Military Police Barracks Banter
By Pfc. Wallace X. Rawles
Mournful message received in a letter to the Barracks Banter Editor from a wise soul in Los Angeles: "Honey, men are so scarce here in southern California I don't know where my next square male is coming from." Quick, girl friend, hop a plane and come on up to Oregon!

Pertinent observation by that San Francisco playboy-bridgegroom, Ray Mount Rogers: "All men are created equal—except for their haircuts." Yes Ray, there is a bit of tonsorial inequality here in Camp Adair.

Among the guests at Capt. Julius Hale's MP Christmas dinner were Doris Marie, 13, and Dean Ray, 5, children of Lieut. Walter R. Padrick, CO, MP detachment. There also was pretty Beverly Allsworth of Portland, surrounded by admiring males. Names of our other guests were listed in last week's Sentry.

Listed, that is, with the exception of that delightful "mystery girl," Madeleine Tate, inspiration of the "Anchors Aweigh" lads. Her escorts at the dinner included trustworthy Larry Lusich, Joe Doran, Raymond Hamilton, Henry Medel, Paul Reichlin, Norman Arter and other beauty-hungry MP's.

Morris Silverman, ex-Broadway jeweler, celebrates his 27th birthday New Year's Day.

Capt. Julius Hale takes this opportunity to thank the thoughtful police departments of nearby cities, and the numerous clubs, churches and individuals who deluged his office with invitations to Military Policemen to eat Christmas dinners.

Congratulations go to new first class privates Norman C. Arter, Samuel Hague Haber, James J. Jackson and Addison Nedeau. Pvt. Edgar R. Jurica comes to MP from Post Guard company, Bill Zarah goes to Medics, and Leonard B. Semon goes to QM. Happy landings, gentlemen!

So much was said in praise of faithful S/Sgt. John M. Katzenmeyer's Christmas dinner we pop-

96th Division Show Wows 'Em at Clubs

Diversified Talent Includes Even a 'Bra'

Whipped into final shape for presentation in a bare ten days, a diversified Talent Show, featuring entertainers from the 96th Division was presented before an audience of well over 150 persons Tuesday night at Service Club 2, and repeated last night at Service Club 1. It was directed and produced by Pvt. Cecil Birkkraut and Mrs. Florence Merriam, social and recreational hostess at Club 2.

The show was stopped by the hilarious highlight, the appearance of Gypsy Rose (enberg) who, clad like Tonalaya in a daring gra and sarong, went through the gyrations of an interpretative dance while the audience rolled into the aisles. To divulge the identity of the "performer" would not be cricket.

The show opened with the chorus, composed by Pvts. Tom Silts, Paul Sutton, Paul Schmitt, Sgt. Tom Pavlik, Pvt. Art Lipschultz, Jerry Fleivet and Chuck Klein singing and dancing to an original composition "Santa, Strictly G.O." with Pvt. Birkkraut as Santa. Pvt. Les Baer was MC and as such kept the show moving along and also offered vocal selections including "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "Stardust." Throughout the show, Pvts. Birkkraut and Baer presented several humorous skits.

Even An Equilibrist
Another highlight of the evening was the appearance of Camp Adair's equilibrium artist, Pvt. Eddie Jacobsen, who demonstrated agility at balancing and muscular coordination. Mrs. Merriam then appeared and sang "The Desert Song" and "Summertime" accompanied by Pvt. Goebels, who also played incidental and background music for the various numbers, and was featured in the spotlight, himself, for his interpretation of Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue."

An impersonation by Pvts. Nick Carrick, Paul Sutton and Cec Birkkraut of a sister act, calling themselves the "Latrine Siseters," was another hilarious highlight of the show.

Pvt. Gene Logan appeared in the second half of the show with his guitar and sang and yodeled several popular Western songs. T/4 John Walsh, singer, also appeared, accompanied by Mrs. Merriam.

As a semi-climax, the GI ballet, clad in John L's and wearing mops a la Veronica Lake, did interpretive dancing around the Christmas tree amid howls from the audience. Featured in the ballet were Pvts. Silts, Sutton, Schmitt, Lipschultz, Fleivet, Klein and Birkkraut.

