

Wednesday, Jan. 19.

If you want to buy good second hand furniture, look out for the market Saturday which we advertise this morning.

Married.—On the 12th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. D. M. Koenig, Mr. Joseph D. Irvine and Miss Sarah Fisher; both of Marion county, Oregon.

Married.—At the residence of the bride's father, in this city, on the 13th inst., by Rev. C. C. Stratton, Mr. Z. Craven and Miss Charlotte McFall.

Mixed.—The weather yesterday was a little the most complicated of anything lately. Snow, frost, hail, sleet, rain, sunshiny, mild, everything but warmth, promiscuously scattered all through the day, without regard to any one's feelings.

Greenbacks.—Assistant Assessor W. K. Melton requests to state that the rate at which incomes in gold are to be calculated in currency has been fixed at 80 cents on the dollar. Last year the rate was 75 cents, though currency was hardly up to that price at the time of collection.

The State Agricultural Society is in session. There is a good representative attendance of agricultural talent if not in numbers. Other members are expected to be here to-day. We publish the proceedings of yesterday, down to the evening session, which ran to 10 o'clock to-night.

Writing School.—Prof. W. S. James informs us that on Monday next it is his intention to commence an evening writing school at his rooms in the University building. He will teach three evenings a week and desires a general attendance on Monday for the purpose of organizing the class.

Sold Out.—Mr. S. H. Ways, of Bala, informs us that he has sold his pottery at that point, to a gentleman who thoroughly understands the business and will continue its operation. This branch of industry is a very important one to Oregon, as we are able to compete with any in the world in producing articles of clay.

What.—Farmers who have planned all winter arguing uneasily about the weather. The frosts have not been severe enough to do much damage if the weather were steady, but this thawing and freezing alternately is the worst weather that ever happens in Oregon. Fall winter is looking so very fine that its destruction would be felt with double severity. However we hope for a change, and few more days will pass us past the season of danger.

The River.—It was observed by those on board one of the P. T. Company's boats coming down the river on Friday last, that the water had fallen three feet at Astoria, and was still rising at Corvallis. The boats that went to Jefferson found the water falling very fast there, while it was rising at the mouth of the river. And on Saturday it had fallen four feet at Corvallis; twenty inches at Albany, and was on a stand at Salem. So it will be seen that there was a regular sea four feet high rolling down the river exactly like the waves of ocean.

Lynch Law.—The following dispatch to the Portland papers was received yesterday:

Umatilla, Jan. 17.—Wooda, who murdered Duffy, at Lewiston, July 4th, of 1890, was hanged by some unknown parties on the evening of the 12th. Cause—sentence commuted to imprisonment for life.

Mr. Woods had relatives living here who had been anxiously waiting to know whether a reprieve would be granted or not, and now they receive the news of his being murdered, immediately after he was told that his life was to be spared. The deceased is said to have been of good habits and disposition, with the only exception of a propensity for bad company.

Thursday, Jan. 20.

Henry Bright.—The steamer Albany yesterday brought down 125 tons of freight, the best load of the season, we believe.

County Convention.—The Democratic County Committee met on Tuesday, called a convention to be held at Salem March 16th, to elect delegates to the State Convention at Albany. There are to be 51 votes in the county convention. Precinct meetings on the 6th of March.

Die.—In Salem, Jan. 18th, Amos A. Stacey, aged 44 years. Funeral at 11 a. m. to-day from his residence. The deceased was a brother of Alderman J. L. Stacey, an old resident of Salem and widely known, having lived here since 1853. He was a member of Capital Engine Company No. 1, and the funeral will be conducted by the Fire Department of the city.

Wanted.—A McCormick's Almanac for the new daily, which gravely informs the Democrats of Oregon that J. W. P. Huntington is Superintendent of Indian Affairs. At Zieher, U. S. Marshal, and Medorum Crawford, Collector of Internal Revenue. It is generally supposed in Salem that those gentlemen were successful by their present instruments a long time ago, but we don't think a contemporary would wilfully mislead its readers.

