LOCAL.

Excursion Saturday. School closes Friday next.

The Island in the place for fine sport. Ice cream at Lovejoy & Kleffman's.

Money loan at Barin & Hayes' law office. Barlow & Co's. supplement is well worth reading and preserving.

J. N. Harrington, a prosperous farmer of Highland was a caller this week.

Mr. Snowden visited his friends on Plety Hill last Sunday.

Portland has decided to celebrate the fourth. J. Trembath has moved into E. Koerner's house.

Rev. S. P. Davis will move to Mt. Falor next week. Andrew Oiler is the proud father of a twelve pound boy.

C. O. T. Williams is having the Bell house re-shingled. The fishing at the Island is better than it has been for five years.

Jonathan Humphrey has placed us under obligations for a fine salmon. Geo. J. Curran of Currieville was appointed a notary public this week.

Only 84 fine young salmon averaging 4 lbs. were caught at the Island yesterday. Don't fail to hear the Maple Land band Saturday they play for the excursion.

Dr. Bird's lecture was listened to by a large audience. He is not an orator but presented many good things.

Mrs. Thos. Charman has some handsome roses in bloom. The boys were out with the hose cart and hook and ladder last night.

Memorial day the Latona will run on her Sunday time. W. J. Caldwell and B. F. Jaggard are in Portland on U. S. grand jury business.

Hon. D. P. Thompson and wife left for Europe yesterday. They will meet their daughter, Miss Besse in London.

Joseph Kennedy of Wasco county, a brother of our S. W., has been visiting him the past week.

Persons going on the excursion Saturday will pass through the drawbridge at Portland. Who would have believed that a lawyer's check was susceptible of augmentation! What next?

The Salvation armyists seem to be on their last legs here, and if report is true, they are homeless ones.

The Mattoonah is the finest excursion boat on the river. See her when she comes up Friday and take a ride on her Saturday.

The "Mikado" tea was a most decided success. All the parts were admirably sustained, and commended by the audience.

Geo. W. Catt of the San Francisco Bridge Co., was here Tuesday looking at the ground and getting measurements for the plan.

With a bridge and good road from Portland, such a day as last Sunday would have seen 400 rigs up from below.

Excursion rates for Saturday will be as follows: to Portland and return 50cts; to all other points 75cts; children over six and under 12, 50cts. Lunch served.

John Gleason is building a conven tent barn on his place. He puts in every spare minute fixing up about the place, and he now has it as neat as need be.

Thos. Brown's father from Silver Lake is visiting him. He has been purchasing a supply of machinery of Charman & Son to take back with him.

Next week, Friday, June 3, the Columbia River Association of the Baptist church will convene at Highland. Delegates will be met at the train in Oregon City.

LABOR DAY.-June 4th will be observed by the K. of L. at Falls City Park as labor day. Arrangements have been made for a good time.

SHIPPING WHEAT.-Frank Jaggard and Mr. Vanderalie are hauling wheat to town to ship to Portland.

THANKS.-The ladies of St. Paul's Guild tender their sincere thanks to the ladies and gentlemen who so kindly assisted in making the Mikado a success.

LEAGUES TO BE.-The work of organizing precinct amendment leagues will be begun the first week of June.

FULL STOCK.-Poole & Co. are always supplied with everything in their line. Do you want a stove or a cake cutter, a wheel barrow or a housekeeping outfit, they can suit you both in style and price.

ICE CREAM PARLORS.-H. J. Harding is fitting up new ice cream parlors which he will throw open to the public on Saturday, when he will serve out Alaska's cream in A. I. shape. Pray for a hot day.

COMFORTERS, BUT NOT COMFORTABLE.-Verily a job is in our midst, and he is calling upon his friends for sympathy.

C. D. Latonette has an elegant, five-headed carriage gilding his check. These critics are no discriminators of persons.

Don't forget that G. A. Harding gives an elegant card with every twenty-five cent purchase.

HO FOR LATONA'S FALL!

We stop the press to state that the transfer of the water power, locks and other property here to the new company, has finally been made; the necessary conveyance, mortgage, etc., having been filed in the county clerk's office this (Thursday) morning.

-A E. Kingshot in Astoria fishing dillidly. But not necessarily dangerous.

-That fine showing of cigars in E. B. Clement's window is sure to draw your dimes.

NEW SCHOOL HOUSE.-A new school building is being erected on the corner of Mr. Hennessy's land four miles out on the Beaver Creek road, Chas. Vanderalie having the contract. It is being inclosed.

