—Bae McGill, a young man from Oregon City who is stopping at the Benedictine Monastery has been quite ill with a throat complaint. Says the St. Angel correspondent of the Appeal.

If you want your water repaired go to Mrs. C. H. L. D's.

APPLY AT ONCE.—Couples wishing to have the matrimonial knot that will do well to step to the front this week or early in next as Esquire Straight is intending to start for the coast about the middle of next week.

THE KELLY-HIGHFIELD CASE.—The supreme court yesterday denied the motion for a rehearing in the breach of promise case of Mrs. Henrietta Kelly against Wm. Highfield. This forever settles the case, as it was decided before Judge Shattuck in favor of the plaintiff.

ONE IN FIVE.—Last winter Mr. A. Walker subscribed for Kane's Illustrated West. He has received but one number up to date, so inclosed 20 cents by money order to the publisher to pay for papers received and ordered it stopped. He says he don't want a paper that only comes once in five months.

BEEP ALL ABOUT.—Judging from the following taken from the Portland News of Thursday last, the editor had just completed visits to the whole lot before using his pencil: "Col. George Woodford will commence his course of temperance lectures at Oregon City this evening. The old town has eight saloons and needs a talking to."

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.—Last week Monday, the A. O. U. W. installed new officers as follows: by installing officer, W. T. Whitlock: C. O. T. Williams, master warden, W. W. Myers, foreman, A. S. Graham, over seer, John Kelly, guide, S. Reizenstein, recorder, W. T. Whitlock, receiver, J. A. Stuart, financier, Jas Wilkinson, inside watchman, Robt. Wilkinson, outside watchman.

SUITABLE PROMISE.—A boy now ten years of age was promised by his grandfather Wm. Whitlock a chest of tools on his tenth birthday. His grandfather has kept her husband's promise good and Rutherford Whitlock now owns a handsome tool chest filled with good serviceable tools.

OUR ILLUSTRATIONS.—We have seen copies of some of the engravings now being prepared by the West Shore for the purpose of illustrating Oregon City and do not hesitate to commend them. So far as we could judge from their state of advancement, we will have no occasion to complain with the pictures of us.

THE CHRONICLE.—Of all the San Francisco papers the Chronicle enjoys the largest circulation, because it is the best. It is always awake and catching the news—more than that it is clean, careful and correct. J. L. Barlow is agent for this popular paper. Call for a sample copy if you don't know the style of the paper.

THE IRISH PARTY.—This is one of the seasonable articles in the August Harper's. The writer, Edward Brown, outlines the course of Irish influence in parliament, and gives a brief biography of the most prominent leaders in the Home Rule movement from the time of Isaac Butt to Parnell and Davitt. Portraits of prominent conspicuous members of the Irish Party accompany their histories.

THE JOURNALS.—The secretary of state began distributing the house and senate journals, which have just come from the hands of the binder. Every member of the legislature and the clerks and assistants are entitled to one of each of these volumes. The house journal makes 916 pages, and the senate journal makes 735 pages. Both contain more pages than any previous journal.

THREE SISTERS.—On account of low water, the steamer Three Sisters has been substituted for the steamer N. S. Beatty, and will make regular trips between Portland and Albany only, upon the following schedule: Leave Albany Monday 1 P. M. leave Portland Wednesday 7 A. M. arrive in Albany Thursday noon, leave Albany Thursday 1 P. M. leave Portland Saturday 7 A. M. arrive Albany Sunday noon. The boat stops overnight in Salem, going both ways.

FINE COLLECTION.—We look great pleasure in going over N. W. Randall's collection of grasses, a few days since. He has been at great pains to select this representation of grasses of this county and to prepare them for the county exhibit. Any one who has not studied into the subject of grasses would be very much surprised at the great variety and beauty of the assortments already secured. Any one knowing of varieties not of the usual order will confer a favor on Judge Randall and the county as well by preserving a sample to be added to the exhibit.