The Society.—The Board of Managers of the State Agricultural Society, have a fine time at their meetings. All are harmonious, in that they work for the same end, and though as loyal men they sometimes honestly differ as to the means, they always come to a conclusion in perfect good will. The discussions yesterday were quite interesting, especially upon the subject of Dairy products, in which it was evident that the participants not only were well posted, but took a lively interest. The premiums in this line were all doubled, and other regulations made, which it is to be hoped will be one more help towards a general understanding of the Dairy business in Oregon.

Dying Aged.—We have news by private dispatch of the death of two more of Oregon's pensioners. Captain John E. Coomb, well known to all old settlers, died at his residence in Portland. The Captain was in Oregon in 1842, when he conducted a vessel under his command over the Columbia bar and up the river. When Oregon was opened for settlement, he was one of the first to make his home in this country, and since then has lost a hand in many a project of improvement. A retired son of Neptune, he retained the bluff and hearty ways of an old salt to the last, and will be remembered as a man with his heart in his hand.

Hiram Smith. who died in San Francisco on Monday last, came to Oregon in 1845, returned to the East in '46, and came out again in '51, in company with several others who were not residents of Salem. Among them, we are informed, was Hon. E. N. Cooke, State Treasurer, himself a relative of Mr. Smith. He made several trips to the States, and had and was instrumental in bringing out a great many good citizens of our State.

Mumps.—This interesting visitor is in town stopping with several of our fellow citizens. Look out for him, he is a hilk.

Change of Firm.—By the withdrawal of Mr. L. S. Dyar the firm of Dyar & Grubbs is changed to Grubbs & Company, who will continue business at the same stand, Patton's block.

Raid.—The meeting of the Board of Managers closed last night after a harmonious session of three days, and this morning the participants will be taking up the line of march to practice what they have been advocating in theory—the art that pays for all.

When at Portland on Wednesday, we walked around in slush and hail several inches deep. Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning there were sleighs dashing through the streets to the music of the bells. Coming back to Salem we learn that no snow or hail accumulated on the ground.

Aerials.—Most of the members of the State Central Committee living south came up in the morning yesterday. Mayor Goldsmith, of Portland, and W. S. Lantz, Esq., also came up as far as Salem. Sheriff Beaman, of Jackson county, who had been to Portland with an insane patient, arrived yesterday on his return home.

Not Married.—Our notice of Mr. Wm. M. Hand's marriage seems to have been premature. Says the Mountaineer: "A letter from our Chief, dated at Washington City, December 24th, looks very doubtful about his having been married to the woman in issue, confined by the S. F. Alta. Must be some other (un)fortunate female of the same cognomen."

Long.—The price of wheat in Liverpool has reached the unusually low figure of 9s. 1d. It has been going down steadily from 10s. 4d. until it seems now to be the lowest figure possible. This must make fine times in Oregon where they buy bread, but it is hard on us, who have to pay high prices for labor and sell grain cheap.

Pick and Pile.—We have received Vol. 1, No. 1 of the Montana Pick and Pile, a large weekly, published by H. N. McGuire and Joe Wright at Rossburg City, Montana, at the moderate price of 35 cents per annum. As prices go in those parts, it is probably worth the money, being well filled with good reading matter.

Capt. Cook.—Rev. J. L. Parrish, who calls himself a walking record of the early history of Oregon, relates that Captain Cook's first trip to this coast was in 1842, when he commanded the brig Maryland. The voyage was made to see what the country was worth, and he returned with so good a report that the Chenamus was built for him, and in her the Captain made two trips before he settled in Oregon.

Ashland.—Mr. Croft, who has had charge of the dyeing rooms in the factory at this place, has been employed for some twenty-one weeks. Mr. C. did not find the staging very good at this season, but two weeks down had fallen three feet at Corvallis, and was still rising at Corvallis. The boats that went to Jefferson found the water falling very fast there, while it was rising at the mouth of the river. And on Saturday it had fallen four feet at Corvallis; twenty inches at Albany, and was on a stand at Salem. So it will be seen that there was a regular sea four feet high rolling down the river exactly like the waves of ocean.

State Agricultural Society.