EXCURSIONS COMING.-Falls City Park has been let for the following days: May 28th, the Sellwood Presbyterian S. S. will be on the grounds; May 30th, the Scandinavian S. S. of Portland have engaged the Park; June 4th, the K. of L. of this place will observe labor day.

PORTLAND BOYS.-Secretary Carlisle of the state board of immigration advertised for an office boy, and of twenty-six applicants, all were cigarette smokers. Advertising again for two days longer "no cigarette smokers need apply," but six applicants presented themselves.

SUNDAY TRAIN.-Arrangements have been made for a special Sunday train to run from Portland to Falls City Park, starting next Sunday. This train will leave Portland at 10:15 and returning leave the Park at 5 P. M. The train will stop at all way stations. Fare for the round trip 70 cents.

EPISCOPAL PASTOR.-Rev. Taylor from Baltimore will begin his pastorate with the Episcopal society of this place next Sabbath. He is a genial gentleman and seems to have made a good impression. His family consisting of his wife and a daughter about seventeen years of age will be here in about two weeks.

MARRIED.-In St. Paul's chapel, Canemah, May 25, 1887, by the Rev. John W. Sellwood, assisted by the Rev. Jesse C. Taylor, William A. Hodges and Miss Alice F. Brashaw. After the ceremony which was attended by a large number of friends, a supper and dance was given at the home of Joseph Hodges, and a most enjoyable time was passed. The bride and groom were well and most favorably known, and hosts of friends unite in wishing them a happy journey. Space forbids the publication of the fine list of presents this week, but they will appear in the next issue.

W. S. ROAD.-The survey for W. S. road is about completed, the surveyors finding no trouble in securing a most favorable grade' the greatest being on this side of Elk Rock where for a short distance the grade is four and one half feet to the hundred. The survey follows the present road only for a short distance this side of Jorog, where it winds along the river. The route has been made as direct as possible and still secure the grade; Engineer Campbell says that no trouble will be encountered in building the road, as no blasting will be necessary, also that it will make a most beautiful drive.

CLOSING EXERCISES.-With this week, which is given to examinations in the various departments, the public schools close. Owing to the shortened school year the utmost has been made of the time for regular work in the classes to the necessary neglect of rhetorical and graduating exercises. Fielding Kelly, Alfred L. Beale Nello DeVore completed the prescribed course of Johnson and Laura E. Beale, have study and will receive their diplomas. The pupils of the third and fourth grades have prepared concert pieces, songs, recitations, etc., to be given in the principal's room, Thursday, beginning at 1:30 P. M. The first and second grades will present some patriotic and memorial day exercises, on Friday afternoon, at which time diplomas will be presented to the graduating class by the chairman of a board of directors.

NOT A MOURNER.-Tuesday morning a very small number followed Joseph de Blonay to his last rest. He had not been feeling well for a number of days previous to his death which occurred sometime Sunday night, but no notice was taken of his condition, as he was addicted to the excessive use of liquor. He was full all the time after Friday noon. Sunday afternoon, on his way home he laid down in front of H. Straight's, remaining there probably till some time in the night. There he was last seen alive. He had with him a bottle containing landrum and T. W. Clark took it from him, as he said he would take it before going on to the county. He was found by Sydney Richardson the next morning sitting in a chair dead. The coroner, Dr. J. W. Norris, was called and a jury impaneled. His appearance and the condition of certain bottles indicated that he had supplemented the liquor with landrum and succumbed to their combined effect, and the jury returned a verdict to that effect. He left no relatives in this county, but is supposed to have some in the old country where he is reported to have been a Baron, and often passed by that title. He is also said to have been rich, having spent over $40,000 the last installment of which, $16,000, was squandered in a single year. He was prepared for burial in a fitting manner, some kind women lending their assistance, while some children testified their sympathy for a fellow creature who was nothing to them, by laying flowers upon his coffin. At one time rich he fills a pauper's grave. Once surrounded by friends, none were found to drop a tear or fill his grave. Though a resident for more than 30 years he yet died and was laid to rest as a stranger.

-C. A. Dolphin Portland is in town today. -Price pleads "not guilty."

THE FALLS.-G. E. Stuart, the photographer has taken a view of the falls from the top of the O. R. & N. warehouse, which shows every log, rock and wave. Even the mist is seen floating away. Look at it.

STATE GRANGE.-The 14th annual session of the state grange convened in Salem Tuesday. This county was represented by Arthur Warner, Mrs. E. Warner, M. K. Shipley, Mrs. Shipley, and Miss Ella Williams.

