

STATE AND TERRITORY.

The Case of the Scissors, Pen, and Paste-pot, versus Northwestern Exchanges.

COAL MINERS' AGREEMENT.—The coal miners at Newcastle, W. T., who have been receiving $3 per day for working in the breasts have agreed to an arrangement to mine coal for $8.50 per yard of breast fifty feet wide.

PANTHER SLAIN.—McMinnville paper: A six-foot panther was brought in by Joe Hendricks yesterday. The panther also hunted by Am Shadden, George Bangasser and Fred Kelle. When Hendricks shot the beast it made for Am, but the dogs got away with it.

A SERIOUS LOSS.—Last spring Mr. Nimrod Payne, of Albany, sent thirty-two head of horses to the Burnt river country near Huntington, in Eastern Oregon. A few days ago the entire band died from eating poisoned laurel. Mr. Payne's loss is $8500.

PLANTING HOPS.—Tacoma Telegraph: Preparation is being made to plant several fields of hops next spring in the five-mile lake basin. The soil in that section is deep and amazingly productive. Fruits and vegetables grow to enormous proportions there, and hops will doubtless yield heavily.

SALEM'S BRIDGE.—The Salem bridge is finished and is a monument to the enterprise of that city and to the courage and activity of the Salem Statesman. The question of building the bridge was first discussed by the Statesman less than a year ago, and now a structure that costs $50,000 is finished. Let Salem rejoice.—Benton Leader.

WINTER SUPPLIES OF MEAT.—Arlington Enterprise: A band of Indian hunters, accompanied by their squaws, passed through here this week on their way home from the Blue mountains, where they have been for the last three months laying in their winter supply of venison. They succeeded in killing about 100 fine deer, the meat of which they had cured nicely packed on their animals.

EFFORTS FOR PARDON.—East Oregonian: An effort is being made by the friends of Samuel Doane to have him pardoned out of the penitentiary. It will be remembered that Doane killed his brother-in-law, Albert White, in Pendleton, three years ago, by shooting him in the head with a pistol. Doane was tried and sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

MURDER IN CLACKAMAS COUNTY.—News has been received in Portland of the killing of a farmer named Candler Friday morning at Zion, sixteen miles east of Oregon City, by a man named Ranstrickler. All that could be learned of the affair was that some land was being surveyed, when a dispute arose and Ranstrickler seized an ax and split Candler's head open, killing him almost instantly.

DEATH OF A PIONEER WOMAN.—Mrs. Hanna Lewis, who died near Monroe, Benton county, on the 19th ult., aged 89 years, came to Oregon in 1846. She was married to Wm. Lewis in March, 1815. He died in 1881. Her descendants numbered 13 children, 112 grandchildren, 124 great-grandchildren and 37 great-great-grandchildren. Many women think themselves growing old who are not beyond the age at which she had arrived when she came to Oregon forty years ago.

FOUR RECAPTURED.—Of the five prisoners who escaped from the Blackfoot jail recently four have been captured and three of them are now confined in the pen here. The fourth one was so reduced by exposure and starvation that when arraigned in court he was attacked by a hemorrhage of the lungs which nearly resulted fatally. The captured escapees were out in the mountains nearly three weeks before being captured and suffered greatly from cold and hunger.

ICE FLOW.—The Spokane Review: A party consisting of four men and a horse was unable to make the run up the river on her last trip. An iron plow is being put on the boat, and as the ice is not thick it is thought that she will have no difficulty in breaking her way through at present. Work is progressing on the big ice breaker that is being built for the purpose of keeping the passage open through the winter. The lake may be kept open, but it will be hard work to break a channel in the river, as the stream is narrowing and the water almost without a current. A right cold winter would make ice faster than the ice boat could break it down.

STOLE A CHECK AND FORGED A NAME.—Tacoma paper: P. H. Hayden, one of the workmen at the front, had stolen from him a few days ago a hundred-dollar time check, signed by Nelson Bennett and made payable to bearer. This check was brought to Puyallup and was discounted and paid by Stewart & Gibbs, who supposed, of course, the holder of the check was the owner. Although payable to bearer, the holder of the check was required to endorse it. He signed Hayden's name. He was last seen starting for Seattle. The following day Hayden advertised his check in the Ledger, and when apprised of the fact, Mr. Stewart telegraphed the chief of police in Seattle. Hayden arrived in the city last evening, procured a description of his man and started for Seattle after him.

