THE ENTERPRISE.

OREGON CITY, THURSDAY MARCH 13, 1879.

BREVITIES.

Another of our pioneers has dropped out of the ranks.

Pleasant Hill correspondence will appear next week.

J. W. Harding is the boss painter of the State. Give him a show.

All ye that suffer call on Dr. E. B. Fellows; patent medicines at a discount.

There is a new photographic establishment about to open, near the Cliff House.

There will be a meeting of the new board of delegates of the fire department on Friday evening.

The special religious services at the Methodist church in this city are still continued with some interest.

Mrs. Ross executes all kind of hair work; also wax and hair pictures. Prompt attention paid to all orders.

Messrs. Logus and Albright, have on exhibition a beautiful specimen of Molalla beef; a credit to the county.

Mrs. Ross, Main street, Oregon City, wants to buy some long hair. The highest price will be paid for it.

Girls remove those nasty pimples from your face with Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier for sale at Harding's.

Graham & Howard have just received a complete assortment of, Raw Hide, Wood, and Rattan Seat Chairs.

Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier cures all diseases of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Try it. For sale at Harding's. *

The magnificent wood work on the new offices of Major Charman was executed by Messrs. Hodges & Bingman, of Canemah.

B. A. Hughes without doubt offers the best inducements in Oregon City to cash purchasers. He has on hand a large stock, varied and useful.

Pictures of all kinds taken and enlarged at the most reasonable rates, at the new photograph gallery, near the Cliff House. See hand bills in a day or two.

Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier is not a bitters, composed of "rot gut whiskey," but a pure decoction of roots and herbs found in this State. Ask Harding for it.

CALLED.—Mr. Joel Dickson, jailer at Viola, called at our office on Tuesday, and reported the crops in that section of the county doing well.

NOTICE.—Hereafter no matter of any class will be received at this office for publication after Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock of each week. D'ye hear?

NEW OFFICE.—Capt. Miller has had a new office built to his flouring mills. It is most complete in all its arrangements, and another sign of the growing business of the firm.

A REPORT.—We understand that Dr. J. W. Watts, the celebrated temperance lecturer of Yamhill county, will succeed the late Mr. Harrison as receiver at the land office, in this city.

DANCE.—A social dance was given at Canemah on last Thursday evening, and, judging from the number we noted heading that way, a good time must have been the result. Canemah people do not believe in half-way efforts when it comes to dancing.

ADJUDGED INSANE.—Mr. Wm. Mullins, of Canemah, was adjudged a fit subject for the insane asylum on Monday night. He was examined by Dr. Ross and Judge Wait. He was taken to Portland on Tuesday morning. We sincerely hope for his speedy recovery.

LODGE MEETING.—By request of Major Thomas Charman, C. P., we beg to announce that there will be a meeting of the Falls Encampment No. 4, I. O. O. F., on Tuesday evening next. All members are requested to attend, as business of importance is to be transacted.

MASQUERADE BALL.—By request of many dancers, E. B. Fellows will give a masquerade ball on the evening of the 20th inst., at Canemah hall. Tickets can be procured at the Lincoln bakery. Price of tickets, $1; spectators, 25 cents. Dancing will commence at 8 o'clock sharp. Ladies in masque admitted free. E. B. FELLOWS.

SUFFERING.—Mrs. W. H. H. Fouts has been suffering for several weeks from the effects of an accident which befel her in falling. Added to the pain arising from the accident, the unfortunate lady is troubled with a severe cough, which keeps her constantly in great pain. We shall be very much pleased to hear of her convalescence.

IMPROVEMENT.—Harry Harding is making a decided improvement in the appearance of his store. He has added a large show window to it, so we may expect to see some of the good things he has hid from our view. Harry intends going into the bakery business soon, so there need be no fear of a dearth of bread the coming summer.

SOCIETY MEETINGS.—The Young People's Offering Society met on last Thursday evening a week ago at the residence of Mr. J. G. Bonnett. On Thursday night last they met at Mr. J. R. Shaw's; and will meet again to-night at Mr. Putrow's. The society is flourishing, and we congratulate it upon its success. Young people will find these meetings of the society a rare place for thorough enjoyment. All are invited.

PAST THE MERIDIAN.—On the occasion of the fifty-first birthday, of Mr. W. B. Partlow, of Pleasant Hill, a number of his old friends called upon him on Saturday evening last to congratulate him on the enjoyment of good health, and the blessings of a fair share of the world's prosperity. A very interesting time was spent in talking of old times, and speculating on the future. After a few hours of real enjoyment, the visitors left, wishing Mr. Partlow many years of health and prosperity in their midst. This office returns its sincere thanks, for the kind compliment left here in memory of the occasion, and adds its humble wishes, for a bright and happy future, to Mr. Partlow.