ENLARGING.-C. F. Winsset in order to make room for his increasing undertaking business, has removed his wagon and blacksmith shop to the corner building, and will occupy both floors with his undertaking establishment. He has now a large stock and has coming from the east a big bill of fine goods. See his new list in this issue.

FAST STEAMBOATING.-Friday's Oregonian says: Last night the Steamer Multnomah made a trip from Washougal to Portland in one hour and fifty-eight minutes. She left Washougal at 6 o'clock, made stops at La Canas, Fish-o's, Vancouver and St. Johns, which occupied thirteen minutes, and arrived here at 7:58. The run from Vancouver was made in fifty-nine minutes, which is the fastest on record between the two points. She carried 125 pounds of steam, and ran with the cut-off as far as Vancouver. From there to St. Johns she came open, and from St. Johns to Portland with the cut-off carrying eighty pounds of steam. The run from Vancouver to the mouth of the Willamette, six miles, was made in sixteen minutes. There was about a three-mile current with the boat in the Columbia and a two-mile current against her in the Willamette.

THE NARROW GAUGE.-Says the News: Beyond a doubt the Portland & Willamette Valley Railway will be extended from Elk Rock, its present terminus, to the levee at the foot of Jefferson street this year. Recently the company called for bids for the grading of the line from Elk Rock to the levee, distance of about six miles; also for certain rock work. The idea of a tunnel through Elk Rock has been abandoned, and instead Engineer Hawgood proposes to cut off a slice of the rock eighty-five feet deep and build a trestle around it. The surplus stone will be dumped into the Willamette, which, at this point is ninety-five feet deep, permission having been granted for that purpose by the United States engineers. On Monday work will commence in earnest. From Elk Rock to Portland the road will be a narrow gauge, with every provision for an easy rendering of it into a standard gauge, by laying an additional rail, if the Southern Pacific, which controls the road, sees fit to do so. Soon bids will be called for the construction of the bridges and trestles, of which there will be eight from Elk Rock to Portland. At Elk Rock there will be a long one, 1000 feet in length. When these matters are disposed of the construction of the round house, station house, machine and repair shops at Southern Portland will be commenced.

THAT BELL.-The ringing of the fire bell Sunday evening at the burning of a small pile of rubbish on the river bank seems not to have been a necessity. It looks very much as though the saloon keepers or their friends had arranged for the fire for the express purpose of breaking up the temperance lecture or the Salvation army meeting. As it was the ringing of the bell very nearly resulted in a panic at the Baptist church, which was packed. At the ringing of the bell the audience arose and started for the door. A moment more and a grand rush would have resulted. Fortunately Mr. W. C. Johnson had the presence of mind to suggest a cause and so avert the threatened danger. If the fire fire bell was rung, as many suppose it was, to interfere with either meeting the action was a most unwarrantable proceeding, entirely uncalled for, and worthy only of the strongest condemnation.

LARGE BARN.-Last week E. D. Edwards of Beaver Creek raised the frame for the largest barn in the county, it being 50x80 with 26 foot posts up to the drive way, and about 30 foot posts to the plates. The building is set across a gulch, the main sills being about 18 feet from the bottom. A drive way is provided across one end of the barn on the main floor. Twenty-six feet above the main floor is a drive way extending the entire length of the building. This drive way is several feet below the brow of the hill on either side of the gulch. Every thing that is handled will be thrown down instead of up and will be most convenient. Charley Mink framed the timbers, and superintended the raising. Everything came together in good shape which speaks well for his workmanship.

SALEM BRIDGE.-The builders of the bridge seem not to have complied with the regulations laid down by the war department, and neglected to have their plans endorsed, and to comply with the necessary conditions applicable to such cases. J. C. Duane, Brig. Gen. Chief of Engineers, writes: "The river should be kept open for navigation at all stages of the water so far at least as the Salem bridge is concerned, and this is provided for in the plan of the bridge by a channel way around its west approach, but the Board did not find the existence of such a channel-way to be a fact." This channel-way should be "made and maintained with at least a clear width of 100 feet, and on a line to be selected by the U. S. Engineer officer in charge of the river improvement, and an opening through the bridge approach of a clear width of not less than 70 feet on a due east and west line should be required to be made whenever the river rises to a 25 feet stage, and to be maintained until the river falls below that stage." This channel-way and opening in the bridge approach to be maintained by the owners of the bridge at their own expense." None of which have been done. As the plans will not be approved until done, the predicament is a great one. The extra expens will be great.
