WOLFF-LEVY WEDDING.

THE BOARD OF IMMIGRATION.—Saturday afternoon a meeting of the citizens of Portland was held at the rooms of the board to devise some means of continuing the work. The chairman, C. H. Dodd, stated that despite the fact that the state had refused to appropriate funds to carry on the work, the board was still legally organized. There was no duration fixed for the terms of the members of the board. The board was perpetual, and could go ahead with the work in hand. The state gave the board two years ago $10,000. The board has returned for that sum $4,000,000 which was brought into the state by immigrants. Just what portion of this amount the board had been instrumental in bringing into the state no one could say, but it had done its share. It was safe to say that 25,000 immigrants had been added to the population of the state through the agency of the board. The expenses of the board could be reduced to $250 per month and the work carried on effectively. The chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of one from each county and five from Portland, to solicit subscriptions to carry on the state board. The chair announced that he would make the appointments in a few days. Within five minutes after the meeting adjourned $1000 was subscribed; so it is safe to predict that enough money will be subscribed in Portland to maintain the organization.

JUMPED THE COUNTRY.—Yesterday morning, when the case of State of Oregon vs. John Baker was called in the court of Justice Bleakney at Turner, it was found that the prosecuting witness, George Wilson, was not present, and it was impossible for the examination to proceed; so Baker was discharged by the justice. Wilson went south on Saturday night's train, and it is hardly probable that he will show up around Turner again very soon. He left either because he feared that his life was in danger, or because he was afraid he might be held for the seduction of Hattie Baker. Probably both. Sentiment against Wilson was highly stirred up among the good people of Turner, who consider that he has done a most villainous act in seducing Miss Baker under promise of marriage, and betraying the confidence she and her family reposed in him and his promises. The Bakers are among the most respectable of the people of that section of the country, and the blow is a terrible one for them. It is no wonder that the sons attempted to wreak summary vengeance upon the destroyer of the family's peace and the daughter's reputation.

RELIC SOCIAL.—The entertainment at the Christian church to-night promises to be one of the most interesting occasions and festivals ever presented to the public by the literary society of this church. It is too great an undertaking to enumerate the very many attractive and historical relics and curiosities that have been secured and accumulated by the executive committee and that will appear on exhibition, but it is sufficient to state that the collection will embrace many curios and relics of past history of this country, relics from Bible lands; also curiosities from Japan and other portions of the Orient; also an interesting collection of rude weapons of warfare from Alaska; relics of the early pioneers, and pioneer days of Oregon. In connection with this department will be presented specimens of the handicraft and skill of the pupils in the institute for the blind. This department will prove especially attractive. There will be present of the best musical and recitative talent in this city and vicinity. The admission has been fixed at the very low price of twenty-five cents for adults and ten cents for children, the receipts to be applied to the payment of the current expenses of the church.

TAKEN TO ALBANY.—W. W. Saunders, who was brought down to this city from Albany some time ago, for safe keeping, was taken to Albany yesterday, by Sheriff Minto, to be in attendance at the March term of circuit court, which met there yesterday. A strong effort will be made by Saunders' attorneys to secure a change of venue to this county, and there is some likelihood that they will succeed. The grounds upon which the motion for a change will be made are that the sentiment of the people of Albany is so aroused against Saunders that it will be impossible for him to obtain a fair trial there. These were the reasons why Miss Allison was granted a change of venue, and as the circumstances are about the same in Saunders' case, he will likely be tried here. But whether he will be cleared or not, like Miss Allison, is another question.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.—J. W. Wight, of South Salem, yesterday bought through Hendricks & Saubert, the new real estate agents, the northerly half of lots 3 and 4, in block 11, in the university addition to the city of Salem. There are several other lots bargained for in this tract, the deeds for which have not yet been delivered, and it looks to a man up a stump as if all the lots in this tract will go off like hot cakes. There will be many nice cottages erected on this tract during the coming summer, and the property will no doubt double in value before many months roll round. There is a great deal of inquiry about real estate, and the heavy immigration expected from the eastern states will no doubt infuse considerable life into real estate transactions.

