McGLYNN AND THE METHODISTS.

The Preachers Reserve the Right to Think as They Please.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Rev. Dr. McGlynn made an address before the New York association of Methodist preachers this morning, which lasted an hour and a half, and was listened to by 500 ministers and others. Mr. McGlynn referred to his excommunication for preaching the Christianity he was brought up in, and after referring to the peculiar position in which he found himself in facing a body of Christian representatives of the Protestant religion, he presented the Henry George land theories, and defended them as representing the cause of humanity. When the speaker had concluded a gentleman offered a resolution of thanks to Dr. McGlynn for his able, eloquent and instructive address, and wishing him God speed in his efforts to diffuse the doctrine of the "fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man." This created great confusion, and after a turbulent scene which one clergyman characterized as resembling a scene in a beer garden, the resolution was substituted by one that allowed the members to reserve the right of individual opinion concerning the land theories, which resolution was adopted.

CAPTAIN MULLET'S SUICIDE.

He was Suffering From Melancholia, Caused by Malaria.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Captain Mullet, of the revenue marine service, who committed suicide in San Francisco yesterday, was a brother of Ex-Supervising Architect Mullet. He was on an eighteen months leave of absence on account of acute melancholia, caused by malaria contracted in the service. Some time ago Captain Mullet was stationed at Mobile and after his return from that station he was examined by Dr. Godding, of St. Elizabeth's hospital for the insane, Surgeon General Hamilton, of the Marine hospital service, and Dr. Murphy, of Columbia hospital, who found that he was suffering from acute melancholia, and recommended that he be placed in a quiet asylum. He improved, however, during his stay at Washington, and as his family were averse to putting him in an asylum, he was allowed to go west to visit a brother, and afterwards went to San Francisco to attend to some private business. His friends have feared for some time that his malady would end in suicide.

IT WAS WELL WATERED.

Stock for $100,000 on Property Worth a Thousand Dollars.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The Uncompagnie Mining Company has been dissolved, and H. L. Caldwell has been appointed receiver by an order of Judge Donohue of the supreme court. The company has two mining claims, the Mammoth lode and the Great Republic, in Ouray county, Colorado, and its capital stock was $100,000. Of this 67,000 shares had been placed, all full paid, among prominent New Yorkers. It appeared on the petition for dissolution, made by Joseph T. Stevens, the company's president, that the property of the company is not worth more than $1,000.

ANOTHER COLLISION.

Five Persons Killed Outright, and Many Injured.

DURHAM, Sept. 19.—A horrible accident on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, two miles north of this city, took place about 5:30 this morning. The north and south bound passenger trains collided at full speed. Five persons were killed outright and many were injured. All the victims are trainmen. None of the passengers are seriously injured.

AN ASSIGNMENT.

A Brewery Firm Goes into the Hands of a Receiver.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 19.—The George Weber Brewery company made an assignment to-day. The liabilities are estimated at $50,000. Preferences in the form of mortgages are given, aggregating $163,000. Assets, $250,000.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

A Feverish Market, and They Go Up a Few Points.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Stocks opened extremely active and very irregular, changes from last evening's final figures ranging up to 1/2 per cent. both ways. Among the active lists the market displayed a great feverishness, and the irregularity continued to be a feature; but most stocks were weak and the first fifteen minutes Jersey Central lost 1 1/2, Pacific Mail 1 1/2, Manhattan 2 1/2, Oregon 1, Colorado coal 2, and others smaller amounts. A sharp rally then took place and there was a marked decrease in the amount of business, but the tone continued feverish.

MASSACHUSETTS DEMOCRATS.

They Meet in State Convention at the Place That Rhymes With Rooster.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 20.—The democratic state convention was called to order this morning by Patrick A. Collins, chairman of the state central committee.

Mr. Collins acted as temporary chairman. A permanent organization was effected as follows: Chairman, Jonas French, of Gloucester; secretaries, A. B. Alger and P. J. Donovan, of Boston, and P. J. Kennedy, of Holyoke. There was great applause when Mr. French was escorted to the platform and began addressing the 1200 delegates.

THE COMMISSION.

It Meets in New York and Calls for Mr. Crocker.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The commission appointed to inquire into Pacific railway matters met in this city this morning. Gov. Pattison presided. Besides Ellery Anderson and David Littler, members of the commission, there were also present ex-Judge Dillon, counsel for the commission, and A. A. Cohen, counsel for the Central and Southern Pacific railroads. Mr. Crocker was the first witness called.