HOUSHOLD PRTS.

MAPLE LANE, March 5th, 1879.

EDITOR ENTERPRISE:—Don't you think it would be gratifying to your lady readers at least, to hear a few items about their particular pets, the house plants.

I have a Fish Geranium which has grown two feet and two inches this winter—please don't imagine that the fact is a fish yarn. And that is not the only flower I wish to report to you. The other is a Calla Lily of whose leaves I am quite proud. I measured a couple of them and one had reached the dimensions of nine and one half inches by sixteen, and the other was seven and one half by seventeen. Is not my pride well founded. If any one desires to prove my statements, I should be happy to have them call at Maple Lane and use the tape measure for themselves.

Cannot some one else give us some interesting facts about flowers. Yours truly. MRS. E. W. SWAFFORD.

Ladies when you feel that terrible billious headache coming on, take two tablespoonsful of Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier, and you will feel "just splendid." *

SUDDEN DEATH OF J. L. BARLOW, ESQ.

A stranger visiting Oregon City on Monday last, would be forced to surmise that something unusual was to take place in the city that day. All the business places were closed, and a large crowd of people walked the sidewalks in a quiet and orderly manner. Here and there a fireman in full dress hurried past from one engine house to another. Not a sound was heard above the ordinary tone of talking; all hilarity was hushed for a time. The flag at the engine house stood at half mast, and now and then the doleful sound of a bell chilled the gloomy sky. Truly, the city assumed a mournful air. The pioneer city of the state was about to deliver up one of her earliest pioneers, J. L. Barlow, Esq. Mr. Barlow had been failing in health for some months past, but for a week or more previous to last Saturday morning (the time he died) he had been improving. Mr. Barlow retired to rest on Friday night as usual, but on Saturday morning he was found dead, his spirit having flown o'er that barrier beyond. It was a terrible shock to his beloved and faithful wife and endearing family. The news spread with lightning speed all over the city, and in less than an hour after his death Oregon City was in a stupor of astonishment and grief. The funeral took place on Monday last, and was one of the most imposing and impressive of services, as well as one of the largest burial gatherings we have witnessed for many years. The Masonic fraternity turned out to pay their last tribute of respect to their departed brother; composing as they do our most prominent and respected citizens, they presented a very imposing appearance. The fire company of which Mr. Barlow was one of the first originators mustered in full force, and showed to a great advantage, their bearing and gait being uniform and military, reflecting much credit on the city. The funeral procession was formed in the following order under the marshaling of Major Thomas Charman, whose arrangements throughout were complete, uniform and of good taste: 1st, the fire companies, Masonic fraternity, hearse, family and relatives of the deceased. The body was taken from the deceased's late residence, on Main street, to the Baptist church, where the Rev. Mr. Sellwood performed the burial services according to the rites of the Episcopal church, after which the body was taken to the cemetery, where the Masonic brethren paid their last token of respect to their late brother. The Masonic arrangements at the grave were excellently managed by Mr. Charman, and the ceremony throughout was very impressive. We would respectfully mention that the wreathes that adorned the coffin were most beautifully executed, as we understand by Mrs. E. B. Fellows. At the head of the coffin was a large wreath of crooks, in the center of which, formed of immortels, was the following touching inscription: "Father, Farewell." In the center of the coffin was a skillfully executed Masonic emblem in immortels, with the letter G in the center, while at the foot was a plain wreath of evergreen.

The late Mr. Barlow was born May 25, 1828, in Marion county, Indiana. He emigrated with his parents to Fulton county, Ill., in 1836. In 1845, he, in company with the rest of the family, crossed the plains for the then almost unpeopled country of what is now known as the state of Oregon. Since that time to the day of his death he has been a permanent citizen of Clackamas county extending over 34 years, and perhaps as well identified with the people as any man in it. He was of a mild disposition, kind and generous to a fault. His enemies were few, if any, while his friends were all that knew him. Religiously he held no dogmas, but believed in the grand philosophy of "do unto others as you would be done by." He died as he had always wished to die, in peace with all mankind. He died without knowing the sting of death, but the grave gained the victory. May he rest in peace. He has left a large family to mourn his loss, but, thanks to his early perseverance, he has left them beyond the wants and cares of this world.