SLAUGHTER OF DEER.—If any one supposes killing deer for their skins has been put a stop to in southern Oregon, the following, from the Jacksonville Times, will show him he is mistaken: "Within two months a hide dealer at Jacksonville purchased 3878 pounds of deer hides. It would require about 1300 pelts to reach that weight. Other parties in southern Oregon have purchased as many more, showing that in all about 2600 deer have been killed for their skins only." The state should offer a premium for the pelts of the sounders who thus wantonly slaughter deer for the trifling amount they receive on the skins.

IN THE CITY.—Otto Schultz, the lessee of the Jefferson flouring mills, was in the city yesterday, and called at this office. He says there is a prospect of changing the machinery in the mills there to the latest improved roller process.

John G. Wright Elected Director and David Simpson Clerk of District No. 24.

Little interest was manifested in the election of school director and clerk yesterday, a very light vote being polled. A novel feature of the election was the candidacy of Mrs. Amelia E. Miller for director. Some work was done for her by friends, but she succeeded in securing only one third of the total number of votes cast. The fact, too, that Mr. Wright has made an excellent officer, and that a woman must needs enter the race handicapped by her sex, weakened Mrs. Miller's opposition.

There were 493 votes cast in all, of which three were rejected as being illegal. The following is the vote:

FOR DIRECTOR.
John G. Wright, 269.
Amelia E. Miller, 131.

FOR CLERK.
David Simpson, 392.
Scattering, 8.

John G. Wright and David Simpson are therefore elected to succeed themselves. Mr. Wright will hold office for three years, and David Simpson for one year.

Compared with last year's vote there was a falling off in the number of votes polled. At that time there was something of a contest over both the offices of director and clerk, and 632 votes were cast against 403 this year. The judges were Geo. H. Burnett, J. M. Payne, and J. H. McCormack, and the clerks D. L. Green and Geo. Watt.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES.—A large number of the members of the A. O. U. W. and others assembled in the M. E. church Sunday evening, filling the large auditorium, the occasion being the memorial exercises in memory of Father Upchurch, founder of the order. The following programme was carried out: Organ voluntary; prayer by Rev. M. C. Wire; opening ode, led by Dr. C. H. Hall; scripture lesson by Prof. Starr; anthems by the choir; memorial address by Rev. M. C. Wire; music by the choir; eulogy by Prof. Starr; music by the choir; closing ode; benediction. The exercises were very appropriate. Rev. M. C. Wire delivering an impressive memorial address, and Prof. Starr a fitting eulogy upon Father Upchurch.

THE NEW STEAMERS.—One of the two new steamers recently purchased by the Oregon Development company to ply between this city and Yaquina bay, will be due at this port about April 1st. The name of this steamer is the Willamette Valley. She is an iron screw vessel of 620 tons net, and capable of attaining a twelve-knot speed. Her cabin has accommodations for eighty passengers. The steamer left Baltimore on January 15th. The other new steamer is called the Eastern Oregon. She is of 883 tons burden and has cabin room for seventy persons. She has twin screws and can steam thirteen knots an hour with ease. She is expected here by May 1st, having left Baltimore on the 15th ult.—S. F. Chronicle.

OF SHORT DURATION.—The period during which the locks at Oregon City were closed during the late high water proved of short duration. Only a few days since the gates were closed owing to the high water. Thursday morning the water stood one inch over the top of the gate; but when the steamer Occident came along in the forenoon the river had receded so that the gates could be opened. The steamer passed through, but it was by a scratch. No further trouble will be experienced at the locks as the water is constantly falling. The river was yesterday, at noon, 11.1 above low water mark.

BIDS FOR SURVEYING.—James Rayley, J. C. Arnold and J. A. Howard returned from Portland on this morning's train, says the East Oregonian. They submitted bids to Surveyor General Taylor for the survey of the Umattilla reservation. In all there were twenty-nine bids submitted, ranging from $4,600 to $10,000. The lowest bid was made jointly by Curran & Nowland, of Cottage Grove, and probably will be thrown out on account of there being a rule of the department against joint bids. The next lowest bid is that of Alonzo Gesner, of Salem, of $5,100, who will undoubtedly receive the contract.

HORSE SOLD.—W. D. Claggett, of this city, has sold to E. Bley, of the Palouse country, Washington territory, his fine three-quarter Clydesdale stallion, "Clyde." This horse will be three years old on July 1st next. His grand dam was "Dolly," dam Sally, and by Imported "Merry Mason," imported by Pugh & Grierson, of this county, direct from Scotland. He was sired by Sir Stafford, an imported Clydesdale. He is a fine horse, of large size, and well proportioned. The price paid was $500 cash, and this is considered cheap by horsemen.