CURIOSITIES OF LITERATURE.—A writer in the Oregonian says: "Among the curiosities of literature unearthed during the grand clearing up and setting in apple order of the State house, one of the most interesting is an old assessment roll of 1844, in which many names since illustrious in the history of the state appear. The Applegate in full force—Charles's taxes amounted to $5, Lindsey's to $12, and Jesse, who looks up by comparison as a capitalist, pays $30. As they had between them 6200 head of cattle at one time, it is plain taxes were not then what they are now, being in fact one-eighth of one per cent, and fifty cents additional in poll tax. Blanchet, F. N. Chamberlain, Adolphus, the Holman's, John and Joseph, Col. Wm. Martin, Capt. J. W. Nesmith, comprising the Oregon Milling company, paying the fearful sum of $794 on $5000 of property. Not a man on the roll pays $10 taxes and the great majority less than $2. The winding up joke is the delinquent return consisting of seventeen names, of which six are noted 'will pay,' eight 'will not pay' and three 'don't know.' By the way, the word 'Wallamet' occurs always spelled as I have written it, and is proof that in '44 some folks spelled it that way."

WEATHER REPORT.

NOVEMBER, 1886. During Nov., 1886, there were 8 days during which rain fell and an aggregate of 1.43 inches of water. There were 5 clear, 5 fair, and 11 cloudy days other than those on which rain fell. The mean temperature for the month was 41.06 deg. Highest daily mean temperature for the month 49 deg. on the 12. Lowest daily mean temperature 24 deg. on the 15th. Frost occurred on the 1, 2, 3, 7, 8, 9, 13, 14, 15, 16, 21, and 22. The prevailing winds for the month were from the south during 3 days, north 17 days, southwest 9 days, northwest 1 day. During Nov., 1885, there were 21 rainy days and 7.36 inches of water; 2 fair, and 7 cloudy days. Mean temperature for the month 45.83 deg.; highest daily temperature for the month 52 deg. on the 1st; lowest daily mean temperature for the month, 35 deg. on the 19th. THOS. PEABCE, Voluntary observer. EOLA, Dec. 2, 1886.

ASSESSMENT AND TAXATION.

A Petition that Waldo Hill Farmers Intend Presenting to the Next Legislative Assembly.

The farmers of Sublimity and Lincoln precincts have of late been discussing the question of assessment and taxation, and at their meeting held at Amunsville on last Saturday, they decided to present a petition about as follows to the general assembly that will convene at the capital in January. The matter of assessment and taxation is one of deep interest to every body, and it is to be hoped it may receive deep study from those who expect to legislate on it. The following is the text of the proposed petition: "In session assembled, we, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of Marion county, state of Oregon, would respectfully petition your honorable body for a change in the constitution of the state of Oregon, so as to give the legislature thereof full power to exempt all credits from assessments and taxation, and allow the state and each county therein to obtain revenue from the taxation of all real and tangible personal property, rail roads, insurance, express and kindred corporations, and banking and other corporate capital; allowing no deduction for indebtedness, or exemptions. Such a system would simplify the listing and assessment of property, and remove the vexed question connected with deduction of indebtedness. It would prevent the great fraud now practiced on the taxpayers of the state of Oregon. We would recommend your honorable body to amend the present law of assessment and not allow any deduction for indebtedness. We ask your honorable body for the enactment of a law providing for the election of precinct assessors. We also petition your honorable body for the repeal of all laws exempting firemen and members of state militia companies from paying poll and road tax. We ask your honorable body to grant us our request, and we, your petitioners will ever pray."

ROCK HILL ITEMS.

ROCK HILL, Nov. 28, 1886. Miss Minnie Bates is visiting her sister, Mrs. Parrish. Thanksgiving past, and the turkeys that survive rejoice. Harry Varden and John Nichols have gone on a hunting expedition. "Uncle" Sammy Pickens has been very sick, but is improving slowly. Miss Lulu Powell had her arms severely sprained by a fall while playing at school. Dried apples are a good price, and yet there are only two dryers running in this vicinity. The Rock Hill school is conducted by Ernest Eastham; the farm school by Mrs. Dewey. Miss Elita Blackburn, of Rock Hill, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Jennie Nichols, near Harrisburg. The Robinsons created quite a sensation when they passed through these parts with their magic lantern show. Robert Miller's family have been having quite a siege of diphtheria, but have all recovered under the care of Dr. Starr, of Brownsville. Helms and Robert Nichols are working several teams on the new railroad. They paid this neighborhood a flying visit day before yesterday. Rockhill has been enlivened by a revival conducted by the Methodist church. There were several experienced religion, but none joined the church. Hiram Powell has returned from his trip to Missouri and Texas. He was gone nearly two months, and reports having a fine time. He says he saw a great deal of pretty country, but none that looked as pretty as old Oregon. He visited his old home and many relatives in Missouri, and says there have been many changes in the thirty years he has been away from there. The farmers are all about through with their fall work. The fall-sown grain looks fine. FARMER.

