DEAD IN THE SIERRAS. BY JOAQUIN MILLER.

His footprints have failed us, Where berries are red, And madronos are rankest. The hunter is dead ! The gricely may pass By his half-open door;

fay pass and repass On his path as of yore;

The panther may crottch In the leaves on his limb; May scream an? may scream It is nothing to him. Prone, bearded, and breasted dumns of stone; And tail as a pine-As a pine overthrown !

His camp-fire gone, What else can be done, Than let him sloep ou 'Till the light of the sun?

Ave, tombless! What of it? Marble is dust, Cold and repellant; And iron is rust, KNUCKLEDOWN. In boyhood's days, when boyhood's ways Were law without appeal.

Twas seldom might o'ercame the right— Wrong had no legal seal.
Each little game had its own name : There was no king or clown,
The loy who would the marble shoot, Was made to knuckle down.

The growing stain of greed and gain Awakes the patriot's fears, The right in law is made the flaw, In our maturer years. The biased judge is but a drudge, The rich man's ready clown, Who sees no virtue in the law To make him knuckle down.

Is Freedom's maid then but a jade, And Justice but a shrew, That stands aside with hasty stride To step o'er what is true ? Must poor men's toil be common spoil, And wealth be high renown, And only those who have it not Be made to knuckle down?

A servile Press will blame or bless s master's foe or friend Will crave or cry, will shout or sigh, To gain the wished for end. The world of wealth it serves in stealth, Nor heads the peor man's frown, Whose humble prayer goes up to God To make it knuckle down,

What has been done, another sun Will see our patriots do ; They'll never rest ill every pest Succumbs to what is true— Till every right in burnished light Shall shine from Victory's crown, And Justice spilleon burnet tail and Justice smile on honest toll, When all must knuckle down. W. W. MCM.

I present my name to the Republicans of Marion county as a Candidate for nomination as County Clerk.

I have secured the success of the STATESMAN heretofore by performing very arduous personal service myself, which I am no longer able to render and my condition of health causes an increase in expense which the business cannot afford. Few persons are aware of the great labor and expense attending the publication of a daily and weekly newspaper, labors which extend through the day and far into the night.

If the course of the STATESMAN under my control is approved, as a generous patronage cheerfully extended leads me to hope, the Republican party may perhaps feel some interest in seeing it placed on an independent footing.

The duties of the Clerkship, in which I have experience, will be easier than my present duties, and I could employ a competent deputy and still write leading articles for my paper, without looking to it for support, and the income of the office, if placed at my disposal, shall be used to make the STATESMAN more valuable to the peo-

My only ambition is to build up here a journal which the people shall literally feel to be their own and identified with their interests. I have no ambition for office, save as a present aid to that end and that I may be more able to do the Republican party service in the future.

Whatever your decision may be I shall continue to fight for the supremacy of Republican principles while I S. A. CLARKE.

The Primaries.

Next Saturday is set for the Republican precinct meetings to be held throughout Marion county, and as this is the last issue before the Weekly goes to press, we would improve the opportunity to urge upon the Republicans throughout the county the necessity of attending the primaries in full force so as to have the feeling of the people fully represented at the commencement of the campaign. We want a proper and satisfactory organization, an earnest contest, and then the victory will be sure. Few appreciate how important it is that the precinct meetings should be numerously attended, and we hope our suggestions will be well received and generally acted upou.