A DANGEROUS FEAT.—Yesterday a ladder was stood up against the flag pole on top of the state house, with the intention of sending a man up to the top of the pole to place the halliards, which were broken a short time ago, in the pulley. The day was so windy and stormy, however, that the undertaking was given up. Today, if the weather is propitious, Bert Hatch will climb the pole, and place the halliards in their proper position. The feat was accomplished once before by him, and he has the grit to do it again.

A RUMPU.—Two members of the Nellie Boyd troupe got into a row yesterday morning, at the depot, just before leaving for Portland. One stove the other up against the building and proceeded to polish him off in good style. He knocked the bark off of his eye and stopped his wind for a while, but no serious damage was done. After the train arrived and the company had got on board, the row was continued, but was stopped before any serious results ensued.

CALLED.—J. P. Eagon, of Hubbard, was in town yesterday, and paid his respects to the STATESMAN.

NEAT PRINTING ESTABLISHMENT.—A reporter, yesterday, accepted an invitation from E. M. Waite to call and see the changes and improvements he had made in his printing rooms, where he has been busy, during the last two weeks, with carpenters and painters, in reorganizing and refitting his office. He now has one of the neatest and best-arranged printing establishments in the State, and, among other improvements, has thrown out all his former book type, and refurnished with new material of the beautiful Johnson series, together with large quantities of new job type, so that, with the fine facilities and convenient arrangement of his office, he is far better prepared than before to do every thing in his line promptly and in every way satisfactorily to his customers. His new job type includes all the latest styles, with borders and fancy ornaments of various kinds. Mr. Waite has the "push" and energy which win success, and he deserves the liberal patronage he has always received. His stock of legal blanks is the largest in the State, and he spares no effort to keep all the forms in accordance with the law, and in all essential particulars reliable for general use. He cordially invites his friends and the public to call and see the improvements he has made in his office, and his increased facilities for printing of all kinds.

PASTORATE RESIGNED.—Some time ago Rev. M. L. Rugg tendered his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church of this city, but his congregation refused to accept it and asked him to reconsider his action. Mr. Rugg resigned because he thought that the work accomplished by him had not been commensurate with his expectations, and he thought he ought to move to some other field, where he could work more effectually. The members of the church knew that this was no fault of Mr. Rugg's, and conscious of his merit as a Christian pastor and his ability as a preacher, they were especially anxious to retain him. The other day Mr. Rugg received a call from the Baptist church of East Portland, and it is understood that he is undecided about accepting it. It is to be hoped that Mr. Rugg will decide to remain here in Salem. His congregation and friends would sincerely regret his departure.

BUSINESS CHANGE.—J. D. McCully has bought out the interest of A. B. Crossman in the clothing store in this city, and Mr. Crossman will open a store in Portland on or shortly after the first of April. His store will be at 111 First street, formerly occupied by Jones Bros. It is between S. Lipman's and Eggert, Young & Co.'s. Mr. Crossman will carry there gent's furnishing goods and hats exclusively. He has hired to take a position in his store Johnny Coffey, now working for the Western Union telegraph company in that city. All his many friends in this city will be sorry to see him leave, and they sincerely hope that he will do well in the metropolis. He is a first-class business man, and has plenty of means to carry a splendid stock.

BOTH PLEADED GUILTY.—Yesterday morning D. M. Evans, living about four miles east of this city, was arrested by Deputy Potter at the instance of C. F. Hoisington, for assault committed on some other days ago. It appears that at that time Evans and Hoisington got into a difficulty about some horses, which resulted in a fight, Hoisington coming out worsted. Evans was taken before Justice O'Donald and pleaded guilty. He was fined by the Justice $5 and costs, amounting in all to about $28. When Evans had settled his case, he had Hoisington arrested on the same charge. The latter also pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs, amounting to $18, which he paid.

A SENSIBLE CHANGE.—The managers of the O. & C. R. R. have made a change in the running divisions of the road that is wise and timely. Formerly the running division for the passenger trains was from Portland to Roseburg, with three engineers, with a lay off every third day. They have now divided into two divisions, and put on four engineers, running from Portland to Junction and from Junction to Roseburg.