PLAIN STATEMENT OF FACTS.

SALEM, Nov. 10, 1886. I was an appraiser on the loss of J. E. Liggett's house, which was totally destroyed by fire. It was insured in the State Insurance Company, of Salem, Ore. I made the house worth over $1,000. I am a practical carpenter and build er. J. O'DONALD.

Noticing the above in a journal here, I desire to say that Mr. O'Donald was not an appraiser upon my loss in the State Insurance Co., but was the appraiser for another insurance company, after my settlement with the State Insurance company. The other company did not recognize his appraisal after choosing him, but compromised the loss with me by paying me $225 out of $300 insurance. My settlement with both companies was perfectly satisfactory to me, as the house was not completed. The house was built by myself, and I together with W. D. Pugh figured the loss, and fully agreed; and each of us made oath to the estimate, which was $1047.58, which was the full value of my house. My house was insured in two companies. They each dealt fairly with me and neither one compelled me to sign any paper except of receipt for the money before paying. I further state that the article published about my loss was not done with my consent. J. G. LIGGETT.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—Last Monday, a roadmaster Jo. White—who is superintending the work on the Narrow Gauge (East Side)—was propelling a railway velocipede over a trestle near West Stayton, says the Appeal, he leaned to one side a little to notice a piece of rotten piling, when the velocipede upset throwing him a distance of twelve feet to the swale beneath with the car on top of him. Jo. says he thought his neck was broken for a while, but he gradually picked himself up and got some help to put the velocipede on the track again. The car weighed about 300 pounds, and it is almost a miracle that he was not crushed to death. As it was, he received painful bruises on his limbs, arm and neck, and his face was considerably scratched up. For a general assortment of ladies' and men's underwear, go to Friedman's.

A NEW VIEW OF CONSUMPTION.

And One which Appeals to Common Sense—Many Curable Cases.

[Medical Article] "Many persons die of Consumption who could easily be cured," says Dr. S. C. Clark, of Watertown, N. Y., "if they would go at it right. I have a new view of the disease. Consumption is not always of lung origin." "How so?" "What is it then?" "Many cases of consumption are secondary. The disease itself prevails everywhere, but the best practitioners refuse to attribute it entirely to inheritance or the weather. If a person lives in the most favorable climate in the world and has any tendency to lung weakness, if certain conditions exist in the system, that climate, however favorable, will not prevent development of the disease. The disorder in such cases is only a secondary symptom in the lungs of some other ailment, and can never be cured until approached through its source." "Yes, doctor; but what is the method of approach?" "If you dip your finger in acid you burn it; do you not?" "Yes." "If you wash this burnt finger every second with the acid, what is the result?" "Why constant inflammation, festering and eventual destruction of the finger." "Precisely! Now then for my method, which commends itself to the reason and judgment of every skillful practitioner. You know certain acids are developed in the body. Well, if the system is all right these acids are neutralized or utilized and carried out. If the system is run down by excesses, anxiety, continual exposure, or overwork, these acids accumulate in the blood. If there is any natural weakness in the lung, this acid attacks it, having a natural affinity for it, and if the acid is not neutralized or passed out of the system, it burns, ulcerates and finally destroys the lung. Is this clear?" "Perfectly! But how do you prevent the accumulation of these acids in the system?" "Irregularities of the liver and kidneys create this excess of acid and the supply can be cut off only by correcting the wrong action of these organs. The kidneys alone should carry out in quantity, in solution, enough of this acid daily, which, if left in the blood, would kill four men. When the stomach, the liver and the kidneys are all conspiring to increase the acid, the wonder is that weak lungs resist death as long as they do." "But you have not told us how you would treat such cases." "No, but I will. The lungs are only diseased as an effect of this acid or kidney poison in the blood. After having exhausted all authorized remedies to correct this acid condition, I was compelled, in justice to my patients, to use Warner's safe cure; though a proprietary remedy, it is now recognized, I see, by leading physicians, by Presidents of State Boards of Health and by insurance physicians, as a scientific and the only specific for those great organs in which over ninety per cent. of diseases originate or are sustained." "Is this form of treatment successful?" "It is wonderfully so, and for that reason I am only too willing that you should announce it to the world of consumptives." Note by the Publishers:—We have received the above interview from H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y., with the request that we publish it for the good of suffering people. In a foot note to their letter they say: "The experience of Dr. Clark is not strange to us. In our correspondence we have found that many thousands of people are suffering from what they think is Consumption, whereas the real difficulty is with the liver and kidneys, proven by the fact that when these organs are restored to health by the use of Warner's safe cure, the consumption disappears, and so does uremic or kidney poisoning, which causes so many symptoms of diseases that the human system is subject to. The same may be said of rheumatism, caused by an acid condition of the system. We insist upon what we always have claimed, if you remove the cause, the system will soon perfect the work already begun. Mr. Rev. Dr. Theodore Wolf, of Gettysburg, Pa., wife of the editor of the Lutheran Quarterly, said her friends thought her 'far gone with Consumption,' but after a thorough treatment with Warner's safe cure, she says: 'I am perfectly well.' We can cite thousands of such cases, but one is enough. If you publish the above article, kindly send us a marked copy." We gladly give place to the article, for if we can in any way stay the ravages of Consumption, which carries away so many millions yearly, it is our bounden duty so to do.—PUB.

