

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

April 7. President Cleveland feels pretty well himself. A railroad will be constructed from Cal- to Herat. The Haddock murder trial in Sioux City is attracting much public attention. Mike Brennan, a San Francisco giant, is the latest man who aspires to lick John L. Sullivan. They will build a road from Yreka, Cal., ten miles, to connect with the C. & O. railroad. The Marple trial is in progress at Lafayette, Yamhill county. The evidence is purely circumstantial. The new Rhode Island legislature will be republican, although the democrats have carried the state offices. Logan's book, the "Volunteer Soldiers of America," will soon be issued, and, it is said, is destined to create a sensation. Hereafter in Pennsylvania condemned men may die by electricity, if they so choose. They can "pay their money and take their choice," as it were. The president proposes to use the regulatory club placed in his hands by congress for the protection of American fishermen, if it becomes necessary. And now come the theatrical men and want a suspension of the interstate commerce law, in so far as it affects their interests. It could be easily suspended out of existence entirely. Powderly is jubilant over the defeat of the anarchists in Chicago. He does not think that the Knights of Labor should countenance any such doctrines as are held by the followers of the red flag. Jefferson Davis made a speech at the unveiling of the statue of Albert Sidney Johnston at New Orleans, on the 6th. President Cleveland wrote a letter stating that he could not be present, owing to engrossing official duties. The Palms will at Detroit, has been set aside. The will gave $7,000,000 in trust to his two children, to be held in trust for their children. Judge Jennings holds that the statutes are against controlling fortunes from the grave from generation to generation. April 8. California is having a railroad boom. There is a scarcity of sailors at San Francisco. The prohibitionists claim fraud in the Michigan elections. It is said the Canadian government will adhere strictly to its former policy in the fisheries matter. The firing on the American schooner by the Canadians has caused great excitement on the eastern seaboard. The City of Peking has been given a clean bill of health and was to have been docked yesterday at San Francisco. The inspectors report themselves as well pleased with the new steel cruisers being built for "Uncle Sam's navy." Charles A. Dana, of the New York Sun, don't think New York's delegation will be for Cleveland in the next convention. The general feeling among those interested is that the interstate commerce law will be knocked into a cocked hat within sixty days. S. W. Morris, one of the Jeannette Arctic survivors, was killed Thursday near Des Moines, by an accidental discharge of a gun while hunting. F. L. Copen, who predicted the Charleston earthquake, says there will be another strong earthquake period from April 7th to the 17th, the critical days being from the 10th to the 13th. Cleveland has written a letter to the American Fishermen's union of Massachusetts, regarding retaliation for offenses of Canadian authorities, and recommends caution, and that no hasty action be taken by the fishermen in the matter. HUNTING THE OSTRICH. That portion of the bird family of which the ostrich is the leading type, is remarkable for the manner in which its different members are scattered about. The ostrich itself spreads nearly over the whole of the deserts of Africa. The casowary, with its horny helmet represents it amid the luxuriant vegetation of Malacca and Java. The dinornis was once a grand representative towering among the ferns of New Zealand. The emu is another member of the family confined to the Australian continent, and the rhea to the southern extremity of the western hemisphere. With the Arabs of the desert the chase and capture of the ostrich is the most attractive and aristocratic of the many diversions in which they indulge. The first thing attended to when a hunt is contemplated is the preparation of the horns. They are entirely deprived of grass and fed on barley for seven or eight days before the intended hunt. They are allowed to drink only once a day, and that at sunset; at that time they are also washed. They take long exercises, and great attention is given to the arrangement of the harness. The Arabs say that after seven or eight days the stomach of the horse disappears, while the chest, the breast, and the crop remain in flesh. The animal is then in condition to endure fatigue. The training is called teach. The harness used in this hunting is much lighter than that in ordinary use, especially the saddle and the stirrups, and the martingale is dispensed with. The bridle also undergoes many changes, the mounting and earflaps being taken away, as they are considered too heavy. The bit and frontlet are made of rope without throatband, and the reins, though very strong, are extremely light. The time most favorable for ostrich hunting is when there is the greatest heat. The higher the temperature the less is the ostrich able to defend itself. TIME--3 A. M. Mrs. Jollyboy--Where on earth have you been? Mr. J.--I cannot tell a lie. I've been at m' office. Mrs. J.--That's where we differ. I can tell a lie--when I hear one. (Cruel silence, during which something is heard drop.--[Harvard Lampoon.