APPOINTMENTS.—Gov. Penoyer has during the past week made the following appointments of notaries public: W. G. Jenne, Portland; D. B. Rees, Union; J. J. Walton, Eugene City; R. H. Buddy, Portland; J. H. Revenne, Sandy, Clackamas county; R. C. Durham, Bruce L. Carr, Portland; L. M. Parrish, Portland; Henry Wade, Gardiner; James S. Reed, Portland.

ANOTHER UNFORTUNATE.—Mrs. Saloma Brower was yesterday examined by Doctors Carpenter and Rowland before Judge Shaw, as to her mental condition, and was by them declared to be insane. Mrs. Brower is 68 years old and old age and general debility have thrown her off her mental balance. She was taken to the asylum in the afternoon.

CERTIFICATES GRANTED.—School Superintendent Peebles has granted certificates to teach to Messrs. E. E. Shields, of Salem, and Wm. Hall, of Woodburn. Mr. Shields will teach the birch in Hazel Green school, district No. 65, and Mr. Hall has already begun to teach in district No. 99, near the Indian school.

SURPRISE PARTY.—A number of friends of Master Don Truitt, son of Mrs. Truitt, dropped in upon him Monday night at the residence of his mother on Piety Hill. The occasion was his tenth birthday. A pleasant evening was spent by the young people. All enjoying themselves to the utmost.

NEW FOOT BRIDGE.—A new foot bridge has been put up on Winter street, over the creek north of the tract of ouliding lots offered by Hendricks & Saubert, real estate agents. A wagon bridge will soon be built. The lots are now easy of access, and they will bear inspection.

A COMPARISON.—As the country grows and more legislation is needed, or thought to be needed, expenses of holding the legislative sessions increase. This last session cost somewhere near $41,000, while the session of two years ago cost $34,000.

The System will be Established in Salem on the 1st day of July 1877.

It is almost certain that the free delivery system will be established in Salem, as is indicated by the following special dispatch in yesterday's Oregonian: "Officials in the postoffice department state that as the report of the inspector detailed to examine into the advisability of extending the free mail delivery service to Salem is favorable, and in all respects complete, they know of no reason why this service should not be inaugurated there about the 1st of July. In many reports received the cities applying for this service are found to be without some one or more of the requisites other than the population laid down by the postal authorities to entitle them to free delivery."

When it is known that it is the policy of this most conservative administration to establish the free delivery system in cities which fulfill the requirements of the postoffice department, and to discourage the use of boxes, and when it is known that the postoffice officials rarely commit themselves on any subject, unless their mind in regard to that subject is fully made up, the above may be regarded as almost certainly the intention of the department to establish the free delivery system here. There is hardly a resident of Salem who will not hear this news with satisfaction, and who will not look upon the innovation with great favor. The efforts of Gen. Odell and others toward securing the establishment of the system are strongly commended by the people of this city.

In all probability three carriers will be put on the route, possibly only two. In the event that three are appointed, one will be of the second class, and two of the third; if only two, one will be of the second class and one of the third. The "classes" have reference to salary. Already a number of applications for appointment as carrier have been filed with the postmaster, some of them with long petitions. The postmaster has the power to appoint, subject to the approval of the postmaster general. Of course no action will be taken by Gen. Odell until he has received official notification of the establishment of the free delivery office.

Eleven mail boxes will be placed in various parts of the city, from which the carriers are expected to collect the mail, three or four times a day. The letters and papers will be distributed after the arrival of each mail, including the evening train. More mail boxes will be established as it is seen the city needs them.

Salem can congratulate herself upon the definite prospect of the establishment of a system in vogue only in go-ahead cities.

BOAT LIBERED.—When the steamboat City of Salem landed at her wharf, last night, about 9 o'clock, she was boarded by Deputy U. S. Marshal E. D. Curtis and libeled upon papers issued out of the U. S. circuit court. The captain or owners were ordered to appear in the U. S. court at Portland on the 4th of April. Just what was the immediate cause of the libel could not be learned, but it is a continuation of the trouble between the Capitol Flouring Mills company and Wm. Reid, who are joint owners of the boat. Reid has been running the boat on his own account in the interests of the Portland and Willamette valley narrow gauge railway company, and it is the object of the parties who instigated the seizure of the boat, the Salem steamboat company, to prevent him from so running the boat and converting the profits to his own use. Mr. Reid will be notified of the seizure of the boat to-day, and he will decide what to do in the premises. He probably will give bonds, and secure his temporary release. Unless a satisfactory adjustment of the trouble is made, the boat will be sold to the highest bidder. D. L. Green was placed in charge of the boat by Deputy Curtis.

