

SOCIAL SWIRL

By Adele Adair

According to the calendar, Camp Adair goes into its second year come January 1 . . . although in actuality the camp is only about six months old . . . but from the way the social wheels have been turning, socially the camp is poised and experienced. Never before has the date-book been so crammed with activities as during this holiday season, and even though there will be a natural "let-down" after the New Year begins, it appears that more enlisted men have become "service club conscious" and have adopted its facilities as their on-the-post home.

The giant light-bedecked evergreens, gracing either Service Club together with the other decorations and trimmings, transformed the club ballrooms into giant-sized living rooms for the Camp Adair family. Christmas Eve around the roaring fires, with the hum of voices and the tinkling of the pianos was the nearest thing to a Christmas Eve around the hearth at home.

Launching Christmas:

A fine way to launch in the Christmas holidays was the conception of the powers that be to hold a gala dance in the new Field House last Wednesday night. This was the initial dance to be held in this spacious building and there was plenty of room to dance and good tunes to dance to as dished up by the Timber Wolves Dance Band directed by T/Sgt. Jack Everard. After intermission, several numbers were sung by Mrs. Merriam of Club 2, and Cpl. Nick Sansonia played Santa Claus for a crowd of more than 600 persons that attended. The two Service Clubs collaborated in chaperoning the affair, and Mrs. Merriam and Mrs. Blodgett were the hostesses in charge. Decorations were executed by Mrs. Blodgett, directress of Club 1.

Speedy Recovery:

We were sorry to learn that Mrs. Blodgett has been confined to her living quarters for the past week with a severe cold, which caught up with her on the 24th and therefore made her miss most of the Christmas fun at her club and elsewhere on the post. She is better now and will soon be back on the job. Get well soon, Mrs. Blodgett!

Santa on Hand:

A unanimous and heartfelt vote of thanks is due the considerate residents of the city of Salem for making Christmas a little more merry for some of the soldiers of Camp Adair . . . for their great generosity in donating nearly 400 gifts for as many men for Christmas. These gifts were distributed by a very G.I. Santa in the form of Cpl. Nick Sansonia at Club 2 on Christmas Eve, and ran the gamut from books, to cigarettes, to shaving aids. As we understand it, the various schools in the capital city undertook the project and the presents were bought and wrapped by the pupils. The Christmas party took place around the large Christmas tree in the club, with lights very low and a holiday spirit surging through the place. Many of the soldiers present were with guests or members of their families, and the true spirit of Christmas was felt. Incidentally, credit for the installation of the Christmas decorations and lighting effects goes to Pvt. Joe Smith, ace cameraman who is with the post Signal Corps and Pvt. "Chuck" Clarke, who also fashioned those wreaths. The tree was trimmed by Mrs. Merriam assisted by a detail of "Santa Clauses" and some visitors who were recruited for the task.

Thoughtful Ladies:

So that no one would be neglected on Christmas, two women on the post went out of their way on Christmas Eve. Mrs. Merriam, learning that a batch of raw recruits were to arrive on the post early Christmas morning, met the troop train at the station with a gift for every man as he disembarked. This occurred in the wee hours of the morning, when the rest of the post was in deep slumber thanking their stars that they didn't have to arise for reveille. It brought a lot of happiness, and certainly made those new rookies feel a little more at home and a little less homesick!

Another Santa:

The other woman is Miss Rogers. She had a kind thought for the men who man the gates . . . the MPs. Gift packages with candy and fruit and nuts were bundled up and distributed to the men on duty at the three gates. These are two women with Christmas spirit.

Albany Contributes:

According to Mr. Carl Curlee of Albany, an active member of the Chamber of Commerce of that municipality, informs us that the housing shortage has been alleviated somewhat in that area. This is due to the completion and opening of a dormitory for exclusive use of the wives of EM stationed here. The "dorm" sleeps about 125 persons. Additional information can be obtained by contacting any post hostess.

On Tour:

A large group of teachers and school representatives from the municipalities and school zones surrounding the camp, were taken on tour Monday by Lt. George H. Godfrey, post Public Relations and Special Services Officer. Their itinerary included the service clubs, guest houses and libraries as well as other places of interest.

To Resume Meetings:

Club activities at Service Club 2 have been postponed during the holidays but will resume their regular schedule starting next Monday. The Camera Club meets Monday night; Bridge Club, Tuesday; Glee Club, Wednesday; Dancing classes, Thursday, and EM dances Attention! Sweater Boys!

Male Lana Turners of Camp Adair . . . hear ye, hear ye! Henceforth and from now on, sweaters as something that show are taboo. According to Daily Bulletin 147, issued Tuesday, it is not permissible to wear the sleeveless GI sweaters so they show.

But here it is officially: Paragraph 34 of Army Regulations 600-40, Aug. 28, 1941, is quoted for the information and guidance of all concerned: "Sweaters may be worn under the service coat or field jacket, but SHOULD NOT BE VISIBLE."

Uniforms Make Appearance:

"Hostess blue" is a color that is going to be very prevalent around Camp Adair very shortly. In fact, the first vestages have already been noticed over at Club 2. Hostesses Rogers and Merriam are sporting their new uniforms. In a matter of days, all the hostesses will be uniformly uniformed. The shade is a medium blue-gray, there is a single-breasted jacket, skirt and matching topcoat all worn with Navy accessories and a matching overseas-style cap. Silver name plates are also worn on the lapels and a multi-colored sleeve insignia keeps them from being confused with WAACs or WAVES.

Wedding Bells:

Last Saturday afternoon at Post Chapel No. 8 took place a quiet but lovely wedding ceremony between Miss Norma Laree Wallace of Phoenixville, Pennsylvania, and Lieutenant Wellington B. Gray of Col. Anthony J. Tount's infantry regiment of the Timber Wolf Division.

The officiating clergyman was Chaplain Yohe. For attendants the couple had Miss Sally Jackman of Corvallis as bridesmaid and Lieutenant Austin Pohl as best man.

Lieutenant Gray, formerly of Albany, New York, has many friends who wish him and his bride success and happiness.

At the Regimental Officers' Club following the ceremony a reception was held for friends of the couple. (Continued on page 7, column 1) on Fridays. So it's back to the old routine on January 4.

Mrs. Merriam Is Soloist:

A pipe-organ concert of a quarter-hour's duration was played last Sunday at Chapel 2, prior to the regular church services for men of the 96th by Mrs. Merriam. During the service, she sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Gounod's "O, Divine Redeemer."

Fountain Room Rush:

Miss Carrie Reedy, cafeteria hostess at Club 1, announced today that her new fountain room, which opens off the main cafeteria, is doing a land-office business in its first week of operation. Decorations are completed and she is very proud of her red-and-white checkered curtains, which give the whole place a "cottage" look. Milk shakes and milk drinks, soft drinks, sodas and sundaes are specialties and the price is "right."

Christian Science
"God" is the subject of the Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 3.

The Golden Text was, "Unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever" (I Timothy 1:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might." (Deut. 6:4,5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life, Truth, and Love constitute the triune Person called God, - that is, the Trinity divine Principle, Love. They represent a trinity in unity, three in one, - the same in essence, though multifarious in office: God the Father-Mother; Christ the spiritual idea of sonship; divine Science or the Holy Comforter." (Pg. 331).