The following resolutions of respect were read and unanimously approved by Monday evening at the fire and L. & L. Company's rooms, at a special meeting:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the ruler and preserver of the universe to remove from our midst our esteemed friend and brother fireman, J. L. Barlow, who was zealous in caring for the happiness and comfort of his brother firemen, and never faltered when duty called him; we relied upon his advice in our councils, we trusted him as a friend and brother, and we loved him for his many acts of kindness; therefore,

Resolved, That to his bereaved wife and children we would tender our warmest sympathy in this their deep affliction. Had fate been kind, he might have been with us to-day,
But now no hurts, no discord, tears or strife,
No dust can cover, no doubts can slay,
The perfect love that beautified his life.

CITY COUNCIL.

The council met in regular session on Monday evening last. Present—His Honor, the Mayor, Recorder Whitlock, Marshal Anderson, and Councilmen Caldwell, Myers, Califf, Chase, Harding and Logus.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Petition of Allan White for license to sell spirituous liquors within the corporate limits for six months; granted.

Considerable discussion was had on the report of the committee on streets. Mr. Myers dissented with the othe councilmen in one-sided action on street matters. He claimed it unjust to property owners that the council should in some instances pay the expense of drainage, while in others it refused to do so. On motion the report was adopted, Myers dissenting.

The following bills were then presented to the council: C. Anderson, night watching, $35; C. Anderson, attending council, $1; C. C. Babcock, 9½ days at $2 per day, $19; G. Broughton, 2,000 feet lumber, $24; W. Whitlock, recorder, $10.

Mr. Myers complained of the disparity in the price of lumber charged the city, and the price charged individuals. On motion the bill of Geo. Broughton was referred to the finance committee.

The returns of the late firemen's election were then looked into. The bill of judges of election was here read, which amounted to $12. Mr. Myers thought the amount too high, but on final action the bill was ordered paid.

The Mayor availed himself at this point to disseminate some Blackstone (gratis) among the council upon their privileges to go behind the report, and the qualification necessary to become an active fireman, with a right to vote.

Mr. Caldwell said that the Mayor himself having been a prominent party in the late election, he might more fully explain what he meant.

Mr. Califf moved that Mr. Fred. R. Charman be declared chief engineer, and W. E. Pratt assistant engineer, in accordance with the vote returned by the judges of election; carried unanimously.

There being no other business before the council, it adjourned.

The Mayor, in answer to the chief engineer when asked to give him his certificate of election, said: "When I get ready."

Mr. Madder, our respected local brewer, informs us that owing to the increase in the business, and some extensive improvements intended there has been an addition to the firm. The new firm will be known as Humbel Madder & Co. The fame of the Oregon City beer, is far and wide and we have no doubt that the coming summer will be one of unusual success to the firm.

FROM SPRINGWATER.

SPRINGWATER, Feb. 28, 1879.

EDITOR ENTERPRISE:—We have read with great interest the account of your travels in different parts of the county, and also noted the places you have promised to visit in the near future. We have held our peace for "lo, these many days," waiting on the more intelligent and better informed of our section to give us a puff, but they heed not; and as you have taken no notice of us, either in your visits or those in contemplation, we will mark you a few lines, to let the good people know that "Horse Heaven" is still among the things of reality.

The foregoing is the name by which our section of country was known when log cabins with stick chimneys and clay hearths graced our plantations, but in a more modern age, when we became associated with personages of refinement, and as they say, "civilization," the name of this community was partially changed to that of Springwater. We presume as it was our lot to give a local description of this locality in the past, it will be useless at present—farther than that great improvements are constantly being made, and that this part of the county is fast approaching a thorough state of cultivation—that we now can boast of the finest apple orchards in Clackamas county, and that we are competing successfully with the more favored sections of this state on the yield and quality of wheat, and other farm products.

The good people of Springwater are generally peaceable, courteous and respectable people, like all others, he loves our quiet downs, the effects of which, without the use of pen or paper, are heralded to the world.

In the shank of the old year just gone by, there was rather a remarkable incidence occurred in our neighborhood, which was noticed to some extent in your paper. Of course the decree has went forth, and the misunderstanding has been settled for the present at last; but we have always sympathized with "down-trodden man," and we cannot help but think that after he had went to the trouble of resolving to the court for a name acceptable to those on the other score, and as he proposed to do away entirely with "Badderly," and things of the past, and launch into the future amid strange surroundings, that the desire of his heart should have been granted.

There is still another couple who dwell to the south-west, across the gulch,—the object of our sympathy being of "Carpenter notoriety"—who seem to while life's moments quietly away; and it is to be, what will be their destiny.

We have at present a very flourishing school in progress in our neighborhood, with one Mr. Matox as teacher, who appears to be a man of high moral and intellectual attainments, and his labors give general satisfaction.

It shall be our purpose to chronicle events in turn as they transpire, and if, after this comes to the gaze of the many readers of the ENTERPRISE, there is still anything left undone, by being notified we will "blow." MAXIMUS.