ARTICLES FILED.—Articles have been filed in the office of the secretary of state incorporating the Sellwood and Vancouver Railway company; capital stock, $400,000; place of business, Portland; incorporators, T. A. Wood, J. C. Moreland, and J. W. Cress. The principal object of this incorporation is to build and equip a railroad from Sellwood, in Clackamas county, through East Portland, to a point on the Columbia opposite Vancouver; also, to take contracts for furnishing electric lights in Milwaukie, East Portland, and Albina; besides other powers.

GOOD SHOWING.—The condition of the Capital National bank, as shown by the statement published in another column, is creditable, both to the management of that institution and to the prosperity of the city. The Capital National has now been in business for about fifteen months, and their business shows a steady increase, which is an indication of the growth of the city as well as of the popularity of the bank.

CANCER REMOVED.—Dr. H. Carpenter, assisted by Dr. Wade, yesterday removed a cancer from the face of Harrison Baker, of Turner. The cancer was growing near the left eye, and would in time have destroyed the sight of one eye. Cocaine was applied, and the operation made as painless as possible. Mr. Baker will soon recover from the effects of the operation.

MORE REAL ESTATE.—Among the new bargains which Hendricks & Saubert, real estate agents, offer, is the Dan Clark place. This is one of the finest farms in Marion county, and very cheap at $8,000, the price at which it is offered. It would not be offered at any such price, except that the affairs of the estate must be settled up.

PLEASANT SURPRISE.—The W. C. T. U. are preparing a new departure for next Wednesday night, literary and musical exercises, and a debate by ladies and gentlemen. Also refreshments. Keep a sharp lookout for the programme.

A. A. GENERAL.—Gov. Penoyer yesterday commissioned S. White, of Grant's Pass, to be assistant adjutant general on the staff of Brigadier General J. M. Siglin, of the first brigade, O. S. M., with the rank of major.

BROUGHT TO LIMERICK.—The STATESMAN had a subscriber at East Portland who owed $19.50 for subscription to the Weekly. He was respectfully reminded of the fact of his delinquency, and asked to remit. He did not respond until pressed, and then he flatly refused to pay. The account was put into the hands of Col. S. R. Harrington, who represented Multnomah county in the last legislature, with power to sue, and suit was brought at once. The refractory subscriber was brought to "limerick," and he paid the full amount of his bill, together with the costs of the action. Had this effort to bring the wayward brother to time failed, he would have been arrested on the charge of larceny, and allowed to defend himself before the proper authorities of the United States. It is a crime to take papers from the postoffice, and then refuse to pay for them. This paper will not be forced upon any one, and it will go a good way to get what is due it. If a man is not able to pay, and does not deny his bill, that is another question.

RELEASED.—On Monday, one John Kelly, of this city, who was under bonds upon a charge of perjury, in the U. S. circuit court, was delivered up by his bondsmen. Kelly was taken down to Portland yesterday morning, by Deputy U. S. Marshal Harbord. About two years ago Kelly was held to answer for perjury, a man known as "One-eyed Riley," who was on trial for selling liquor to Indians, having charged him with testifying falsely in the case. This was during District Attorney Watson's term. In the official documents turned over to District Attorney McArthur, there was nothing concerning Kelly, and it is supposed the papers in his case dropped on the floor during the shuffle. Upon motion of Mr. McArthur, Judge Deady ordered the prisoner to be released on his own recognizance.

NEW APPOINTMENTS.—The board of swamp land commissioners at its last meeting appointed a number of new attorneys for the board, as follows: G. W. Wright, Morrow county; B. Killin, Multnomah county; Thos. Fitzgerald, Umattilla county; J. W. Hamilton, Douglas county; J. W. Hamaker, Clackamas county. The gentlemen who have in the past officiated in the capacity as attorneys for the board, and who are displaced by these new appointments, are as follows: W. R. Ellis, Morrow county; O. F. Paxton, Multnomah county; J. J. Balleray, Umattilla county; W. K. Willis, Douglas county. The attorneyship in Clackamas county is a new one.

