—Senator Tongue will speak at Pope's Hall to-morrow night.
THE AUTONA—This elegant Oregon City-Portland boat has been making short trips out from her moorings at Portland to be capable of doing the work in good shape. The company's agent, A. B. Graham, said on Monday that they intended to try and make the trial trip to-day.
A FREE LECTURE—Will be given at the Congregational church on Thursday evening, May 25th, at 8 o'clock, by Edwin S. Williams. Subject, "The Bright Side of Life at 40 Degrees below Zero." Mr. Williams is a spicy and interesting lecturer and an enjoyable and profitable evening's entertainment is assured to those who shall be so fortunate as to be present on this occasion.
EXCELSIOR WORKS—Last Saturday night the water was turned into the new flume just completed by Jas. Roake for the new excelsior mill, and by next Saturday Mr. Roake expects to have a picker at work and very soon thereafter the excelsior cutters. The new mill is to be much larger than the old one, and the first aim was to get the foundation and lower floor in place so as to set up the machinery and run it while the building is being completed.
FIXING THE BASIN—On Monday the men succeeded in stopping a large part of the flow of water into the basin by throwing a temporary dam across from shore to the electric power house. The work of changing the basin over and repairing it in good shape will be pressed with vigor, but as it is quite a big job, the wooden mill will build a temporary flume of sand bags, so as to procure water. By this means the city will secure water and the factory will probably be able to start up in earnest on Monday next.
MEMORIAL SERVICES—The memorial services of Sunday last were held at the Congregational church under the auspices of Meade Post No. 2, G. A. R. The house was more than crowded. The Post, accompanied by Company F, and preceded by the Willamette band, marched to the church where for a time the band played a series of sacred hymns. The sermon was preached by Rev. G. W. Giboney of the Presbyterian church, the other exercises being conducted by the pastors of this city and the Congregational choir. At the close of the services the Post marched back to their hall and disbanded. A number of the Post from all parts of the country were present and participated in the exercises.

SPIRITUALITY CAMP MEETING.—The Clackamas county society of Spiritualists will hold their annual camp meeting at New Era beginning June 19th, holding over two Sundays. Good speakers and mediums have been secured. Reduced rates over the S. P. R. R. East and West divisions. H. A. KRUSE, Sec'y.
CENSUS ENUMERATION.—Hon. John Kelly, supervisor of census for the first district of Oregon, kindly sends us the list of enumerators for Clackamas county which we herewith publish: Frank M. Kruse, Wilsonville; Simon M. Ramsby, Molalla; Victor S. Mack, Canby; John C. Bradley, Powell's Valley; Joseph E. Young, Milwaukie; Joel P. Geer, Butteville; Joseph Casto, New Era; A. M. Shibley, Springwater; Orville H. Byland, Neeley.
W. C. T. U. MEETING.—At a meeting of the W. C. T. U. held May 27th in the Presbyterian church the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Wilkinson; Secretary, Mrs. Mattie White; Treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Porter; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. A. M. Porter, Mrs. Giboney, Mrs. Lucas, Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Driggs. Twenty-four ladies showed their interest by becoming members and organizing for aggressive work. The meetings will be held monthly with other meetings interspersed.
SOME MILK.—Mr. J. S. Risley has been weighing the milk from one of his Holstein cows lately and finds the result a much better showing than he had expected, the yield at night being 33.3 pounds, which, reduced to close by the usual rule would yield over four pounds to the milking. The value of this cow is not fully appreciated till a computation is made showing the value of the product. Allowing for the morning milking only half as much and we have 50 pounds of milk per day. This at $1.00 per hundred for the milk would yield in money $15 per month.
ACCIDENT AT OSWEGO.—Last Saturday a serious accident occurred at the Oswego furnace Peter Pallett, who was working about the furnace, fell in some way, it is said, about 30 feet striking upon his head and face, cut a great gash, extending clear across the forehead. The lower part of the cut loosened from the skull and fell down over his eyes. Dr. Sullivan was summoned and bandaged the wound, thirteen stitches being necessary to hold the severed parts. Mr. Pallett could not remember any of the particulars about his fall. At last accounts he was doing well.
RIBBON ON A RAFT.—Last Monday afternoon ye editor boarded a timber raft at New Era and shipped as a common seaman. Captain Jack Baker and mate Win. Fairchild. The craft was pushed from shore and launched for the voyage which was calm and uneventful till Rock Island was reached, when the current hustled the bark along at a fair rate, while captain and mate were kept busy guiding the raft by means of skulling oars in the use of which both were adepts. Below the island a head wind drove the raft for a time and it was hard work to keep from circling in the eddies, but soon steady currents were reached and nothing more eventful occurred till supper time when head cook Fairchild served up a meal with which no one was disposed to find a bit of fault, though the eggs were boiled in the coffee and the table was a stick of timber. Having eaten all the supper he could obtain, and paid therefore by amusing the captain and mate by his cunning efforts to scull the raft, the scribe deserted at Stringtown and bought a tin of the pass of the agent and walked in, leaving the boat by about 40 minutes.

