WESTERN ENTERPRISE.

A traveler in Kansas, while crossing a prairie, came upon a party of friends who seemed to be preparing the land for agricultural purposes. "My friend," said the traveler, addressing one of the men, "you are laying off your corn rows quite a distance apart." "Corn rows," the man gasped. "Yes, those rows over there." "My stars, stranger!" exclaimed the Kansas man, "is it possible that you ain't heard of it?" "Heard of what?" "Of the boom. Mam alive, them ain't corn rows over there; they air streets, and this here is a city. You air now on the corner of Commercial and Emporium streets, an' not in the check of a corn row, as you mout suppose."—Arkansas Traveler.

PARRISH.—At her residence, on North Capitol street, in Salem, Or., August 10th, 1887, at 9 a. m., of a cancer, Mrs. Jennie L. Parrish. Mrs. Parrish, who was the beloved wife of Rev. J. L. She leaves two young daughters, Josie and Gracie, who, at her request, were taken to Oakland, Cal., and placed in Mills seminary, by Mr. Parrish, about two weeks since. She will be buried in Portland on Saturday, the 13th inst.

SMITH.—In Salem, August 9th, 1887, at 9 o'clock a. m., of a cancer, Mrs. Janet Smith, in the 58th year of her age. Mrs. Smith was born in Jefferson county, New York, on Jan. 13, 1830, and in 1859 emigrated to Oregon shortly after her marriage with J. W. Smith, a well known resident of Salem, who died in 1873. Mrs. Smith had been sick for some time, and suffered much until death came as a welcome relief. She was a woman of highly estimable qualities, and her death will be mourned by many friends. She leaves two sons, Leon and Jay C., and a daughter Bessie. The funeral services will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Congregational church, and will be conducted by Rev. P. S. Knight and Rev. J. W. Harris. Friends of the family invited.

HOBSON.—At his home near Sublimity, Aug. 4, 1887, Hadley Hobson, in his seventy-sixth year. Mr. Hobson was born in North Carolina September 17, 1811; married August 30, 1842; crossed the plains to California in 1847, and the year following came to Oregon and settled on his donation land claim near Sublimity, where he has lived, raised his family, and died, being full of years. He was honest and upright in all his dealings with his fellow man, being generous even to a fault, preferring to suffer pecuniary loss rather than to cause trouble. A short time before his death he remarked that he never sued a man nor never was sued. He died as he had lived, in peace with all men. He leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss. He will be buried near Sublimity, Saturday, August 6th. The procession will leave the house at 9 a. m. McNARY.—At the family residence, in Salem, August 4, 1887, at 11 a. m., of heart disease, Miss Eliza McNary, aged 25 years. The news of Miss McNary's death will cause a pang in many a heart to whom her quiet manners and estimable qualities were known. She took sick about two weeks since, and despite the most careful attendance, gradually sank until yesterday morning, when she died. On Monday evening she gave up the struggle, and waited only for the end, which she bravely was surely coming. Miss McNary was born near Seio, Lin county, on May 14, 1862, and was the youngest daughter of a large family. Since 1879, six of the family have died, and three daughters, Mrs. Bessie Bruce, living near Brooks, Misses Nina and Mattie, and John and a younger brother, survive. Miss Eliza was a member of the Evangelical church. The funeral services will be conducted to-day at the residence on the north end of Commercial street, by Rev. T. G. Brownson, of Albany, and Rev. J. Bowersox, of Salem. They will commence promptly at 2 o'clock. The remains will be interred in the family burying place, about four miles below Salem, near the McNary farm. Friends of the family are respectfully invited.