AN UNSAVORY PAST.

New York, March 31.--S. F. Bulletin Special.--The attempt to obtain a dismissal on Tuesday of an indictment in 1854 against William Kissane has recalled a host of reminiscences of Kissane, who was known to the police and criminal court officials of thirty years ago as one of the most noted criminals of that day. John Sparks, the veteran clerk of the general sessions, who has been connected with the court for nearly thirty years, remembers Kissane well. A memorable scene occurred when Kissane was taken before Recorder Tilton for sentence. Kissane and his companion, Lyman Cole, were dangerous forgers, and several banks had lost large sums by their forgeries. The recorder made up his mind to sentence Kissane to five years in the state prison. Kissane was young, had received a good education and was remarkably bright. He rose and began an impassioned address to the recorder. He told of his careful training at home and said he had been educated to do right, but had been led astray upon coming to this city and had been concerned in the commission of some of these acts. He said that it was his first crime and that he would never be guilty of another. He spoke so feelingly his hearers were convinced of his sincerity, and the recorder changed his purpose and sentenced Kissane to imprisonment for only two years and six months. General Francis Dorr, who says he recognized Kissane in the person of a well-known and wealthy resident of San Francisco, was well known in New York until five years ago, when he went to California. He remembers young Kissane, because he knew the Kissanes when they were boys living in a town near Cincinnati. Kissane was known as rather a wild young man. The factory owned by Elder Dorr was burned one night, and as there was little insurance the loss was a great one and the Dorr family was financially ruined. Young Kissane was seen near the building shortly before it was burned, and from the rivalry between the families he was suspected of setting the place on fire, and General Dorr has retained his enmity, based on that suspicion. The Chemical National bank is one of the banks which lost several thousand dollars by the operations of a gang of forgers, of which Kissane and Lyman Cole were the most noted members. Officers of the bank have received letters from General Dorr, and they know the name under which, it is alleged, Kissane is now living in San Francisco. One of the officers of the bank, Mr. Parsons, was paying teller in 1854, and he paid the forged check by which the bank was defrauded. He has said he would know Kissane anywhere and under any disguise. Neither Mr. Parsons nor other officers of the bank were willing to give the name under which Kissane, according to the statement of General Dorr, is now living. Among other offenses it is believed by some persons that many years ago Kissane had a part in the burning of the steamer Martha Washington on the Ohio river. The steamer was loaded with boxes that were represented as containing valuable goods, but which really contained little of any value. The steamer and cargo were insured for a large amount, and after the steamer had begun its trip the fire broke out. Many passengers lost their lives and the affair caused great excitement, especially when it was believed the steamer was deliberately set on fire. ALL SORTS OF ITEMS. A tussle with a boarding-house steak is now called a "bull-fight." Fishing smacks are now used in angling for a husband.--[Burlington Free Press. Don't be mulish. Never kick simply because people talk behind your back. Compliments to tailors ought as a rule to come under the head of fitting tributes.--[Merchant Traveler. A man without brains frequently has the most imposing headstone when he is dead.--[N. O. Picayune. If the better part of valor is discretion, it might be well to send discretion out to talk pretty to a burglar.--[N. Y. Journal. The man who with meek resignation permits himself to be henpecked is a sort of conquered philosopher.--[Dry Goods Chronicle. Amateur performances are permissible during Lent. Strictly speaking, they do not come under the head of amusements.--[N. O. Picayune. Way out in prohibition Kansas there is a traveling dramatic company playing Ten Nights in a Drug Store with great success.--[Philadelphia Record. Once in a while it is well to remember that a crown will not cure a headache any more than a golden slipper will the gout.--[Shoe and Leather Reporter. At the restaurant.--Waiter--I beg pardon, Mr. Brown, but you don't order such dinners as your boys. Mr. Brown--Umph! My father isn't as rich as theirs. Fogg says he is at a loss to determine which is the crookedest thing in nature, a ram's horn, a ward politician or the rim of a woman's hat.--[Boston Transcript. If the supreme court declares the Interstate railroad commission unconstitutional, it will probably be because it violates the anti-cooley act.--[Boston Transcript. When John Sherman learned that the "no fence" law was in force in Carolina, he declined to stop and pushed on to Charleston.--Greenborough N. C., North Star. It is hard to convince the man who has been luxuriating in free railroad passes that the interstate commerce bill was a wise piece of legislation.--[Boston Transcript. Some of the railroad companies think of sending the interstate commerce bill to Robert Browning, and asking him to put it into poetry, in order to make it more lucid.--[Springfield Union. Virtuous Indignation.--[Shocking unprincipled lot, those 'bus conductors! One of them passed a bad sixpence on me a fortnight ago, confound him! I've not been able to get rid of it yet!--[London Punch. STAYTON SWISS, California, new cream and White river new cheese at Squire Farrar & Co's.