SAUNDERS BROUGHT BACK.—Deputy Sheriff Potter yesterday morning returned from Albany with Capt. W. Wirt Saunders, and placed him in his cell here. Saunders is highly gratified over the change of venue which he secured, and is now satisfied that he will secure a fair trial, and that the result will be acquittal for him. The people of Albany are indignant that a change of venue was granted, and that the additional cost of the trial will have to be paid by them. The talk of lynching Saunders, indulged in by a few bums of Albany, was ridiculous, and the fears of the officers of Linn county that the jail would be mobbed were evidently groundless.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—Tuesday evening Mac Reynolds and Al. Hornbuckle, and yesterday W. M. Randle, living near Swartz's mill, were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Croisan, charged with assault on Abel Goulding. The first two were up before Justice Payne yesterday morning, when Reynolds pleaded guilty, and was fined $5 and costs amounting in all to $21.00. Hornbuckle was tried in the afternoon and discharged. Randle was arraigned in the afternoon, and he pleaded guilty, and was fined $5 and costs. Reynolds and Randle will be in jail for the next ten days, in default of payment of fines.

PERSONAL.—Hon. W. Lair Hill, of Oakland, California, but formerly a resident of The Dalles, is in the city, securing copies of the laws passed at the late session of the legislature, for his new revised code of Oregon, which will appear in a few days. Mr. Hill's law partner in Oakland is Wm. R. Davis, who was elected mayor of that city on Monday, by 2701 votes, over Martin, American-party candidate, 1357, and Hayes, democrat, 2009. Mr. Davis is a republican. Mr. Hill will return to Oakland in a few days.

THE WHEAT MARKET.—Wheat was yesterday quoted at 72 cents, a rise of two cents over last week. The mill company has been shut down for some time, owing to high water, and there is no prospect of its being able to start up again inside of a week or ten days. The supply of feed has almost run out. The river rose a little yesterday, and was 12.6 feet above low-water mark. This warm weather has had the effect of melting a great part of the remaining snow in the foothills, and the consequence is a rise in the river.

RESIGNATION OF REV. MR. CHAMBERS.—The Rev. J. Taylor Chambers, for nearly nine years rector of St. Paul's parish, in this city, on the 7th inst., handed to the wardens and vestrymen of said parish, his resignation, to take effect April 15th, Easter week. It is understood Mr. Chambers will return east. The members of the Episcopal church will deeply regret Mr. Chambers' departure, as he is an able minister and an efficient pastor.

SAD ACCIDENT.—About four o'clock Saturday the three-year-old daughter of Wm. Smith, who lives on Long Tom, about fourteen miles south of Corvallis, was fatally burned by her clothes igniting from the fireplace. Her mother was out at the time and the hired man hearing the child's screams, ran to the house and found her horribly burned about the body and head. She lived until eleven that night, when she expired.

NORTHERN PACIFIC DELAYED TRAINS.—J. M. Buckley, assistant superintendent of the Northern Pacific, who was in the city yesterday, received a letter from Helena that the road was clear, east and west, through. Two trains left Helena for Portland, the first at 10:30 a. m. and the second an hour later. The first had 150 emigrants and 65 first-class passengers, and the second nearly as many. They will come as special from Wallula to Portland, and ought to arrive here Thursday night about 11 o'clock.—(Oregonian.)

An Interesting and Brilliant Social Event of San Francisco—A Salem Girl.

The family of F. Levy of this city returned home yesterday from San Francisco, where they witnessed the wedding of their daughter, Miss Bertha Levy, to Mose Wolf, on March 9. The bride has countless friends in Salem, and other parts of Oregon, who will read the following account of the event, taken from the San Francisco Daily Examiner, with interest:

