iver the address and charge to the class. The new catalogues will be out this week, and will show a net enrollment for the year of 336 pupils, or a gain of 14 on last year's enrollment. The gross enrollment shows a much larger gain in numbers, and also in the advanced rank of the students, as the number in the higher classes is larger than it has been before for the past ten years.

Miss Jones and pupils will, on Fuesday afternoon of commencement week, give a public recital in the university chapel. This will no doubt be the musical event of the week. Miss Jones' pupils are re-hearsing hard for their appearance on this occasion, and will be fully prepared to render in excellent style the fine programme prepared.

The number of pupils registered in the onservatory this year is 116. As part of them have taken lessons from the different teachers, the number would be, ac cording to the report of the different teachers, about 140. Of this number Prof. Parvin has taught seventy, without counting the singing class in the university or the musical society.

The exercises of the conservatory commencement next week will be of especial interest. Monday, there will be a popular concert, of great variety, consisting of vocal choruses, quartets, tries solos, and instrumental piano selos, duets, and eight-hand pieces. Wednesday. at 10 a.m., graduating exercises of the conservatory. These exercises will be of more than usual interest this year.

One week from to-day, at 10:30 a. m. in the M. E. church, Bishop Chas. H. Fowler, D. D., LL D., will preach the baccalaureate sermon. All persons wishing to enjoy a discourse from one of the greatest of living pulpit orators should not fail to hear the Bishop.