CATARACT HOSE CO., NO. 2.

The regular meeting of this company was held on Tuesday evening. Following are the standing committees for the ensuing year: Auditing committee, Colonel Willis T. Brown, S. Richardson; investigating committee, T. Miller, W. E. Pratt, John Athey.

There were 14 applicants for membership, and on motion of Col. White the rules were suspended and the applicants admitted on the payment of fees to become members of the company. [We would mention that the 41st of names presented for membership are among our most respected and active young men; they will be a credit to the company, and vice versa.]

The following gentlemen were elected members of the board of delegates for the ensuing year: Col. White, T. Miller, and W. E. Pratt.

At the request of the Chairman (H. L. Kelly) Col. White addressed the members, in review of the history of the Cataract company, and recited its achievements, valor, and glories won, in a most eloquent manner; and in a brilliant peroration he appealed to them to stand by their colors, and keep into it the honor of the Cataracts. Space will not admit otherwise we should publish the Col.'s speech in full; it was a masterly effort.

The chairman said that he claimed for Col. White the paternity of the Cataracts, and that he was the grandfather of the Oregon City fire department. [Cheers.]

A vote of thanks having been given Mr. Brown for his efforts in securing new members, the meeting adjourned.

HOOK AND LADDER CO. NO. 1.

The regular meeting of the above company, was held on Friday evening last.

Minutes of the last meeting read, and approved.

Proposals for membership referred to committee on investigation, to report at next meeting.

Mr. Edwards of the ENTERPRISE, was elected an honorary member of the Co., by the unanimous vote of all members present.

The following committees were appointed to serve the ensuing year.—Investigating committee: G. Califf, E. L. Eastham, John Ferguson. Auditing committee,—G. W. McCarver, M. C. Athey, M. Randall. F. R. Charman's resignation as foreman was accepted.

G. R. Califf unanimously elected foreman. Ex-foreman's report approved.

NEW ERA ITEMS.

The annual school election passed off very quietly. Eight ladies exercised their prerogative and voted for the first time.

The templars will hold another temperance meeting on Sunday, the 16th inst., when all are invited to attend. An effort will be made to have some one deliver a lecture.

A TEST.

NEW ERA, March 4, 1879.

EDITOR ENTERPRISE:—I notice an article in your issue of February 27th, entitled "Almost Buried Alive," and, realizing the awful dread that exists in the human mind of being buried alive, I have thought best to send you for publication some practical suggestions with regard to its prevention:

In cases of Asphyxia from suffocation, as well as in cases of drowning, and in all cases of suspended animation, from whatever cause, the following test will invariably decide whether a spark of life still remains in the body: Take a small piece of iron wire (a nail will do) and heat it red hot, then apply the end of it for a few seconds to the back of the hand or arm, and if there is the least vitality existing in the body it will produce its physiological effects—redness, inflamation and visication. While if the person is dead it will simply burn or scorch, without the least discoloration, emiting a scent as of scorched flesh.

The above test is in use at Dartmouth college, and is considered by physiological scientists to be absolutely reliable. I have had occasion to test it in several cases, and in one it was the means of saving a woman from an untimely grave, and who is still alive. PAUL BOYCE, M. D.

Prof. E. Cook of the Oregon Conservatory of music, will visit Oregon City each week, and give instructions in instrumental, and vocal music. Meeting held at the usual place and hours. Apply to Wm. H. Pope Esq, for further information.

From all parts of the country reports come of the immense sales and increasing demand for that deservingly popular Sewing Machine, The Old and Reliable "STANDARD," the price of which the proprietors wisely reduced to $20 including all the attachments, and at once secured for them a popularity among the people, far beyond that ever yet attained by any other machine at any price, the consequence of which is, agents are leaving the old high priced machines, and seeking territory for the "STANDARD." Knowing from experience that with the best goods at the lowest price they can outsell all other Machines, where the superior quality and low price is made known. This splendid Machine combines all the improvements, is far ahead of all others in beauty and durability of its work, ease of management, light running and certainty of operation, is sensibly made upon sound principles, with positive working parts all steel, and can be safely put down as the very perfection of a Serviceable Shuttle Double Thread Sewing Machine, in every particular, that will outlast any Machine, and at a price far down below any other. It is thoroughly warranted for five years. Kept in order free of charge. And sent to any part of the country for examination by the customer before payment of the bill. We can predict equally as large a demand for them in this section as in others. Families desiring the best Machine manufactured should write direct to the Factory. And enterprising persons wishing to seize the chance should apply for so desirable an agency. See advertisement in another part of this paper. Address Standard Machine Co., Cor. Broadway and Clinton Place, New York.