GRUBBE.—In Wilbur, Douglas county, Oregon, Thursday morning, August 4, 1887, Quincy A. Grubbe, in the thirty-sixth year of his age. Quincy A. Grubbe was born in Wilbur, Douglas county, on April 1st, 1852. He spent his boyhood and young manhood in Douglas county, and about 1874 entered Willamette university, from which institution he was graduated in 1877. Several years after his graduation he spent as a professor in his alma mater. He was afterwards admitted to the bar, but never entered upon the active practice of his chosen profession until 1883, when after several years spent upon the Griffith farm, east of Salem, he returned to this city to reside. His health, however, began to fail him. The past several years have been spent by him in a vain pursuit of health, but his strength has slowly and steadily declined until Thursday morning, when his immortal soul, long poised for flight, soared into the great beyond. Quincy Grubbe was a man of many characteristics—honest, courteous, affable, and affectionate. He possessed those rare qualities of mind and heart which endeared him to many friends. A faithful student, a conscientious teacher, a loving husband, a generous neighbor, an upright citizen, his loss will be felt by all with whom he ever came in contact. His sorrowing relatives, and especially his beloved wife, who has been his faithful helpmeet through the dark hours of sickness, disease and death, are extended the heartfelt condolences of a large number of friends and sympathizers. The remains of Mr. Grubbe will be laid in their final resting place, to-day (Sunday), at 11 a. m., in the family burying plot near Wilbur.

STATE AND TERRITORIAL.

The population of Yakima county is 2800; that of Kittitas, the land of plenty, 5400. Around Goshen, Lane county, squirrels and coppers are quite numerous and are destroying considerable gardens and grain. Quite a rain visited this section Sunday afternoon, which made everything look fresh, says a Linkville paper. Hay in the field was not damaged to any great extent. Miss Lena Hatch, while jumping from the stage at the Junction, near Wardner, Monday, caught her dress. She was thrown head first to the ground, receiving severe cuts about the face. The railroad company is erecting bunkers at Martin and Stampede, on this side of the switchback. These are designed to supply the engines doing work on the heavy grade over the mountains. Klamath Star: W. C. Hale shot and killed a large pelican Tuesday from the court house window, with his "pea gun," that measured 8 feet 5 inches from tip to tip. The bird was on the lake at a distance of several hundred yards. Friday morning Henry Vincent, while working at his forge in Joseph Smith's shop, in Walla Walla, was bitten on the left thumb by a fly, and almost immediately the hand and forearm began swelling, so that he had to quit work. He suffers considerable pain in the affected member; but the swelling is gradually subsiding.

The Heppner Gazette reports a bear fight, in which Al Deitz and Jack McDonnell came off pretty nearly second best. McDonnell had his left arm, side, and leg badly bitten, and the right side of his face looked as though a mule had kicked him. His shirt and overalls looked like they had gone through a threshing machine. Al Crosby and Sam Hall arrived in time to kill the bear, which was a very savage female, and to save the boys lives. Roslyn seems to have all the characteristics of a proverbial coal camp, says the Ellensburg Era. A few days ago, as the word goes, a pitched battle was fought between the coal miners on one side and the mule drivers on the other, which ended in the rout of the latter. The next day, however, the mule drivers rallied their broken columns, renewed the combat, and another fierce battle was fought, in which the M. D.'s recovered their lost ground and scored a signal victory. The exact number of broken heads was not learned.

At present there are three men of families that are doing business here and can not move their families, owing to the scarcity of dwelling houses. Why not build some houses, Mr. Capitalist, and let our town increase on a par with the capacity it has for a boom? The Misses Smith, of Grant's Pass, who are visiting friends here, started to Aumsville Friday in a hack drawn by a span of Uncle Guyan Gibson's gentle horses, and accompanied by Miss Frank Gibson. Shortly after they had started, a single-tree broke. The team became scared, and a run-away followed in which Miss Alice Smith jumped from the hack and received an ugly gash in the crown of her head, also one on the shoulder, the one on her head going to the skull. The other ladies remained in the hack and escaped with slight bruises. Miss Addie Smith having the crazy bone of her elbow slightly benumbed. The team soon became detached from the hack, but came out uninjured, while the harness and hack are nearly a total wreck. Misses Frankie and Addie have fully recovered from their bruises, while Miss Alice will be ready for another escapade in a few days. GRANGER.

AYER'S Hair Vigor has given me perfect satisfaction. I was nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had was growing thinner, until I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. I used two bottles of the Vigor, and my hair is now well covered with a new growth of hair.—Judson B. Chapel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray, and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.—Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do me any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. R. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.