PRESENCE OF MIND.—The Pomeroy Independent relates a case of remarkable presence of mind of a child of that city. Last week the little girl of P. F. Boyer fell in a well 70 feet deep. She clasped the bucket rope which accompanied her to the bottom. The mother on mistaking the child went to the well and began to turn the windlass and so found her child was on board the rope below. About the time the mother gave out, the bucket from the top met the one half way down coming up, with the child which had presence of mind enough to catch the descending rope and rest her mother, who soon rallied sufficient strength to pull her well to the top. The child sustained only a few bruises.

THE SENIOR FUND.—Apportionment has been made to the several counties as follows. As the rate is just one dollar to the pupil it follows that the school population in each county equals the number of dollars drawn by each: Baker, $2189; Benton, $3207; Clackamas, $4589; Clatsop, $4180; Columbia, $4179; Coos, $2410; Crook, $4454; Curry, $632; Douglas, $4179; Grant, $1921; Gilliam, $4492; Jackson, $3743; Josephine, $1278; Klamath, $630; Lake, $787; Lane, $4249; Linn, $5709; Malheur, $689; Marion, $6783; Multnomah, $11,780; Morrow, $1097; Polk, $2838; Tillamook, $701; Umatilla, $4278; Union, $4740; Wallowa, $1343; Wasco, $3418; Washington, $3774; Yamhill, $3362; total, $87,217. Last year's apportionment was $2,357 children, and the amount of money distributed was $74,571.20.

ROBELING PLANS.—The plans for the bridge as drawn by the Robeling company were received last Friday, and have been examined by a great many all of whom express themselves as very much pleased with their appearance. The length of span and approaches is about the same as the plans exhibited by Hoffman and Bates of San Francisco, but theirs is for a cantilever, and this a suspension bridge, the towers of which are intended to be 85 feet high and constructed of either wood or iron. The company paid for these plans and specifications with the intention of adopting them if they proved anything like what was expected and it is likely that they will not only be adopted but that the West Shore will at once make their drawings for the lithograph from them, and that all will be given an opportunity to see how the bridge will look when done.

FIVE O'CLOCK TEA.—On Monday afternoon a delightful five o'clock tea was given at Mrs. F. O. McLean in honor of the twentieth birthday of her mother, Mrs. John Meltram. The table was beautifully decorated by a large mirror, representing a lake, from the center of which rose an island of flowers roses and carnations, the whole surrounded by banks of flowers. Judging by the general conversation, peaceful happy faces, the eldest of which had seen 81 years and the youngest had passed the half century, youth has not all the joy of life. Those present were, Mrs. John Meltram, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Pope, Mrs. Mary La Forest, Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Geo. Lark, Mrs. James Athey, Mrs. T. J. McCarter, Mrs. Robert Catfield, sen. Mrs. Latour-ette sen. Mrs. Barclay, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Benj. Jaggard and Mrs. Stevens.

ELEGANT AND NOVEL.—The midsummer number of The West Shore is a beautiful and attractive one. There is a charm of freshness and novelty about this magazine that is lacking in all other publications. Its elegant engravings of Western scenes and picturesque landscapes are not equaled by anything else published, while the mass of information it gives monthly about Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, British Columbia and Alaska is extremely valuable. The midsummer number contains large engravings of the city of Astoria and the mouth of the Columbia river, the seaside resorts, the salmon canneries, and others, all of them accompanied by interesting descriptive articles. The other contents are entertaining and valuable. Published by L. Samuel, Portland Oregon, at $2.50 per year.

A DEBILITATING MONUMENT.—White bronze, or refined zinc, is rapidly coming into favor throughout the United States, for monuments, fountains, statuary and other outdoor works of art, because of its durability and power to resist the disintegrating action of the elements. This material is pure zinc, refined until it is free from any contaminating substance whatever. The Scientific American says that, in all the great advances during the past century, there has been no greater advancement than the substitution of white bronze for stone, for monuments and statuary. The cost of this material is about the same as good marble, but its value, when considered either in the light of beauty or durability is many times greater. Several monuments of this material have been erected in Elvov View cemetery, near Portland, where they are attracting much attention and receiving many favorable comments. —West Shore.

