

Red Cross Wants Pix From Amateur Photog

$5125 in War Bonds Listed for Winners

Calling all cameras! Calling all "camera-bugs"! The Red Cross is in need of newsworthy pictures portraying its activities and artistic photographs symbolizing its spirit — and for these reasons, a total of $5,125 (maturity value) in War Bonds—specially donated by the Photographic Society of America and other friends of the Red Cross—is offered for prize winning photographs of Red Cross activities. So, men of Camp Adair, here's a chance to win some War Bonds, and have some fun with your cameras! It's a chance to let your camera do its part in the nation's war effort.

The contest is open to anyone except salaried employees of the Red Cross or of any Red Cross chapter. Members of the armed forces of the United States Army, Navy and Marine Corps and Coast Guard are invited to submit photographs. Civilians may also submit entries.

For further details, and complete information as to the sizes of entries, types of film acceptable, prizes, etc., drop in the Red Cross headquarters at this cantonment, located in Building T-7-501, corner of Avenue E and First Street North, on the second floor.

Of the 14 girls working in the Post Engineers building, more are married than single. One is married to a traveling salesman, three have service men for husbands, one being in the navy, and one girl is engaged to a Marine.

Don't chew tobacco. Spitting is not only "a horrid word" but its sound is unmistakably human.

Soldier's Invitation to Worship

Claude A. Guild, Minister

"Nine Cents Too Much"

From Readers Digest, August, 1942:

The Japanese soldier is paid 10 yen or about $2.36 a month, of which $1.89 is sent to his family, 38 cents deducted for COMPULSORY SAVINGS ACCOUNT. (Buy War Savings Bonds—Remember, boys, we get $50 and up.) and the remaining 9 cents to do with as they please. How generous of them. If they don't know what to do with all that money, we suggest a box of aspirin at a cut-rate store—cost 9 cents.

For Your Safekeeping

The Secretary of the Treasury has authorized all Federal Reserve Banks to safekeep your bonds at no cost to you whatsoever.

Lt. Hugh H. Tonsfeldt requests that all bondholders desiring to take advantage of this opportunity come to the Camp Adair Post Office, and complete the necessary form.

WHY RUN THE RISK OF LOSING YOUR BONDS?

CHAPLAIN'S COLUMN

A series of evangelistic meetings will be held at the Post Chapel, Avenue D and 3rd Street North, commencing Sunday, October 11th at 1900 (7:00 p. m.) Meetings will be held nightly, except Saturday, at the same hour for two weeks ending October 25th. The speakers will be outstanding pastors from neighboring towns. Choirs and soloists will lend their support by offering special numbers. The songs will be of particular interest to soldiers and will be works of well known composers. These programs will be of a lively, inspirational nature and merit your full support. The Chaplains have made a real effort to provide the best talent for the programs.

Prior to the opening service this Sunday, an organ recital of sacred music will be given at 1830 (6:30 p. m.) by Mr. Charles O. Gray of Portland, Oregon. He has taught music for 15 years and is thoroughly acquainted with the Hammond Electric organ used in Army Chapels.

Over the telephone a voice said that a colored soldier was in the hospital with pneumonia. Would the Chaplain please come over?

As Chaplain Lloyd V. Harmon stepped into his car he thought of the old colored couple who took care of him as a boy. His grandfather, a slaveholder in the South, had set them free, but they had refused to go, so in his will he declared that they should be given a good home as long as they lived and then have Christian burial.

When the chaplain read from the Bible, in the hospital, the soldier with pneumonia rummaged around his bed and pulled out a worn Testament of Gideon origin and read along with him. Then he requested a copy of the Gideon magazine, "The Upper Room." He is now recovering.

Grover C. Ferguson, wartime minister, will be in charge, Sundays at 11 o'clock and Wednesdays at 7, in Chapel No. 11.

Lesson-Sermon for Oct. 11: "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"
The Golden Text, "Salvation belongeth unto the Lord: they blessing is upon thy people" (Psalms 3:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the Lord: and in his law doth he meditate day and night" (Ps. 1:1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "By universal consent, mortal belief has constituted itself a law to bind mortals to sickness, sin, and death. This customary belief is misnamed material law, and the individual who upholds it is mistaken in theory and in practice. The so-called law of mortal mind, conjectural and speculative, is made void by the law of immortal Mind, and false law should be trampled under foot." (p. 229)

Bride Flies to Wed Lieutenant on Wing
They Crash License Bureau on Sabbath

Love found a way, but fast. The bride took a transcontinental plane from New York. The bridegroom met her in Portland, Saturday at midnight. They routed out some doctors, took the physical examination and the Wasserman tests, and got the marriage license bureau open and crashed it, and had a civilized wedding, 15 hours after groom met bride.

So 2nd Lt. Seymour Landesberg, 25, and Miss Leah Elaine Spitzer, 20, are now Lt. and Mrs. Landesberg, of the Hotel Benton, Corvallis, while waiting for a Corvallis apartment to be decorated.

In 15 hours they managed marriage details which ordinarily take a week or more and it was not planned that way, either. It happened because the bride was 14 hours late in reaching Portland. She had intended to fly all the way, but the plane was grounded at Cleveland. She then took train to Chicago and picked up another plane there. Even so, her success in getting into two planes without notice remains a mystery, if not a military secret, in this time of priorities.

The lieutenant is a 104th Infantry Division officer. His wife has been a dental nurse. Both came from New York, where Lt. Landesberg was assistant credit manager for the Sachs Furniture Co.

Dr. Henry Berkowitz officiated at the Portland wedding, with 2nd Lt. Alan C. Rosenbaum as best man and Miss Cleo Belle Harrison as maid of honor. Later there was a reception at the Hotel Multnomah.

The Army Times notes a new emphasis on training for river fighting, "in line with a new recognition of the importance of rivers as defensive lines and the necessity of getting across them quickly in offensive actions."

MEDITATIONS of THE MEDICS

by Pfc. Bert Shandler

Pvt. Harry Sager prefers active army duty to working on defense jobs.

In civilian life he worked for Engineers, Ltd., of San Francisco, on a $400,000,000 underground telephone line from California to Utah. He also worked on the Boulder Dam project and a natural gas pipeline from Texas to Chicago while employed by the W. A. Bechtel Co. of San Francisco.

Although Harry admits defense workers are doing an A-1 job for victory, he'll take 1A and military duty any time.

T/5 John T. Stockdale, Jr., never buys a copy of "Our Army," never subscribes to it, never borrows someone else's copy, yet never misses an issue. For James T. Stockdale of New York, John's father, was until last month publisher of the popular soldier's periodical, John's name remains on the mailing list.

John can remember when the magazine, now a national favorite, struggled for a living. In civilian life John was manager of the Radio City office of Eastern Air Lines.

The Sentry has just learned that its Medics correspondent T/5 Bert Shandler, ill for quite a while in the General Hospital here, has been transferred to Barnes General Hos-
