens. The numerous bridal gifts were both beautiful and useful. After the departure of most of the guests the cornet band enlivened the moonlight evening with some of their best selections and fine music. The bridal party left next morning for Montreal, Portland, Boston and New York."

TRAIN DELAYED.—Last Saturday evening a freight train bound north had six cars thrown off the track near Clackamas, demolishing three of them and damaging a lot of wheat. The passenger train en route from the fair to Portland arrived here about 7:30 o'clock and was detained until 11 o'clock. The passengers, numbering about eight hundred amused themselves by viewing our city by moonlight, cleaning the restaurants and hotels out of everything in the eatable line, and having a good time in general. While it was unfortunate for the passengers that the accident occurred, it was a bonanza for our eating houses and saloons, as some three or four hundred dollars dropped into their tills. Our visitors were very orderly, and behaved themselves in a becoming manner.

EARTHQUAKE.—Last Friday afternoon, at about 2 o'clock, our city was visited by a genuine shock of earthquake. It caused quite a commotion among our citizens, as most of them were strangers to this California luxury. The shock caused buildings to shake and people to rush out into the streets, supposing the end was near, but did not inflict any damage. At Portland several windows were broken, and a number of chimneys knocked down.

TAX COLLECTING.—Deputy Sheriff Fouts started yesterday morning to gather in the State and county taxes, and will also take subscriptions for the ENTERPRISE. He will visit the various precincts on the following dates: Pleasant Hill, Oct. 18th; Oswego, 19th; Hardings, 20th; Rock creek, 22d; Cascades, 23d; Eagle creek, 24th; Springwater, 25th; Highland, 26th; Viola, 27th; Beaver creek, 28th; Cutting's, 30th; Upper Molalla, 31st; Soda Springs, Nov. 1st; Marquams, 2d; Lower Molalla, 3d; Milwaukie, 5th; Marshfield, 6th; Union, 7th; Canby, 8th; New Era, 9th; Canemah, 10th; and this city on the 12th.

THE COLUMBIAN.—We have received the first number of the "Columbian," published at Portland by the Columbian Publishing Co. It is spicy and original, and if kept up to the standard of the first number, it will be certain of a long and prosperous life. The following is an extract from the introductory remarks: "For the present we shall endeavor to publish a complete Sunday paper; an eminently live and saucy sheet; one that can kick equal to any mother's squaller; in fact, a regular dare-devil, with a full set of teeth above and below."

MAN MISSING!

Probably Murdered!!

After an Absence of 14 Years he Arrives within a Mile of Home, and then Mysteriously Disappears.

About four weeks ago to-day, a man named Chas. Miller, brother of Buck Miller, of Molalla precinct, got off the cars at Hubbard Station and rode out to Stubbs' store with Mr. John Stewart. He told Mr. Stewart that he was going to visit his father, brothers and sister, whom he had not seen for 14 years. He said he had been living in California during that time. He purchased a bottle of whisky at the store, saying that the old man used to like a dram, and he would give him a treat; and then picked up his satchel and started to walk to his brother's place, which is about four miles from the store. A little after sun down a man answering to the description given by Mr. Stewart stopped at the Widow Jackson's and inquired the way to Buck Miller's, and the same evening he stopped at Mrs. Harrison Wright's and also inquired the way to the same place. Mrs. Wright says she gave him the information, and the man passed out of the gate, but she did not notice which way he went, as she was busy at work. This is the last place that any trace can be obtained of the missing man, and it is feared that he was foully dealt with. It is only a little over a mile from Mrs. Wright's to Buck Miller's place, and the road is plain and open, and there was not any chance of losing the road. The people of the neighborhood have made thorough search for the missing man on two occasions, but cannot find any trace of him. It is not known whether he had any money on his person or not. Mr. W. H. Vaughan, from whom we obtain our information, says there is no doubt but what the man was made away with in some manner. From the circumstances, it is supposed that some one way laid the man between Wright's and Miller's; but there is not the slightest clue to the perpetrator. The father of the missing man showed Mr. Stewart an album containing a photograph of his son, and he at once identified the portrait as that of the man who rode in his wagon.

THE BEST MACHINE.—Mr. John Schram is the agent in this city for the celebrated Wilson sewing machine which carried off the honors at the State Fair last week. A 1st premium for the best family sewing machine; a 1st premium for the best pleating work, and 1st premium for the best embroidery work.

THE BEREAVED.

BY PAUL BOYCE.

Alas! my comfort's fled,
My pleasures all are gone;
My dear companion's dead,
And I am left alone;
Where shall I go, where shall I flee?
No earthly joys are left for me.