STATE LAND COMMISSIONER.
The Governor of this state is HEREBY APPOINTED LAND COMMISSIONER FOR THE STATE OF OREGON, and empowered to locate the lands to which this state is entitled under the laws of the United States or otherwise.—Hill's Code, page 1463.
When any such application is filed for the purchase of land, to be selected in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections or to compensate for deficiency of section or in fractional township, the said application shall state the sixteenth or thirty-sixth sections or fractional township in lieu of which the land is to be taken, and the LAND COMMISSIONER shall thereupon select the said land in the proper land office." etc.—Session Laws of 1887, page 74.
The governor is therefore made by law the land commissioner of the state, and by law he, as land commissioner, is directed to select the indemnity school lands. The reason for reciting these facts is that Gov. Penney's friends have now suddenly awakened to the fact that Secretary McBride is a member of the state administration, and are trying to unload on him a share of the burdens of the scandal relative to the school indemnity lands.
We have been told that the present state administration has been the fountain of great glories and great benefits to the state, and on this assumption there has been a long and loud appeal for re-election of Penney and Webb, who are given all the credit. But the moment a scandal is unearthed we hear the exclamation: O, but McBride is a member of the administration; he is the secretary of state and is a republican! Well, then, are we to turn over to McBride the credit of that great increase in the school fund about which there has been so much hollow brag?
Wouldn't it be well if the supporters of Governor Penney would stop all this "guff" and "blowing" about "the honest and efficient administration" of the last four years long enough at least, to give an explanation of that school land business? A day or two since a reporter said to Mr. Goldsmith, chairman of the democratic state committee: "What will you say about the charges against the governor with reference to the improper sale of indemnity school lands?"
To this Mr. Goldsmith made answer: "All I have to say to that is that we defy Mr. Thompson to put these charges in writing over his own signature. He dare not do it."
Now, Mr. Goldsmith, this will not do. Those charges have been made, they have been put in writing, they are an official record, made by the democratic officials of the land office at The Dalles. Mr. Thompson is not the author of the charges; he uses them as he finds them, and they are too grave to be passed over by the man most concerned.—Governor Penney.—Oregonian.
Notice of Sale.
Notice is hereby given that the firm of Babcock & Moore in this city dissolved by mutual consent. Those owing said firm will please call and settle at the store and those having claims should present them at once. Thanking my friends for their past liberal patronage, I would bespeak for my successor, J. A. Moore, a continuance for the same.

A Fine Farm.
If you are wanting a fine farm, here is your chance. 100 acres, three miles from Oregon City, one mile from Clackamas Heights, where town lots are selling for $70 each. Good house, barn, woodshed, root house, 30 acres cleared. Good timber, near sawmill; well and springs never dry. Will sell farm, or farm and stock. For particulars call at this office.