Mr. Jno. Mintz, Secretary, has kindly furnished us the following abstract of the proceedings of the Board of Managers.

Salem, Jan. 18th, 1870.

According to a notice previously published, the Board of Managers of the State Agricultural Society called a meeting at the residence of Daniel Clark, at 12 o'clock, on Friday evening, Jan. 15th, 1870. Present, Messrs. Daniel Clark, W. M. Mills, B. Stewart, M. Wilkins, C. P. Bacon, John Allen, J. M. Dewey.

On motion, Mr. Wilkins, the Board adjourned to one o'clock p. m.

At 1 o'clock, the Board met, pursuant to adjournment. By request the Secretary read the names of the members of the Board of Managers.

On motion, members of the State Agricultural Society present were invited to participate in the consideration of the report of the Board of Managers.

On motion of A. C. Daniels, voted that the Secretary and Treasurer be authorized to receive all notices and correspondence within the Fair Grounds, except when authorized by the Society. Mr. Mills asked for the reading of a letter from the Board of Managers, which was read by the Board, the reading was called for, and on motion of Mr. Elliot, the list was read further consideration. The Board then took up the Premium List and proceeded with its revision and adoption. Classes 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, after being reviewed, were adopted.

On motion, the Premium List and report were referred to the Board of Managers.

On motion, the Board adjourned to meet on the 19th inst. at 7 o'clock p. m.

In addition to the attendance during the day, Mr. C. P. Burkhardt, of Linn, was appointed as an officer of the same.

On motion, ordered that in judging of wheat for premiums, quality and market value are to be considered. Premium for the best bushel of wheat to be $10, and for second best $5; $100 for best 30 acres of wheat, and $50 for second best, $20 and $30 for 20 acres.

On motion of Mr. Wilkins, Jan. 19th, 1870. Resolved, that the Board of Managers be authorized to form a separate class of premiums on butter and cheese increased 100 per cent.

On motion, the Board adjourned to meet on the 20th inst. at 7 o'clock p. m.

Mr. Patton came before the Society and presented a list of recommendations, which was read on the table, and after the dropping of premiums, for horse, mare of gelding were fixed at $75, $50, and $25; also Oregon-bred colts, 4-year old and $15; 3-year old $10.

In evening session, by request, Mr. Donthit made a statement of the steps taken to secure the lands donated by Congress to endow an Agricultural College.

The remainder of the evening was spent in reviewing letters for government of the grounds, and the meeting closed by adjournment. Adjourned to the 21st inst.

Salem, Jan. 20.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment. Messrs. Burkhardt, Stewart and Mills were appointed on the Finance Committee for the ensuing year.

Major Joseph Magoun was unanimously elected Field Marshal.

D. Prentiss, T. Pearce, and S. Lussling were appointed on the Finance Committee.

On motion of Mr. Donthit, it was voted to purchase the artesian well tools at the rate of $15 per ton. The first day of October next was set for the first day of the next State Fair, provided the Washington County Society can accommodate the same.

The following named gentlemen were appointed Class Superintendents: 1st, G. G. Patten; 2d, Nov. for 2, D. C. Stewart, Nov. 3, 4, and 5, C. P. Bacon; 3d, Wm. Elliott; 4th, J. B. Laffollet; 5th, T. Pearce; 6th, M. Wilkins; 7th, Thomas Smith; 8th and 9th, Wm. A. Mills. Class 10 was divided—Judge Donthit appointed to first part, and D. Stewart, to 2d part. Class 11th, J. Harrows; 12th, J. M. Dewey; 13th, John Miller; 14th, T. A. Davenport; 15th, J. Luckey; 16, E. H. Gilpin.

LOVE LIGHTS LABOR.

A good wife rose from her bed one morning, and with a nervous dread of the piles of clothes to be washed, and more than that, of the man who would not do her the least favor, she went to the wash tub. There's the meat to get for the men in the field. And the children to fix away. To school, and the milk to be skimed and And all to be done that day.

It had rained in the night, and all the wood was wet as it could be; And there were puddings and pies to make before day.

