Oregon Pacific Railroad.

From various hints and pointers that have been thrown out by the officials and interested parties of the Oregon Pacific railroad, the prospects seem quite favorable for the extension of that road over the Cascades and on towards the great Harney country, and on eastward, connecting with some transcontinental line.

A strange gentleman, who was without doubt an Eastern capitalist with the interest of the Oregon Pacific at heart, recently accompanied an official over the road, examining the various properties and interests in connection therewith, and, from the stray words dropped here and there, it is evident that the Oregon Pacific is not going to remain "tied up to a stump"—commencing nowhere and ending worse than nowhere.

The extension of its line over the Cascades through the best natural pass that range affords, and tapping nearly one-half of Oregon in territory, which consummation now seems only a short time in the future, will make this a paying road without a doubt, if judiciously managed. The people of Salem look forward with pleasurable hopes to the consummation of this object—for it will certainly result in closer relations with the Capital City than are now furnished by a few river boats.—Salem Statesman.

The Proctor Tower.

The building and grounds committee of the Columbia Exposition, have accepted the design for a tower, of steel, 1100 feet high, surmounted by a tall flag staff. Ten elevators will carry passengers to the top. Four of these will run to the first landing, 200 feet, 400 feet above the ground, stopping at the first landing, while two others will run up without stop to the second landing; and from the second and third landings two will shoot up in the dome, 1000 feet above the ground. The capacity of these elevators is 100 people per hour one way, or 1600 people an hour up and down. The tower will be one glow of electric light from base to dome, the very top being illuminated by powerful search lights, which will throw a brilliant glow over the exposition. Electricity will be used in numerous ways. Safety devices, telephones, signaling apparatus, ventilating fans, being a few of the necessary things that will be done operated by this subtile force. Hydraulic power will be very likely be used for running the elevators in the tower. Motors, however, will be used to operate pressure pumps that supply the water to the hydraulic cylinders.

Demand for the New Laws.

There is a general demand to know what the new laws are. A great many of them are in force by emergency clauses and approval of the governor. The common citizen and tax-payer is as completely in the dark as to all this legislation, which he is expected to comply with and may be hauled into court for innocently violating, as tho' it were promulgated by the Khedive of Egypt to the unlettered unhabitants of the Nile.

The citizen has the first right to know the new laws and changes or repeals of old ones which affect his rights and liberties. There is no pretense of any economy secured by present antiquated and inadequate methods of publication in book form at the expense of the people and for the benefit of officials and special classes. The immediate publication of all new laws and when they go into effect is a reform urgently demanded by the people.—Salem Joural.

This hits the nail squarely on the head as the state printing office under the existing conditions has the the fattest plum in the land, and the masses of the people derive no benefits therefrom, except their share of the tax, which they cannot avoid paying.

TELEGRAPH NEWS.

WILL TRUST RULE.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Rumors concerning the formation of a great tobacco trust, to embrace all the manufacturers of cut and plug tobacco in the United States, have created much interest among tobacco men. Leading cigarette manufacturers—the Dukes, the Kimballs, Allen & Ginther and others—are already united in the American Tobacco Co., and it is said this company is endeavoring to buy up the plug manufacturers. It is rumored that in Danville, Virginia, the American Tobacco Co. is negotiating for the purchase of one or more factories of that city. It is also said the Whitlock cheroot factory and Venable's tobacco factory are on the point of selling out to the New York concern. In Louisville, it is said, the Finzer factory will be the next to sell out to the American company, and that others will follow. In Danville, Virginia, members of the farmers' alliance are endeavoring to establish a cigarette factory, in opposition to the new combination. It is said that stock will soon be issued. In Louisville the warehousemen are combining to protect their interests, but the growers are not in sympathy with them.

A NATIONAL HAT COMPANY.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Leading representatives of the woolen hat manufacturing business are about complaining details in the formation of a national hat company with a capital of $1,000,000. The combination will take the production by leading factories for a term of years, with the privilege of renewal, and producing quantities sufficient only to meet the demand.

ANOTHER COMBINATION FORMED.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Wholesale dealers in sponges in this city have formed a combination to control the market for Florida sheepswool sponge. This variety of sponge is considered the first for carriage purposes, and the demand for it is double the supply.

A BRITISH COLUMBIA CONSOLIDATION.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 16.—A consolidation of all the breweries in the city was effected today. The capital involved will not exceed $1,000,000. The purchase money has been paid, and the properties will be transferred to a syndicate August 1, next.

