People Will Talk.

We may go through the world, but 'twill be very slow,
If we listen to all that is said as we go;
We'll be worried and fretted, add kept in a stew,
For meddlesome tongues must have something to do—
For people will talk you know.

If quiet and modest, you'll have it presumed
That your humble appearance is only assumed;
You're a ... in disguise, or else you're a fool,
But don't get excited—keep perfectly cool—
For people will talk, you know.

If generous and noble, they vent you their spleen!
You'll hear some loud hints that you're selfish and mean;
If upright and honest, and fair asthe day,
They'll call you a rogue in a sly, sneaking way—
For people will talk, you know.

And then if you show the least boldness of heart,
Or a slight inclination to take your own part,
They'll call you an upstart, conceited and vain;
But keep straight ahead and don't stop to explain,
For people will talk, you know.

If threadbare your coat or old-fashioned your hat,
Some one, of course, will take notice of that,
And hint rather strongly that you can't pay your way,
But don't get excited, whatever they say—
For people will talk, you know.

If you dress in the fashion, don't think to escape,
For they criticise them in a different shape;
You're ahead of your means, or your tailor's unpaid,
But mind your own business—there's naught to be made—
For people will talk, you know.

They'll not talk before you, but then at your back
Of venom and slander there's never a lack;
How kind and polite in all that they say,
But bitter as gaul when you're out of the way!
For people will talk, you know.

The best way to do is to do as you please,
For your mind, if you have one, will then be at ease;
Of course you will meet with all sorts of abuse,
But don't think to stop them; it ain't any use—
For people will talk, you know.

From the Pacific Christian Advocate.

Little Hatty:

RESPECTFULLY TO MRS. C. S. WOODWORTH.

I.

A flower amid the flowers she lay—
O! she was such precious clay,
All, on our Thanksgiving day!

II.

A casket in the earth she lay,—
Our little Hattie given away,
Thus, on our Thanksgiving day!

III.

Sweet the mystery of thy stay—
Cold thy bed in mother clay,
On this, our Thanksgiving day!

IV.

Our weanling feels, "Thy kingdom come."
Questions not her ushering home,—
Jesus,—wait we Gilead's balm!

V.

She visits with the Saints to-day,—
The Shepherd will prolong her stay!
Where every sorrow's chased away!

VI.

With the angels join thy wing,
Then in dreams, we'll hear thee sing,
Till ourselves to heaven they bring!

VII.

We'll not feel thee, far away,
We'll be glad thou mightest stay,—
On the lost Thanksgiving day!

ANNIE JORDAN S.

Salem, Nov. 24th, 1870.

Sooner or Later.

BY HARRIET PRESCOTT SPOFFORD.

Sooner or later the storms shall beat
Over my slumbers from head to feet;
Sooner or later the winds shall rave
In the long grass above my grave.

I shall not heed them where I lie,
Nothing their sound shall signify;
Nothing the headstone's fret of rain;
Nothing to me the dark day's pain.

Sooner or later the sun shall shine
With tender warmth on that mound of mine;
Sooner or later in Summer air,
Clover and violet blossom there.

I shall not feel in that deep rest
he sheeting light fall over my breast,
Nor even note in those hidden hours
The wind-blown breath of the tossing flowers.

Sooner or later the stainless snows
Shall add their hush to my mute repose;
Sooner or later shall slant and shift
And heap my bed with their drizzling drift.

Chill though that frozen pall shall seem,
Its touch no colder can make the dream
That wrecks not the sweet and sacred dread,
Shrouding the city of the dead.

Sooner or later the bee shall come
And fill the noon with its golden hum;
Sooner or later on half-poised wing
The blue bird's warble about me ring.

Ring and chirrup and whistle with glee,
Nothing his music means to me,
None of these beatiful things shall know
How soundly their lover sleeps below.

Sooner or later far out in the night
The stars shall over me wing their flight;
Sooner or later my darkling dews
Catch the white sparks in their silent ooze.

Never a ray shall part the gloom.
That wraps me round in the kindly tomb;
Peace shall be perfect for lip and brow—
Sooner or later—oh, why not now?

Old Master Brown brought his ferule down,
His face was angry and red;
"Anthony Blair, go sit you there,
Among the girls," he said.

So Anthony Blair, with a mertified air,
And his head hung down on his breast,
Went right away and sat all day,
By the girl who loved him best.

