Open the Road! STAR OF THE WEST, March 17, '78. EDITOR ENTERPRISE:-The subject of a court house-whether we shall have one or not-will be one of the issues to be decided in the coming contest in Clackamas county. The people of Tualatin precinct are generally in favor of a court house being built; but if the honorable county court allows Jas. M. Moore to close up and obstruct our only road to Oregon City, we will be in favor of locating it out in the country where we can get to it without cooning the banks of the river and risking our lives in the attempt. We have com-plained time and again to the court for redress from the penurions littleness and beggarly selfishness of this man in fenc-ing up the road to gain a few feet of ground to expand his bop yard, but to no purpose There is not a man from the ferry at Ore gon City to Pleasant Hill but what con siders it an outrage, the way we have been imposed upon. And if the people of Oregon City want the patronage of this side of the river they must use their influence and aid us in opening the Dayton and Oregon City road, so that we can come to town without leaving our teams at the half-way station. There is barely room for a wagon to pass between J. M. Moore's fence and the river bank, and as the bank is constantly caving off it is dangerous. We want to know if the people of Pleasant Hill and Tealstin bare a static teals. Hill and Tualatin have no rights that Jas M. Moore is not bound to respect? And is there no balm in Gilead? Any one doubting our statements is referred to W. A. Bird, H. E. Hayes, J. R. Shaw, R. Ford, Wm. Sharp, J. E. McConnell, D. Sebastian and every other man who has traveled along the road in question. And yet my darling I have not found My love for you a pain Nor do I blush to own how sweet My darling is to me, Though mine I know you never were,

Nor mine can never be Yet soft against my cheek your cheek Has many a time been pressed; And you have pillowed my head Upon your loving breast. Without a thought you leave me,

Another's breast to seek; Yet no jealous pang do I feel, No tear bedews my cheek.

That holy love my heart would miss; His blessings soothed my miseries, As he hushed me with a good-night kiss. And should we part forever now, Though you would know no care, A memory of you my heart While still it beats must bear.
