FIELD REFUSES.

He Will Not Make the Order for Railway Commission

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.-Justice Field. of the United States supreme court, this morning delivered an opinion in the application of the Pacific railroad commisplication of the Pacific railroad commis-sion to compel Senator Stanford and other officials of the Central Pacific to answer certain questions in regard to the chairs in the drinking room, which was expenditure of funds for the purpose of influencing legislation. The opinion of the court is that that part of the act of congress creating the commission, which invites the co-operation of the court in assisting the commission to carry on the investigation, is unconstitutional. The court therefore declines to make an order compelling the officers to answer ques-tions, and also declines to make an order giving the commission access to the books of the various construction companies.

A BOY KILLED.

A Lebanon Youth the Victim of a Fatal Hunting Accident.

Jennings, Mr. Bishop and Mr. Todd, aged about 16 years, living on Hamilton creek, went persons who visited the scene, does not out coon hunting Friday night, taking a shot gun with them. In a thick patch of brush, it being very dark, Wm. Jen-nings concluded to frighten the Todd boy by telling him that a bear was near and likely to attack them. past two weeks he had been drinking very hard. Early yesterday morning he visited the Occidental saloon, where he got a drink without paying for it. Be-tween 10 and 11 o'clock he returned to the same house, exhibiting several twen-ty dollar pieces, and wanted more liquor, also refused him.

The last place he was seen alive was in Taylor's saloon, on the northwest corner of Alder and Front, at 8:30 o'clock last night.

He was 45 or 50 years of age, and claimed to be a married man, with a wife and one child living in Philadelphia.

When first discovered the man lay flat on his back, close up to the east side of the vault. One side of his face was plainly visible from the floor above, and as he lay with his arm beside his body and his left leg bent under the right, which was outstretched, he appeared like one sleeping. His clothing was covered with plaster, and it seemed to be a natural conclusion that he had crept along the cellar bottom, and being half insensible, had fallen into the vault and expired there.

The theory that the man was murdered, which was held by hundreds of seem tenable.

TRAIN ACCIDENT.

Only One Man Slightly Hurt, and Not Much Damage Done.

CHICO, Aug. 30 .- The north bound Oregon Express and the south bound collided at the depot early this morning. The cause of the accident was the failure of the air brakes on the north bound train, which dashed by the depot and struck the south bound train, which was standing at the water tank, with such force that the locomotives were fairly telescoped, and the cars of the south bound train were sent up the track near-ly 100 yards. The tender on both loco-motives were completely wrecked, and the form of here the tender on both loco-

The deceased was recognized as having been Michael Carlin, a member of the bricklayers' union. It is said that for the met two weeks he had been drinking.
W. Caswell announced that they were about to leave the Oregon conference. The conference then took a recess until afternoon, which was taken up in hearing the reports of committees. In the evening a temperance anniversary was held in the tabernacle, and addresses were made by Rev. O. B. Whitmore, of Astronaction, of Eugene, and Rev. J. W. Alderman, of Portland. The attendance at the conference is the statement of the statement of the bricklayers' union. It is said that for the prest two weeks he had been drinking.

THE PORTLAND DEATH.

Suspicious Circumstances in Connection With the Case of Carlin,

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 31 .- This evening's Telegram says: The many expressions of dissatisfaction one hears on the street respecting the superficial investigation of the circumstances which brought about the death of Michael Carlin, found in the vault well of Ladd's new building yesterday, should stimulate the authorities to make a more thorough and searching one.

A Telegram reporter to-day interviewed carpenter at work on the building who first saw the remains, and his impres is, as well as all the others employe about the premises, that Carlin did not meet with an accidental death. The aperture through which Carlin fell or was thrown was large enough on the night of the 29th instant to admit five full grown men, and there was not a Cental. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—There was a large and excited crowd at the call board the north and Grant on the south bound, the finding of his remains, another carroom at 11 o'clock this morning, the offi- stayed with their engines. But one man penter found a hat on the rafters of the ground floor of the building, crumpled up the national league a dangerous associaand muddy. Believing it to be an old, tion; that no information had been furworthless head covering, he kicked it into the well. The hat fell at least half a foot from the spot Carlin's body was lying, and when it was subsequently exlying, and when it was subsequently ex-amined it was slightly streaked with of their acts; and that this house, in the blood. Another peculiar feature about this case is that on the morning prior to his death the deceased had from $80 to $100 in his pockets and when found yesterday morning there was not a dollar upon his person. Men of Carlin's stamp do not squander a half handful of double eagles in a single day's spree, however drunk they may get. At all events the case is one of sufficient importance to justify a fuller investigation than has so far been accorded it. It has been ascertained that the deceased has a balance to his credit of $300 only in one of the city banks, instead of $2,275, as his bank pass book showed. Coroner De Lin to-day received a telegram from relatives of the deceased in cheers. Philadelphia, and his remains will likely be shipped there.

A Dead Body Discovered in a Building in Portland.

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 30 .- This evening's Telegram says that at 7 o'clock this morning some workmen employed on Ladd's building, on the southeast corner of Morrison and Front streets, in the course of construction, left word at the coroner's office that a dead man had been found at the bottom of the space cut for an elevator in that structure.

He also says: "This city depends mainly on the coast supply of coal, that is, on the Vancouver mines, the Wellington mine and the Nanaimo mine. Other things being equal, the city could depend for supply on those two, but the recent disaster in the latter mine withdrew 800 tons of daily output from the market, and the Wellington and Seattle mines, if worked to their utmost capacity, could not, with that drawback, begin to satisfy

Pranzini marched from the cell to the scaffold with a firm step and defiant air. When the executioners seized him he resisted and fought desperately, and demanded that they let him alone. The executioners overpowered him and threw him upon the machine, and in an