A loaf of cake for ten. And a half for her abiding head. "Throbbled wearily, as she said: 'If I mean to do that good wife's work, I'll wash the milk for many a day. And a flush crept up to her forehead. And his eyes had twinkled full; 'Tis true, but I'll wash the milk for many a day. And the children to fix away. To school, and the milk to be skimed and And all to be done that day.

"Jennie what do you think I'll do Ben. Brown?" "Call the farmer for many a day." And a flush crept up to her forehead. And his eyes had twinkled full; 'Tis true, but I'll wash the milk for many a day. And the children to fix away. To school, and the milk to be skimed and And all to be done that day.

And the farmer went back to the field, and the wife in a smiling and absent way. Sang snatches of tender little songs. And the pain in her head was gone, and she kissed her cheek—"twas this, that you were to do, and I'll wash the milk for many a day. And the children to fix away. To school, and the milk to be skimed and And all to be done that day.

To school, and the milk to be skimed and And all to be done that day.

"Wasn't white as the foam of the sea; Her head was as light and her butter was sweet And golden as could be.

"Just think, the children call in, in a breath, 'Tis so sweet for those who love, 'Tis no strange that madd will we!"

PORTLAND DISPATCHES.

PORTLAND, Jan. 19.—The Republican State Central Committee met to-day, at 10 a. m. Eighteen counties were represented. The meeting of the State Convention is fixed for April 7th, 1870, at Portland. The ratio of representation is to be one delegate for every sixty votes and one for each fraction of thirty and over.

Captain John H. Conch died at his residence last night, after an illness of only a few days.

Hiram Smith, one of the Pioneers of Oregon, died on Monday, the 16th, in San Francisco.

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

CONGRESSIONAL.—Chicago, Jan. 14. The storm last night prevented the receipt of the most of the proceedings of Congress.

In the House, Bingham's substitute for the bill reported by the Reconstruction Committee, was adopted by a vote of 98 to 65.

The bill passed as amended by a vote of 142 to 49, after the House then adjourned until Monday.

In the Senate, Edmund's amendment was modified so as to require all members of the Legislature, and officers of the State of Virginia, before entering upon the duties of office, to take the oath prescribed in the amendment. Edmund's amendment was adopted by a vote of 45 to 13. Wilson moved to impose certain fundamental conditions, similar to those embodied in the bill reported by the Reconstruction Committee. The motion was rejected by a vote of 23 to 35. Several other amendments imposing conditions to the admission were proposed and rejected, when the Senate took a recess.

At the evening session a message from the House reported a joint resolution admitting Virginia, as passed by that body. Trumbull renounced the resolution, and the House full he would propose to substitute it for the bill now before the Senate. He proposed an amendment, which was discussed by Lincoln, Morton, Colver and Schurz. It was finally agreed to take a vote on the bill on Monday at 4 o'clock. The Senate then adjourned till Monday.

INCOME RETURNS.

By request of Thomas Frazer, Esq., Assistant Internal Revenue for the District of Oregon, we publish the following section of the Internal Revenue Law for the benefit of those who are fortunate enough to be taxable.

SECTION 118.—And he further enacted, That it shall be the duty of all persons of lawful age to make and render a list or return, to be adopted by a vote of 45 to 13. Wilson moved to impose certain fundamental conditions, similar to those embodied in the bill reported by the Reconstruction Committee. The motion was rejected by a vote of 23 to 35. Several other amendments imposing conditions to the admission were proposed and rejected, when the Senate took a recess.

At the evening session a message from the House reported a joint resolution admitting Virginia, as passed by that body. Trumbull renounced the resolution, and the House full he would propose to substitute it for the bill now before the Senate. He proposed an amendment, which was discussed by Lincoln, Morton, Colver and Schurz. It was finally agreed to take a vote on the bill on Monday at 4 o'clock. The Senate then adjourned till Monday.

THE RAILROAD WAR ENDED.

New York, Jan. 14.—Arrangements have finally been concluded for settling the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad, by direction of Courts in three States. New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, and the control of the Erie Company, this giving the latter an unbroken line between Cincinnati, Cleveland and New York. The Erie now has a rent of thirty per cent. of the gross earnings.

