

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

Oct. 16. Fred Douglass now wants to make American citizens of the Chinese. Stephen W. Rawson, banker and millionaire of Chicago, was shot by his stepson, whose mother was suing Rawson for divorce. John A. Benson, late U. S. surveyor for California, and head of the fraudulent surveying, is said to be a fugitive from justice. Robert F. Morrow, the S. F. millionaire, under indictment for embezzlement and who has been under $50,000 bonds, has been arrested and placed in jail, the bond not being considered sufficient. The meeting at Woodford which was proclaimed by the government, was held to-day, the proceedings being conducted by O'Brien, Gill and others. The telegraph wires were cut about midnight on Saturday, thus preventing communication with Dublin. In the course of his speech O'Brien burned a copy of the proclamation forbidding the holding of meetings. A syndicate of wealthy republicans have purchased the New York Graphic from J. W. Hinckley. The syndicate includes Levi P. Morton, United States Senator Frank Hiseock, Thomas C. Platt, Cornelius N. Bliss, Stephen B. Eckles and one other. The Graphic will be conducted as a republican paper. Hinckley still retains a minority interest in the stock. Oct. 17. It is expected the O. & C. will be completed by November 15th. Ben Butler has offered to assist Capt. Black to defend the condemned anarchists. Oneida Cavalho, said to be the last of the Humboldt tribe of Indians, died at Oakland, Cal. The trouble on the steamer Oregon has been settled by putting on a new crew of union sailors in place of the old crew. Five men killed by a building falling, which was in course of construction. Hasty and defective work was the cause. Mrs. Mary Von, who murdered G. H. Bishop at San Francisco, was sentenced to San Quentin penitentiary for life. She received the sentence with a contemptuous curl of her lip. Salt Lake dispatch: Ex-Senator McDonald, of Indiana, and Col. Broadhead, of St. Louis, are here in the Mormon interest as attorneys in a suit brought by the United States attorney-general under the Edmunds-Tucker law of March 3 last, to disincorporate the Church and Perpetual Immigration society, and appoint a receiver to take charge of the property in excess of the $50,000 limit allowed by the law of 1862. Oct. 18. Thomas Nast, Harper's caricaturist, is coming to Oregon on a lecturing tour. San Francisco is agitated over the whereabouts of Benson, the land surveyor. The woman at St. Louis who hit Mrs. Cleve and with a pancake was fined fifty dollars. James Voorhees, son of Senator Voorhees, and brother of Delegate Charles Voorhees, is insane. When the O. & C. is completed, the time from Portland to San Francisco will be thirty-six hours. Two hundred and eighty Mormon converts from Liverpool landed at Castle Garden, New York. A picture of Jeff Davis, draped with a rebel flag, was part of the decorations at Atlanta when "Cleve" passed by. Dr. Smith, deputy health officer, says the Britannia's passengers have no cholera, but some of them are suffering from it. Gerouimo, the Apache chief, will not be delivered to the Arizona authorities, but will be kept at Fort Pickens, Florida, as a prisoner of war.

SUPREME COURT.

October 17. Lillenthal & Co., appellants, vs. V. Carivita, et al., respondents; motion to dismiss appeal argued and submitted. Thos. A. Jordan, resp., vs. Frank La Vine, et al., apps.; judgment of the court below affirmed; opinion by Lord, C. J. [The opinion is a short one, and holds in substance that a party on a replevin bond is liable for costs.] W. W. Sweeney, resp., vs. D. J. McLeod, et al., apps.; judgment of the lower court reversed; opinion by Strahan, J. [This is an action in which Sweeney, the plaintiff and respondent, sought in the lower court to recover the value of his services, while engaged as lobbyist for the defendants in endeavoring to prevent unfavorable legislation by the legislature upon the use of fish wheels in the capture of salmon. Plaintiff was awarded $281. Defendants appeal, and Judge Strahan yesterday rendered an exhaustive and able opinion of the case, reviewing the facts concerning the alleged contract, and the law points involved. He concludes as follows: "Such contracts as the one sued on are always closely and rigidly scrutinized by the courts when sought to be enforced. Nothing wrong may have been intended in this particular case, nor was it necessary. If the terms of the contract required any services to be rendered, or if the party employed in furtherance of the general purposes of his employment, rendered or designed to render any services, either to cause or prevent any legislative action, otherwise than by publicly presenting the subject before the legislature or some of its committees, such contract cannot be enforced in this state. It follows from the views expressed that the judgment of the court below must be reversed, and a new trial awarded."] Oct. 18. Motion to dismiss appeal in Lillenthal & Co., apps., vs. V. Carivita et al., overruled. In the decision overruling the motion, Judge Strahan holds (1) that in cases of appeal no parties need be made respondents unless they have interests adverse to the other parties; and (2) that service on an attorney of record is held good though the return does not show that he was a resident of the county wherein the litigants reside. Oregon and Washington Mortgage Savings Bank of Oregon, apps., vs. John Catlin, county judge, et al., resps.; appeal from Multnomah county; argued and submitted. McDougall & Bower, attorneys for appellants. H. E. McGinn and N. D. Simon, attorneys for respondents.

Oct. 19. Court met at 10 a. m. All present. A. Anderson, respondent, vs. Nelson Bennett, appellant; appeal from Multnomah Co.; argued and submitted. G. W. Yocum and F. Clarno, attorneys for respondent; H. Y. Thompson and Judge T. C. Sears, of Washington territory, attorneys for app.