ROMANTIC STORY OF A CANADIAN BELLE.—Many years ago a young man made his appearance in Stratford, and spent a few weeks at a tavern which then existed to afford shelter to stage-coach travelers. Whence he came and what his business was none could guess. Directly opposite the tavern stood the small cottage and forge of a blacksmith named Folsom. He had a daughter who was the beauty of the village, and it was her fortune to captivate the heart of the young stranger. He told her his love, said he was from Scotland, that he was traveling incog., but in confidence gave her his real name, claiming he was an heir to a large fortune. She returned his love and they were married. A few weeks thereafter the stranger told his wife that he must visit New Orleans—he did so, and the gossip of the town made the wife unhappy by disagreeable hints and jeers. In a few months the husband returned, but before a week had elapsed he received a large budget of letters, and told his wife he must at once go to England, and must go alone. He took his departure and the gossips had another glorious opportunity to make a confiding woman wretched. To all but herself it was a clear case of desertion—the wife became a mother, and for two years lived on in silence and hope. At the end of that time a letter was received by the Stratford beauty from her husband, directing her to get at once to New York with her child, taking nothing with her but the clothes she wore, and embark in a ship for home in England. On her arrival in New York she found a ship splendidly furnished, with every convenience and luxury for her comfort and two servants ready to obey every wish she might express. The ship duly arrived in England, and the Stratford girl became the mistress of a superb mansion, and as the wife of a baronet was saluted by the aristocracy as Lady Samuel Sterling. On the death of the husband the Stratford boy succeeded to the title and wealth of his father, and in the last edition of "Peerage and Baronetage" he is spoken of as the issue of "Miss Folsom, of Stratford, North America."—Vidette.

A correspondent wrote to a newspaper in behalf of "an aged, indigent mother," and was enraged in the morning that his appeal was made to read in behalf of a "one-eyed indignant mother."

Iron and its Manufacture.

A very able address was delivered at the American Institute, by A. W. Humphreys, upon "Iron and its Manufacture in America."

Mr. Humphreys sketched at length the early methods employed in working iron, until he came down to the establishmen of the first known iron works on this continent, at Jamestown, Virginia, 1615. The first well established forges were at Braintree, Mass. From 1836 dates the employment of anthracite coal for smelting iron in the United States. The production of this description of iron reached, in 1869, 971,000 tons.

In 1840 not a rail was rolled in the United States. Steel was only made at great cost by the slow old-time process. David Himrod is said to have been the first to use bituminous coal in 1345; he was driven to the necessity of the experiment by a strike among his workmen. He thereby opened the door to the manufacture of 550,000 tons of metal in 1869. Since 1840 the blast has been made hotter, even to 1,000 or more degrees. This is done by two methods; one by a special combustion chamber of iron pipes; another is by a heated brick-work chamber. By the use of cellular stoves, etc., the blast can be raised to 1,400 degrees. An unexplained advantage of the heated blast is thus shown: If the air supplied to a common labaratory blow pipe be heated to say 500 degrees, many substances previously infusible to the ordinary blow-pipe flame are readily melted. The use of the hot blast has enabled many ores to be profitably smelted that were previously worthless. The inferiority of iron sometimes made by the hot blast has been charged upon the heated air, but that has not been verified as a fact. The complete closing of the tops of the furnaces is a great improvement with the most of ores; where a flame is visible at the tunnel head, we may be sure that there is some waste. The combinations of improvements (reviewed at length) since 1840 results in the production of 700 tons per week, at one furnace, in 1860—more than double the quantity that all Great Britain made in 1740, by the use of less than a ton of coal to a ton of iron. The total quantity of pig iron made in the United States in 1869 had a greater value in this crude state, at average prices, than all the gold and silver produced in the same period, by some $5,000,000. The rapid growth of Troy, Pittsburg, Cleveland, St. Louis and their suburbs indicates the profitable result of the development of our vast mineral resources. The first rail was rolled in 1843. Last year 600,000 tons were made—more than half in Pennsylvania, the rest in New York, Troy, Rome, Syracuse, Elmira and Buffalo. Most of these were of superior quality to those imported. The supply of ore is inexhaustible. With patient industry and energy we may finally achieve the success, which as thorough Americans, no less than enthusiastic iron masters, we are working for, and be able to profitably supply not only the heaviest demands of the home market, but also the reverse of our present position, and export instead of import this really precious metal.