BILL NYE.

What shall we say of the newspaper man who sleeps all the forenoon in order that he may dawdle about the office of a morning paper all night, thinking thoughts and penciling them off for the public, or pawing around over a wad of "manifold" and writing startling heads to dull telegrams half the night, while his wife, who has taken time by the forelock and done her work during daylight, is in bed? I know that there are men who have been connected with journalism for years who maintain that it is not a habit, but that with them it is absolutely necessary. For this reason I consulted Mr. James Miggleson, of Ashville, who edits the Daily Jimplectuc, a morning paper of this place, and learned from him that it is not necessary to sit up nights in order to run a morning paper. So the wives and mothers of morning journalists and printers of New York should not longer be deceived by this time-honored fraud upon their trusting natures. Mr. Miggleson says that a rattling good morning paper can be worked off the press by supper-time, and the evening reserved for social intercourse. And yet, I know a pale, studious newspaper man, with silver in his hair, a man in whose mouth butter would scarcely melt, who has, for twenty years and more, bamboozled his trusting wife and grown-up son with this transparent fraud. He told me only a short time ago, with genuine pathos, that the first time he had seen his own son by daylight was last fall. He said that his son came of age last October, and through the courtesy of a mutual friend (his mother) he had the pleasure of meeting him on election day, and forming an acquaintance which he says may yet ripen into a strong friendship. I have another acquaintance who assists in editing a morning newspaper, but he does not believe in allowing his children to utterly forget him. He does not want his boys to think that they are orphans just because he is not always at home. He is a man of very strong will and a strict disciplinarian. So he gets a holiday every two weeks in order to go home and do up his punishing. One time he found that his eldest or oldest son--I do not know which, because I am away from home without my library--had violated the rules of the house in a sad manner. As near as I am able to come at the facts, the boy had taken a quart of corn and sewed a long thread through each kernel, showing great patience and perseverance in so doing. He then tied the ends of the threads all together into one knot and scattered the corn where a large flock of geese had been in the habit of associating and pooling for mutual profit and improvement. A man who came along that way about dusk, said he saw about thirty geese standing around in a circle looking reproachfully at each other, and trying to agree on some method by which they could go home together without turning a part of their crowd wrong side out, while behind a high board fence there was a boy who seemed to be enjoying himself in a small way. The incident was reported to the boy's father, who came home and placed his son under a large drygoods box in the cellar, after which he piled three hundred or four hundred pounds of coal on top of the inverted box. He then made a few remarks for the boy's good which were followed by the smothered remark: "Rats!" from the inside of the box. After ordering that the box should not be disturbed till his return, my friend put on his coat and went back to work. This was just as the returns began to return in the autumn of '84. My friend did not go home for two weeks and forgot all about the boy till it came time for him to do up his punishment for the fortnight. When the truth flashed over him he was filled with the keenest remorse, and went home as soon as he had sent in the last proof, but when he went down the cellar he found the box empty, and the following note written with a pencil: "Dear Paw do not weep for me I have went away from my happy home where I was onct so gay and free do Not assassinate maw becuz she Pride up the box with a stick Of cord-wood yesterday and fed Me she left the box so I could Bust 4th I am gone Far Far away do not weep for me it is better for me and you to be Apart I like being Apart a Good deal better I think I will take a ham and gar of preserves of which I am passionately fond but I will Renumerate you some Day as heaven is my jug so No moar at Present from your prodigle Son Henry."--[New York World. INQUIRE WITHIN. "Husband in?" asked the assessor, cheerfully. "No," answered the woman, "he isn't home." "Expecting him soon?" asked the assessor. "Well," the woman replied thoughtfully, "I don't know exactly; I've been lookin' for him seventeen years, and he hasn't shown up yet. You travel around a good deal and if you see a man who looks as though he'd make me a pretty good husband, tell him I'm still awaitin' and send him along. How's your wife?" But the assessor wrote something in his book, and without speaking ill softly away, with the cautious haste of a man walking over a thin place in ice.--[Burdette. PRACTICAL PALMISTRY. Maud--"Oh! I just dote on palmistry. I've been studying it for a week, and I can tell any one's fortune now." Augustus--"Well, tell mine, please?" "Well, let me see, this is the life line, or the other one there is, but I guess it don't much matter, they look a good deal alike, anyhow--yes, now I see. You are to meet some one who will be awfully in love with you, but she will die an old maid. Oh! you'll go through life just the way you have been doing, never seeing beyond your nose." "But why will she die an old maid?" "Because you won't have sense enough to ask her to marry you, that is why." Stayton Swiss, California, new cream and White river new cheese at Squire Farrar & Co's.