I visit that dear room,
Where once in joy we dwelt,
But all is filled with gloom,
And naught but grief is felt;
The mourning trees around the door,
The empty house cries, She's no more.

Then to the silent grave,
With anxious steps I flee,
But oh, thou cruel earth,
To keep my love from me;
To keep her from this aching breart,
When with grief my soul's oppress't.

Then to the house of God,
With haste I quick repair,
But though the house is full,
Her seat is empty there;
Her lovely voice no more I hear,
No more her music charming ear.

O, Lord; to Thou my aid,
Resign me to Thy will,
Teach me to walk in truth,
My duty to fulfill;
That when I die my soul shall rise,
To dwell with her above the skies.

Oregon City, Oct. 13th, 1877.

Congressional.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15th, 1877.

The Senators were in their seats at noon, and the usual bustle attending the opening of the session prevailed.

The oath of office was administered to Stanley Matthews, of Ohio, elected in place of John Sherman, resigned; J. Don Cameron, in the place of Simon Cameron, resigned; and D. H. Armstrong, appointed from Missouri, vice L. V. Bogy, deceased.

The usual committee was appointed to join a committee of the House and inform the president a quorum of the two houses was assembled.

Adjourned till 12 o'clock to-morrow.

House.

At the opening of the session of the House the galleries were crowded and corridors for two hours previously were almost impassable. At 12 o'clock Clerk Adams called the House to order and read the President's proclamation convening Congress, and called the roll of members by States, beginning with Maine. The clerk decided that Representatives could not before the organization of the House direct his action regarding the insertion or omission of names, and declared Wood's motion to elect a speaker in order. Two hundred and eighty-seven members had announced their names.

Wood's motion was agreed to, 149 to 129.

Clymer nominated Randall.

Hall nominated Garfield.

The clerk appointed Clymer, Banning, Fort and Foster tellers, and by a vote of 149 to 132 Randall was elected over Garfield.

Garfield and Goode conducted the Speaker to the chair and Kelly of Pennsylvania administered the oath.

The Speaker then administered the oath to the members. Most of the Southern members took the qualified oath. Objection was made to swearing in Cain and Rainy of South Carolina, Daniel Elam and Robertson of Louisiana and Pacheco of California, and those members stood aside. The delegates for Territories were all sworn without objection.

Clymer offered resolutions electing as clerk Geo. M. Adams, of Kentucky; sergeant-at-arms, John G. Thompson, of Ohio; door-keeper, John W. Polk, of Missouri; postmaster, James M. Stewart, of Virginia; chaplain, Rev. Dr. J. Poisel.

M. D. Hale offered an amendment, substituting for these names those of H. M. Pusk of Wisconsin, N. G. Ordway, of New Hampshire, Horace Harrison of Tennessee, Sherwood of Mich., and Rev. J. G. Butler of Washington.

The amendment was rejected and the resolution adopted without division.

The oath of office was then administered to these officers; Messrs. Polk and Stewart taking the modified oath.

A committee was then appointed to inform the Senate of the organization of the House and to inform the President that Congress is ready to receive any communication he may desire to make.

In calling the roll of the House, the clerk put the names of members bearing Nicholls' certificates on the roll for Louisiana. For Florida, he read the names of Horatio Bisbee, Jr., and Robt H. M. Davidson.

Boone's Ferry has a Shake.

BOONE'S FERRY, Oct, 13th, 1877.

EDITOR ENTERPRISE.—I send you a few lines to let you know that we experienced a shock of earthquake to-day. Its course was south-east to north-west. It shook so hard that two feet of my chimney was knocked down. When the shock came, the chickens commenced squalling, then the house began to rock and the bricks came rolling down the roof at a lively rate. It almost made me think that the last day had come. A. B. STROUP.

His dryer is an improved Alden which costs only $2,000 and is double the capacity of the dryer which costs $5,000 or $6,000. Such an enterprise is very much needed at this point, and we hope it will succeed.

On Tuesday of last week, at Walla Walla, a man named Holman cruelly beat his wife and shot her in two places. One of the balls entered the chest and, striking a rib, passed around and was removed from the back near the junction of the seventh rib. There is but slight hope of her recovery. The wife has property in her own right, and the trouble seems to have arisen in consequence of her refusal to allow him to squander it. The wretch is in jail. Public sentiment is much against him.

You Have No Excuse.