AWAKENING CAMPAIGN SPIRIT.
Brother Penney no longer has "plain sailing." He has equally weather and rough seas. He began an aggressive campaign, making furious attacks on his opponents; and now he has on his hands about as big a contract as he wants of defending himself.
Everywhere people want to know why he is making a campaign on his veto of the Portland water bill, after having approved bills exempting the bonds of The Dalles and Baker City from taxation. They are plying him with questions about the selection of indemnity school lands and the job therein alleged by the democratic register and receiver of the land office at The Dalles. They want to know, too, how a rich man like himself can put on the mien of a poor man and go out as the poor man's friend and candidate for governor. And they would like to know why so rich a man as he is, who complains that his opponent doesn't pay more taxes, fails to set the good example of paying more taxes himself.
We think it would have been better for the governor had he adhered to his original declaration that he would make no general canvass, but leave the question to the people, with very little debate. Plainly the discussion is damaging him, reducing his chances, waking up the spirit of opposition, and bringing republicans to the active support of the candidates of Mr. Penney. It was only necessary for Penney, in order to compass his own defeat, to rouse the republican spirit of the state; and this he is succeeding in doing, in fine shape.—Oregonian.
WHEN it was discovered that Penney had signed two bills to create untaxable water bonds—one for Baker City and one for The Dalles—while Thompson voted for one only, and that for his own town where everybody favored it, then the governor's great issue, which he was riding with as much confidence and self-conceit as a little boy rides a stick that he drags between his legs, was knocked from under him.
But the governor and his supporters were equal to the occasion, and when their big hobby-horse was knocked from under them they immediately mounted the smaller one—Thompson the monopolist, and Penney the philanthropist—and now they are trotting around the country astride of this hobby-horse presenting the appearance of a big lazy tramp or professional agitator astride of an over-loaded donkey. The spectacle is a queer one and makes people laugh. For pure cheek and impudence it is equal to the attempt to ride into office on Thompson's vote for untaxable bonds, when Penney had voted for untaxable bonds on two separate occasions. Penney is one of the great capitalists of Oregon. He owns a whole block of land in the heart of the city of Portland near the great hotel, and four magnificent residences, one of which he occupies himself. His residence property is valued at about $150,000. Then he owns a long line of river front with wharves and sawmills, valued at $150,000 and perhaps more, so he is worth between a quarter and a half million of dollars, or about as much as all the farmers in Lane county could raise by scraping together the earnings of a life time. And yet the only stock in trade of this rich capitalist is opposition to untaxable bonds, for which he voted twice on separate occasions, and opposition to wealthy men, when in fact he is himself one of the richest men in Oregon. Could inconsistency, self-assurance and demagoguery go farther? We think not.—Eugene Journal.
The Best Clothing.
I have been appointed sole agent for Clackamas county for the celebrated Salem woolen mill goods, a full assortment of which I have now in stock. Parties desiring the best clothing for the least money and all other goods of this mill's manufacture on the same terms, will do well to call and see me.
F. T. BARLOW, Agent, Oregon City, Or.
Fine Farm! Fine Timber!
Any party desiring a bargain in acre property should inquire at once at the office for particulars. This fine chance for some one with a few thousand who wishes to invest it where he is sure of quick and sure profits. The tract besides being convenient to Oregon City has large body of fine timber convenient to saw mill. The land is mostly level and rolling, is very rich and will make fine fruit farms. Will be not over 20 minutes walk from Motor line now building.

The Best Company.
Parties desiring to insure their property should always select a safe and reliable company with which to place their risks. Oregon is extremely fortunate in having such a company owned and operated by home capital and home men. It is wise and safer to encourage home institutions. Those who insure in the Columbia Fire Insurance company will be safe, will be sure of fair treatment and full pay in case of loss. For particulars inquire of T. L. Charnan, agent.