WINE IN WASHINGTON.

"No, we don't offer wine to callers any more," said a bright society girl the other day. "We southerners don't feel as you do, you know, and we have always had light wines on our table, but this season we really had to stop it. Why, I have heard such dreadful things. Girls of my acquaintance--nice girls, too--have gone home from some of these receptions almost--yes, really, isn't it frightful? It was bad enough for the young men to drink so, but things are getting worse and worse. Yes, the foreign drinks are the worst; they go to your head so, don't you know, and it takes the least little bit to affect a girl when she isn't used to it. The gentlemen torment them so, too. Why, last summer, at the springs, mamma had her hands full with three of us, I can tell you. They had wine all day long at the Germans and wine suppers at night. We never went to the suppers, but the gentlemen used to tease us at the evening hops until we took wine to get rid of them. Mamma shook her head at us until her neck was stiff. Some of the gentlemen held fans in front of the girls' faces so that their mothers couldn't see them. No, I'm glad to say I wasn't that mean. But when the girls saw how things were going this winter we thought mamma hadn't been a bit too strict. Yes, it's dreadfully hard to refuse sometimes. People think you are queer, you know. There, I must pour some tea for Mrs. Jones. Horrid weather, isn't it? Be sure and come again before we go. Yes, we go week after next.--Good-by."--[Corr. N. Y. Sun. TOO DIGNIFIED BY HALF. Writing lines is the penance Harrow boys do for all their sins, both in and out of school. If a boy is late at school he writes lines, if he misses "bill" he writes lines. If the lines are not finished at a stated time the number is doubled. There was one clever boy who escaped writing half of the ordered quantity, and the masters tell the story of how he did it to this day. He was an untidy boy and was often taken to task for his carelessness and disorder. One day his master, who had very dignified and impressive manners, and who always said "we" instead of "you" when talking to the boys, found occasion to reprove him. "We do not look very clean," he said, with much severity. "We have not washed our hands this morning. Have we?" "I don't know about yours," was the impudent boy's answer, "but I've washed mine." "Ah!" said the master, "we are very impertinent to-day. We will have to write a hundred lines before the next 'bill.'" When "bill" time came, the master sent for the boy. "Have we written our lines?" he asked. "I've written my fifty," the boy answered very promptly, handing in his paper; "but I don't know whether you've done your half?"--St. Nicholas. FREAKS OF FASHION. A decided innovation is to have, between the dress waist and the lining, sachet powder; in fact, the whole waist of the dress serves as one large sachet. While this may make the dress a little heavier, and consequently add to its warmth, it is just what is needed for winter weather. Evening dresses are also treated in this way. Violet seems to be the favorite odor. The other day I attended a performance of opera at the Metropolitan opera house. I noticed several young ladies took tiny silver boxes from their pockets occasionally and bent over them. What did they mean? I thought they looked like a diminutive snuffbox. Can it be possible that the habit of taking snuff is to be revived? And by our prettiest girls, too; but they were not taking snuff as they bent over their pretty silver boxes. They were candy, bonbonnières, and held either candy, sugared flag root, or lozage. Girls all like candies, and a pretty receptacle for this luxury is duly appreciated by the dear girls that never enjoy anything of an entertainment where they can't crunch candy. But these little bonbonnières are very useful at times. Even belles occasionally eat onions or some other article of food with an exceptional odor, and cautious, or in cases of a cold, troches may be carried in these tiny silver receptacles. They also serve as a novel, and not too expensive, gift to one another. ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS. Maggie.--1. No; a yellow satin is not suitable for street wear unless you have it dyed. 2. You should always ring the doorbell when visiting, and not use the passkey. A, B, C.--Trim your velvet skirt with flounces of white Hamburg edging, and slit the waist up the back, so it can be buttoned in front. Regular Subscriber.