A RED-HOT CIRCULAR.

Chicago Socialists Distribute an Incendiary Document.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—A circular of deep-red anarchistic tendencies is being circulated in Chicago. It is headed: "To the Working Men of the United States of North America," and denounces the action of the supreme court in upholding the decision of the lower court in the anarchist case. The circular refers to Captain Bonfield as "the notorious police bandit," and vilifies Judge Gary without stint. It is signed "The Federation of Trades Unions," and was printed in New York. O'Donnell, police captain, telephoned this afternoon all over the city to have any and all persons found distributing the circulars arrested.

A PERIPATETIC PROH.

He Leaves His Old Love and Tags After Henry George.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 21.—A sensation has been caused in political circles by the appearance of Rev. J. A. Copeland at the United Labor club meeting last night. He avowed himself for the George movement. Copeland has been one of the leading prohibitionists of this state and was the candidate of that party for congressman.

BUYING UP BONDS.

The Government Buys a Million and a Half of Its Own Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Acting Secretary Thompson this afternoon accepted $1,065,300 of the bonds offered. The prices paid range from 107.90 to 108 1/2. After the other bids had been opened a delayed proposal to sell half a million of bonds at 108 1/2 was received from Harvey Fiske & Sons, of New York. The bid was admitted, increasing the total offerings to $1,370,300.

TURNER ITEMS.

Rev. Huff discoursed here Sunday. Turner has a half dozen grass widows. Sunday school concert Sunday night, next. Come. Prof. Van Scoy, of Jefferson, was in town Saturday. H. Platter has moved into the C. H. Cannon property. Wes. Smith returned from St. Paul, Minn., Saturday. A triple wedding is a forthcoming possibility in Turner.

B. F. Wade lost a fine colt last week from blind staggers.

The blind nigger fortune teller graced (?) our village Saturday.

W. E. Price, of Ashland, is visiting relatives in this vicinity.

One of our young ladies is to enter the hymeneal altar to-day.

Prof. Gettis and family have moved into the Henry Miller property.

Miss Ada Johns, of Arlington, is the guest of Mrs. E. E. McKinney.

Dr. A. C. Caldwell, of Stayton, is registered at hotel de Small for the week.

C. B. Dost, of Squak, W. T., is the guest of W. H. Dunbar, the former being a brother to Mrs. Dunbar.

Prof. Rork lectured here Friday night, on temperance, to a small audience. Our citizens do not turn out to the temperance lectures from some cause.

S. S. Martin has leased the Turner hotel from Milo Knight and moved therein. Mr. Knight has moved to W. T. Van Scoy's place below town.

The ball given Friday night in Bleakney's hall in honor of Misses Addie and Alice Smith and Newt Ferrell, all of Grant's Pass, was a very pleasant entertainment.

G. W. Hunt has made this his shipping point for goods to be transferred from the O. & C. R. to his headquarters on the O. P. R. R. by teams. He has twenty-five teams engaged hauling freight from here to Don. Smith's, where his headquarters are, on the line of the O. P. R. Seven car loads of freight were received for them at this point last week, and as this is to be made a shipping point for the next ten months, our little village will be lively. W. D. Roberts is transfer clerk here for Mr. Hunt. Mr. Roberts and lady are stopping at Small's hotel.

SHOT FOR A BEAR.

A McMinville Man the Victim of a Fatal Mistake.—Albany News.

ALBANY, Or., Sept. 19.—Particulars were received in this city this morning of a shocking hunting accident in the mountains above Lebanon, resulting in the death of an aged man named Shafer. A party, consisting of Frank Shafer, Frank Ballard, and a man named Palmer, all of McMinville, were returning from a trip to Harney Valley, and had stopped at Soda Springs for a few days to hunt. It happened that on Saturday morning another party, consisting of Isaac Needham, of Salem, and two others, was also hunting in the same locality. Needham and party stopped on the mountain side, and began rolling stones down the steep incline. This attracted the attention of the other party, who, mistaking them for game, began creeping toward them. Presently Needham observed Shafer creeping through the bushes, and mistaking him for a bear, shot him. He and his companions, on approaching the spot, were shocked to find that their supposed game was an aged man who had been killed by the shot, the bullet having blown his head almost to atoms. It was found that his name was Frank Shafer, of McMinville, aged about 60 years. He was removed to Lebanon, where a coroner's jury found that his death was accidental. He was a member of the Odd Fellows' and Masonic orders, and had no relatives that were known of, in the state. His remains were brought to this city to-day, en route to McMinville.

