Land Monopoly.

California groans under a most aggravating state of land matters, for not only is the title to much of the soil in that State involved in interminable litigation, but speculators have monopolized the best of the public lands by purchase, at the lowest Government rates, turning out of possession thousands of actual settlers who were desirous of purchasing the lands they occupied, but the speculators were beforehand with them and paid down the money the instant the lands were in the market.

This state of things is most ruinous and discouaraging to the best interests of that State, for actual settlers are not only deprived of homes, but emigrants who would locate, wander up and down the length and breadth of the land seeking public lands open to pre-emption, and find a wide area in the best part of the State owned by speculators, who will only sell at an enormous price, and care nothing for the advancement of the country so long as they can grow richer.

This is not carrying out the spirit and intent of the laws and the will of the people. Thousands who visit California in search of homes and find this condition of things existing will come to Oregon, and we should watch carefully the best interests of our State, and endeavor to prevent the enrichment of the few at the expense of the many by the absorption of the public lands in the hands of corporations or individuals with no restriction as to price at which they shall be sold, or providing for their sale only to actual settlers. It may be necessary to endow Railroad companies with lands to enable the construction of much needed enterprises, but some restriction can be enforced as to price and quality sold, to prevent the evils complained of.
