The Star's Washington correspondent telegraphs: There is no longer any doubt here that Carlisle is to be secretary of the of great extent. There have been found treasury. It is also thought Pendleton two skeletons, and considerable money may succeed Garland, and Lamont be may succeed Garland, and Lamont be made postmaster general. He has good executive ability, and great skill in dealing with men. The speakership is becoming a pressing question. Randall's candidacy will be stoutly resisted by the revenue reformers. Hatch of Missouri and Mills of Texas are talked about as candidates for the speakership. Both being ex-Confederates, the question will arise whether that will make them available for the office. THE WAR CLOUD.

sia's Probable Attitude in the Event of France and Germany Fighting.

ST. PETERSBURG. Feb. 18 .- It is semiofficially stated that in Russian government circles the conviction is gaining ground that war between France and Germany is inevitable. The addition, it is said, of a fresh defeat to France, might involve disastrous results to Russia. The czar's government will, in the event of war, preserve entire liberty of action. It will not support France as an ally, but may, by a reserved attitude, prevent Ger-many from sending the whole of her army west of the Rhine; and, even if France should be defeated, Russia may

The Feeling in Paris,

LONDON, Feb. 20 .- A trip to Paris in the early part of the week revealed a state of cheerfulness among the French highly creditable under the circum-stances, and a most bewildering diversity stances, and a most bewildering diversity of opinions as to what is going to happen. Very significant—and, from the English point of view, most surprising—was the optimistic view almost every where pre-vailing among the better educated. I was struck with the great confidence of the more comfortably fixed classes, not so much in France's ability to beat Ger-many as in the improbability of having many, as in the improbability of having to make the attempt. Talk with McLane, our minister, confirmed the impres had received. McLane declared that the wisest Frenchmen did not believe war was coming, and he agreed with them. Mr. McLane believes there has been at no time danger of war breaking out be-tween France and Germany. The danger to Europe's peace has been the uncomfortable feeling between Austria and Russia. Here, in London, however, a belief that war is coming with the spring, is held

CHICAGO, Feb. 17 .- A Washington pecial says: The grand total of Mrs. Logan's fund has been footed up. It agregates $61,000, which includes $13,-000 raised in Chicago, and that reported from all quarters. After the incum-brances have been lifted from Mrs. Logan's property here and in Chicago, there will remain nearly $35,000. This will all be in United States 4 per cent. bonds in a few days, and will yield her a net annual income of about $1400. Mrs. ogan's real estate, outside of her home sere, will bring the amount to probably $2500 a year. As she has no one dependent on her, it will be seen that she can live very comfortably. She does not care to enter that swim of society she has seen and so will have no special need for more.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20 .- The Inter-Ocean's Milwaukee special says: A prominent firm of malsters of this city have received a letter from their New York agent, in which he states that he has been approached by an accredited agent of the German government, who came to this country to purchase corn, oats, and red winter wheat in enormous quantities. The firm has been requested to bid on furnishing 200,000 bushels of oats, and their figures have been forwarded to their ble of liberal interpretation, and if so

Two New Ordnance Measures,

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 .- The house committee on military affairs to-day resumed consideration of the McAdoo ordnance bill. Cutcheon presented a substitute for the bill before the committee. It provides for the erection of a gun factory, and for first-class modern guns for the army, sea coast and other defenses. It appropriates $10,000,000 for the purpose. After the bill had been read, Chairman Bragg stated that he was engaged in the preparation of a substitute for the original measure, which he hoped to be able to lay before the committee Monday, and with a view to allowing comparison of the various measures, and combination of the best features of each, the committee adjourned without voting on Cutcheon's proposition. Bragg indicated that his substitute only provides for the erection of a governfor this purpose. ment factory, and for the creation of a testing board, of which Lieut.-Gen. Sher-idan is to be a member.

The Crop Outlook. .

CHICAGO, Feb. 20 .- This week's Farmers' Review says: Injury to winter wheat by reason of recent sleet storms and accompanying cold weather is reported from various portions of Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, and Kansas, but the general situation, as affecting the prospects of winter wheat, continues to be favorable.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE LAW.

The General Managers of the Transcontinental Lines Consider It.

CHICAGO, Feb. 22 .- The general managers of the transcontinental railroads began to-day consideration of the interstate commerce law, and the necessary steps to be taken to meet its requirements. The session opened by the reading of a paper prepared by N. Green Curtis, general solicitor of the Sonthern Pacific Railroad company. The tenor of his article was that the law was susceptitaken would not seriously interfere with the operation of the Pacific roads. After the reading of the paper, the meeting agreed that nothing could be done to ward regulating tariffs, as, under a strict construction of the law, either through or local business would have to be sacrificed. It was decided that a committee be appointed to go before the commission, so soon as its members are named. and ask them to make such exceptions as will allow the roads to carry both classes of traffic without loss and without diversion, to water or foreign routes. The meeting will remain in session two or three days.

NEW FORM OF IMBECILITY.

The fade is the newest thing in the dude line. It, or he, or whatever you choose to call his latest evolution in modern society, is an individual of the advanced order of the dude species. There is no mention of the fade in Darwin's works. The idea, if a fade can be associated with ideas, was first suggested by a smart Boston girl. She defines a fade does talk he says nothing. There is always a far-away look about a fade, as though he had not come to stay. The same characteristics of the dude belong to the fade. He wears the high collar, cultivates the slim neck and smokes cigarettes. The more cigarettes a dude smokes the nearer he approaches to fade. He smokes and smokes, his collar grows taller and his neck slimmer, until he just fades away and is gone forever. The fade is a warning to dudes. There are several of the latter species in Baltimore that, unless checked in their giddy career

The young man had prepared his request for work in a modest way on his personal appearance, his experience and his recommendations from Pittsburg out giving his name. Before departing he laid his card on the editor's desk. where it was found a half hour later by that busy man. It is said that Mr Coates nearly jumped over his chair and sent out to find the man, recognizing at once that his employment would be a 'card' for the paper. I am told that Blaine is settling down to a persistent effort to win his own way in the world, and that his hasty marriage has proven a good thing in this respect."