Have you any excuse for suffering with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint? Is there any reason why you should go on from day to day complaining with Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Water-brash, Gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, Coming up of food after eating, Low spirits, &c.? A terrible hail storm visited Portland a few days ago, destroying and unroofing many fine buildings, breaking over 1,000 window lights, raising a very large locomotive off the track, knocking down and seriously injuring many pedestrians who were carried into different drug stores for treatment; the hail stones pitched up were the size of hen's eggs. Saloon keepers gathered no enough ice to last them for months. A reporter was dispatched in hot haste after the storm was over and was met by a large delegation of citizens who stated that a large lot of Donnelly's Yeast Powder had been received that day, and it was thought the air had become impregnated, raising the wind to such a fury, causing a large cloud that was hanging over the city at the time to burst wide open. Hence the storm. The reporter left, saying: I have heard that Donnelly's Yeast Powder would raise the lids of a red hot stove, but would not believe it could raise such a commotion as this.—Walla Walla Statesman.

The Season of Intermittents.

All miasmatic complaints, in other words, all disorders generated by unwholesome exhalations from the earth or water, are prevalent at this season. In every section subject to the visitation of fever and ague, or other forms of intermittent disease, the causes which produce these maladies are now actively at work. This, therefore, is a period of the year when the inhabitants of such districts should prepare their systems to meet the unwholesome condition of the atmosphere by a course of tonic and alterative treatment. Foremost among the invigorants, recommended by time and experience as a means of fortifying the system against all epidemic and epidemic maladies, stands Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. By a timely use of the Bitters, the feeblest resident of an unhealthy soil may escape the sickness which, without the aid of this potent ally of nature, will be apt to overtake the strongest.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

The following is the law as it stands, in reference to newspapers and subscribers:

Sec. 1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered wishing to continue their subscription.

Sec. 2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals, the publishers may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.

Sec. 3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

Sec. 4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.

Sec. 5. The Courts have decided that "refusing to take periodicals from the office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facia evidence of intentional fraud."

Sec. 6. Any person who has received a newspaper and makes use of it, whether he has ordered it or not, is held in law to be a subscriber.

THE WORLD RENOWNED WILSON RECEIVED THE GRAND PRIZE MEDAL AND DIPLOMA

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION 1876.

AS THE BEST FAMILY SEWING MACHINE.

Its competitors receiving only an award for some special feature of their machines.

The World-renowned Wilson Shuttle Sewing Machine

Has Unlimited Capacity to do all kinds of Family Sewing and Manufacturing,

ITS PATENT AUTOMATIC "CUT OFF" on the hand wheel prevents the machine from running backwards, and obviates the necessity of taking the work from the machine to wind thread on the bobbins, which must be done with all other Sewing Machines, to the great annoyance of the operator, especially in tucking, hemming and ruffling. It does one-third more work in a given length of time than any other Sewing machine.

WITH EVERY MOTION of the FOOT the MACHINE MAKES SIX STITCHES.

Three Wilson Machines will do as much work in one day as four other Machines.

It requires no special instructions to use it; an Illustrated Direction Book is furnished with each machine.

IT CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER, AND THE ADJUSTMENTS ARE ABSOLUTELY PERFECT.

A properly executed Certificate is furnished with each machine, guaranteeing to keep it in repair, free of charge, for five years. Machines sold on easy terms of payment, and delivered, free of charge, at any Railroad Depot in the United States where we have no Agents.

We have the best Imitation Gold Watch in the Market for Trading Purposes. The metal is a composition of other metals, so closely resembling gold that the best judges find it difficult to detect the difference, except by the use of acid test, and it is the best substitute for gold known. AN AMERICAN MOVEMENT, WARRANTED FOR FIVE YEARS, BEAUTIFULLY ENGRAVED OR ENGINE TURNED HUNTING CASES, and we will send one of them as a GOLD WATCH THAT COSTS FROM $150 TO $200. It will answer for from two to three years if you want a watch for your own use or to trade again for profit, etc. But in our large sales, we are enabled to reduce the price of them to $12 each with an elegant Gold Plated Chain, free. They are used on Railroads, Steamers, and in Manufactories, and other places where accurate time is required, and give general satisfaction. We send them by Mail or Express, on receipt of $12, to any part of the country, or if $15 is sent C.O.D. when the customer desires and remits $3 on account. These Elegant CHAINS weigh about Fifty Pennyweights, and the same pattern in pure gold would cost $100. We sell these Chains at $5 each.

But we sell the Watch and Chain for $17, sent by Mail in a Registered Package, post-paid, to any Post Office in the United States. We Sell the Watch without the Chain for $10.