--1. Certainly not. 2. Of course. 3. Not much. 4. Yes. 5. No. 6. Usually. Daisy.--White chalk is good for red elbows; also stove polish. If we were you, we would have the graduating dress made with sleeves to come to the wrist. This would prevent red elbows from attracting attention. Clara B.--Sash ribbons should be a yard wide and all wool. We do not answer impertinent questions by mail.--Life. CRUEL WORDS. "Jack!" "Yes, dearest." "Why did you not take me to the last ball as you promised?" "Because--because." "Because my cruel words on the evening before stung your proud nature?" "Yes; that was it." "Ah, forgive me. I know not what I said when I told you that your clothes were out of style." "It was not that." "Not that? You could not have mistaken me--you must have known I was jesting when I said I loved another." "Yes, I knew you still loved me." "What, then, was it that so hurt you?" "Your lightly spoken remark that you wouldn't think of appearing in public without Marshal Neil roses."--[Merchant Traveler. TYPHOID. Scarlet and Yellow Fever, Measles, Diphtheria, Small-pox, Cholera, &c. Darby's Prophylactic Fluid will destroy the infection of all fevers and all contagious and infectious diseases. Will keep the atmosphere of any sick-room pure and wholesome, absorbing and destroying all unhealthy effluvia and miasms resulting therefrom. Will neutralize any bad smell whatever, not by disguising it, but by destroying it. Use Darby's Prophylactic Fluid in every sick-room. Having in our official capacity as members of the Plymouth Hospital Committee been asked to test and prove the effectiveness of many different articles used as disinfectants in sickrooms and as preventatives of infectious fevers, report that Darby's Prophylactic Fluid has been honorably tested during the recent typhoid epidemic in this place. It proved most efficacious in staying the spread of the fever. F. H. ARMSTRONG, S. M. DAVENPORT, CHAS. W. LANCE, J. M. LANCE, THOS. KEAR, JAMES LEE, JR. Will you suffer with Dyspepsia and liver complaint? Darby's Visalizer is guaranteed to cure you. Port & Son, agents.

HEPPER SOCIETY NOTES.

[From the Hepper Gazette.] The engagement of Frank Bigby and Pudd Shockey is off. Pudd said she'd "be darned if she'd hitch to any onery cuss that couldn't hustle up enough money to buy a license." Hank Taylor's girls propose to corral the new school-teacher, out at Sheep Herder's Delight. The old man came to town Saturday, and returned with a set of croquet, half a case of corsets and a mortgage on his ranche. A very interesting drive whist party was given at Matlock's saloon Saturday night. Four shepherders from Butter creek refused to pay for the drinks after amusing themselves at Hoyle's famous game, and the gentlemanly proprietor drove them out with a juniper club. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Myers of Seven-up, celebrated their wedding last week. The presents included two washing-boards, seven oyster cans and a bran new coffee pot. All the elite of Seven-up were present, as well as a good many who are not so elite as they might be. Mrs. Jim Turpin gave a red-hot conversation in the back-yard of her residence on Sheep Flat Tuesday afternoon. The event was in honor of the arrival of her husband, who had been loafing at the saloons all afternoon, and was enjoyed by all the neighbors within a radius of three blocks. There will be a grand rattle for the benefit of Joe Levison, at the school house in Happy Hollow, next Saturday night. Joe is a sick sheepherder, and his friends have contributed a number of valuable articles to be drawn by chance. Al. Slawson, with his usual generosity, has given a fine keno lay-out, and Jerry Coldwell has come to the front with an ivory handled revolver. There is a great demand for tickets. Heppner's streets have been gay this week with groups of highly colored and gorgeously clad Indians. The women and girls wear their blankets this year with the stripes running from head to foot, and the broader the stripe the greater the style. Bustles are not worn this far back from the river, as they interfere with the ladies' movements in digging cowse. They much prefer the airy drapery of the Greeks to the stuffy innovations of recent years. ADVICE TO MOTHERS. Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of the Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children's Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children's Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best physicians in the world. Address: Dr. J. C. Winslow, Boston Medical Co., Piqua, O. Sold by Geo. E. Good. CURE FOR PILES. Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, tenderness of the stomach, etc. A moisture, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is common attendant. Blood, bleeding and hemorrhoids, morbid, all nervous disorders and debility, bilious complaints, and all diseases indicating an impure condition of the blood, liver, kidneys, stomach, etc. It corrects indigestion, cures the piles, the complaint is such, exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the vigor of the brain and nervous system. HOW TO SECURE HEALTH. Scovill's Sarsaparilla and Stillinger's Blood and Liver Syrup will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It is, indeed, a strengthening, invigorating, and refreshing agent, often proven itself to be the best blood purifier ever discovered, effectually curing scrofula, syphilitic disorders, weakness of the kidneys, erysipelas, morbid humors, and all diseases of debility, bilious complaints, and all diseases indicating an impure condition of the blood, liver, kidneys, stomach, etc. It corrects indigestion, cures the piles, the complaint is such, exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the vigor of the brain and nervous system. WHY WOULD YOU DIE? Scovill's Sarsaparilla or Blood and Liver Syrup for the cure of Scrofulous taint, Rheumatism, White Swelling, Gout, Gravel, Consumption, Bronchitis, Nervous debility, Maria, and all other diseases arising from an impure condition of the blood. Certificates can be presented from many leading physicians, ministers, and honorable families throughout the land, endorsing Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup. We are constantly in receipt of certificates of cures from the most reliable sources, and we recommend it as the best known remedy for the cure of the above named diseases. INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS. Hon. Edward A. Moore, Member of Assembly from Richmond county, New York, writes: "Some two years ago I was taken with inflammation of the kidneys. The pain was intense, I applied as soon as possible an Allcock's Porus Plaster over each kidney. Wonderful to say the pain and inflammation began to abate in three hours. In two days I was entirely cured. I always take great pleasure in recommending Allcock's Plasters; they are certainly the best external remedy known. I used them as chest protectors, and found them most efficient. RELIABLE AND ALWAYS THE SAME. Brandreth's Pills are the oldest, safest, and best blood purifier and purgative known. They are purely vegetable therefore harmless. They are equally effective in all cases, produce the same effect. Other purgatives require increased doses and finally cease acting altogether. A course of one or two of Brandreth's Pills taken each night is a positive cure for constipation, headache and bilious disorders. If you can't take them plain get them sugar-coated. A LITTLE LEAVEN leaveneth the whole lump. A disease in one part of the body will eventually fill the whole body with disease. Every year some part of the system grows weak and begins to decay. Such parts should be removed at once and new matter be allowed to take its place. There is no need of cutting it out with a surgeon's scalpel. Purge out the old, diseased and worn out part with Brandreth's Pills. Then the new body will take care of itself. TYPHOID. Scarlet and Yellow Fever, Measles, Diphtheria, Small-pox, Cholera, &c. Darby's Prophylactic Fluid will destroy the infection of all fevers and all contagious and infectious diseases. Will keep the atmosphere of any sick-room pure and wholesome, absorbing and destroying all unhealthy effluvia and miasms resulting therefrom. Will neutralize any bad smell whatever, not by disguising it, but by destroying it. Use Darby's Prophylactic Fluid in every sick-room. Having in our official capacity as members of the Plymouth Hospital Committee been asked to test and prove the effectiveness of many different articles used as disinfectants in sickrooms and as preventatives of infectious fevers, report that Darby's Prophylactic Fluid has been honorably tested during the recent typhoid epidemic in this place. It proved most efficacious in staying the spread of the fever. F. H. ARMSTRONG, S. M. DAVENPORT, CHAS. W. LANCE, J. M. LANCE, THOS. KEAR, JAMES LEE, JR. Will you suffer with Dyspepsia and liver complaint? Darby's Visalizer is guaranteed to cure you. Port & Son, agents.

