

Four Builders Has New Bowling War

Secretary Begins on New 'Bond' Program

The editorial staff of Four Builders were forced back into the field of sports writing because of a fight that has been waxing warmly, right under our noses, between Mr. McIntyre, priorities administrator in the office of the Engineers and our project manager, Mr. M. W. Lorenz. The feud first started over the comparative bowling skill of these gentlemen, and our ever-present fight promoters kept things warmed up until the natural result was a series of long negotiations for a battle.

Last Thursday a team captained by Mr. McIntyre fought it out on the alleys with a Four Builders team led by Mr. Lorenz. The latter team came out on the winning end of the wager, and we now have it from pretty good authority that instead of settling the feud, it has made things hotter than ever, and that a return engagement will be held this Thursday. We want to congratulate team captain Lorenz on upholding the reputation of Four Builders' athletic teams in general, and to issue a little warning to Mr. McIntyre that Mr. Lorenz has already proved himself in one branch of sport, angling, and under a lot of pressure at that,—so beware!

Well, our genial Miss Jean Smith, secretary to our general superintendent Bob Robson, went and did it. Congratulations are flying around and she came back Monday morning with the proper credentials, so it must be true. Jean informs us that she should now be addressed as Mrs. Bond. We add our hearty good wishes to those of her host of friends, and extend a hand to Mr. Bond. Jean always said she was saving bonds.

Drifting back to the sports editors for a moment, all Four Builders clan members want to tell the Engineers' team what a fine game of ball they recently played against us, and what a swell lesson in baseball they gave us. Their victory was decisive and left no lingering doubt about their ability to dish it out. We eagerly await our next battle with them.

Mrs. Harry H. Heuer and daughter, Betty, made a short tour of the camp last Saturday, and came up to Four Builders' office for the purpose of (quoting Mrs. Heuer) "getting the low-down." After a very pleasant visit the charming ladies drove away, after stating that they now were quite caught up with the latest information about that glamour boy Harry Heuer.

Efficiency is okay, and much to be desired, especially in military men, but our Charlie Parker is having a lot of trouble because of the efficiency of the MPs and military traffic men stationed at and near the various street intersections throughout the camp. Charlie's favorite parking place is taboo now, that is, the one right out in front in the middle.

Albany Woman Winner Of Prize in Corvallis

In the regular weekly pinochle game of the Corvallis Moose Pinochle club, Emma Faulkner of Albany won the special prize offered for the player melding 300 pinochle. The game was well attended and scores higher than usual, three of the men and one of the women players scoring over 8000 points.

The scores were, for the ladies, Elizabeth Scott 8210, Mrs. J. V. Mill 7830 and Mrs. Don Klussman 7540.

For the men, Andy Holstrom 8700, Tobe Watkins 8120 and Nick Lundc 8010. Next game will be Friday evening at the Moose lodge rooms when one or more special prizes will be given for special melding.

Bus Lines Announce New Camp Schedules

A new schedule of bus transportation to and from camp, between Salem, Albany, Corvallis and Monmouth, including west side service to Portland, has been issued by the Oregon Motor Stages, and has been circulated in mimeographed form. The sheet appears on many of the bulletin boards throughout Camp.

"How much do you charge for weighing hogs?" Gil Becker asked the man at the station.

"Oh, just get on; I'll weigh you for nothing."

TO SHARPEN YOUR MILITARY I. Q.

1. When was a private detective head of the intelligence service of the United States military forces?
2. Do you recognize the first American general who lost his life in this war?
3. Nine Presidents had military experience as general officers. Monroe, Lincoln, McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt held lesser rank. One was a captain, two were majors and one a colonel. Can you pick them out?
4. "Rise and shine" is Army slang for: (a) WAAC order to powder noses; (b) Shoe shine drill; (c) Stand at attention.
5. Name this Army insignia.
6. The President is commander-in-chief of the Army but only one Chief Executive during his term of office marched at the head of his troops in active service. Can you name him?
7. The designation of rank worn by a lieutenant colonel is: (a) Two stars; (b) two bars; (c) silver oak leaf; (d) two gold eagles.
8. The number of medals of award for valor and service in the Army of the United States today: (a) 7; (b) 11; (c) 4; (d) unlimited.
9. Explain why the U. S. Flag in the War of 1812 carried 15 stripes.
10. Can you name the Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court who recently left the bench to join the Army?

ANSWERS TO MILITARY I. Q.

1. Allan Pinkerton, a detective, appointed head of the intelligence service under General George B. McClellan in 1861, served until McClellan's removal from command in November, 1862.
2. Brigadier General Harold George.
3. Lincoln served as a captain in the Black Hawk War. Monroe was a major in the War for Independence and McKinley with the same rank in the War Between the States. Theodore Roosevelt was a colonel in the Spanish American War.
4. "Get out of bed."
5. Judge Advocate General's department.
6. President Washington accompanied the troops to suppress the Whiskey Insurrection in 1794.
7. The designation of rank of a lieutenant colonel is a silver oak leaf.
8. Seven medals are awarded for valor and service in the Army of the United States.
9. Following an Act of Congress in 1794 an additional stripe as well as a star was added to the flag upon the admission of a new state to the Union. Fearing that too many stripes would spoil the true design of the flag, Congress passed a law in 1818 returning the flag to its original design of 13 stripes and providing for a new star to be added as additional states came into the Union.
10. Associate Justice Frank Murphy of the United States Supreme Court on leave is a lieutenant colonel in the Army.