About Marrying too Young.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton says: "Girls do not reach their maturity until 25, yet at 16 they are wives and mothers all over the land, robbed of all the rights and freedom of childhood in marriage, crippled in growth and development; the vital forces needed to build up a vigorous and healthy womanhood are sapped and perverted from their legitimate channels in the premature office of reproduction. When the body is overtaxed, the mind looses its tone and settles down in a gloomy discontent that enfeebles the whole mortal being. The feeble mother brings forth feeble sons, the sad mother those with morbid appetites. The constant demand of stimulants among men is the result of the morbid conditions of their mothers. Healthy, happy, vigorous womanhood would do more for the cause of temperance than any prohibitory or license laws possibly can. When woman, by the observance of the laws of life and health, is restored to her normal condition, maternity will not be a period of weakness, but of added power. With that high preparation of body and soul to which I have referred, men and women of sound mind and body, drawn together by true sentiments of affection, might calculate with certainty on a happy home, with healthy children gathering round their fireside. To this end let girlhood be scarcely devoted to education, to mental, moral and physical growth, to as high preparation for personal independence and ambition as boyhood is to-day; remembering that girls, as well as boys, were created primarily for their own enjoyment, and secondarily to serve each other. Reproduction in the normal condition of woman will not be a period of suffering, but of joy and thanksgiving. One of the saddest features of woman's present condition is her idea that she is cursed of heaven in her motherhood; that it is one of nature's necessities that she should suffer through the period of maternity. It is because we ignorantly violate so many laws of our being that it is so to-day."

AN INGENIOUS DODGE.—Well, three men suddenly rushed forward, determined, as they swore with a dreadful imprecation, to have the money or the lives of the travelers.

"Spare our lives, take all I have," said one, "here it is," offering a handful of silver; "but my companion has a larger sum hid away in his left boot."

"Traitor!" exclaimed the other, while the highwaymen, with blackened faces end cocked pistols proceeded to take off his boots.

"If you have spoken false," shouted one of the marauders, "I'll give you an ounce of lead for your pains."

"He's spoken the truth." responded the searcher. "Here's a prize! a hundred pounds in Bank of England notes."

Securing the prize, the two travelers were blindfolded, and bound to the finger-post, while the horse was taken out of the gig, and turned loose upon the common. It was an hour before they were released from their position, during which period the ill-used victim vented his imprecations pretty loudly.

Upon reaching the next town, where a deposition was made before the magistrate, the worthy Justice commented, in rather a severe strain, upon the base conduct of the wretch who could act so treacherous a part.

"Hear my palliation," meekly said the accused

"Oh, stand down," responded the man in authority.

"One word," continued the other, "my object in the declaration I made was not to screen myself at another's expense. I knew that my companion had a hundred pounds hid in his boot. I had twelve hundred pounds in my waist-band. Had I been searched, that sum must have been discovered. I thought better to sacrifice the smaller to the larger sum. I now return the money I was the means of his being deprived of, and, in future, I would recommend him to be more prudent in keeping his own counsel."

A FAIR HIT.—Two wags, passing out of town on the Galveston road, says the Kansas Tribune, were struck with the beauties of Lawrence.

"Whose place is that?" said one of them.

"That is the lordly residence of Major Geo. A. Reynolds. Cost $30,000."

"What is his business?"

"Indian Agent."

"What is his salary, and how long has he held his office?"

"Two years, at $1,500 a year."

"Lord, what did the honest fellow do with the rest of his salary?"

"Started his brother and two other honest men in the newspaper business to denounce corruption."

Prince Salm-Salm was killed at the storming of St. Privat. He was leading his battalion against the walls of the fort when his right upper arm was shattered by a bullet. He raised the sword which had fallen from his hand with his left, and sped on. Another bullet hit the same arm; he cared not for it, till a bullet hit him fatally in the body. "Have we triumphed?" he asked a clergyman standing by his bedside. "Yes." "Then all is well! Comfort my wife!" Those were the last words that fell from his lips.

The Buffalo Express thinks that the prospective struggle between the Schurz-Brown party in Missouri and the Administration of President Grant is not in a very promising shape. "The fact is," says the Express, "that Senator Schurz and party are sagacious enough to see that there can be practically no issue between them and the Administration, unless they make complete surrender to the Democracy. The President would never have taken issue with them if they had carried on their efforts for enfranchisement in Missouri inside the party. The Pres't is himself committed to such a policy, and his difference with the Missouri bolters was that they sought to disrupt the party in order to carry their policy, instead of seeking to control the policy of the party by remaining with it. Now that they have carried their point, they find that, so far as their political strength is concerned, they have thrown away the meat and kept the bone. The Administration cheerfully acquiesces in enfranchisement in Missouri, though it may not applaud the the means whereby it was secured. The disaffected have no strength of themselves and nothing to stand on outside of the Republican party, and must naturally gravitate back to a position of fealty in order to sustain themselves and be supported in holding on to what little the recent campaign in Missouri has left them in possession of."

