Harrington's house bill creating the office of attorney general was made the special order for 10 o'clock to-day. It is etc., and an appropriation of $2,000 for thought the bill will pass, but there will such improvements. Referred to comthought the bill will pass, but there will probably be a hard fight against it. The mittee on ways and means office should be established, as the state often has need of good legal advice, for which, as a rule, money in amounts far exceeding the salary proposed is paid annually.

HARE'S SWAMP-LAND BILL.

The house yesterday passed Hare's Passed. senate swamp-land bill, by a unanimous vote. There is a feeling abroad that Senator Hare's idea of confiscation is too general, and will only breed litigation, development of the state. Coleman made a strong argument against continuation of board. Said the board had flooded the state with immiinstead of remedying the existing evils. ROBBER CAUGHT .- On Sunday, S. B. Conn, living about three miles from this city, on the Turner road, missed a suit of clothes and other articles from his home. Investigation showed that the window to his bedroom had been entered. The glass was broken and been entered. The glass was broken and there were tracks in the snow which plainly indicated how the house had been entered. Calling Geo. Goodhue, the two took an axe handle a piece, and proceeded to follow the tracks in the snow. The chase was the tracks in the snow. The chase was continued until the pursuers came al-most within sight of Turner, when a man was caught up with who had on the pants and vest missed by Mr. Conn, be-sides the coat, a bed quilt and a jar of syrup belonging to him. He was cap-tured by them and marched to this city, where he was turned every to Sheriff Munwhere he was turned over to Sheriff Min-to. He waived examination before justice O'Donald, and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury. He was indicted last night and will be arraigned this morning. The prisoner's name is Mike Deffler.

BROUGHT TO SALEM .- Chie. Parrish, of Portland, brought terday morningstrain, then : was the partner of Clayton, who went through Allen & Lewis Portlane, about two months ago, turned him over to Sheriff Minto. Yates and Clayton traveled through this coun-try some time last fall, and they are sup-posed to be the men who committed various robberies around through the valley. The two men separated at Woodburn, in this county. Yates hopes to save himself by implicating Clayton, and with that end in view he has made a confession which was published at some length a short time since. Clayton was tried recently and the jury in his case hung. He will be tried again, and if he is not convicted, an effort will thanks for the prompt and courteous at be made to fasten the Gervais robbery on him. Yates claims that he can prove that Clayton is the man who committed, the Gervais robbery last fall. The evidence against Clayton seems conclusive. pilot commissioners.

A SCOUNDREL CAPTURED .- About two months ago, "Hank" Howard, a bricklayer, and a man aged about 50 years, left the city under rather peculiar circumstances, and while absent took evi-dent pains to conceal his whereabouts. Some time after he left his step-daughter, aged about twenty, gave birth to a child, and inquiry developed the fact that How-ard was the father of the unwelcome stranger. Last week a warrant was sworn out for Howard's arrest, and on Monday he was captured down at Albina, where he had been staying ever since he left Salem. Deputy Potter went down vesterday, and secured Howard, and brought him back in the evening, and lodged him in jail. If Mrs. Howard re-fuses to promote her humband as it is fuses to prosecute her husband, as it is said she will, it is not probable that he can be convicted of anything more than lewd cohabitation, and the greatest penalty attached to this is six months in jail. Howard is a drunken scrub, and his family is almost destitute, although they

ASYLUM ROAD CASE DECIDED .-- It will of Albany, in the opera house of that city, on Monday night, certainly cast great credit on the social young people of that city. There were over a hundred persons en masque, and many of the costumes would have done credit to a fancy-dress ball of any city in the land. The galleries were filled with interested resolution the scene below apvisor, was directed to open it. The asylum board objected to this proceeding on the part of the county court, claiming that it would damage the asylum grounds, and that a road should not be established over them for the reason that the property having been donated by the state for the use of the insane, that the county court had no right to interfere with it. The board ordered Mr. Irvin to put up the fence which Mr. Matthews had torn down down in opening the road, and he was by direction of the county court arrested for obstructing a public road. Mr. Irvin was tried inefore Squire Payne in Salam Precinct, and tound guilty, Mr. Payne claiming that the road was legally established. The case was appealed to the circuit court by the board of asylum commissioners, and it was tried yesterday before Judge

Boise, who, after hearing a portion of the testimony, ordered the jury to return a verdict of not guilty, for the reason that the evidence declared the fact that no legal road existed over the asylum grounds, and Mr. Irvin was thereupon discharged and his bail released. Dis-trict attorney Belt and N. B. Knight ap-peared for the de ense.

THE LUNCH PARTY .--- On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. W. N. Ladue gave a charming lunch at her present home on Chemeketa street, in honor of Mrs. J. M. Patterson, of The Dalles. The list of guests includes the old friends of Mrs. Patterson, with a few others in addition. It was one of those delightful, almost impromptu, occasions in which the hostess was equally happy and successful, as with the larger gatherings that have al-ready given her rank with our most hos-pitable ladies. The refreshments were elegant, of salads, rolls, cake, tea and coffee, tastefully served on rare china. The social interchange between old-time friends made the hours pass rapidly away. The guests invited, the majority of whom were present, were: Mrs. Pat-terson, Mrs. Moody, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. I. S. Gillert, Mrs. Longdol, Mrs. Farbart N. ANOTHER SUBPRISE. - On Fuesday night, a number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Herren met at the residence of Eugene Breyman, and from there proceeded to the house of Mr. Her-ren. The occasion was the first anniverren. The occasion was the arst aniver-sary of the wedding of Mr. Herren and and Miss Lulu Gilbert. The surprise was complete, and a pleasant evening was spent. Cards, dancing, and games, among which was the "bean bag," were indulged in; and at the proper hour elegant reireshments were served. An interesting part, of the evening's enjoyment was the performance of his mar-riage cermony by Prof. Wm. J. Clarke, after which the groom and bride were made to jump the broomstick, to make the matrimouial bonds more secure. It the prison, and strong efforts were made to secure his release. Upon the presump-tion that he was innocent and because of having suffered a paralytic stroke not long since, he was pardoned. BURNED ALIVE .- On Sunday morning the neighbors of John Couch, of Canby precinct, Clackamas county, below Aurora, found his cottage in ashes and his charred remains in the ruins. The origin of the fire is unknown, and no one saw the building while it was in flames. Couch, who was a bachelor, aged 55 years, and who had lived by himself for a number of years, was of an erratic disposition, and has been for a long time considered by his neighbors as crazy. He was last seen on Saturday evening, when he appeared in a troubled frame of mind over the marriage of a niece. ACCUSED OF PASSING COUNTERFEIT MONEY,-Several days since Deputy United States Marshal Marquam arrested John Homer, a boy at Stayton, on a charge of passing counterfeit money. It is alleged that Homer is an accomplice of the counterfeiter Davenport, who was sent to the penitentiary a few days ago for making and passing counterfeit dollars. Homer is said to have worked off a considerable amount of leaden coin. Wednesday Homer was examined before United States Commissioner Deady, in Portland, and held to answer with bail at $250. The accused strenuously denies his guilt, but the evidence against him is very strong. Homer says he is but 14 years of age.