SKIN AND SCALP

Cleaned, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies. For cleansing the Skin and Scalp of Disfiguring Humors, for allaying Itching, Burning and Inflammation, for curing the most obstinate cases of Eczema, Psoriasis, Milk Crust, Scald Head, Scrofula, and other inherited Skin and Blood Diseases, CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, are infallible. A COMPLETE CURE. I have suffered all my life with skin disease of different kinds and have never found permanent relief, until, by the advice of a lady friend I used your valuable CUTICURA REMEDIES. I gave them a thorough trial, using six bottles of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA and seven cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and the result was just what I had been told it would be--a complete cure. BELLE WADE, Richmond, Va. Reference, G. W. Latimer, Druggist, Richmond. SALT HERUM CURED. I was troubled with Salt Herum for a number of years, so that the skin entirely came off one of my hands from the finger tips to the wrist. I tried remedies and doctors' prescriptions to no purpose until I commenced taking CUTICURA REMEDIES and now I am entirely cured. E. T. FARRER, 379 Northampton St., Boston. DRUGGISTS ENDORSE THEM. Have sold a quantity of your Cuticura Remedies. One of my customers, Mrs. Henry Kintz, who had tetter on her hands to such an extent as to cause the skin to peel off, and for eight years she suffered greatly, was completely cured by the use of your medicines. C. N. NYE, Drug list, Canton, Ohio. ITCHING, SCALY, PIMPLY. For the last year I have had a species of itching scaly and pimply humors on my face to which I have applied a great many methods of treatment without success, and which was speedily and entirely cured by CUTICURA. MRS. ISAAC PHELPS, Ravenna, O. NO MEDICINE LIKE THEM. We have sold your CUTICURA REMEDIES for the last six years, and no medicines on our shelves give better satisfaction. C. F. ATHERTON, Druggist, Albany, N. Y. CUTICURA REMEDIES are sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50 cents; RESOLVENT, $1.00; SOAP, 25 cents. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston, Mass. "Send for How to Cure Skin Diseases." GRUBS, Pimples, Skin Blemishes, and CUTICURA SOAP. CATARRH TO CONSUMPTION. Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives. But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and tasting so affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and irritating cough. Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing. Each package contains one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent, and an improved Inhaler, with treatise; price, $1. Potter Drug & Chemical Co., Boston. KIDNEY PAINS. And that weary, lifeless, all-gone sensation ever present with those of inflamed kidneys, weak back and loins, aching hips and sides, overworked or worn out by disease, or old age, are relieved in one minute and speedily cured by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster, a new, original, elegant and infallible antidote to pain and inflammation. Address: Druggists, 25 etc.; five for $1; or of Potter Drug Co., Boston. TRIED IN THE CRUCIBLE. S. S. S. About twenty years ago I discovered a little sore on my cheek, and the doctors pronounced it cancer. I have tried a number of physicians, but without receiving any permanent benefit. Among the number were one or two specialists. The medicine they applied was like fire to the sore, causing intense pain. I saw a statement in the papers telling what S. S. S. had done for others similarly afflicted. I procured some at once. Before I had used the second bottle the neighbors could notice that my cancer was healing up. My general health had been bad for two or three years--I had a hacking cough and spit blood continually. I had a severe pain in my breast. After taking six bottles of S. S. S. my cough left me and I grew stouter than I had been for several years. My cancer has healed over all but a little spot about the size of a half dime, and it is rapidly disappearing. I would advise every one with cancer to give S. S. S. a fair trial. MRS. NANCY J. McCONAUGHEY, Ash Grove, Tippecanoe Co., Ind. Feb. 16, 1886. Swift's Specific is entirely vegetable, and seems to cure cancers by forcing out the impurities from the blood. Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., DRAWER 3, ATLANTA, GA. GO EAST VIA OREGON SHORT LINE. 11 to 600 miles the shortest and 12 to 48 hours. THE QUICKEST ROUTE TO THE EAST. This popular line on account of its southern location, is especially preferable for travel during the winter months. It also affords an opportunity to visit Salt Lake City, and Denver without extra charge, and gives a choice of routes via Council Bluffs, Omaha, St. Joseph, Leavenworth or Kansas City. Full particulars regarding routes and fares furnished on application. ISAAC A. MANNING, Local Passenger Agent. Office at SEASIDE office, 294 Commercial street, Salem, Oregon. FOR SALE--BEING ABOUT TO REMOVE from this city, I offer for sale 122 acres located on the corner of Church and Union streets in this city. For particulars as to terms etc., apply on the premises. FRANK E. HODGKIN.