Wm. McKinnon, of Sweet Home, arrested for assaulting Walter McShee, at that place, by striking him upon the head with the butt of a whip, was discharged, in Justice Humphrey's court, to-day, for want of prosecution.

ANOTHER PETE OLSON.

The California Murderer Again Discovered, This Time Near Portland.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 19.—The Evening Telegram contains an account of the supposed discovery of Pete Olson, at Holbrook station, not far from Portland. Yesterday a man named Siederdale, while penetrating the thicket about a mile from the railroad, was suddenly startled by the sound of some one chopping wood, and following the sound he found one of the wildest-looking human beings the eye ever gazed upon. He had only a half pair of trousers; on one leg he wore a gum boot and the other foot was encased in the remnant of an old carpet slipper. His hair and beard were matted as if they had not associated with a comb and brush for an indeterminate length of time.

Siederdale questioned the "what is it" as to what he was doing there, but the wild-eyed fellow feigned not to understand him. At length, however, in a moment of thoughtlessness, he spoke English quite well with a Scandinavian accent. What brought the fellow to speak was his ill-success in trying to build a fire in an old stove he had secreted in the brush, which induced him to open his safety valve and let go a portion of bottled up wrath.

While Siederdale and the wild man were talking, the former heard a rustling among the fallen leaves and undergrowth. Siederdale made the outcast confess that there was another man with him who fled upon hearing him approach.

ALBANY NEWS.

The Special Term of the Circuit Court for Linn County.

ALBANY, Or., Sept. 19.—The special term of circuit court, called to try the three pending right-of-way suits of the Oregon Pacific railroad, began in this city to-day. The suit against the O. & C. railroad, for the right to cross the latter company's track, was dismissed, on motion of plaintiff, the city council of Albany having already granted the Oregon Pacific company the right of way on a street not interfering with the O. & C. track. The suit to condemn land of Messrs. Shafer, McKinney, and Pearson, for the use of the road, is at issue. The injunction suit of the Oregon Pacific company, restraining McKinney, Shafer, and Pearson from interfering with work on the road across their land, was dissolved to-day in the circuit court.

BIG FIRE.

Half a Million Dollars' Worth of Property Burned at Marysville, Cal.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., Sept. 19.—A fire started in the Union Lumber company's yards, in the heart of the city, at 10 o'clock this morning. The department responded to the alarm, but its efforts were of little avail, and in a short time the large lumber pile, P. Brown's residence, Gilman's red house, a large number of stores and the greater portion of the water works were on fire. At 2:30 the fire was under control, but the total loss will reach half a million.

A FAST YOUNG MAN.

He Went From Bad to Worse, and Finally Became a Forger.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 20.—This evening's Telegram says: "A dispatch from Seattle announces that Daniel T. Malarky, a dissolute young man of this city, had committed forgery of his mother's name at that place, and had fled to Victoria. The police authorities here have been notified of the facts in the case, and also requested to keep a sharp lookout for the criminal. It is not believed, however, that he will venture to return here, as he has nothing to gain and everything to lose by so doing. His mother, a most respectable woman of this city, has made many noble efforts to reclaim her wayward son, and having found this to be impossible, has said that the sooner the law punishes the criminal the better for him and for the community. His father, Daniel Malarkey, deceased, will be remembered by many of our citizens, an honest business man, honored and respected by those who knew him.

"The young man's forgeries at Seattle amount to nearly $700. He went to that city Sept. 4th in company with a disgraced woman. They registered at the Brunswick hotel there as 'William Thayer and wife, New York.' The young man paid his bill at the hotel with checks, but as they were not immediately taken to the bank, everything continued to go on smoothly. The young man finally presented one of these checks, which purported to bear his mother's signature, to one of the prominent business houses of the city, where it was cashed, the firm members being friends of the young man and well acquainted with his family in Portland. The amount of this check was $50. Another check for $150 was cashed by another well-known business man of the city, and another for $100 by still another familiar acquaintance of the young man, who is likewise a business man of Seattle and well known to every body. Another friend, mulcted to the tune of $40, managed to get back $20 before the wayward trawler fled the town. The checks were drawn on Ladd & Tilton, bankers, Portland, and the name of the young man's mother was forged to each, she having, it was stated by him, a large sum held in trust for him. One of these checks was taken to Dexter, Horton & Co.'s bank, where, when it had been endorsed by the business man who had previously cashed it, it was cashed. The other checks found their way to the Puget Sound National Bank, when they were forwarded to Portland, and returned as forgeries.

