Walla Walla, Seattle. and Tacoma, have each furnished their assistance and Vancouver will present a e team that will make it more or less lively for all competitors. It is to be regretted that Salem is not to be represent-ed in the various contests, as with the material at present in the department, they could get up a team that would be, the least, very hard to beat. Many individual firemen will, however, make it a point to be present, and a pleasant time is guaranteed to all who may attend.

An Old Man Named Veenan, Aged about Seventy Years, Run Overby the California Express

Wednesday evening while California express was thundering along toward Salem, between the fair ground and Parrish's orchard, Engineer Phil. Corkin suddenly saw in front of the locomotive, lying upon the side of a small bridge, the body of a man. He immediately turned on all the power of the airbrakes, but such was the momentum of stock company, the object of which is the train that the speed had hardly been slackened when the man, who had raised his head slightly, was struck in the forehead by the pilot and thrown into the

The train was stopped and the unfortu nate man placed on board, and the train moved on to Salem. It was discovered that the man, whose name was learned to be John Veenan, was struck over the right eye, and that his skull was badly fractured. He was laid upon the platform at the depot, and made as comfortable as circumstances would permit. A physician was summoned, who pronounced it as his opinion that the victim of the accident had not long to live. He was taken to the residence of his daughter in East Salem, Mrs. W. S. Hoyt, hy ing near the East Salem school house.

It seems probable that the old man who is about 70 years of age, childis and subject to epileptic fits, had was dered down the railroad track, and while upon the small bridge mentioned, had His body was almost in fallen in a fit. distinguishable from the rails, and it is no wonder that the engineer did not make out what was the obstruction infore he was almost upon him. > Mouday, at the regular monthly meeting of the board of asylem commisdoners, consisting of Governor Pennover. Secretary McBride and Treasurer Webb, Dr. Harry Lane, of Portland, was appointed superintendent of the insane asylum, to succeed Dr. S. E. Josephi.

Two ballots were taken. The first one stood, Lane, 1. Dr. J. L. Hill, of Albany, Dalles, 1. On the next ballot, Lane received two votes and Richardson one.

The votes on the first ballot were, Per nover for Lane, Webb for Hill and Mc-Bride for Richardson; and on the second Mr. Webb, in deference to Pennoyer's wishes, voted for lane, thus electing him.

This position of superintendent of the the new administration. Although many mames were mentioned in connection with the place, the friends of but five or six prominent Democratic physicians made any active effort to secure the appointment. Stevens then cked up a hatchet and began destroying articles of furniture, among which was an organ. Officers were notified of Stevens' doings, and when they reached the scene of his work, the fellow held them at bay with a revolver, and it some time before he was captured. It appears that Stevens owns the house which Mrs. Lewis resides, and he had at tempted to force her to remove. She claimed that the time for which she had leased the house does not expire until June 20th. Stevens took this method of obtaining possession. He was examined on two charges, assault with a dangerous weapon and resisting officers, and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury in $1500.

> Sunday morning, the large arditorium of the M. E. church was crowded to overflowing by an audience of students, friends of the university, and others anxious to hear the baccalaureate discourse of Bishop C. H. Fowler, D. D., LL.

> D. The decorations were very appropriate and pretty. Across the upper part of the large organ was hung in ivy "Class of 1887," and the space around the pulpit green, and flowers. The class of 1887 occupied front seats.

The bishop chose for his text, "Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread?"-Isaiah, chap. Iv. verse 2. The sermon, the delivery of which occurpied over an hour, was powerful, direct. original, and impressive. The attention of the audience was held throughout. One great beauty of the address was its simplicity. Hardly a word was used which a child could not understand. The charge to the class was particularly fine. No synopsis could begin to do justice to gallery. The sermon was able and interesting. The text was from Ephesians chap. iv. verse 13.

EXAMINATIONS.

Public examinations, at which a number of visitors were present, were conducted in the different class-rooms of the university, yesterday morning. They were in the following studies: 9 o'clock, higher algebra, normal and mental higher algebra, normal and mental ent selection, in a manner that displayed arithmetic; 10 o'clock, German and the selection, in a manner that displayed to great advantage the training they had 11 o'clock, botany, ancient history; 1 p. m., music

POPULAR MUSIC RECITAL.

At 3 p. m., yesterday afternoon, was given in the chapel a popular recital, by the pupils of the conservatory of music. Notwithstanding the threatening weather, a good-sized audience was present. The entertainment was an interesting one. performers acquitting themselves with credit. Miss Hallie Parrish's "Inflammatus" is worthy of particular mention. RISHOP FOWLER'S LECTURE.

The lecture of Bishop Fowler at the university chapel in the evening was attended by a large, and truly an appre-ciative audience. The lecture was a masterpiece of eloquence and a marvel of historical fact condensed into vivid word-pictures. The tributes to Lord Nelson, the hero of Trafalgar, to Wellington, Napoleon, Grant, and, lastly, to Lincoln, were things to be pleasantly and profitably remembered.

THIRD DAY.

Tuesday morning from 9 to 12 were held public examinations in the university in the following studies: 9 o'clock, class book, astronomy; 10 o'clock, elementary algebra, geometry; 11 o'clock, spelling. A number of friends of the students embraced the opportunity of hearing their recitations. Great profi-ciency in the branches studied was manifested.

THE PIANO RECITAL.

The chapel was filled yesterday afterpiano recital of the pupils of Miss Frankie ones, principal of the piano instruction department of the university, assisted by Miss Hallie Parrish, soprano, and Prof. J. M. Coomer, cornetist.

