"Mum sociables" are raging in the valley towns, and it is about time for them to break out here.

Candidates are wearing out the buttons of the dear people, to say nothing of the cordial hand-shaking.

Read S. Ackerman's ad in another column. He has just come with one of the finest stocks ever brought to this city, and he offers big inducements. Give him a call at Demont's building.

Major Charman, the pioneer merchant of Oregon City, is still at the old stand with a large and choice stock of goods, which he is selling at prices that defy competition. He still believes that a nimble shrew is better than a slow shilling.

RELIEF BILL.—On Wednesday, February 27th, in the Senate, a bill was introduced by Senator Grover, and referred to the committee on public lands, for the relief of Col. W. White, of Oregon City. DAMASCUS.—Our regular correspondent at Damascus, under date of March 26th, says: Times are lively over there; weather pleasant and farmers are pushing things. Our town is troubled with a case of diphtheria, and is becoming monotonous. Last week the business was broken, at least the girls think so, by an agent canvassing for a new dress, by an agent canvassing for a new dress, and by an agent canvassing for a new dress.

Street cleaning has been in order for the past week.

Our Supplement.

With this issue we present our patrons a two page supplement containing the telegraphic news for the week and interesting miscellaneous matter. We propose to continue this supplement permanently if the citizens of the county will give us a fair support. We want at least two hundred and fifty new subscribers, and it is to the interest of our patrons to aid us in obtaining them, as they will thereby secure a large amount of reading without any advance in the regular subscription price. Remember that this supplement is only an experiment, and unless we receive sufficient encouragement from the people of Clackamas county, it will have to be discontinued. With this supplement the ENTERPRISE will be second to no paper in the state.

Items from Needy.

NEEDY, March 22d, 1878. EDITOR ENTERPRISE:—Thinking a few items from this place might not be amiss, we submit the following:

Farmers are busy preparing to putting in their spring crops. The political children begin to boil, in consequence of the approaching election.

This good weather is crying up the mud, and farmers are happy to think they will have a good crop of grain.

Mr. W. H. Moreland, our obliging postmaster, departed for east of the mountains last Saturday to attend a few weeks.

Mr. W. H. Hanson, of this neighborhood, will be a candidate before the Republican county convention for the office of sheriff.

Young people of Needy and vicinity assembled at the residence of Mr. Darnelle last Wednesday evening to trip the light fantastic, and judging from what we saw, they had a "way up" time.

SUBSCRIBER.

CORALLINE BEDS.—One of the proprietors of the Oswego Iron Works, on the Willamette went up the valley, says the Tacoma Herald, the other day to examine the beds of coralline we have frequently mentioned to investigate the advisability of taking lime from there for the use of the iron works. Chemists of Portland have examined the coralline and pronounced it the purest form of lime known.

It would seem to be particularly adapted to the use for which this lime would want, as it is entirely free from iron carbonate (which is entirely useless, if not an encumbrance in the use of lime as a flux) and is more valuable and a greater amount must be more effective than the stone lime.

Mr. W. H. Hanson, of this neighborhood, will be a candidate before the Republican county convention for the office of sheriff.

ARRIVED IN KANSAS.—From a private letter from Mr. Owen Wade to a friend in this city, we learn that he arrived safely in Kansas on the 9th inst. He was at Ellsworth, Kansas, and was going from there to Ottawa. He says that immigrants are pouring into that country by the thousands. The people there say at the rate of about 1,000 daily, but he thinks it is slightly exaggerated.

A Gentle Hint. In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day, it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting from colds are due to the neglect of a few simple remedies.

Form and Feature. Unless associated with good teeth, are shorn of half the attractions they may otherwise possess. Bearing this in mind, use SODODONT, which will prevent your teeth from losing their whiteness, and will render them spots if specked and discolored. The tint of the teeth of coral are impaired by the use of this tooth powder, and its beauty and brilliancy agent, and the breath is rendered sweet and fragrant by its use. It is safe, besides being effective. Sold by druggists.