ANOTHER WAR.—New York, Jan. 15.—Stockholders of the Newark and Patterson Railroad Company inaugurated a movement for the appointment of a committee to review their property; the committee to be empowered to commence suits against the directors of the Erie Railroad Company for not complying with the terms of the contract made when they leased the road. It is thought the Erie Company forfeited their lease by not constructing the road as originally contemplated in New York. The Erie directors, they alleged, have failed to pay for work done by other contractors, and have refused to pay for work done by the Erie Company. They also refused to pay for the interest on the bonds issued for the construction of the road.

CASUALTIES AND CRIMES.

San Francisco, Jan. 17. A servant employed at 714 Clementina street, while at work by the stove her skirt took fire, the flames being kindled by the gas stove. She ran to the street, screaming for help. Her cries attracted the attention of Mr. Snow, who procured a bucket of water and extinguished the flames, but not before her body was burned almost to a crisp.

Mr. Charles Coleman, of Anaheim, who arrived on the Moses Taylor, yesterday, reports that his state team was destroyed by Friday evening and his horses lost, and $7,000 in gold taken out. No clue to the robbers has been found.

Isaac Gregory has been arrested for attempting to garrote and rob Patrick Graham, who held on to him until a policeman arrived.

FRIENDS AND FELLOW CITIZENS: In this great hour of triumph, my heart is as true as the stars in heaven, and I feel that I should like to see you all here, and to see you all here, and to see you all here.

Mr. Stanton's Speech.

When Richmond surrendered, and the hearts of the people were in a mass meeting in Washington was addressed by many prominent men, and among others by Mr. Stanton, who in his speech said that he would give five of the great heart that lay under his breast, he said that he would give five of the great heart that lay under his breast, he said that he would give five of the great heart that lay under his breast.

HYMEN IN A SHOWER BATH.

Cora Mowat, who is writing foreign letters for the Chronicle, tells a story of a bridal pair making a tour in Switzerland, recently came to a hotel in the house, and that a couple of beds might be made in the two tubs which were intended for the bride and groom. The couple were pleased to secure even this slender, after a fatiguing journey, and retired to rest. An hour or two later the stillness of the night was suddenly broken by shrieks of distress issuing from the bath room. The lady, who was summoned a servant, had pulled what she supposed to be a bell-rope suspended over her head in the bath, when suddenly she was inundated by a shower of cold water. The gentleman, roused by her cries, and not quite comprehending the position, pulled a supposed bell-rope which he felt dangling above his bath bed, to bring him a domestic, but brought instead a shower of hot water over his head. It was quite dark and neither bride nor bridegroom could grope their way to the door. By the time success came, they were up to their necks in water.

THINNING FRUIT.

Those who prefer large, smooth, excellent specimens of fruit to small, knotty, worm-eaten and stung specimens, should resort to the thinning on all trees that have anything of a crop. In good bearing seasons there are but few trees that do not bear too many specimens for their full development in size and flavor. Some of the fruit will be smooth, fair and uninjured, while some will be distorted, scabby, and almost worthless. By removing these knotty specimens, which can never be good for much, the smooth ones will have a chance to develop themselves, and while the increased size will prevent the number of bushels from being diminished, the improved appearance, as well as quality, will many times compensate for all the labor. Such fruit will be more saleable in market and much more satisfactory for home use. If this thinning is properly attended to, there will be no need of providing support for the tree to prevent its branches from breaking down. Any branch or tree which requires propping, has more fruit than it ought to carry, either for the good of the tree or the good of the fruit. If we would grow good, healthy, uniformly-growing fruit trees, not destroyed by premature age, we must not let them overbear.—Rural American.

An English traveler in California, who stopped at Clarke's Rancho, near the Yosemite, thus describes the proprietor: "To look at him, with his rough dress, rugged beard, and trowsers, Western fashion, sticking into his boots, he looked carelessly put him down for a coarse, tobacco-chewing, swearing son of the forest. But take a flower or a fir-cone in your hand and ask him what it is. He will give you at once its Latin name in soft measured speech, and with courteous rejoinder. He had a few books in the window of the hacienda. I laid my hand at once on Goethe's 'Faust' and Robertson's 'Sermons.' Again and again, he met with combinations or contrasts of character in the same individual which I think could hardly be found in the old world."