OREGON WEATHER BUREAU.

CENTRAL OFFICE, Portland, Oregon, Crop-Weather Bulletin No. 2.
For week ending Saturday March 21, 1891.

WEATHER.

The temperature has risen, but is yet slightly below the Normal. Showers fell during the week, but not average amount.

Generally partly cloudy weather prevailed, the sun when shining being quite warm.

An occasional light frost occurred in Western Oregon. In eastern Oregon frosts were frequent at night, the days being quite warm.

The snow is about all gone from the valleys of Eastern Oregon, though there yet remains plenty in the foot hills and in the mountains. The melting snow generally soaked into the earth, making the soil very wet. In Western Oregon the soil is very wet from the February rains and March showers. Strong south and south-west winds prevailed Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

CROPS.

Owing to the wet soil conditions in Western Oregon, and melting snow and wet soil in Eastern Oregon, spring seeding has generally been delayed. Some plowing has been done on the higher lands of Western Oregon and in parts of Southern Oregon. While the weather conditions have not been up to the average, yet they have been very favorable to the fall and winter sown grain which is invariably reported to be in a most prosperous and promising condition. Considerable growth has been made during the week. In the Willamette valley, especially, the soil is wet which retards spring work. In parts of Western Oregon peach and apricot trees are in blossom, quince trees showing leaves, berry bushes and shrubs are leafing, and other fruit trees have swelling buds. Warmer weather with sunshine is needed throughout the state. The season is slightly later than usual. The prosperous condition of the fall wheat, the wet condition of the soil, the backward weather conditions all tend towards a bountiful harvest.

STOCK.

In Wallowa county some stock has been lost, in other stock sections it is rare that loss is reported, and on the other hand their condition is reported to be good. The grass is growing and furnishing good feed.

HEALTH.

In some sections "la grippe is prevalent; but nothing serious. The general health is first class.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHŒA REMEDY, the most reliable known medicine for bowel complaints. It is especially prized by persons subject to colic. It has cured many cases of chronic diarrhœa. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

"Is this the best?" is a question often asked, when medicine is wanted. The following are a few of the medicines of known reliability, sold by GEO. A. HARDING, druggist, of this place. He has many other excellent medicines, but these are worthy of special mention:

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY, famous for its cures of severe colds, and as a preventive for croup. Price 50 cents per bottle.

"There is little in woman's advice, yet he that won't take it is not overwise," says Cervants. The proverb is most aptly illustrated in the following item:

During the fall of 1882, while my daughter was teaching in the country near bear, she contracted a severe cold and cough. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the effect was so satisfactory that on her recommendation the entire neighborhood began its use, and with the most satisfactory results, which has continued with increasing confidence ever since. J. H. Reinhart, druggist, Alton, Kansas. 50 cent bottles for sale by Geo. A. Harding.

Friend of Woman.

The very remarkable and certain relief given womankind by "Moore's Revealed Remedy" has won for it the name of Woman's Friend. It is uniformly successful in relieving their delicate ailments.

MOORE'S REVEALED REMEDY

Stands peerless as the natural remedy peculiarly adapted to the wants of womankind.

WHAT ONE LADY SAYS:

SEATTLE, Jan. 29, 1891.

"I want you to publish my testimonial for MOORE'S REVEALED REMEDY, for it has been a grand thing for me, for it has cured me of headaches, from which I have suffered whenever I became chilled, for the last fifteen years; I have suffered perfect torture for twenty-four hours at a time, sometimes retching for three hours without any rest and unable to get help from any of the numberless remedies tried. Now I am free from this suffering, for at the first symptom of one of these attacks I take a good dose of "Moore's Revealed," and that is the end of it. It has also cured me of constipation. My husband says it has saved his life, and he would not be without it. We are both so happy over it we cannot say enough in its favor, and advise all our friends to use it."

Persons troubled with rheumatism should read the following from Mrs. N M Peters, of East Des Moines, Iowa. She says: I had suffered with rheumatism the greater part of the time for nearly seven years. I doctored a great deal for it with physicians and tried electric belts, patent medicines and almost everything that was recommended for rheumatism. Finally a neighbor advised me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balsam and was so sure that it would help me that I procured a bottle. It did help me, right from the start; but it took five 50 cent bottles to cure me, so you can guess how bad I was as two bottles will cure any ordinary case." For sale by Geo. A. Harding, druggist.