The recital opened with an eight-hand piece for two pianos, "Overture to Ober-on," Weber, by Misses Dalrymple, Moores, Breyman and Dalrymple. The selection was rendered admirably and was a fitting prelude for the excellent numbers which followed. Miss Lois Abrams played very correctly and in good time "Stephanic Gavotte," Ketterer, and the duet of Misses Addie Scriber and Ethel Cusick, "La Reine de Fees," Smith, was excellently rendered and highly appreciated.

The vocal solo of Miss Hallie Parrish which followed, "Let Me Dream Again," was a touching selection, sung with much feeling. Miss Mabel Adair played, with great precision of execution, "Tarantelle," Heller. The "Carnival de Venice," Oesten, of Miss Edith Hughes, was very finely played. Miss Hughes's ren dition of this difficult selection was al-most faultless. The eight-hand selection, 'Dance of the Fairies," Fowler, was very commendably executed by Misses Reynolds, Abrams, Riggs, and Adair. Schubert's "Impromptu in B Flat Major, rendered by Miss Helen Edes, was splen-didly rendered, and showed the excellent training she had received. Miss Edes exhibits great proficiency, and it is not too much to say that, with study, she will secome a finished performer.

Part second of the programme opened with a concert solo by Prof. Coomer, 'Delecta,' with variations. Prof. Coomer's marvelous execution won him a hearty encore.

Miss Jessie Dalrymple followed Chopin's "Valse Briliante," Op. 14. Mis-Dalrymple possesses fine technique, and the valse was splendidly played, zart's "Sonate in D Major," a due Motwo pianos, was perfectly performed, Breyman in a "Polka Brilliante," Spindler, for such a young pupil, disvery sweet voice "In Questo Semplice," Denizetti. Miss Parrish's vocal execution was very fine. She was very warm ly applauded. The "Larghetto and Alegro Passionato," from Op. 79, Weber by Miss Jones, was a remarkable performance. Miss Jones executes astonishing runs without a break, and her rendition of this most difficult selection, as well as any other she undertakes, was well nigh perfect. Her superior as an ever her equal has.

This selection was the last of a programme whose rendition had given to the appreciative audience the greatest of enjoyment. The care which their teacher had taken in instructing her pupils was very evident, and Miss Jones's methods of instruction were justified in a most gratifying manner. She can congratulate herself that the performances of her pupils reflected great credit upon herself as a teacher.

GRADUATING EVERCISES.

The graduating exercises of the academy, held at the chapel in the evening, were well attended, in fact many were unable to procure souts. The essays and orations were generally good, and the music was worthy of a more extended was filled with decoration of ivy, ever- notice. Miss Pearl Scott's piano solo and the vocal solo by Miss Hallie Parrish were fully up to the expectations of their most enthusiastic friends. FOURTH DAY.

After the exercises at the university chapel on Tuesday evening, President Van Scoy gave to the graduating classes of the different departments of the university, a reception at the Monroe house, the discourse, so none is attempted.

The university sermon was preached in the evening by Rev. G. M. Erwin, A. The church was again with great relish by the graduates and with great relish by the graduates and with great relish by the graduates and the few invited guests. The company separated at a late hour.

CONSERVATORY COMMENCEMENT.

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, a good-sized audience assembled in the university chapel, the occasion being the graduating exercises of the conservatory of music. The programme which had been prepared was rendered in good style. each graduate performing a differreceived. Miss Hallie Parrish's vocal solo and Miss Edith Pentland's piano solo are worthy of special mention. The graduates in the different courses are Miss Edith Pentland, Miss Hallie Parrish, Miss Effie Byars, Miss Frances Gilbert, Miss M. Emma Stannus, and Miss Mamie Overholt.

ANNUAL MEETING.

At 2 p. m. occurred the annual meeting of the alumni association, at which many members were present. Prof. S. A. Starr was re-elected president, and A. N. Moores was elected secretary, and Miss Minnie Cunningham treasurer. The executive committee will consist of Mrs. F. J. Babcock and Miss Bertha Moores, and Mrs. Amelia E. Miller will be the alumni member of the board of trustees.

ALUMNI ENTERTAINMENT.

The entertainment of the alumni association in the evening was very pleasant and largely attended. After prayer the class of 1887, consisting of Messrs. Samuel Wendell Holmes, William Deweese, John Owen Goltra, James Benson Starr, Jonathan Swayne, and John Mark Pee-bles, and Misses Bertha Cunningham, Florence Cunningham, Nellie Boise, and Katherine Dearborn, was introduced, and received as members of the alumni by President Starr. An able and thought-ful oration was delivered by Robert A. Miller, S. B., '78. Mr. Miller's effort was a creditable and original one. His subject was "Life as We Find It." A recitation was effectively given by Miss Addie Scriber, S. B., '78. The essay by Jessie Van Scoy, Ph. B., '85, was a worthy effort, and the poem of W. C. Hawley, S. noon with a very large audience, which had assembled to witness the first public annals were read by E. B. Piper, A. B.,

> The programme was interspersed by music, consisting of a very fine plano solo by Miss Frankie Jones, a solo by Mrs. Mary Starr-Walts, which was highly appreciated. The horn quartet, consisting of Messrs. Coomer, Waln, Mack and Ryley, rendered some very nice selec-tions. The entertainment as a whole was very enjoyable.

ALUMNI REUNION.

The entertainment was followed by the annual reunion of the alumni association in the Philodorian ball, at which a large number of graduates of Wiliamette university, old and new, were present. Two hours were passed most pleasantly, a very enjoyable supper being spread and partaken of with much zest. Toasts and speeches, more or less witty, were indniged in.

TO-DAY'S EXERCISES.

To-day's exercises, are of the most interesting of commencement week. At 10 a. m. will begin commencement proper, at which a class of ten, whose names were given above, will graduate. The exercises will continue into the afternoon, with an adjournment at noon. In the evening will occur the first annual entertainment of the alumni association for which a very pleasant programme has Afterwards will occur at been prepared.