The marriage of Miss Bertha Levy, niece of E. Raas, the well-known merchant, and Mose Wolf, a prominent merchant of Hueneme, Ventura county, took place in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives in Saratoga Hall on Geary street, near Larkin, last night. Never before has the hall and all its complete apartments looked so well. The Messrs. Schleicher spared no pains in the ornamentation, and the result was that the decorations were most beautiful. From the sidewalk, up the broad staircase, through the halls upstairs and down, the parlors, reception and dressing rooms, snowy canvass was laid. The hall ways were lined with huge stands of tropical palms and glossy-leaved cacti. The guests, on arriving, were ushered down this broad avenue of tropical luxuriance and found themselves, after ridding themselves of hats and wraps, in the spacious double parlors, in one of which the ceremony took place. The rooms were profusely decorated with pots and stands of nearly every conceivable exotic and hothouse production, placed about the apartments, in the window recesses and alcoves. The chandeliers were covered with sprays of maiden's hair ferns, which was festooned from one to the other. A delicate tracery of smilax, dotted here and there with the sweet-scented flowers, adorned the wainscoting. The great mirror at the head of the room was banked with an endless variety of hothouse plants and flowers. Directly in front of it and between it and the folding doors was suspended the beautiful marriage bell of heliotrope, jessamine, tube roses, camellias, tea buds and maiden's hair. Upstairs in the ballroom the decorations were as elaborate and beautiful.

Shortly before 9 o'clock the Rev. D. Vorsanger of Temple Emanuel took up his station beneath the marriage bell. The orchestra, stationed in the hall, then began the rendition of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." As the melodious notes swelled forth in all their grandeur, and the hundred of brilliant lights twinkled gayly, the wedding party entered the parlors and proceeded to greet the reverend doctor. First came little Miss Alice Raas and Miss Levy, sister of the bride; then little Miss Renee Roth and another little sister of the bride, and little Miss Roth and Miss Mamie Raas. The bride leaning on the arm of her father, came next and then the groom escorting the bride's mother. Following them was Mrs. Daniel Roth escorted by Mr. E. Raas, and Mrs. Raas and Mr. Roth. Next came Miss Palmyre Levy, sister of the bride, and Mr. Joseph Leove; Miss Nettie Loewe and Mr. Charles Blum, and Miss Florence Blum and Mr. Abe Blum.

After the impressive ceremony of the Jewish faith had been consummated, congratulations followed and the good wishes of friends and relatives poured in upon the happy couple. Dancing was then inaugurated and continued in all its merment until supper was announced.

About 12 o'clock a most elaborate supper, prepared by Cadenau, was served in the spacious dining hall, which was elegantly decorated for the occasion with the most beautiful flowers and foliage.

During the service of the supper numerous speeches were made and toasts proposed to the health and happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Wolf; responded to with sparkling wine. A half a hundred telegrams of congratulations were read. At the conclusion of the supper dancing was resumed and continued until a late hour. The wedding presents were numerous, elegant and costly. They included an elegant necklace of diamonds, the gift of the groom, with which he adorned his bride after they were married.

The dresses worn by the bridal party and by the guests were most elegant, and clearly demonstrated the artistic skill of their designers.

The bride was elegantly attired in white faille francaise with court train. The bodice, which was elaborately trimmed with point lace, tulle and orange blossoms, was cut with high neck and elbow sleeves, which were also trimmed with lace and orange blossoms. Her hair was dressed a la Russian bang, and she wore a wreath of orange blossoms. In her hand she carried a lovely bouquet of orange blossoms sent from Los Angeles, tied with long streamers of white ribbon. Her gloves were long white undressed kid.

Mrs. Levy, mother of the bride, was modestly attired in a beautiful black satin trimmed with point lace and jets. Ornaments, diamonds. Miss Palmyre Levy, a sister, wore a handsome light blue sarah covered with embroidered silk mill, with baby waist also trimmed with mail, and sleeveless. She carried a bouquet of pink roses tied with blue ribbons, and wore long tan-colored gloves. Hair, Russian bang, no ornaments.

Then follows a description of the costumes and a list of the guests, almost two hundred in number. The menu of the wedding supper also appears in the same notice of the wedding, which in all copies over a column of the Daily Examiner.

CAN DO IT AGAIN.—At their last meeting, the board of swamp-land commissioners was presented by Mr. S. A. Clarke with a box of prunes raised on his farm south of town. The board unanimously passed a resolution that Mr. Clarke be allowed to furnish the board with a box of his prunes at every meeting, which Mr. Clarke will doubtless deem a great privilege.

PORT'S DRUG STORE.—Every one says the best place to have prescriptions filled is at Port's drug store, 100 State street. Their stock of chemically pure drugs is always complete in every respect.