Knowing that his forgeries could not escape detection, the young man and his dissolute companion took the steamer for Victoria. If his victims in Seattle are inclined to push matters—and it is said they will do so—he will not be safe in British Columbia, as forgery is an extraditable crime. Dan Malarkey has for several years, since the death of his father, led a dissolute life in this city, the almost constant companion of grogery frequenters and dissolute women. He has frequently been brought up in the police court for drunkenness and other misdemeanors, but never for a crime. He has now reached that stage."

EUGENE CITY NEWS.

A Barn Located Near the State University Burned.

EUGENE CITY, Or., Sept. 20.—At about 12 o'clock last night the fire bell sent forth its appeal for help. Those who were disposed to turn out, after having remained up to the circus till a late hour, were directed by a bright blaze toward the state university, nearly every one expecting to find one or both buildings of that institution, in flames. Upon reaching the university, they found it to be a large barn, situated about 200 yards east of the university, owned by E. Chischo, which has been used for several years for storing hay. The barn being such a distance from the fire department, before the boys could reach the spot, it was wrapped in flames.

The barn was filled with baled hay, owned by Ed. McClanahan, Clay Humphrey, and Eugene Luckey. How much hay was in the barn could not be ascertained, but there being no insurance on it there will undoubtedly be quite a loss to the owners. The barn was insured for $500. It is generally supposed that some one set the fire, but no clue to the perpetrators has been gained.

MRS. BLEIMAN VICTORIOUS.

She is Legally Separated From Her Violent Husband.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 20.—The evening Telegram says: Recently the Telegram ventilated the vicious conduct of Joseph Bleiman, a defaulting solicitor, who, after having deserted his wife in this city about three years ago, interposed an objection to her getting a divorce from him about three weeks ago. The lady was about to marry a better man, when Bleiman, through X. N. Steeves, his attorney here, put a temporary stop to the divorce proceedings. A few days ago Mr. Steeves withdrew from the case, and this morning Judge Stearns granted Mrs. Kate Bleiman a decree of divorce on the ground of desertion. Bleiman evidently didn't want to come from his hiding place to defend the suit, because several newspaper men who have financially suffered at his hands are anxious for a final settlement of accounts. Mrs. Bleiman now having freed herself from a heavy matrimonial yoke, is at liberty to carry out her second matrimonial intent.

RECEPTION TO STANFORD.

The Portland Board of Trade to Entertain the Railway Magnates.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 20.—A special meeting of the board of trade was held at 10 a. m. to-day for the purpose of making arrangements for a public reception to Senator Leland Stanford upon his return to this city from his trip to Victoria. It was decided to appoint a committee to make arrangements for such a reception, and to leave all the details of the affair to them. The president appointed as such committee Messrs. C. H. Dodd, Wm. Kopus, John R. Foster, James Steele and F. K. Arnold. The subject of Villard's re-ascendency to power in the Northern Pacific directory was commented on at some length and the board instructed its officers to write a letter to Mr. Villard, congratulating him and expressing the gratification of the business men of this community at the successful turn affairs have taken.

ALBANY NEWS.

A Serious accident at the Oregon Pacific Bridge.

ALBANY, Or., Sept. 20.—Frank Worrall, while working on the Oregon Pacific bridge, across the Santiam, to-day, fell a distance of twenty feet, inflicting serious injuries. He will probably recover. From a gentleman who returned from the front to-day, it is learned that the track is now laid half a mile beyond the bridge, false work having been put in to permit trains to cross. This allows trains from Albany to run beyond the Santiam river on the road eastward.

MEXICAN OUTRAGES.

A Congressman Wants Secretary Bayard to Demand Redress.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Congressman W. W. Morrow has forwarded a communication to Secretary Bayard, giving a detailed statement of the murder of Leon Baldwin, superintendent of mines owned by Americans in the state of Durango, who was shot and killed by Mexican bandits a month ago. Morrow calls attention to the frequent occurrences of these outrages, and urges the government to demand redress from Mexico.

MISTER CHARLTON.

Portland's Railroad Duke Is in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—A. D. Charlton, general western passenger agent of the Northern Pacific railroad, arrived to-day from Portland, and in an interview in regard to the statement about the company starting an office in this city, said there was no truth in the story, but that he had come down with perhaps that end in view, but there was nothing definite decided upon yet.