FINE HORSES FOR OREGON.—The Chico (Cal.) Enterprise, of Dec. 30th, says:

Our attention was called to some fine stock which had arrived on Wednesday evening at Weed & Waste's livery stable, consisting of four fine Norman horses and mares brought from Marysville, Ohio, by W. C. Myer, of Ashland Mills, Oregon. His fine Norman stallion, imported from Havre, France, last August, was selected as his choice from among seventeen imported Norman stallions he had looked at in Illinois and Ohio, and he is considered by the most competent judges as among the very finest specimens of this celebrated stock of horses, also, a full-blooded Norman mare from Sanclair, which has for three successive years taken the first premium at the Ohio State Fair, and her colts have taken premiums at all the fairs they have been exhibited. It is said by well informed horse men, that there are but three full blood mares of this stock in the United States, and this is one of them. He also purchased two three-quarters Norman mares—one from J. R. Boerger, and one from J. Leonard—which are pronounced the best specimens of this stock in the country. These are with foal, by Imported Clydesdales, and the first, by Norman Prince Albert. We have known Mr. Myer for many years, and he has made fine stock a specialty. The present enterprise will cost him in the neighborhood of $8,000.

A REGIMENT OF AMAZONS.—The London Daily News expresses the belief that the female citizens of Paris are apparently weary of the monotony of a besieged existence. They are subsisting in a body called "Amazons of the Seine." Their costume will consist of a pair of black trousers, with an orange colored stripe, a blouse of woolen stuff, with a cap, and a black sept with an orange band, together with a cartridge box fastening to a shoulder belt. Only women of unexceptionable character will be permitted to join this accompanied by husband, father or brother, but to bring with them a certificate from the Commissary of Police, attesting their character, position, etc. The officers will all be ladies, mostly wives and daughters of officers of the army, or at any rate possessing some knowledge of military affairs. A special patriotic and most spirit stirring song has been composed for the corps entitled "The Marseillaise of the Amazons of the Seine." In addition to tending the wounded they are expected to defend the ramparts and barricades jointly with the stationary National Guard, and to "render the combatants, in whose ranks they would be distributed by companies, all such domestic and fraternal services as are compatible with mortal order and military discipline."

THE TERMS OF COMPROMISE.—The Herald of Dec. 15th, says: The Oriflamme, which was to have sailed last Thursday, was delayed until Monday. The purpose of this was to enable Mr. Holladay to perfect negotiations which were then pending with the leading capitalists of the old West Side Company. This was effected. The arrangement made between the high contracting parties, as we learn it, is to the effect that Holladay pays all the outstanding debts of the old company, and assumes all its assets, together with all those valuable blocks of land in the northern part of the city, now in the name of S. G. Reed. Thus it would seem that Mr. Holladay has made a very good bargain, as those blocks alone in the northern part of the city are to-day worth more than the outstanding liabilities. Besides this, he gets the road bed, already secured, and the grading already done for about twenty miles.

A queer family of predatory people are encamped at Cook's Grove, in Huntington, Mass., and are objects of much curiosity. The men have a singular breed of dogs which they sell, and the women sit silently before tents during the moonlight evenings and only speak to tell your fortune if you desire it. They are unlike regular English gipsies—their faces are fairer; but the same craft is in their dealings, and villagers look to their bolts and bars well nightly. They claim to have come from Spain, and to be of "pure blood," but nothing seems to show it unless it be their dogs.

NEW LIGHT HOUSE.—A new light house has been erected on Cape Blanco, on the Oregon Coast. The tower is fifty feet high—the dome of the lantern being red, the other parts white—and is about 200 yards from the western extremity of the Cape. The light is elevated 256 feet above the main level of the sea, illuminating an area of 240 degrees of the horizon, and can be seen in an ordinary atmosphere, from the deck of a ship fifteen feet above the water, at a distance of nealrly twenty-four nautical miles.—Herald.

A Texas octogenarian says, from first to last he has received from the accidental discharges of guns and pistols into his body one hundred and seventy-five shots; has both legs, collarbone and seven ribs broken, and his skull cracked; is the father of twenty children; raised this year, with his own hands, eleven hundred head of cabbage, four thousand large beets, besides other "crops," and can now run a pretty good quarter-race.