The finale featured the chorus, once more, and an original number "It's Great to Be a Rookie in the Army," sung by Pvt. Baer.

HELL STRAIN HIS MIND
Can any outfit in camp match our Pvt. Frank Monaghan for efficiency? When on K.P. he tacked up his General Orders on the wall, in front of him, and memorized them while washing dishes.

That soldier who looks like the President, isn't. His name is Sgt. Freeland Staples. S/Sgt. Eugene Nella is becoming known as the original "man-in-motion," because he trots only to eat, but he eats plenty. We announce the wedding of Pfc. Graham M. J. Harther and Miss Noana Branch.

Gen. Dunckel Issues Warm Message to Men

Expresses His Thanks For Work and Spirit

The officers and men of the Timber Wolf Division artillery received this Christmas message from Brigadier General William C. Dunckel, their commander: "Many of you have never been away from home on Christmas. I think of this every day while Christmas and New Year come closer and while I watch you train to become artillerymen. "You have all been so outstanding in your endeavor to give all that you have to comply with the requirement this nation has placed upon you, and to prove to me that you are going to be members of the best artillery unit in the Army. I wish I could do something for you and something for the ones you love, left at home, who have entrusted you to my care. "There is little I can do except to give you, gladly, all my days and nights; to look after your welfare, to teach you how to care for yourself in the field, and to assure your parents, wives or sweethearts that I consider each of you a special charge to bring home to them after the 'Timber Wolves' have helped win this war. "To you officers and men of the Timber Wolf Artillery, my highest regard, and admiration and an old soldier's ardent wish: for your happiness as Christmas and throughout the New Year . . . I am very proud of you."

Col. Shinkle Enlists Then Is West Pointer
In Lt. Col. E. G. Shinkle, 34, just promoted from major a Timber Wolf artillery battalion has a commanding officer who enlisted in the 27th Infantry in 1926 and was graduated at the United States Military Academy in 1932. His former stations are listed as Ft. Bragg, N. C.; Henry Barracks, Porto Rico; Ft. Ethan Allen, Vermont; Ft. Sill, Okla.; Ft. Stotsenberg, P. I.; and Ft. Bragg, N. C. Col Shinkle is married and he and Mrs. Shinkle have their home at Salem.

Dust Cloud in Oregon Mist? Also, What Sun?
Did you know? That you can use a watch to determine direction? Direct the hour hand toward the sun, then a bearing half way between the hour hand and the 12 o'clock mark on your watch is true South.

That in judging distance you can clearly see a person's mouth and eyes a hundred yards away? The face is indistinct at 300 yards. The head and hat can be seen and colors can be distinguished at 500 yards. It is difficult to distinguish the head at 700 yards.

That you can identify infantry on the march from a distance by the low, thick cloud of dust that is raised? Cavalry on the march by a high, thin cloud of dust. Motor trucks by a heavy, rapidly moving cloud of dust.—War Dept. Special Service Division.

Women Seem to Count A Lot in This Outfit
Baker Battery personals, T. W. artillery: Sgt. Bolton's wife has come from New York and is smiling—in cadence! Pvt. Gordon floats on air for same reason . . . Pvt. Gordon raving in his sleep about "Rosalie," causes soldiers to ask questions, and are they personal! . . . Pvt. Leonard worries because friends write, "Don't worry, we'll take care of Ella."

First aid class: Instructor—Pvt. Jones, if you were driving and found a woman lying in the road, unconscious, pulse weak, and bleeding from the right leg, what would you do? Pvt. Jones—I'd get back in my car and drive like heck, sir. They're liable to blame it on me.

WEATHER PERMITTING
A tour of Oregon State campus and buildings by Camp Adair EM will start from the U.S.O. in Corvallis at 3:15 Saturday afternoon. Those in charge stated that if it was raining cats and dogs or pitchforks and barn doors, the tour would be postponed.

Sweat-rooms similar to the modern Turkish bath were used by North American Indians.