VARYING IDEAS OF POLITENESS. Well, there are different ideas of politeness. In a ferryboat a fellow sat and spat against the wall as though firing tobacco juice at a mark. A cabinful of ladies were disgusted. Then an officer came in and asked him what he meant by such conduct. "Can't you see the notice?" the officer exclaimed. A framed injunction read as follows: "Out of respect for the ladies, gentlemen will not spit on the floor." "And that's why I'm spitting on the wall, instead of the floor," said the passenger. —[New York Letter.]

FORCED TO SHUT DOWN. "How's business?" asked a reporter of a court plaster manufacturer. "It's been good; but we are preparing to shut down now for the winter." "Shut down? Why is that?" "Why, you see, the baseball season is almost over."

MARRIED.

PHILLIPS-PARRISH—In Silverton, Or., Oct. 12, 1887, by Rev. P. S. Knight, Miss Annie M. Parrish to Charles P. Phillips. GIESY-EHLEN.—At the residence of the bride's father, near Aurora, Oct. 12, 1887, by Rev. J. W. Harris, Mr. C. Giesy and Miss Louisa Ehlen, both of Marion county. JETER-BATES.—Near Scio, Oct. 12, 1887, at the residence of the bride's parents, by Rev. C. Sperry, of Brownsville, J. B. Jeter, of Stayton, Oregon, and Miss Lillie J. Bates, of Scio, Linn county, Oregon. The contracting parties have a host of friends in Marion and Linn counties who wish them prosperity and happiness. BECKETT-SOUTHWICK.—In Polk county, at the residence of Milton Southwick, Oct. 19, 1887, by Rev. Mr. Harriett, Miss Emma Southwick to C. W. Beckett, both of Polk county. Each of the young couple is well known in Polk county, and being worthy young people, deserve and are receiving the congratulations of many friends. They left yesterday on a short trip to Portland. MILLER-PORT.—At the residence of the bride's parents, corner Winter and Ferry streets, Salem, Oregon, at 10:30 a. m., Wednesday, October 19, 1887, by Rev. Thos. Van Scoy, D. D., president of Willamette university, Miss Alpha Port to Victor J. Miller. The wedding was very quiet, only a very few friends being present, and the happy couple left on the afternoon train for their future home in Harney City, Grant county, Oregon. The parties to this union are well known in this city, the bride as the accomplished daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Port, and the groom as a student of Willamette university, and later a graduate of the law department of that institution. Mr. Miller was admitted to practice in all the courts of this state by the supreme court at the recent examinations, and his many friends predict for him a bright career in the legal field. He has been a close student, and passed well in his examination. The happy couple take with them to their new home the kind wishes of many friends. Preparations for the wedding have been kept a profound secret, and most of their friends will be surprised at finding this the first intimation that they received, that Mr. and Mrs. Miller were contemplating such an important step. It is understood that Dr. Port made the occasion a doubly auspicious one for his daughter by the donation of a very munificent and substantial present.

A Woman from Austria.

Near the village of Zillingdorf, in Lower Austria, lives Maria Haas, an intelligent and industrious woman, whose story of physical suffering and final relief, as related by herself, is of interest to English women. "I was employed," she says, "in the work of a large farmhouse. Overwork brought on sick headache, followed by a deathly fainting and sickness of the stomach, until I was unable to retain either food or drink. I was compelled to take to my bed for several weeks. Getting a little better from rest and quiet, I sought to do some work, but was soon taken with a pain in my side, which in a little while seemed to spread over my whole body, and throbbled in my every limb. This was followed by a cough and shortness of breath, until finally I could not sew, and I took to my bed for the second, and, as I thought, for the last time. My friends told me that my time had nearly come, and that I could not live longer than when the trees put on their green once more. Then I happened to get one of the Seigel pamphlets. I read it, and my dear mother bought me a bottle of SEIGEL'S SYRUP (Shaker Extract of Roots) which I took exactly according to directions, and I had not taken the whole of it before I felt a change for the better. My last illness began June 3d, 1882, and continued to August 9th, when I began to take the Syrup. Very soon I could do a little light work. The cough left me, and I was no more troubled in breathing. Now I am perfectly cured; and oh, how happy I am! I cannot express gratitude enough for SEIGEL'S SYRUP (Shaker Extract of Roots). Now I must tell you that the doctors in our district distributed handbills cautioning the people against the medicine, telling them it would do no good, and many were thereby influenced to destroy the Seigel pamphlets; but now, whenever one is to be found, it is kept like a relic. The few preserved are borrowed to read, and I have lent mine for six weeks around our district. People have come eighteen miles to get me to buy the medicine for them, knowing that it cured me, and to be sure to get the right kind. I know a woman who was looking like death, and who told them there was no help for her, that she had consulted several doctors, but none could help her. I told her of Seigel's Syrup, and wrote the name down for her that she might make no mistake. She took my advice and the Syrup, and now she is in perfect health, and the people around us are amazed. The medicine has made such progress in our neighborhood that people say they don't want the doctor any more, but they take the Syrup. Sufferers from gout who were confined to their beds and could hardly move a finger have been cured by it. There is a girl in our district who caught a cold by going through some water, and was in bed five years with costiveness and rheumatic pains, and had to have an attendant to watch by her. There was not a doctor in the surrounding district to whom her mother had not applied to relieve her child, but every one crossed themselves and said they could not help her. Whenever the little bell rang, which is rung in our place when anybody is dead, we thought surely it was for her; but Seigel's Syrup and Pills (Shaker Extract of Roots) saved her life, and now she is as healthy as anybody, goes to church, and can work even in the fields. Everybody was astonished when they saw her out, knowing how many years she had been in bed. To-day she adds her gratitude to mine for God's mercies and Seigel's Syrup. MARIA HAAS. Shaker Medicines are now being sold in all parts of the world, and are working wonders, as shown in the above case. A. J. WHITE, 54 Warren St., New York.