FOURTH BURNER.—Last Thursday morning at 1:30 the foundry of D. L. Remington, at Woodburn was discovered to be on fire, and before any effectual efforts towards saving it could be made, it burned to the ground. The building was a new wooden structure, built within the past year, and when discovered to be on fire the roof had fallen in. Inside was a great deal of farmers' machinery, which had been brought there to be repaired preparatory to harvest. Little or nothing of the foundry machinery and the articles inside was saved. The loss is said to be $10,000, upon which there was an insurance of only $500. The origin of the fire is not known. Moulding had been done on Wednesday, but at nine o'clock the fires were all out. The light of the fire, strikes to say, was seen at Gervais, seven miles away, and a party started on a handcar for the scene of conflagration, before any one in Woodburn discovered it. The foundry did a considerable business. The machinery was first-class and all the apparatus, including a specialty was made of the construction of traction engines. Whether Mr. Remington will rebuild is not known.

NEW INDUSTRY.—Messrs Hutton and Callif have associated themselves in a company known as the Oregon City Mop and Wringer Co. with headquarters at this place. Their shop is at the Oregon City saw mill and the office of the company opposite Pope & Co's. Their business is to make and sell mops—not the old fashioned buck-braking fire-rag-on-hand-scudler, but a simple device that takes away the drudgery from floor cleaning, and makes the task as light as possible. Their mop has much the appearance of an ordinary mop, except that along either side of the handle and about two inches from it extends a large wire, upon which slides the cross section, the lock and rag holder. The wires are so arranged that they constitute a simple lock, and when locked is ready to scrub with. To replenish, it is quickly unlocked, dipped in the water and wrung without the hands ones becoming wet. It thus enables scalding water, lye or any other cleaner to be used without harm to the hands. As a window and ceiling cleaner it is unsurpassed, and the company are already employing a number of hands upon the road, establishing a good business. The operation of getting out the wood work is an interesting one. A hollow cylinder with sharp cutting sides revolves around a stick, which is firmly clamped to prevent it from turning. This stick is run through the turning machine and comes out a round barrel, needing but to be polished to be ready for use. The polishing is done in a large cylinder of Mr. Hutton's own contrivance. We may just mention in this connection that the firm take great pains to select good stout wood for handles, so that they may insure it to stand a vigorous blow in the hands of an irate squarer. They again they claim, in talking "back" to a man, that the mop itself is a sure wrath preventative.

EDITOR ENTERPRISE.

This town is having an intellectual treat, and a whole week of it at that. George Woodford, well named "Prince of Orators", from Chicago, and well known all over the United States and Canada, is holding forth at Pope's Hall every night and will continue till Sunday inclusive. On Tuesday night, two other noted speakers, Prof. M. V. Rock, late of the public schools, Lansing, Michigan, and who went through the exciting amendment campaign of that state, and Rev. J. W. Webb, of Salem, came down to lend a helping hand. They became so interested as to remain. Mrs. Dr. Aug. C. Kinney, who participated in the marvelous success of Woodford at Astoria is here also, co-operating with the ladies who are seconding the efforts of the men. Aside from the great issue a stake, the oratory, art, pathos and logic are a real treat. An interest unusual to Oregon City is being aroused, and I look for crowded houses from this time to the close, and a great good will be done. Business and professional men should go; the boys and girls should be taken. Men who drink little or much should go. He will not be abused but treated handsomely. Voters especially should be present. Electors, we have this issue to meet. Don't let us be clams. Let us hear both sides and vote intelligently as will be best for ourselves, the town, the state and the rising generation. A number have signed the pledge and donned the blue ribbon.

County Exhibits.

The articles relating to county exhibits is based upon the following offer of premiums as made to the state agricultural society.

Best exhibit of cereals, sheaf and shell grains first premium $100, second premium $25, third premium $15; best exhibit of grasses (native and cultivated) first premium $100, second premium $35, third premium $15; best county exhibit of vegetables (farm and garden) first premium $50, second premium $25; best county exhibits of fruits (green) first premium $100, second premium $50. None of the foregoing are eligible to entry in the regular premium list and entries must be made by one person and the product grown and collected within the limits of the county by the citizens thereof. The committee will take into consideration quality, manner of preparing and varieties. This rule is applicable to county exhibits of fruits and vegetables, as well as to grains and grasses, and only one entry in the name of any one county shall be allowed and the exhibits shall be the products of 1887.