NOT COUNTED IN.

A Novel Suit in Portland that Is of Considerable Importance.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 21.—Before Judge Shattuck, in the circuit court for this district, there is being tried the case of W. N. Northrup and others against P. H. Marquam. In June, 1870, Henry Northrup died in this city, leaving by a will executed on June 11th, 1870, all of his estate to his wife and children then born. The will provided that the real estate should be converted into money and placed at interest for the proper education and maintenance of the children till the youngest should reach legal maturity.

The property was sold to P. A. Marquam, the defendant in the present suit. Now comes the rare phase of the matter. About eight months after Northrup's death a child was born to his widow. The posthumous offspring however died at the age of three years.

The statutes of Oregon provide that where a legitimate child is born after the demise of a testator that child is entitled to the same interest in the estate of the deceased as his or her other children, or, on the other hand, as if the deceased had died intestate. The property having been purchased by Mr. Marquam before the birth of the posthumous child, plaintiffs claim that the latter's interest in the estate could not have been disposed of to Mr. Marquam, and the plaintiffs pray for the restitution of their dead sister's interest, which is said to be one-fourth of the whole. Senator Mitchell, representing defendant, argues that the plaintiffs are entitled only to the deceased child's interest in the money derived from the sale of the estate, while Judge Kelly, for plaintiffs, asserts they can compel the defendant to disgorge. The total value of the estate is estimated at $100,000, and the outcome of the suit will prove of great interest to not a few in this community.

THE GRAIN FLEET.

Status of the Shipping Business as Reported in Portland.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 21.—Says this evening's Telegram: "The British ship River Indus to-day completes at Astoria her cargo of 18,500 barrels of flour from the Portland Flouring Mills. The Cumberland is now in berth at the mills and will take away about the same quantity of flour. This is a pretty fair start in the flour shipping line, considering there is but very little movement in wheat. The Portland mills will continue to pour out a vast quantity of flour and will load many ships. The Andora is taking in stiffening preparatory to loading wheat for Cosar & Co. This is the first attempt to load a vessel with grain here this year. A few years since one or two ships were loaded in July. Last year one was loaded in August. This year September will hardly see the first grain ship of the season filled. But there are a large number to be filled up before the season is over."

A FINE FARM.—Hendricks & Sanbert real estate agents, offer for sale a 280-acre farm, a mile and one-fourth from the town of Woodburn, for $7,500. This is a fine body of land. They only require $2,500 down, and the balance on very long time. This is a fine chance for a bargain.

GOES TO PARLIAMENT.

The Man Who Accompanied Editor O'Brien to Canada.

DUBLIN, Sept. 21.—Kilbride, who accompanied William O'Brien to Canada, was to-day elected without opposition to represent South Kerry in the house of commons. Kilbride was one of the Marquis of Lansdowne's principal tenants, paying $3800 per annum for a farm valued by government appraisers at $2100. The men who executed the eviction order broke into Kilbride's house through the doors and windows and threw the furniture out.

IRISH WEATHER.

You are always forewarned that you have to reckon with the weather in Ireland, and so you have decided in the west, which gets the first squeeze of the sponge from the Atlantic; but the average rainfall of Dublin and its neighborhood is hardly heavier, I fancy, than that of London. I admit, however, that the climate is as capricious as a pretty girl; but then it is also as charming. It is like that "little girl who had a little curl right down the middle of her forehead. When she was good she was very good, but when she was bad she was horrid." After one of these sudden showers the air you drink is as soft, mellow and gently exhilarating as old wine; while the blue scudding clouds sailing over are as vivid and profound as that of an Italian sky. Then it is surprising the difference the shadows of these clouds make to either seascape or landscape. It is, both in kind and degree, all the difference that expression makes to a face. And I think that much of the exquisite distinctive charm of Irish scenery is due to the moisture of the climate, which not only gives the grass its vivid green and the sky its vivid blue, but produces the swift, sudden and transient clouds, whose shifting shadows give the play of life and expression to the landscape.—(London Truth.)

Puget Sound Mail: It is said that a scow loaded with seventy cords of tanbark, which was being towed from the Snohomish river to Clark Biles' tannery at Tumwater, by the steamer Cellio, was run aground at or near Port Gardner and sunk. The bark was valued at $10 per cord, or $750 for the cargo, and will prove a total loss.