An exchange gives the information that in the United States just now there are twenty-seven young women studying theology, with a view to becoming preachers; nineteen are studyidg law, and sixty-seven are studying medicine. These are hardly accurate. Over half the number of women given are studying medicine at the three medical colleges open to them in New York besides others at the colleges in Philadelphia, Cleveland, Chicago and Cincinnati.

A foot-race took place November 25th between Lieutenants Tucker and Stright, of her Majesty's ship Scylla, for $200 a side, from Victoria to Esquimalt, a distance of about three miles. Stright allowed Tucker a start of one quarter of a mile. The race was won by Stright after a close contest. Time, 20 min. 54 sec.

It is estimated that at one fourth ounce to each letter, the weight of just 50,000 letters in that balloon from Metz, captured at Neufchatel, would be 781¼ pounds avoirdupois, wherefore the story is discredited.

The first shot of war was fired by, and the first death was died by, a Frenchman.

Commissioner Wells gives the amount paid for spirituous liquors at retail at $483,481,865 yearly.

The German seat of government in Alsatia was moved to Strasbourg on the 6th of October.

A grand European Journalist Congress will be held in the city of Frankfort, in Germany, next year.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu.

TO PHYSICIANS
NEW YORK, August 15th, 1868.
Allow me to call a attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.
MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit makes it more palatable than any now in use.
Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its) active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflamation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.
Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,
With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemists and Druggists of 16 Years' Experience
[From the Largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]
NOVEMBER 4, 1854.
"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conduction the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."
WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,
Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.
The constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to Consumption or Insanity ensues.
HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.
HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU and IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.
Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.
Those persons suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.
The reader must be aware that however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.
All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.
Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per or six bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.
Send to H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.
NONE GENUINE UNLESS DONE UP IN ... with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed.

SHOO FLY!
I think I hear the bay horse cough,—
If he ain't cured 'twill take him off,
I'll buy some "H. H. H." this day
And give it to my poor old Bay.
I feel, I feel, I feel,
That's what the old horse said,
Distemper working its way through his head.
CHORUS—Shoo! Fly, don't bother me,
Shoo! Fly, don't bother me,
Shoo! Fly, don't bother me,
I'm using "H. H. H." you see.
I feel, I feel, I feel,
I feel like the sun at noon,
The "H. H. H." you gave to me
Has cured me up so soon.
I feel, I feel, I feel,
I feel like a gay old sport,
No sprains or spavins bother me,
No wind galls I report.
CHORUS—Shoo! Fly, &c.
I think I hear the Jockey say,
My fastest Horse got hurt one day—
He sprained his limbs and spavins came
And made my trotter very lame.
I feel, I feel, I feel—
That's what the trotter said—
I must have "H. H. H." this day,
For I am almost dead.
CHORUS—Shoo! Fly, &c.
It cures all strains and bruises sore,
No weakened joints we need deplore;
To colics and cramps it shuts the door—
This "H. H. H.," of Williams & Moore.
I feel, I feel, I feel—
That's what the Jockey said—
A sick horse needs some "H. H. H."
And good straw for his bed.
CHORUS—Shoo! Fly, &c.
FOR COLIC OR CRAMPS it is instantaneous. To two table spoonfuls of the H. H. H. add one pint of water and drench the horse, and repeat in urgent cases. For man, woman or child, given in doses from 5 to 20 drops diluted in water, will relieve colic almost instantaneously. "D. D. T."—(Druggists, do try it.)

EUREKA
ALUMINUM GOLD WATCH CO.
HAVE APPOINTED
L. V. DeForest & Co.,
JEWELERS,
40 and 42 Broadway, N.Y.,
SOLE AGENTS for the U. S.
And have authorized them to sell their great EUREKA ALUMINUM GOLD WATCHES for THREE DOLLARS, and to warrant each and every one to keep correct time for one year. This Watch we guarantee to be the best and cheapest time-keeper that is now in use in any part of the globe. The works are in double cases, Ladies' and Gent's size, and are beautifully chased. The cases are made of the metal now so widely known in Europe as Aluminum Gold. It has the exact color of Gold, which it always retains; it will stand the test of the strongest acids; no one can tell it from Gold only by weight, the Aluminum Gold being 1-10 lighter. The works are made by machinery, same as the well known American Watch. The Aluminum is a cheap metal, hence we can afford to sell the Watch for $3 and make a small profit. We pack the Watch safely in a small box and send it by mail to any part of the U. S. on receipt of $3 50; fifty cents for packing and postage. Address all orders to