TALLMAN ITEMS.

What is worth 65 cents per bushel here. A. A. Bashor went down to Portland Monday on business. We expect soon to have our mail carried to us on the narrow gauge railroad. Miss Lucie Miller had the misfortune to run a piece of glass into one of her fingers, making a very ugly wound. Miss Julia Swank is convalescent. She had a hard spell of brain fever. This will be good news to her many friends. Mr. Spicer, of Spierville, has bought him a $400 piano. He invited in a few of his neighbors and gave them a Thanksgiving dinner. John Powell goes around with a smile on his face that is pleasant to behold. His wife made him a present of a little girl a few days ago. Mother and child doing well. So is John. Some one robbed Mr. Hammock's bee hive; stole all the honey; killed the bees and knocked the hive all to pieces. Mr. Hammock will give $5 for the arrest and conviction of the thief or thieves. The three-cents-a-mile just suits us. It is to be hoped that the legislature will do something toward that, and also to repeal the Chinese peasant law, as they are a nuisance here to the farmers. VICTOR. December 7, 1886.

BORN.

WILLIAMS.—In East Salem, Dec. 2, 1886, to the wife of Rev. W. P. Williams, a daughter. Weight 11 pounds. Mother and child doing nicely last evening.

MARRIED.

TAYLOR-WHEDBEE.—At the Chevreton hotel, Salem, December 6, 1886, by J. M. Payne, J. P., Laura B. Whedbee, of Marion county, to Charles B. Taylor, of Wasco.

BRYANT-OSBURN.—At the M. E. parsonage, Dec. 4, 1886, by Rev. M. C. Wire, Elsie Osborne to F. H. Bryant, both of Marion county. Mr. and Mrs. Bryant will soon leave for the east where Mr. Bryant has formerly lived, and where they expect to make their future home.

DIED.

PATTON.—At the family residence on Piety Hill, about 2:30 p. m., December 7, 1886, Mrs. Frances Mary Patton, wife of T. McF. Patton, aged 47 years. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock a. m., to-morrow.

IN MEMORIAM.

Lines to the memory of Mrs. Frances Cooke Patton. Dear Fanatie, on your happy bridal I wrote a song of joy. But now, to-day, What can I say? What words shall I employ To tell our grief, our bitter sorrow? Since you are lying cold And still, in death, No smile or breath To greet us as of old. Dear faithful heart! How many mourners With eyes overflowed with tears, Weep o'er your loss, A heavy cross For all life's lonely years. For all life's lonely years. For many years your love I've trusted And always found you true: Your gentle ways Beyond all praise, We loved that was your due. And shall there on your wedding morning Be gratulations given And not one word Of cheer be heard For life begun in Heaven? Hail happy soul! "In Jesus trusting." So sweetly, surely blest, The friend we loved Has onward moved, And entered into rest. BELLE W. COOKE. December 8th, 1886.