NOTHING IN THE PAPER.—The Richmond Enquirer has a spy chapter on the subject of news, papers elicited by the stereotyped remark of indifferent readers, after scanning the minutiae of four or five daily sheets, that there is nothing in the paper. It says: "And men are always grumbling about their papers, and insinuating how much better they could do it. They talk as flippantly about fine articles on every imaginable subject as if they could effect a change. Let some of those overrunning philosophers try it for one hundred and fifty days in succession.

And they think it is nothing to sit for a newspaper—you have only to run the scissors through half a dozen exchanges, and you have got matter enough. Now this is the most important and most difficult department to fill on a newspaper. Very few men have the slightest idea how to do the work. It requires a thorough newspaper man, who knows his public appetite well, who knows what is going on in the world—and who knows how to write it and pick a column into a dozen lines.

Men who skim a newspaper and toss it aside, little reflect how much time and brains have been expended in serving up that meal. Busy hands and hands have been toiling all day to gather and prepare those viands, and some vast building has been let from cellar to garret all night to get the paper ready for the newsboy by the crack of dawn.

'Nothing in the paper!' 'Nothing in your head!' That's what the matter.

WHAT A MAN KNOWS.—What a man can write out clearly, correctly, and briefly, without book or reference of any kind, that he undoubtedly knows, whatever else he may be ignorant of. For knowledge that falls short of that—knowledge that is vague, hazy, indistinct, uncertain—I for one profess no respect at all. And I believe that there never was a time or country where the influence of careful training were in that respect more needed. Men live in haste, write in haste—I was going to say think in haste, only that perhaps the word 'thinking' is not applicable to that large number who, for the most part, purchase their daily allowance of thought ready-made.—Lord Stanley.

Senator Brownlow is said to have replied to an inquiry about his health: "Yes, I am well, and I shall give a good report. I give you a quarter of the crop for rent. Then, you see, I own another horse and cart, and I hire a man to work draying in town, and that supports me while making the crop. So I don't owe any body."

COMMERCIAL NEWS.

This month and the next are by common consent expected to be the dull season. Accordingly, prices are falling on all sides of the market at present. Freighting of all kinds except by boat is at a stand, and in consequence, but little of any class of merchandise is changing hands. Prices are about the same for produce. The prospect for a better wheat market does not appear to improve, and the only safe calculation for farming operations must necessarily be based on a scale of low prices. In the domestic market, the only change mark is in Coffee, which is firm at 23c., a rise of from 1 to 1½. The fall in Sugars below par, while it is felt here, has not as yet affected our prices. However, a corresponding reduction may be looked for as soon as old stocks are disposed of.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS.

The following anecdote will illustrate the ability of freemen to produce cotton: Owing to the immense cost and utterly inadequate means of transportation by the cars, four miles to town, every vehicle with wheels, and every thing that looks like a horse or mule is brought into requisition. In a conversation four or five days ago, the decidedly hard looking turn out of an elderly negro, whose coat, harness, and wagon were about equally covered with patches. Finding the horse better than we expected, and a good deal of common sense under the negro's old coat, I entered into conversation with him.

DR. HAWLEY'S
Ague Remedy,
A Purely Vegetable Preparation,
And adapted to the climate of the Pacific coast.
FOR FEVER AND AGUE, DUMB AGUE,
CHILLS AND FEVER,
INTERMITTENT FEVER, &c.
It stands without a rival. Hundreds who have exhausted the admirable nostrum that has daily proved of use as a cure, and in desperate cases, have cast their praise upon Dr. HAWLEY'S, but in blessing to mankind, we speak for thousands of others, who have found relief in its use.
It is a pleasant tonic, giving new energy to the stomach, bowels and Liver, giving a healthy blood to the pale and languid countenance, and strength to the enfeebled body. It is ROGERS' REMEDY, but in blessing to mankind, we speak for thousands of others, who have found relief in its use.
